THE DAILY EVENING TELEGRAPH-PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1870.

WEWS SUMMARY.

City Affairs. -The death of Frederick Wahl is about to be investigated by the Coroner, owing to the fact that a doctor's certificate for burial had been given upon an heur's attendance, and for the further reason that intimations have been thrown out of a mysterious death. The first report of the death was accompanied by a report that Mr. Wahl had fallen at Second and Callowhill streets, and fragtured his skull.

-Yesterday afternoon a pair of horses attached to a buggy ran away from Thirteenth and Melon streets, and came into collision with a train of cars on the Germantown Railroad. William Wright was thrown out and cut about the head and otherwise injured. One of the horses was killed, and the other was so badly hurt that it had to be killed.

-The semi-annual session of the Grand Lodge I. O. O. F. of Pennsylvania was held yesterday at the hall North Sixth street, above Arch. Grand Master John B. Springer presided. Sixty-eight new members were admitted, and representatives from Lodges acknowledged. The reports from the Grand Representatives to the Grand Lodge of the United States and other reports from committees were read and

-Last evening the second meeting connected with the anniversary of the Pennsylvania Peace Society was held in Harmonial Hall, Eleventh and Wood streets. Mr. A. H. Love, President of the society, occupied the chair. The report of the Executive Committee was read, exhibiting the efficiency of the society and its labors during the year. The membership has largely increased. Much aid in the way of clothing and books of instruction had been furnished the Indians. A series of resolutions, setting forth the principles and objects of the society, and declaring that war was beneath the dignity of civilized nations, were adopted. Short addresses were delivered by Elihu Burritt, Professor Wilcox, Mrs. Mott, and others, after which the meeting adjourned.

Domestic Affairs.

-Snow storms prevailed in Illinois and adjoining States yesterday.

—The trial of the Baton Rouge rioters commenced yesterday at New Orleans.

—The Alabama State Fair opened at Montgomery yesterday with fine prospects. -The Ohio Female Suffrage Association commenced its annual session yesterday at -The Rev. Dr. R. S. Foster was yesterday elected President of the Drew Theological Seminary.

THE WAR.

LAST NIGHT'S DESPATORES.

RESULTS OF THE FRENCH SUCCESSES-NEW ARMIES OBGANIZING-CONDITION OF PARIS-PRINCE FREDERICK'S FORCES TO JOIN GEN.

London, Nov. 15 .- A correspondent at Versailles says that Von Moltke said yesterday, "Paris will be able to hold out about four weeks longer. I deplore the folly of the French refusing to yield and the necessity for devastating the country." The opinion of the army concerning the entry of Paris coincides with that of Moltke. The men, however, are anxious to get home, and do not care about seeing Paris now. The belief prevails among the officers that as soon as Paris is occupied a majority of the troops will be quartered in the city and there remain all winter.

In addition to the force now organized and in the field, four entrenched camps are to be formed, while in all 500,000 men may be drilled. A despatch from Gien reports the enemy

On the German prisoners taken around Orleans were found large quantities of French jewelry and gold.

The Prussian authorities at Strasburg have discovered and broken up a recruiting office for the French service. The establishment, though conducted with great secrecy, had been in successful operation for a fortnight and had sent out two hundred and eighty Bismarck denies the authenticity of a despatch reported to have been sent by him to the North German Minister at Florence, superintending the Constituent Assembly, and keeping a wide circle of country in subjection, while the army of Prince Frederick Charles pacifies the rest of the country, until the army lately under Bazaine is brought back to France, to be used in strengthening the hands of a new and strong government, with which peace will be made. At the head of this government will be Napoleon, and this is the reason why Bazaine has been sent to Wilhelmshohe, and of the continual communications between Napoleon, the King, Bismarck, and the imperialists of England and

LONDON, Nov. 15-Midnight.-Additional reports confirm the recapture of Dijon by the Army of the East.

The churches of France are offering their bells to be cast into cannon.

Prince Frederick Charles has reached the river Yonne. The columns converged at Sens, and he will cross the river to the assistance of Von Der Tann, with an army estimated at 150,000 men.

LONDON, Nov. 15 .- [Special to the New York Herald.] - A correspondent writing from Versailles on November 10 says:-The morning opened wintry, indeed, and snow and rain are falling fast. It is so dark that I am obliged at noon to write by candle light. Paris scarcely dares to make a sortie to-day, and she contents herself with firing through the fog. I can hear the roar of the cannon of Valerien, Issy, and Montrouge. To-day there are rumors of fighting at Orleans.

The French are said to be in such force that a strong body is being sent off to the support of Von Der Tann. If necessary their places will be filled here by the reinforcements which have arrived within the last three days. It is very certain from the indications observable, as well as from the reports made by deserters, that Paris is preparing for a sortie on a very large scale.

I am prepared to predict that it will be made about November 18 or 20, and will be to the south of the city. The German leaders are well advised, and preparations to resist an attack are vigorously pushed forward. Yesterday I had an opportunity of talking with a Mobile who deserted on Saturday last. He got into our lines on Tuesday, nearly dead from exhaustion, having wandered two days in the woods.

He says that the poor are now suffering terribly, both from hunger and cold, and a great number of the destitute from the country are entirely dependent upon charity. The mortality is large, especially among the young children. This man himself had not tasted meat for four days before he deserted, except three meals of horse flesh. There was much discontent among some portions of the army, and all the regiments tinctured with revolutionary sentiments are severely treated. The spirit of the Reds was greatly broken since their recent defeat. He says the voting on November i was a farce and did not represent the sentiment of the people. He says he believes if there were another outbreak in Paris it would be attended with terrible bloodshed, as it would be one of despe-

I have good reasons for advising you not to place too much reliance on the reports of the success of the Army of the Loire. Von Der Tann with a small force is falling steadily back, in accordance with a well-considered plan. No doubt he will lose many men, but the sacrifice will be the same as at Gravelotte. It is intended to hold the Army of the Loire in check, and in the meanwhile Frederick Charles is steadily pushing on, and is even now nearly within striking distance of Paladines' right flank.

I believe I can confidently assure you that unless Moltke's plans fail, as they have not yet failed since the commencement of the war, the Army of the Loire will find itself in a trap, and that the chances of another disastrous capitulation are imminent. Large reinforcements and a big convoy of guns made their appearance at St. Denis yesterday morning. The new-comers received hearty greetings from the investing army. A special envoy from St. Petersburg reached headquarters yesterday, and had an interview with the King, in presence of the Crown Prince, Bismarck, and Moltke.

ADMIXTURE OF RACES. - Nowhere, perhaps, says Prof. Agassiz, is the physical and moral deterioration of pure races so clearly shown as in Brazil. The hybrid between the Indian and the negro, called cafuzo, has none of the delicaey of the mulatto; his complexion is derk, his hair long, wavy, and curling, and his character, instead of being confiding but indolent, is described by Agassiz as exhibit-ing a happy combination between the jolly disposition of the negro and the energetic, enduring powers of the Indian. The hybrid between the white and half-breed is called mameluco, and is described as being pallid, effeminate, feeble, lazy, and rather obstinate, the Indian influence having apparently ob-literated the higher characteristics of the white, without imparting its own energies to the offspring. Noticeable exceptions to this picture may be found in the half-breeds of the semi-civilized communities of our Southern Indians. It is very remarkable that the Indian, crossing with either a negro or a white, makes a deeper impress on his progeny than the other races, and, in accordance with this fact, it is observed that, in further crossings, the pure Indian characteristics are resumed, and those of the other races thrown off. "Let any one," says Professor Agassiz, 'who doubts the evil of mixture of races, and is inclined, from a mistaken philanthropy, to break down all barriers between them, visit
