The history of the efforts for the opening of Fifteenth street which for the past decade have been put forward is one of contemptuous ingratitude on the part of this close corporation. Close it is. It has enriched itself in the traffic of our city, has had great municipal favors shown it, and has monopolized entire streets to the detriment of the public and the deprecia- tion of property. Before this company settled liself where it now is, Fifteenth street was not only laid down upon the plan of the city, but was curbed and ready to be opened; and as an acknowledgment that it soon would be opened, the present depot was built to suit the location, when the thoroughfare was given over to public use. But having raised its depot and carried its fences on either side of it up to Sixteenth street, the corporation turned a deaf ear to the appeals that its embargo of the street might be raised, holding to the pernicious old saying, always resorted to in the defense of an unjust	Founders or Principals of other Institutions. 6 Teachers of music or piano tupers

In fact, the speculation for a rise was encouraged (as it always is) by the knowledge that a large short interest existed in connection with the locking up of greenbacks. The rise in the principal daily favorites was about 263 per cent, but in two instances—Union Pacific and Hannibal and St. Joseph-lit reached 10 per cent, while in the preferred sparse of the and St. Joseph-it reached 10 per cent, while in the preferred shares of the latter road the advance upon the lowest price of the week was all of 11 per cent. The high-est prices of the rise were made about noon of Saturday, but after that time a reaction ensued both upon the unfavorable statement of the banks and upon a 'break' in Reading, attributed to the failure of a weak operator, who had ordered the purchase of a heavy instalment of the stock, to carry which he had not taken care to provide sufficient capital. The street was temporarily disconcerted by this affair, and the market was unsettied and lower in all directions; but towards the close a steadier feeling ensued and much of the decline of the afternoon was recovered.

"The Government list shared in the general buoy-ancy of the week, but prices were conservative in their improvement, which ranged from $3_4 @ \%$ per cent. "The gold market was conspicuous rather by its lack of feature than by any noteworthy change. I was perhaps the steadlest week 1a gold since the termination of the war, the extreme fluctuation being contined to one-quarter of one per cent."

AN OLD THIEF .- A woman giving the name of Kate Williams was arrested at Alder and Master streets on Saturday, upon the charge of the larceny of a piece of cloth from a tailor store in that neighborhood. She had a hearing before Alderman Kemble, and was committed. At the lock-up she was identified as the person who stole two pieces of cloth and an under-skirt from a store at Eleventh and Jefferson streets some time since. The prisoner had a second hearing before Alderman Allison, and was committed in default of $1200 additional bail.

WOMEN AT HOSPITAL CLINICS .- A slight outbreak occurred on Saturday at the clinic in the hospital attached to Blockley. There was a large attendance of male students and a dozen of females, whose presence was the cause of the discord. While their male compeers were excited by this invasion of the lecture room by the women, who remained during two medical lectures, and one on surgery, they resorted to no other demonstration than an occasional hiss. Two of the women fainted during a surgical operation. The indignant males talk of a protest.

WIDOWS' NOTICES .- In the Orphans' Court for the city and county of Philadelphia, Mrs. Henrietta Pereira, the widow of Lewin Pereira, and Mrs. Hannah A. Kennedy, the widow of Hugh Kennedy, Jr., have filed their petitions asking that they may retain three hundred dollars of the personal property of the decedents, in accordance with the provisions of the act of Assembly of April 14th, 1851, and the supplements thereto.

John was full of whisky, and he was disposed to mix it with water, and would have done so but for the presence of a blue-coat. He was taken to his home at Second and Dock streets.

ACCIDENTS .- A stevedore, name unknown, fell into the hold of the ship Benefactor at Vinc street wharf on Saturday and fractured a leg. He was removed to his home, on Front street above Vine. Charles Vansdale was run over by a swill wagon at Harrowgate on Saturday, and had an arm fractured. The sufferer was removed to the Episcopal Hospital,

MORE DIVORCES .- Mrs. Mary C. Burk, by her next friend Harry C. Kerr, gives notice to her liege lord, James Burk, and Mrs. Charlotte Dawson performs the same operation on James V. Dawson, that unless they are heard from before next Saturday they will be no longer united in the holy bands of matrimony.

A CRUEL SON .- "Reddy" McGouldrich was arrested last night upon the charge of assault and battery. The allegation is that he beat his mother and father, and then turned them out of doors. Defendant resides on Gerster street, near Richmond. He had a hearing before Ald. Neal, and was held in $800 ball to answer.

DISORDERLY CONDUCT .-- Christopher Bonshoff went into a bouse on Nicetown lane on Saturday night and behaved in a very disorderly manner. His conduct was such as to require the presence of the police, and he was taken nto enstody. Alderman Good committed him to prison.
