Price, President, in the chair, with a large concourse of members. Very many valuable donations since last meeting were an-nounced, and letters were read by Mr. Henry Phil-lips, Jr., the Corresponding Secretary. The usual routine business was gone through. The Committee on Hall was authorized to procure a new hall in a central location at Eightnerich and a new hall in a central location, at Eighteenth and Chesnut streets, which had been offered to them, if the price suited the finances of the society. Mr. Charles Henry, the historiographer of the society. Charles Henry, the historiographer of the society, read a biographical sketch of Hon. R. S Fields, of New Jersey, late an honorary Vice-President of the Bociety. Dr. Brinton communicated to the society interesting facts relative to a valuable series of lacus-trine deposits from Neufchatel, lately examined by himself in New York, and traced their wonderful nilarity to the implements of the American Indians.

dians. They were ornaments, rings, axes, bracelets and pendants, etc., etc. He spoke at great length on the subject and was listened to with marked attention, descrived by the magnitude of the subject and the reputation of the speaker. In the discussion which followed additional facts were elucidated by William T. Yaux, Esq., and W. P. Chandler, Esq. The Presi-dent stated facts in reference to a late discovery of an interred Indian at Dr. Wood's place, near Glou-cester, stating that the defunct was found in a sitting position with things scattered around him. #### CANADIAN MASONIC MEDAL.

Prior to the year 1855 the Masonic lodges of th Prior to the year 1855 the Masonie lodges of th provinces now known as Ontario and Quebec held their warrants from three several grand lodges, namely, those of England, Ireland, and Scotland. This system was productive of much evil to the cratt, creating a diversity of interests and allegi-ance and an absence of harmony in action and working. To apply a remedy to this hurtful state of affairs a preliminary meeting of delegates was held on July 19, 1855, at the Clifton House, Niagara Falls, when it was decided to call a convention to assemble on Wednesday, October 10, at the city of Hamil-ton. Canada. At this convention it was usual ton, Canada. At this convention it was usaut-monshy resolved to form a "Grand Lodge of Canada." Officers were chosen, and on the 2d of November they were installed by Hon. H. F Backus, P. G. M. of the Grand Lodge of the State of Michigan. The Grand Lodge was thus faily constituted under the name of "The Most Worshipful the Grand Lodge of F. and A. M. of Canada."

It was hardly to be expected that all the Masons in Canada should be satisfied with this movement. Foremost among its opponents were this who formed the body then known as the Provincial Grand Lodge of Canada (a branch of the Grand Lodge of England). They took strong grounds against the new power, and by their efforts several of the Grand Lodges were led (for a time) to refuse recomition recognition. In 1856 steps were taken to unite the two bodies, In 1856 steps were taken to unite the two bodies, and at a meeting of the Provincial Grand Lodge, held at Toronto on the 30th of June, 1857, it was resolved "that the interests of Masonry required that perfect unity of the craft should be restored and maintained throughout the province (Outario)," and a committee was appointed to take such mea-sures as they might consider necessary and expedi-ent to effect such unity, and to meet any committee which might be appointed to the off day of which might be appointed by the Grand Lodge of Cadada. The latter body having appointed such committee, a meeting of the two was held at Toronto on the 5th of August, when a plan for the union of the two bodies was presented, but no satisfactory decision was arrived at, and in the following Sep-tomber the members of the Provincial Grand Lodge assembled and dissolved that body and declare t themselves an Independent Grand Lodge under the themselves an Independent Grand Lodge under the style and title of The Ancient Grand Lodge of A. F. and A. M. of Canada. " During that year several conferences were held between representatives of the rival Grand Lodges, which resulted in a basis of union acceptable to both parties, and on the 14th of July, 1855, the "Ancient Grand Lodge" was de lared dissolved and the union of the craft was perfected. Ten days later it was resolved "that a medal be struck com memorative of the union of the craft in Canada, now so happilly effected, and that a committee he now so happily effected, and that a committee be appointed to arrange the design and get the medal prepared and ready for distribution at the meetings to be held in January, 1859." The latter part of the instruction was not foldlied, as the committee re ported at that meeting that they had selected the design and ascertained that the cost of the medal would be from $2 to $3, without the Union ribbon for which it would be necessary to send to Eng land, the cost of which would be about $2 extra They also recommended that the medals should be silver glit for officers and past officers of the Gran Lodge, and of silver for the master, the immediate past master, and the wardens of all the lodges on the registry of the Grand Lodge at the time of the union, to whom its distribution should be strictly confined. The Union ribbon referred to consisted o a beautifully executed silk ribbon, bearing the repre sentation of the English union-jack. At a subsequent meeting of the Grand Lodge it was decide that this ribbon should be recognized as an honorary ribbon, and might be worn by any member of the craft; the medal to be worn only by those previously named. At the time of the union, there were 63 lodges under the Grand Lodge of Canada, and 50 of Provincial Register, making in all 113 whose officers were entitled to receive the medal. The design chosen for the medal is quite simple in The design chosen for the meda is duite simple in detail. It bears upon the obverse the arms of the Grand Lodge, surrounded by the words "Grand Lodge of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of Canada." Reverse, a wreath of maple and laurel leaves encircing the inscription, "To commemorate the Union consummated 14th July, 1858." The diss are but poorly executed, and are not sufficiently hardened, as appears from late impressions taken. The reverse die is almost entirely defaced. I have not been able to ascertain with any certainty the name of the engraver, but have been informed his name was Ellis, of Toronto. This state-ment is doubtless correct, as in the Treasurer's statement for 1859, under date September 17, there is the foll wing entry, viz.: "To paid J. Eilis on ac-count of engraving medal, $100." The meeting then adjourned. MISS GLYN'S READING OF "MACBETH."-A large audience was in attendance last evening at the Academy of Music to hear Miss Isabella Glyn read Academy of Music to hear Miss Isabelia Glyn read the tragedy of Macbeth. This lady has long had a distinguished reputation upon the English stage as a tragic actress of remarkable powers, and in such parts as "Lady Macbeth." "Queen Constance." "Queen Katharine," "lisabella" in Measure for Mea-sure, "Hermione" in Winter's Tale, and some others of equai importance she has had but few rivals, while she is entitled to the distinction of having made the characters of "Cleopatra" and the "Duchess of Main" exclusively her own. Miss Glyn is equally celebrated as a dramatic reader, and although Mrs. Kemble has made the Philadelphia public critical on Kemple has made the Philadelphis public critical on the subject of dramatic readings, the large audience in attendance at the Academy last night were impressed in a most favorable manner by Miss Glyn's performance. The different characters of the play were delineated with remarkable skill, and in th most important scenes the dramatic ability of the reader was shown in an eminent degree, and Miss Glyn proved herself to be an artist of the highest attainments. Satisfactory as this performance was, those who could best appreciate the difference between the reading of a play like Macbeth and its per-formance with all the appliances of the stage could not but feel that Miss Giyn will do herself an injustice if she does not give the lovers of the drama in this and other American cities an opportunity to see her as an actress in some of her great parts, such as "Cleopatra," "The Duchess of Maid," and "Lady Macbeth." The next lecture of the "Star" course will be de-The next lecture of the "star" course will be de-livered this evening by George W. Curtis, Esq. Subject..."Charles Dickens." # A NEW JERSEY TRAGEDY.

Murder ef an Old Man by his Young Wife-Her Suicide-Implication of her Son. A fearful tragedy has been enaoted in Montville township, Morris county, New Jersey. Henry Miller, a highly-respected farmer of the village of Taylortown, of the above-named town-ehip, went on Wednesday morning last to his work in the woods, taking with him, as was his usual custom, his dinner in a small pall. While eating his dinner, at noon, and shortly after he had swallowed only a few mouthfuls, he became sick, and noticed a peculiar and unplea-sant taste in his food. He therefore gave the rest of it to his dog, which had accompanied him, but before the animal had had time to devour it all, he, too, was taken sick, and in less than five minutes was dead. Mr. Miller obtained passing assistance, and was carried home. On arriving at his house Mrs. Miller, who is his second wife, and is still quite young, seemed to feel much more sorrow over the death of the dog than at the daugerous condition of her husband. Mr. Miller lingered till the evening, when he died. Several of the medical men of the neighborhood were summoned, and the body of the dog was opened. Traces of arsenic in large quantitles were at once found.

The woman, who all the time of the investigation had been an apparently uninterested spectator, was then observed to go to the cupboard of the room and to take out a piece of bread and butter, which she ate. She was soon seized with fearful pains and spasms, and be-came insensible. She died at 2 o'clock the next morning. It then became plain that she had herself placed the poison in her husband's food, and had, when the fuger of suspicion began to point toward her, committed suicide. Her mo-tive seems to have been to obtain possession of the old man's farm for herself and the children of her first husband.

A coroner's inquest was immediately held, when it was elicited that one of Mrs. Miller's sons, a young man residing in the western part of New York State, had, while on a visit to his mother a few days ago, purchased from a neigh-boring druggist two ounces of arsenic. Part of the poison was found in the cupboard. Officers were immediately sent to secure his arrest. The excitement in the peaceful neighborhood is intense. The inquest will be continued to-day.

Elephants by Auction.

French's Oriental Circus was sold by auction vesterday in Trenton. The large elephant Empress was sold to John O'Brien, of Philadelphia, for $5000. A baby elephant was put up, but the bids rose no higher than $3400, and the proprietor reserved the animal, demanding $5000 for her. The train of double hump camels, thurteen in number, sold for $7200 to Jacob Reed, of Philadelphia. The same purchaser bought a baby camel for $400. James H. McGuire, of Trenton, bought a performing pony for $55 that had been held at $400 by Mr. French, and two Shetland ponies were sold to two Trenton men for $125 and $75. The Government Officers were Detained as prisoners by the National Guards for some hours. Arago and Ferry were first released, and soon afterwards Jules Favre and Garnier Pages. When order was restored it was found that the committee and adversaries of an armistice were the authors of the troubles. Trocku immediately issued a proclamation showing the advantage of an armistice. On November 1 Paris was entirely tranquil.

The Result of the Vote

as to whether Paris will accept the provisional government is still unknown.

The Nationals are forbidden to appear in the streets in armed groups, and all the Parisian Mayors have resigned.

LONDON, Nov. 4 .- The Standard's Paris correspondence, published this morning, says:-In the twenty-five days' armistice granted by the Prussians for the elections, The Revictualling of Paris

The same authority says the populace at Tours Rose vesterday captured the Government and proclaimed a Committee of Safety, but the officers were soon rescued and restored to their authority by the National Guard.

N. Y. MONEY MARKET YESTERDAY.

From the N: Y. Herald.

"The causes which have been so long operating for a lower price in gold, but the inducate of which had been checked by the oversold condition of the market and the high borrowing rates for cash gold, asserted themselves quite potently to-day, and pro-duced a decline to 110%, which is the lowest since the 7th of July, 1862, a period of over eight years. Last spring, when the gold interest on the ten-forties came upon the market, there was a decline to 110<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub>, but the European war intervening occasioned a retarn to 123<sup>3</sup>/<sub>2</sub>. The decline, which is due in the main to the steady advance of the national credit, is assisted just now by the fact that the Treasury before the middle of January will have disbursed about $50,000,000 of gold. Th rumor of an armist'ce between France and Prussia is only an accidental influence at this time in directing the normal movement of the premium, was an enormous business in the Gold R There Was an enormous obsides in the Gold Moont tails afternoon, and the precious metal was poured on the market in a steady stream for several hours. Were it not for the purchases of the shorts, who were in immense force, the rapidity of the decline would have been still greater. The reports from London represent great excitement at the Stock Evolution a short advance in five twenties the Exchange and a sharp advance in five-twenties, the 62's closing at 89%. "There were twenty-eight offers at the Sub-Treasury at noon to sell bonds to the Government, the proposed purchase of a million eliciting offerings to the extent of $5,662,250. The award was not made until quite late this afternoon, when the odd lot of $1,777,000 was accepted, the excess above the million being bonds purchased for the reinvestment of the sinking fund gold sold yesterday. "The decline in gold, by diminishing the value of the coin interest on Government bonds, rendered the market for them weak, and produced a corre-sponding decline in price. The decline was more marked in the five-twenties than in the ten-fortles. which latter were comparatively steady, owing to the fact that they are in request by the national banks for deposit at Washington against their cir-culation in place of the five-twenties. "The money market was devoid of the spasmodic irregularity noticed the past few days, and worked easily at four to five per cent. on Governments, and at five to six per cent, on stocks. The discount market was without essential change. "Foreign exchange was lower and dull on the basis of 109% for prime bankers' sixty days' ster-ling. One of the Canadian banks was drawing at a sixteenth less than this rate.

-Daniel Sullivan, the oldest letter-carrier in the United States, was recently compelled to resign his post at Rochester in consequence of failing health. -October is reported to have been an un-usually healthy month at Springfield, Mass., some twenty deaths only having occurred against forty-seven for the corresponding month of last year. -A wealthy old miser recently starved himself to death at Chicago. He had lived for years on rotten fruit, decayed vegetables, putrid meat, and stale bread. His death finally resulted from strangulation and gangrene of the intestines.

The greatest difficulty now experienced by the Louisiana planters seems to be in procuring hands. The New Orleans Times says "there never was a more favorable season, never more cotton ready to be picked, and never more trouble to induce the negroes to turn out and gather the fleecy wealth." A cotton factor who recently returned to the Crescent City from Ar-kansas reports that the fields in every direction have the appearance of the Northern prairies after a heavy fall of snow. The reluction after a heavy fall of snow. The reluctance of the hands to turn out and pick is ascribed to the low price of cotton. They have generally got in debt to the extent of their shares in the crop, and imagine that any further labor on their part will be for the benefit of their creditors.

MADRID, Nov. 4 .- General Prim yesterday had a long conference with the members of the majority in the Constituent Cortes on the subject of the cand dature of the Duke Aosta. After an interchange of views, he said he should present the name of the Duke of Montpensier to the consideration of the Cortes as the future ruler of Spain. General Grantros suggested Espartero and supported the suggestion in a long speech. He said he could not understand why a foreign candidate was proposed when there was plenty of good material in their own country.

Senor Agnete affirmed boldly that he would not sustain any foreign candidate. Diverse opinions were expressed by members present, and no decision was arrived at. The Spanish Throne.

LONDON, Nov. 4 .- Later Madrid despatches state that the discussion on the question of the future monarchy has been fixed for the 16th of November. Castellar's resolution censuring the Government for its course on the Aosta candidature has been rejected, The Government was then sustained by a heavy vote in withholding from the public the Aosta correspondence.

FROM WASHINGTON. The Shenandoah,

Despatch to Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 .- The Secretary of the Navy to-day received a letter from C. H. Wells, commanding the Shenandoah, dated Lisbon, October 12, in which he says the vessel had a disagreeable voyage of thirty-eight days from Boston. She was under sail most of the time, having used steam only on several occasions when necessity demanded. The cyclone of the 11th and 12th of September was the severest the commander had ever known during his thirty years' sea experience. The Shenandoah, he says, proved herself an excellent vessel in every respect.
