CITY INTELLIGENCE.

OUR POLICE.

The Work Performed by them Yesterday. The police force of this city it was thought had rendered itself sufficiently infamous on the occasion of the late election in this city. But yesterday they interfered in an election over which they certainly had no control, and as a result nearly twenty of these unworthy representatives are now con-fined in the Camden jail, with the proof of their identity upon their persons. An additional result is that a number of inoffensive colored residents of this city who had gone over to Jersey were arrested some of them on the way to the station and some of them while in the Second District Station. Towards evening the river front was lined with policemen, who made themselves extremely officious in eatechising the colored people, but who never once asked a question of their fellows who had been passing the day at the Camden poils intimidating the new voters, The numerous acts perpetrated will never be known, as no information can be obtained except from the more courageous of the inared men who dared veature within the precincts on their return last evening and cruelly maltreated of a newspaper office.

Mr. William Armstead, a colored school teacher at Centreville, and a resident of this city, crossed to this side of the river about 4 o'clock yesterday after-noon, and on landing at South street wharf he was noon, and on landing at South street wharf he was roughly selzed by two policemen and searched without any reason being assigned for such conduct. Failing to find a weapon of some kind they were disposed to leave him go, but, on second thought they renewed the search, and drew from one of his pockets a penknife, which they appropriated to their own use. Armstead was then taken to the Second District Station-house. While giving his name to the officer in charge an individual quietly stepped up behind him and dealt him a blow on the side of the head with some blunt instrument and felled him the head with some blunt instrument and felled him

This act was done in the presence of the policemen, who were about to prefer a charge against the prisoner of carrying concealed deadly weapons. Mr. Armstead received a severe wound, from which the Armstead received a severe would, from which the blood flowed freely. No effort was made to arrest the perpetrator of the act. A sympathizer, no doubt a party to the crime, represented at the time that Armstead did not look like a bad character, and promised to aid him in obtaining his freedom. The prisoner was then taken before Alderman Devitt, who held him in $600 ball for a further hearing. Ball was soon after entered and Mr. Armstead was re-leased. The victim of this outrage is well known in this city as a respectable citizen. He states that he had adjourned his school only a short time previous to leaving Camden for this city. The policeman who preferred the charge in this case gave the name of Moore.

Armstead this morning appeared before Recorder Givin and took out a warrant for Policeman Moore, whose number is 74, charging him with an illegal arrest and with committing an unjustifiable assault and battery. The decument was then served upon the Chief of Police, who directed the appearance of Moore before the Recorder at 3 o'clock this after-

Allen B. Adams, a colored man, a barber by profession, was arrested at South street wharf yesterday, upon the arrival of the ferryboat from Kaighn's Point. It seems that when the boat came to at the Point. It seems that when the boat came to at the slip some one in a crowd singled Mr. Adams out, and said: "Arrest that man; he is one of the party implicated in killing an alderman at Kaighn's Point." Adams was at once taken into custody by a police officer and conducted to the Southwark Hall, where he was detained. He protested his innocence. Shortly he protested protested his innocence. Shortly six o'clock he was taken to the office of Alderman Devitt for a hearing, but this alderman was not present. After detaining the prisener there for half an hour, he was taken back to the Southwark Hall. In the meantime the cases had been heard here by Police Magistrate Lutz, and he had departed. The prisoner was about to be locked up whereupon a gentleman who knew him demanded that he should have a hearing. He was then taken before Alderman Lutz at his office on Moyamensing avenue. There was no one to prefer a charge against him, and he was at once discharged. Mr.

Adams is a sickly man.

Later in the evening more colored men were arrested at this ferry, and of these we find the follow-ing names on the report of Lieutenant Errickson, with the charges preferred against them :- Alexander Hopkins, deadly weapons; Norman Simmons, breach of peace; Calvin McKee, breach of peace; Henry Waskington, breach of peace; Reuben Tay-lor, deadly weapons. Notwithstanding that Alderman Lutz is the regular committing magistrate at this station, these cases were all disposed of by Alderman Frank Devitt, who is of the same political ilk as the policemen.

Over the River-The Camden Rioters-Hear-logs this Morning.

At half past ten o'clock this morning a hearing was given some of the Camden rioters before Mayor Cox in the County Court house. The fact that a number of Philadelphia policemen were incarce-rated in the Camden jail added interest to the hearings, and of course a large number of spectators, principally Philadelphians, were in attendance at

The first case disposed of was that of Frank Sonder, constable, charged with assault and battery with intent to kill Charles H. Williams and John Madden, both colored, at the polls in Newton Township yesterday, also with inciting to riot. Defend-ant is constable of that township. He waived a hearing and entered ball in the sum of $1000 for trial.

The cases of the Philadelphia policemen were next on the list, but the prosecutors not being in attend ance the Mayor announced that the hearings would be postponed until 2 o'clock this afternoon. Counsel representing the State of New Jersey and the de-fendants then held a consultation, during which Lieutenant Thomas, of the Reserve force, of this city, made his appearance and presented a letter of introduction to District Attorney Jenkins. His object was to ascertain the names of the Philadel phia policemen, and look after their interests as far

The District Attorney answered that as yet he had not been made acquainted with the names of the policemen or the charges preferred against them. In the crowd we noticed several policemen of this city, and two or three Philadelphia lawvers. whose errand across the river was to secure, if pos-sible, the release of the imprisoned blue-coats.

Defendants are represented by lawyers Fort and Hugg, of Camden. They demanded of the Mayor the release of the prisoners on the ground that there had been no complaint made against them, and that it was illegal to detain any man without a charge having been preferred against him.

District Attorney Jenkins replied that an argument on that point could be made at the time of the hearing in the afternoon. When the hour of 2 c'clock arrived the prosecutors would, no doubt, be court was then adjourned until the hour

Specified.
The Philadelphians locked up are:

John Ward, Sergeant Second District Police.
Policemen—Edward P. Wood, Joseph Roberts,
John Stegrist, John Floyd, B. Mullen, William McGlenn, Alfred Peuneville, Henry Boyle, Hughi Goodfellow, William Kelly, Lewis Taylor, Thomas Taylor, and George Rowe.

Thomas Cochran, Deputy Constable.
Nick Brown, Alderman McMullin's colored friend, the keeper of the colored Democratic headquarters Fourth ward. Brown has been severely i. He is cut about the face and head, and presents a wretched appearance. The Mayor, while waiting for the presence of witnesses in the cases against the police, issued several warrants for the arrest of parties who had been guilty of assault and battery on colored voters. Lawyer Davis, of Camden, was in court at this time, and while he was conversing with a friend a colored man was detailing to his Honor the facts of an assault and battery committed upon him by the counsellor. Davis was netified of the charge made

Examination of Trachers.-The semi-annual examination for the granting of certificates of qualifications to teach in the public schools of Philadel-phia commenced this morning, at 9 o'clock, at the Central High School, Broad and Green streets, and will be continued to morrow and Friday, at the same hour, closing each day at 2 P. M

The examination is conducted by a board of examiners composed of professors of the Central High School and of principals of the male grammar schools, appointed by the Committee on Qualifica-tion of Teachers, Lewis Elkin, Esq., chairman, Professor Hopper acting as secretary to the committee and having a general supervision of the arrange-ments for conducting the examination. The subjects for examination are reading, penmanship, orthography, grammar, geography, ety-mology and definitions, parsing, general history and constitution of the United States, arithmetic, algebra, geometry and mensuration.

Three grades of certificates will be awarded ac-cording to the proficiency of the applicants entitling them to teach in the grammar, secondary or primar schools. As no one can be elected without a certifi cate, these examinations are very largely attended The number in attendance on this one is 209, of whom only 10 are males.

The report of the committee will be made at the meeting of the Board of Public Education in December next.

The utmost care is taken to secure a fair examination. The questions are not printed, but are dic tated and written on the blackboards by the examiners. The papers containing the written answers to these questions are deposited among the archives of the Board of Public Education. A prominent fea-ture of these examinations is that the applicant's name is not known until the examination is finished, each receiving a card bearing a certain number, which each places upon his or her papers instead of Messrs, Furness and Hatch were appointed as tellers.

The entire list of officers and committees as nominated were then unanimously elected. Communications were then taken up, and Mr. Van Brunt, of Boston, presented a communication from the Boston Society of Architects, to the number of forty, stating that they had aftered their consti-tution and by-laws so as to conform to the rules of the Chapter, and praying to be admitted.

A resolution was offered and passed unanimously that when this convention adjourn they co so to meet next year in Boston.

THE FUEL SAVINGS SOCIETY.—This society has received deposits during the past summer from nearly five hundred persons (a large majority of whom are sewing and washing women), in sums of from ten cents to one dollar at a time, and amountin all to between $3000 and $4000. This will uire about eight hundred tons of coal, for which the society charges the depositors $4 per ton for nut size, and $5 for stove size, being a deduction of about one dollar and a half per ton from the contract price, for which deficiency the society depends upon charitable contribations. This is a great adthe opportunity of laying by small sums of mency during the season when work is plenty, and providing for a stock of fuel for winter's use. This money is received by some of our most prominent druggists and greers in the city, and by Martha W. Hammond, Matron of the House of Industry, Catharine street who after naving it into the treasury. rine street, who, after paying it into the treasury, are authorized to draw orders for the coal on Messrs, Branson & Brother, No. 1118 Washington avenue (contractors for this year), who deliver the coal to the residences of the depositors in tons, half tons, or quarters, as required. Many of the class who deposit with this society would be obliged to buy their coal by the bucketfull, paying therefor about three times the price which they are now charged per ton, to say nothing of the advantage gained by saving and taking care of their small ums of money at a time of year when it is scarcely missed. The work of the receivers (who are ganerally not members of the society) is an arduous one, and the object could not be carried out were it not for these friends of the poor. The following is a list of officers and managers for this year:

The names of the policemen which have been furnished to the Chief of Police as being absent with-out leave this morning, and who are known to be in the Jersey jail, are:—Sergeant John Ward, Second district; No. 36, Asa Pennewell, First district; No. 46, Bernard J. Who's a Doing It?—Property owners and residents on the south side of Pine street, between Seventeenth and Eighteenth streets, give information that somebody is engaged in tearing up the cobble stones on that side of Pine street, in the locality designated, and in place of them are relaying the street with Belgian blocks. There are numerous inquiries as to who is doing the thing and by whose authority. The supposition is that the preperty owners will be expected to pay for it when it is completed. These property owners wish it distinctly understood that they have made no agreement to have the thing done, nor to pay for it them-selves, and moreover most emphatically assert that they will not pay for it. If, therefore, any private individual is doing the work as a job on trust, ex-pecting to receive his reward in this world, he had better have a care, or he will find himself minus both money, cobble stones, Belgian blocks, and several

AGAINST THE CITY, -As mentioned in our Court reports, in the case of Jenkins & Taylor vs. The City, argued before Judge Stroud yesterday, the jury rendered a verdict for plaintiffs of $113,855. The claim was for the laying of the N colson pave-ment on North Broad street, and was thrown upon the city in consequence of a decision of the Supreme Court which estopped plaintin from recovering from property owners. The defense before Judg Stroud took the ground that the city had complied with all the terms of the contract in issuing "assess ment bills" to plaintiffs, and the Judge, adsame view, charged straightly in favor of the city. The jury nevertheless rendered their verdict as stated. The care was ably and closely argued by Messrs. Worrall, Messick, and Edmunds, of the City Solicitor's office, and by Mr. Sellers for plaintiffs. nevertheless rendered their verdict as

The music was supplied by the Continental Band, and the compliment was the work of both the Republican and Democratic members of Select Council, in honor of Mr. Huhn's recent triumph in the caucus nomination for President of that body. The compliment was well deserved, as Mr. Hubn is one of the most efficient of our city representatives, and one in whom the greatest confidence is reposed by both parties. He will undoubtedly discharge the duties of the office to which he is chosen to the utmost satisfaction of everybody.

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY .- Policeman Larkins, of the Third district, at an early hour this morning noticed two fellows who were acting very suspiciously at the front door of Mr. Evans, residing at Third and Cypress streets. Suspecting that their design was robbery he arrested them, and conveyed them to the station. The turnkey was about putting them in the cell when they turned on him and handled him pretty roughly. Lieutenant Haggerty went to the assistance of the turnkey, and succeeded in caging the prisoners. This morning they had a hearing, and were committed for trial in default of batt.

A SENSITIVE POLICEMAN AND AN OUTRAGE. - This morning, as Colonel J. H. Deweese was walking down Chesnut street, in company with two friends, a squad of policemen were passed. Colonel De-weese remarked as they went by, "Only one more year, boys." These words caught the ear of one of Mayor Fox's patrol, but no notice was taken of the remark at the time. When, how ever, Colonel Deweese reached Fourth street, he was seized by the coat collar by one of the police-remark when he had passed and who had turned to men whom he had passed, and who had turned to follow him after a few moments reflection. This policeman stated that the Colonel had insulted him, and for this reason he arrested him and conducted him to the Central Station. The police-man stated his intention of locking up his prisoner at once, whereupon one of the friends who had been in his company, and who is a Democrat, declared that before he was locked up an inventory must be taken of all the valuables about his person. An immediate hearing was also demanded, if there was any charge to be preferred, and this request was compiled with, Colonel Deweese being taken before Alderman Colonel Deweese being taken before Alderman Kerr, and by that functionary sentenced to pay a fine of $5. This Colonel Deweese positively refused to do, declaring that he had merely expressed his opinion.

The Aiderman insisted upon the fine being paid and Colonel Deweese declared that he would not pay it, when Mr. Catteil, the President of Select Council, entered the room, and in compliance with his advice the prisoner was set at liberty without more ado. A very nice question arises out of this case, in the solution of which citizens who have de-cided opinions about Mayor Fox's police are deeply

HOMICIDE-THE RESULT OF A FIREMAN'S RIOT .-John P. Slavin, who was injured at about 5:30 o'clock on Sunday morning last, during a race between the Reliance and Hope Engines, by being struck over the head by a blunt instrument, died at his residence, No. 1210 Temple street, yesterlay afternoon. The case will receive an investigation by the Coroner this afternoon. SERIOUSLY INJURED .- Samuel Caldwell, residing

No 830 Callowbill street, sustained a serious if not fatal injury by the accidental discharge of a pistol. He was examining the weapon when it went off, the ball passing through the corner of the eye in tupper part of the head, where it is is still lodged. STORE ROBBERY .-- Yesterday afternoon Asa Smith entered a furnishing store at Second and Union streets and stole two coats, a pair of gaiters, and sixty cents from the till. He was given a hearing this morning and bound over in $500 for trial.

The letter from Senator Chandler is about the appointment of certain Indian agents, and is addressed to the President. Grant and the Elections. Judge Kelley and several members of Congress called upon the President this morning, and had a conversation relative to the result of the elections yesterday. The President is of the opinion that, judging from the returns already received, the administration party has not only held its own, but made some gains.

All he expected in view of this being the first Congressional election after the Presidential election was that the Republicans should hold their own, as it usually happens that the first election for Congress after the inauguration of an administration is a defeat for the party in

Mrs. Grant and Mrs. Cox. The President desires that the story about Mrs. Cox having sent to Mrs. Grant a bitter newspaper article on the administration be contradicted. He says it has no foundation in fact, and was evidently set affoat by some malicious person. The relations between the two ladies always have been and are of the most friendly

THE "GLEAMING BAYONETS."

The Troops and the New York Election-Protection of the Deputy Marshals. The old Federal building in Chambers street, in which are located the offices of the United States Commissioners, the Marshal, and District-Attorney, was the scene of unusual excitement yesterday. The corridors constantly echoed with the tramp of prisoners arrested for violating the Congressiona Election law. Numerous carriages were kept in readlaces in front of the building for the purpose of conveying the prisoners to jail. At daylight the Marshal's office was placed in telegraphic communication with the various sections of the city, including General McDowell's headquarters, by a special wire attached Dowell's headquarters, by a special wire attached to the Western Union line, and an operator was detailed to receive messages from the chief deputy marshals and supervisors of the different districts, and to forward orders for the guidance of the latter officials in cases of emergency. General Sharpe and Colonel Des Auges, his chief aid, were present at the office from the opening to the closing of the polls, being prepared to commence sharp measures for the enforcement of the law on the slightest

District-Attorney Davis and his associates, Messrs, Purdy and Davies, were also in attendance to give legal advice. Everything progressed quietly until about 2 o'clock, at which time intelligence was re-ceived that Cornelius Corson, "Chief of the Bureau of Elections," had issued an order to the inspectors, informing them that the United States officers were not empowered to remain at the polls to witness the counting after the vote for Congress had been disposed of. This was justly regarded as a Tammany trick to open the way to frauds, and was construed into an attempt to evade the agreement made between the Federal and the city authorities. The danger was considered imminent, and there was strong talk of affording military protection to the deputies and supervisors in the discharge of their duties. The excitement was intensified by the arrival of Hon. John Fox, one of the leaders of the Young Democracy, with the anthe leaders of the Young Democracy, with the announcement that the police were driving the United States officers away from the polis in the First ward. Marshal Sharpe told his subordinates to preserve the peace until 4 o'clock, if possible, In the meantime, District Attorney Davis and Marshal Sharpe had arranged for a conference with the city authorities, with a view of conference with the city authorities, with a view of conference with the city authorities, with a view of conference with the city authorities, with a view of conference with the city authorities, with a view of conference with the city authorities, with a view of conference with the city authorities, with a view of conference with the city authorities, with a view of conference with the city authorities, with a view of conference with the city authorities, with a view of conference with the city authorities, with a view of conference with the city authorities with a view of conference with the city authorities with a view of conference with the city authorities with a view of conference with the city authorities with a view of conference with the city authorities with a view of conference with the city authorities with the city conference with the city authorities, with a view of annulling the obnoxious order circulated by Carson, and of obviating the necessity for military interference. Hon. Caleb Cushing, special attorney for the Government, proceeded immediately to Police Headquarters, when he was met by Mr. E. W. Stough ton, Colonel Bilss, and Commissioner Bosworth, President of the Board of Police. The consultation happily resulted in the signing of the following order, which was despatched to the various station houses by telegraph:—

To Police Captains:—General Order No. 38.—To preven) any minunders anding growing out of instructions to inspectors of election from Chief of Bureau of Election, you will be particular to see that the United States any ervisors have facilities and full opportunity to witasse the counting of the rotes from the beginning to the end of the canvass, and to attach estificates, as provided in the second section of General Order No. 37.

JOHN J. KELSO, Superintendent.

Afterward the following telegram was sent out: 550 P. M.—To All:—If you have any U-ited States supervisors or deputy marshals under arcest discharge them at once, keeping data for future use. JOHN J. KELSO, Superintendent. Mayor Hall sent copies of these orders to Marshal Sharpe for his information, and received the follow

Ing reply:—

New York, Nov. 8, 1870.—My Dear Sir:—I have received yours, with the enclosure, and have to thank you for the same. I have also to thank Superintendent Kelso for his courtesies throughout the day.

Your obedient servant.

GEORGE H. SHARPE,
United States Marshal.

Hon. A. Oakey Hall, Mayor. The effect of the order was to prevent any collision between the national and local officers, the former being permitted to remain near the ballot boxes until all the votes had been counted. The United States Marshal and District-Attorney were fully de-termined to support the deputies and supervisors in the legitimate performance of their duties, and troops were stationed in several parts of the city to prevent any riot which might occur. About 400 men were placed in a building in Forty-sixth street, and a Cop-missioner (Shields) attended there during the day with the intention of ordering them out as provided by law in case of trout Another large force was assembled at the he quarters of the Department of the East in Houston street, under command of General Kiddoo, The lower part of the city was covered by troops com manded by General Vogdes, who made his head quarters in the brown-stone building at No. 204 Broadway. Fortunately their services were quired, as the supervisors were not molested at the polls. N. Y. Times to-day.

The Lancaster Intelligencer of last evening says: — The fast line west on the Pennsylvania Railroad vesterday afternoon and sustained considerable damage, the baggage car being badly wrecked and two passenger coaches more or less broken. The engine knocked the cow off the track, but striking a fence or telegraph pole she rebounded and wedge herself between the baggage-car and tender. The effect of this was to break the coupling jointing of the cars, and the engine sped on, leaving the train behind. The baggage-car was thrown off the track and coming in contact with telegraph poles the front end was turned in the direction of Philadel-phia. All this time the baggage-master was in the car, but to the astonishment of all escaped unharmed. So great was the of the train when the collision of the train when the collision took place that the baggage-car was carried along about two hundred yards before it stopped, the first passenger one hundred yards and the second lifty yards. Although they were in the greatest perfl, none of the passengers sustained the least injury, but some of them were almost frightened to distraction. They owe their safety to the presence of mind in the engineer, to the perfection of the steam brakes, to the tough steel rails, and to the strength of the coaches. The shock was so completely broken by the brakes that the passengers completely broken by the brakes that the passengers in the last four cars scarcely perceived it, and no damage was done to that part of the train. The damage was done to that part of the train. The earth was ploughed in a deep furrow on the north side of the track, telegraph poles were snapped like pipe stems, fence rails were driven into the baggage car, piercing great trunks through and through, the steel rails on the track were ground into shavings, twisted and bent, all of which show under what tremendous bent, all of which show under what tremendous pressure the train was brought to a sudden stop. A broken rail in the next 500 feet, after the cow was struck, would have cost scores of lives, and reduced the whole train to a wreck. The strength of the timbers in the side of the passenger car which received and pushed aside the heavy baggage car saved the lives of many by a very narrow chance. The train arrived in this city between 7 and 80 clock, having been detained about four hours.
