FROM THE WEST.

Speech of General Frank Blair upon Resolutions. ST. LOUIS, Jan. 17.—On Friday last a resolution was introduced in the lower house of the Legislature by Major Pope, of St. Louis, endorsing the thirteenth, fourteenth, and fifteenth sections of the Federal Constitution, and the policy of the Government, and favoring the payment of the State and National indebtedness according to several contracts upon which the indebtedness is based. The resolutions were read and discussed during the hour on Friday and Saturday and continued yesterday.

It had been stated that the resolution was introduced to force General Blair if possible to sustain his position on the subject. A letter to Colonel Brodhead, in 1868, and upon which he was nominated in the National Democratic Convention or to recede from it.

Yesterday Gen. Blair, on a motion to refer Major Pope's resolution to the committee on Federal Relations, of which Blair is chairman, spoke to the question, stating that he was in favor of the fifteenth amendment and believed the South generally assented to it, but the reconstruction Act of the Reconstruction Congress, as referred to the decision of the Supreme Court in the case of Cummings against the State of Missouri; also to the case of Milligan and Bowles, who were tried by a military commission in Indiana during the war.

Referring to his letter to Colonel Brodhead, he used the following language:—"Had sir, my letter which has been referred to the contents that the military should be made to withdraw from those Southern States, I say so still, and you have only to withdraw them from the South, and their work will be done. (Applause.) That carries over to carpet-baggers, who are regarded upon the platform of the South, will disperse themselves in an instant if not sustained by the bayonets of the Federal Government. There is no item in that letter that I take back. I stand by it. "I believe in the reconstruction given to the Constitution of the United States by the Supreme Court, that this reconstruction was unconstitutional. My hope in going to Congress, if I should attain that high position, is that I may aid in withdrawing the troops from those Southern States, which are held there to saddle upon the backs of that people a parcel of carpet-baggers and scoundrels, followed by an ignorant mass of negroes, and if the people of the South, who have chosen a disposition to abide in good faith by the arbitration of arms, renege their allegiance to the Government, they will be allowed to resume self-government among themselves, as we have done in Missouri, and while I am not expected to carry with me the gentleman from St. Louis, I believe that we can surely and certainly count upon the cooperation of the large body of liberal men who assisted us in relieving ourselves from a similar tyranny in the State of Missouri.

The speech concluded with rather savage assault upon John B. Henderson, a portion of whose career during the early part of the war he not very delicately handled. He forgives all past misdeeds of the gentleman, however, for the position he took in the impeachment trial of Andy Johnson.
