NEWS SUMMARY.

OILY Affairs.

-The Committee on Superintendence of the Fairmount Park Commission will meet on Thursday next to consider the proposals which, up to yesterday, were received at the office of the commission for the running of properly constructed and safe steamers on the Schuylkill river within the boundaries of Fairmount Park.

-Mayor Fox yesterday received a telegram from the anthorities of Shippensbug, Pa., stating that three alleged burglars had been arrested in that town during the morning and sent to the Carlisle jail. An officer was specially detailed, and started for that point last evening for the purpose of ascertaining whether they could be identified as any of the party concerned in the robbery at the Kensington Bank on last Thursday night.

-The Finance Committee held a meeting last evening. The bill to appropriate $400,-000 for the improvement of Broad street was reconsidered, and it was agreed to increase the amount to $500,000.

-The ship Research, 1459 tons, Captain S. Mosher, laden with from 8000 to 9000 barrels of coal oil, left this port on Saturday, bound outward for Antworp. While in tow of the City Ice Boat on Saturday last she struck on a sunken rock known as the "Kettle Bottom," near Marcus Hook, and sunk in about 12 feet of water. The vessel was very heavily laden, drawing about 23 feet of water, and was unmanageable owing to the high winds prevail-ing at the time. There were no accidents to any of the crew.

-Three men, supposed to be thieves, have been for several days acting suspiciously about the doors of city banks, evidently watching for an opportunity to snatch money from the hands of depositors. Two of the gang are of genteel appearance; the other is rather roughly dressed, and looks like a for-eigner. Occasionally they venture inside the banks, and coolly survey the depositors as they stand in line.

-At a meeting of the Board of Fire Commissioners held last evening, the Committee on Real Estate made a report to the effect that they were prohibited by section 22 of the ordinance of Councils from leasing property tenanted by other parties than the city, and they asked for the repeal of that section. —The Board of Port Wardens protest against any piers for ice-breakers being built in the Delaware opposite Chester.

-The annual meeting of the Philadelphia Board of Trade was held last evening at the rooms, No. 505 Chesnut street. Mr. James C. Hand, first Vice-President, occupied the chair, and Mr. T. Morris Perot acted as Secretary. The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved, after which the annual report of the Executive Council was read by Mr. A. J. Perkins, Secretary of the Council. The report was adopted. An election for officers then took place, and the ticket as published in yesterday's TELEORAPH was elected.

THE UNITED STATES AND ENGLAND.

The following circular, which has been issued by the Anglo-American Committee of which Thomas Hughes, Esq., is chairman, is entitled to the thoughtful consideration of all who are anxious to promote good feeling and friendly relations between the United States and England.

wen: Frederick Peunington, Esq.; F. J. Free-love, Esq.; Great Bardfield; Ralph Ashton. Esq., Over Darwen; Alexander McArthur, Esq.; Peter Reid, Esq. Hon. Secretary and Treasurer, F. W. Ches-

EOD. EEQ. At a meeting held at the Ship Tavern, Charing

Cross, on Tuesday, 15th November, 1870, Mr. T. Hughes in the chair, it was "Resolved, That an Anglo American Com-mittee be formed for the purpose of obtaining the best possible securities for the continuance of possible mittee between Variation of peace and amity between England and the United States."

The committee have fixed the subscription at ten shillings and upwards.

THE ROYAL MARRIAGE.

The Coming Union of the Marquis of Lorne and the Princess Louisn Scotchmen are proud of the fact that the oldest son of one of their greatest chiefs is the first subject in modern times who, openly and with the full consent of the ruling powers, should be betrothed to a princess of royal blood. Several means of expressing their satisfaction have been ventilated in the press. Among others have been ventilated in the press. Among others the proposal that a splendid palace should be erected near Edinburgh for the happy couple at the cost of the Scottish peers. This, however, has not proved accepta-ble, probably from the fact that the majority of the illustrious personages need all the "gear" they have to keep up their posi-tion in society. The Marquis, it is said, has pur-chased a house in Moray place, Edinburgh, the finest square of that city of palaces. This will prove a godsend to Auld Reekie, which of late has descended to the level of a large provin-cial town with a society almost entirely profes-sional. With a princess for its centre Edinburgq sional. With a princess for its centre Edinburgq will attract the aristocracy and wealth of the country, if the winds do not prevail against royalty and drive to balmier climes the now daintily nurtured and "anglified" nobility of the North. In the popular estimation Lord Lorne seems to be a second Prince Charlie. As you seems to be a second Frince Charlie. As you walk past the shop windows he meets your gaze at every step in picture and photograph. You see him in the shape of a child's doll, arrayed in full Highland costume. He is already celebrated in song, and his crest has become public property as the favorite device of ladies' brooches. There is another point of resem-blance between the young nobleman and the Jacobite hero in the circumstance that the former has for a rival some "wee, wee German lairdie." It is said that the King of Prussia, being very indignant that none of his dependent sprigs of German royalty should have been chosen for the husband of Princess Louisa, has indignantly protested against this marriage indignantly protested against this marriage. If this be true his remonstrance has been un-availing. Workmen are at present busily em-ployed in preparing the chapel in Windsor Castle for the approaching solemnity, which will take place on the 20th of March.

CONJUGAL TRIALS.

Two Marriages and Three Diverce Suits Be-tween the Same Parties. The Louisville Chancery Court can boast of laurels in the way of divorce suits before which even renowned Chicago may lower her plumes. The Chancellor yesterday returned the papers of one with the simple indorsement "dismissed," whereby hang several very well-developed tales. It is the third of a series, all brought by the same fair plaintiff against the same incorrigible defendant defendant. M. L. H---- was sweet sixteen, when, in 1860, M. L. H— was sweet sixteen, when, in 1860, she first felt "the need of a protector during the journey through life," and listened to the soft words of E. J. H—. She knew him "poor in purse," as she herself expressed it, but then he was young and handsome. Hence, there was soon the sound of marriage bells, and all went merry till poverty came in the cottage door and Cupid began his flight from the window. "He whole time, and he didn't pay for that," was a sad sequel to the nuptial pledge, "with all my goods I thee endow." So, followed by the ghosts of scanty wardrobes and unpaid board bills, Edward bade farewell to his Eloise and carpetbagged it to California.

The circular, which consists of an address and a list of the noblemen and gentlemen who have been placed upon the committee, is as follows:-

ADDRESS.

The Anglo-American Committee has been formed for the purpose of obtaining the best securities for the maintenance of a friendly understanding, and for the cultivation of more cordial relations, between the United States and Great Britain. It is proposed to establish a precisely similar society in the United States and in Canada, and it has been ascertained that there are many leading Americans who will give their aid to this end. It is hoped that citizens of each country resident in the other will join the committee in the place of their temporary domicile. The necessity for the establishment of some such society has forced itself on several of the promoters of the committee, who have been lately in the United States. The lamentable ignorance of contemporary American history which exisfs in England even amongst othewise well-instructed politicians; is too notorious; and the case is much the same in the United States with reference to Great Britain. Upon all questions in controversy between the two countries, the facts and arguments which form the strength of the case on each side are, for all practical purposes, unknown in the other. It is fruitless to inquire how this came to pass; it is clear that it is dangerous to allow such a state of things to continue. Hence the present effort, which the promoters are confident may be made the instrument of spreading sounder views, and of bringing together citizens of each country outside of the range of party politics. The work of the English committee for the present will be confined to the publication of carefully prepared statements upon the ques-tions at issue, which are specified in the President's message, and to entering into corres-pondence with citizens of the United States who may be ready to join in the work of hearty reconciliation between the two countries. It is believed that other methods of forwarding this general object will open out, of which the committee will be able to avail themselves in due course. Citizens of either country, who may be ready to join in this effort, are requested to communi-cate with the Hon. Secretary.

These were grounds enough for divorce, and on the 20th February, 1863, the Chancellor "gave ker back her heart again," with her costs "in that behalf expended." On the 25th of March, 1863, the long absent Enoch Arden had returned to Louisville, taken out fresh license, and again entered into "the gall of bitterness and the bonds of iniquity' with the object of his first and early love

And then began the most extended bridal tour ever recorded. The defendant, as it was afterwards asserted in divorce suit No. 2. "took me to California, where we remained one year; thence to Nevada Territory for six months," in which strange land the truant husband left his doubly-wedded wife, and struck out for New Mexico, she, through the assistance of friends in Louisville, returning here again to seek a dissolution of the chains in which she had so unfortunately been a second time entrapped.

In this suit she was not so successful. hard to loosen cords which have been twice tied that we doubt if anything short of a Chicago Chancellor can ever undo the knot. Edward returned in time to protest against another dissolution of the bonds, and putting on file seve-ral letters, of which the following is a sample, established so clearly in the eyes of justice that the plaintiff did not consider herself "abandoned," as alleged, as to defeat the suit:-

MY DARLING EDWARD:-I do wish we were living together in a nice little home of our own; don't you think we would be happy? I expect to see the day when we will live as comfortably as any of them. It may be for years, but I hope not, Edward.

Your darling wife, The second suit was dismissed May 20, 1870; but, not to be outdone, suit No. 3 was filed Au-gust 25 following, which, we are sorry to say, met with a like fate. - Louisville Courier-Jour.

THE CABINET.

The Rumored Reconstruction.

A Washington correspondent writes: -There is emphatic authority to say that the President entertains no idea whatever at present of making any change in his Cabinet. Secretary Fish has not asked to be relieved from his posi tion as Secretary, nor does the President desire that he shall do so. Concerning the French embassy the President says that Minister Washburne never stood higher in his estimation than he does to day; that he considers Mr. Washburne a decided success as Minister at Paris; that he has exceeded his most sanguine expectations, and that should he ever ask to be relieved, his request would be granted only on the ground of failing health, with which the Minister is now affected.

It must be understood that while the President is satisfied with his Cabinet, he cannot answer for the intentions of the members. Secretary Fish informed your correspondent some time since that he did not, when accepting his office, intend to remain during the whole ad-ministration of President Grant. It seems to be understood that he will resign early in March, though it cannot be stated confidently that such is his intention.

OUAKER INDIAN AGENTS.

Probable Resignation of Friends Samuel and Asn Janney. The Loudoun (Va.) Standard says: --

We learn from a reliable source that Mr. Samuel M. and Asa M. Janney, who are now Samuel M. and Asa M. Janney, who are now occupying onerous and responsible positions under the Government as Indian agents, con-template in a short time resigning the same, their health no longer permitting them to en-dure the trials and hardships incident to a life among the Indians. Considering their advanced ages and naturally delicate health, it has been a matter of surprise that, they have, thus, for matter of surprise that they have thus far en-dured the well known border hardships. That they have well and faithfully discharged their duties is a fact too well known to the courtry to need comment. Their policy has been the means of saving millions to the Government, and it rigidly carried out in the future] will prevent a repetition of hostilities by the Indians.
