OF NEW BOOKS.

-"A Handbook of Legendary and Mythological Art," by Clara Erskine Clement, published by Hurd & Houghton, has been sent us by Porter & Coates. In her preface the author states that this work originated in her own experience of the want of some handbook of reference, both in reading and in visiting art galleries, and that it has been written for the purpose of instructing her own children, for acquiring herself a more exact knowledge of the subjects treated therein, and to supply to others who may need it information about legendary and mythological subjects so frequently treated by artists of all ages. The first division of the book describes symbolism in art; the second gives the legends and stories which have been illustrated in art: principally those of a religious character; the third division gives the legends of place; and the fourth division briefly recounts the ancient myths illustrated in art. The work is profusely illustrated by examples from the performances of the best ancient and modern masters, and it contains much interesting and valuable information. A greater amount of art culture than Mrs. Clement apparently possesses should however be brought to the preparation of such a book as this, if it is to have a permanent value with artists and real connoisseurs and is to fulfil all the conditions compiler has drawn her informatton from a great number of standard authorities, and the hand-book is accurate and valuable so far as it goes. Its usefulness would be greatly increased, however, if it were arranged as a dictionary, and if the various legends related were supplemented by brief mention of the most important pictures and statues which illustrate them. Mrs. Clement plainly lacks the knowledge necessary for the preparation of a critical work, and this hand-book, while it will be a valuable addition to any artistic library, might easily be improved upon if some one who has made art a study were to undertake the task.

From Porter & Coates we have also received the "Heir of Redclyffe," by Miss Yonge, anthor of the "Two Guardians," etc. Published by D. Appleton & Co. This is a neat two-volume edition of a very interesting novel which for a number of years has maintained a merited popularity.

-"Our Girls" is the title of a book by Dr. Dio Lewis which has just been issued by Harper & Brothers, and which we have received from Claxton, Remsen & Haffelfinger. Dr. Lewis writes in a genial vein, and, with the exception of a tendency at times to slanginess, "Our Girls" is thoroughly excellent in manner and matter. It gives important and valuable advice with regard to female dress, and the numerous moral and sanitary questions connected there with, and much good counsel about the proper means to be adopted for the preservation of health. There are some excellent hints with regard to women's work and wages, a chapter | noon. on matrimony, and dissertations upon a variety of other subjects of interest to girls of all ages. The agreeable style in which this work is written will doubtless secure it many readers, when a more polished performance would secure none; and while the geniality of Dr. Lewis sometimes runs rather over, his defects of style are such as will rather aid than impede the object he has in view.

-John E. Potter & Co. send us "Diseases of the American Horse, and Cattle and Sheep,' by Robert McClure, M. D., V. S. This work gives the principal diseases to which horses, cattle, and sheep are subject, in alphabetical order, with plain and practical directions for their treatment. It will be a valuable addition to the libraries of farmers, stockbreeders, and others who have the care of horses, cattle, and sheep.

-From W. S. Turner we have received Appleton's Journal and Every Saturday.

-The Central News Company, No. 505 Chesnut street, sends us the latest numbers of Punch, The St. James Magazine, and Fun. -Peters' Musical Monthly for March contains a variety of new vocal and instrumental compositions.

-The March number of The Manufacturer and Builder is filled with a variety of papers on practical subjects.

-Leisure Hours for March contains biographical sketches and portraits of State Senator George Connell and Samuel B. Cluley, Esq., of Pittsburg, with a variety of interesting stories and sketches.

-The March number of The American Educational Monthly has a number of wellwritten articles on educational subjects.

- Van Nostrand's Eclectic Engineering Magazine is made up of selections from the best foreign engineering publications.

-A writer in the Boston Traveller seems to regard General Magruder as having been by far the most successful of all the Rebel Generals during the war. -It is estimated that 230,000 persons live on the banks of the Merrimac river, and, to a great extent, are dependent upon it for motive power for their factories and workshops. -A Boston bank President has gained notoriety by carefully turning up his vest several inches, when at his desk to keep it from wearing ont.

Miss Nellie Marshall, daughter of Humphrey Marshall, was married, last week, to a member of the Kentucky Legislature; and as the groom was ill at the time, the wedding ceremony took place at his bedside.

—A Methodist called the Italian unity meeting in Boston to order, a Trinitarian Congregationalist was its President, a Universalist offered the resolutions, a Unitarian seconded them, and an Episcopalian made one of the strongest speeches in their support. A Scotch granite monument to the memory of Hon. James Guthrie has been placed in Cave Hill Cemetery, Louisville. It is forty feet high, and bears a medallion likeness of Mr. Guthrie, in bronze. It was erected by his children, and cost $15,000.

-Mrs. Ellen Yanaga Valle has sued the steamer Richmond for $6015 because she was robbed to that extent of diamonds and other valuables while a passenger on board from St. Louis to New Orleans on the 16th of November, She had a room in the main and near the ladies' cabin, which she claims could not be fastened, and the thieves got in on account of this. The officers of the boat claim that the loss was occasioned by negligence on the part of Mrs. Valle.

CITY ORDINANCES. R ESOLUTION
Of Request to the Congress of the United States to Repeal the Income Tax.

Whereas, In the opinion of a vast majority of the citizens of Philadelphia the income tax, as now assessed and collected, is inquisitorial, unequal, and oppressive. It invites the commission of perjury; it offers a premium for dishonesty, and is most offensive to American sensibility and education in exposing to the public the private affairs of individuals; and Whereas, The amount realized therefrom is vastly disproportionate to the expense of collection; and Whereas, The said tax was originally imposed on the sole ground that it was necessary as a war measure, and as such submitted to and cheerfully paid by the people; and the reason of the imposition of the tax being abrogated, the collection of the tax should also cease; now

Resolved. By the Select and Common Counils of the City of Philadelphia, That the Congress of the United States be respectfully requested to repeal the act providing for the assessment and collection of a tax on in-Resolved, That the Clerks of Councils be directed to transmit to each of the members of Congress from Pennsylvania a copy of the foregoing preamble and resolution. HENRY HUHN. President of Common Council,

BENJAMIN H. HAINES, Clerk of Select Council. SAMUEL W. CATTELL President of Select Council. Approved this twenty-seventh day of February, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-one (A. D. 1871). DANIEL M. FOX,
