THE COAL TRADE.

The Scranton Strike-The Exedus from Schuyl-kill Stesped-Complete Tonnage for the Week-Quetations, Etc.

Week—Quetations, Etc.

The leading event is of course the consummation of the strike in the Scranton region. So far as it concerns us, the strike is of very little account, that is unless undue advantage is taken of the situation by the operators. The immediate effect will be to steady prices at this port, but there will be no necessity whatever for a great rise in prices, the more especially as the season is pretty well over and our coal region can devote itself almost exclusively to supplying the city and line for the winter. But even the New York market need not be much affected at present, as there is an abundance of stock already on The New York market need not be much affect d at present, as there is an abundance of stock already on hand at all the main depots. Of course it will be to the interest of the New York companies to make a great raise in the price, so that all the coal which they have now on hand, and which they have mined at a low rate, may be sold at high prices and at a large profit. Under the circumstances the company is under the imputation of being concerned in bringing about the strike, which is undoubtedly to their interests. And not only are they directly interested. It is charged upon them in addition that they are always endeavoring to crush out individual operators by an abnormal state of the market, either one tors by an abnormal state of the market, either one way or the other, and such a state of things they can always bring about by reason of their power as owners both of the mines and of the transportation facilities. In their endeavors in this direction they have been particularly successful, at least in their own particular region.

Pravious to the strike the men in Schuylki'l, distatisfied with what they called the "miserably low rate of wages," were procuring travelling tickets, and were making off in large numbers to the upper regions in the hope of obtaining work at the higher rafe there paid. But the sudden and severe lowering of the rate of wages in the latter region has suddenly put a stop to all such intentions, and those who thought to better themselves now remain in Schuylkill, where they are mostly content to work

Schuylkill, where they are mostly content to work for what they can get.

That the Scranton men should strike at the great reduction in wages which was suddenly put upon them was not to be wondered at, though strikes are always to be deprecated and avoided. If the company made the great deduction with the expectation of leaving room for a compromise, they were for once mistaken in their calculations, and we are heartily glad of it. But if they purposely fixed the rate so low in order to precipitate the strike for their own interest, we are sorry that the men have fallen into the wrap thus set for them. The coal trade ought not to be arbitrarily ruled by a combination either on the side of men or employers, and anything looking towards the thwarting of the unjust demands on either side is to be welcomed by all who are in any way interested in the trade. A more just system than that in vogue will be more easily obtained when the present arrangement is per-just system than that in vogue will be more easily obtained when the present arrangement is personally found to work dissatisfactorily to all parties, and this state it is hoped is now nearly attained.

The striking parties are the men employed by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, the Delaware and Hudson, and the Pennsylvania Coal Companies. Why those belonging to the last two have joined the strike is not known, as it was only the Lackawanna Company that proposed to reduce wagea. The strike in the regions worked by these companies is general, and some collieries have stopped in other regions, not on account of strikes, but from want of orders.

The following is the complete summary of the trade for the past week, as reported for the Pottsville Hiner's Journal of to-day:—

A WHOLESOME LESSON.—Yesterday morning a gentleman incurred the displeasure of one of the city ash men by refusing to pay lifteen cents a barrel, besides what was paid by the city for the removal of ashes. The man expressed his displeasure by smashing the barrels and tossing the contents about the street. The gentleman concluded it was about time to have a settlement with the functionary. He set a watch caught the man in the act. ary. He set a watch, caught the man in the act, took him before Alderman Patchell, who administered a lecture, and fined the mad for having his ash cart uncovered, required him to give ball to keep the peace, and bound him over to appear at keep the peace, and bound him over to appear at court to answer for the destruction of the gentle-man's property. If citizens would only take the trouble to right themselves when outraged hy such fellows, there would be fewer cases of this kind to record. The thanks of the community are due to the gentleman for energetically following the matter up, and to the Alderman for punishing the fellow as he deserved.

RETURN OF A POPULAR DIVINE TO THIS CITY.— Rev. James M. Crowell, D. D., has recently been elected paster of the Woodlands Presbyterian Church, situated at Forty-second and Pine streets, and will preach his first sermon to-morrow morning at half-past 19 o'clock. Rev. Dr. Crowell was formerly paster of the Broad Street Presbyterian Church, and is much beloved by a large and influential portion of our religious commenty. As a pulpit orstor he stands unrivalled in his denomination, and he no doubt will make the beautiful edifice in which he has been selected paster to need subtract. which he has been selected pastor to need enlarge-ment very soon. He preaches also at 7% o'clock in the evening.

More Roserries.—At half-past six o'cleck this morning the gentlemen's furnishing store of H. Atkinson, No. 420 Chesnut street, was robbed of goods valued at $75. The thief smasked the bulk window with a paving stone.

The room of Israel Brown, at the Merchante' Hotel, was entered last night and pilfered of a suit of A sneak thief, during last evening, went into the furnishing store of J. Glueck, No. 1204 Pine street, and stole a lot of underclotking.

THE "STAR" COURSE OF LECTURES.—On Monday evening next the fourth lecture of the supplementary series to the "Star" course will be delivered at the Academy of Music by Miss Susan B. Anthony, the distinguished Woman's-rights advocate. Miss Anthony's subject will be "The False Theory," and she will demonstrate, to her own satisfaction at least, that women were not born to be supported and protected by man. Miss Anthony will be introduced by Mrs. Lucretia Mott.

STATION HOUSE LODGERS.—Last night there were ninety lodgers at the Third district station.

Obstructing the Mails.

New York, Dec. 10.—General Superintendent L. E. Rucker, of the Eric Railway, and Mr. Berthold. Superintendent of the Eastern Division, were arraigned before United States Commissioner Jackson at Jersey City to-day, on the charge of obstructing the passage of the United States mails at Bergen tunnel on Friday, the 2d inst. From the evidence by the mail agents it was shown that eight or ten mails were obstructed, and that the approximate cause was the placing of locomotive No. 363, of which Carrett Eiseman was engineer, with two cars, in such manner across the tracks of the Delaware and Lackawanna Railroad as to completely shut off all passage of those tracks.

This locomotive and two cars were ordered in that position by Rucker. On this evidence Commissioner Jackson discharged Berthold and holds Rucker in £2500 ball, Charles E. Sisson becoming his surety. Engineer Eiseman will be held in a like amount.

A Number of Lawyers Minus an Office-Narrew Escape of a Boy-Three Stores on North Second Street Damaged.

Record Street Damaged.

At about 6 o'clock this morning a fire broke out in a uliding No. 186 S. Sixth street, and before any water could be put on the fames they had extended to the roof, and, in consequence of there being no bettlement walls, and the shingles being covered with tin, the adjoining houses to the north and south were much damaged. No. 183 was occupied or the first floor by Daniel Donohue as a drinking saloon, and the front second story room by Charles Henry Jones, the Park Solicitor. Mr. Jones is fully insured. The rest of the building was used as a boarding-house by Mrs. Abigail J. Drake. She accommonated about twenty boarders, all of whom suffered severely by water. The building is owned by John J. Royer. The fire originated in the attic occupied by a man named Wilson, a scene painter. A little fellow who was asleep in the apartment was awakened by the singeing of his hair.

No. 134 was occupied on the lower floors by William M. Bull, Henry T. Coleman, Benjamin Daniels, Thomas Wagner, Jr., and George W. Arundel, attorneys. The remainder of the house was occupied by Mrs. Vantree as a dwelling. The whole building was completely flooded. There is no insurance.

The lower floor of No. 132 was devoted to lawyers' offices, and was occupied by B. L. Temple and W. H. Recheffer. Water was the principal cause of loss in this structure.

No. 130 was occupied on the first floor by Horn R. Kneass, Christian Kneass, P. T. Rausford, and Elijah Thomas, lawyers, and the Manufacturers' in-

No. 130 was occupied on the first floor by Horn R. Kneass, Christian Kneass, P. T. Ransford, and Elijah Thomas, lawyers, and the Manufacturers' Insurance Company. The third story was occupied by a Mr. We'sh and family. Mrs. Welsh only yesterday had given birth to a girl, and it was with considerable difficulty that she was removed.

During the alarm for the fire on South Sixth street another fire was discovered on the fourth floor of the building No. 58 North Second street, occupied by R. B. Wardin & Co., manufacturers and wholesale floaters in tinware. The alarm was promptly sounded and the firemen as quickly responded.

The fire had made considerable becomes

The fire had made considerable headway before the flames were discovered, destroying the roof and communicating to the third floor. The origin of the sames is not known. The third and fourth floors were used as workshops, and there was a large stock of material on hand. The flames also communicated to the third and fourth floors of the building No. 60, occupied by Nusbaum & Bacharach, elothiers, and the fourth floor of No. 56, on the south, occupied by J. C. Moore & Co., dealers in coal oil. Warden & Co.'s entire stock was valued at $15,000. The loss cannot be definitely ascertained, but it is, however, covered by insurance. but it is, however, covered by insurance.

The fire destroyed a considerable quantity of clothing on the third and fourth floors of the clothing house, and a portion of the stock on the lower fleors was greatly damaged by water. The fire insurance patrol succeeded in rendering valuable service in this building by means of their oil cloth covers. The firm of Nusbaum & Bacharach esti-mated the value of their stock at $15,000, upon which there is an insurance of $11,000 in the Dela-ware Mutual and North America Companies. The insurance will fully cover the loss.

J. C. Moore & Co. sustain only a slight loss by fre, while their stock of oil is damaged to an extent of a few bundred dollars.
