THE POPE AND AMERICAN CATHOLICS

Interesting Letter of Pio Nono to the Xavier Alumnt Sodality-His Views on the Bases of American Institutions.

Some weeks ago there was published an address of the Xavier Alumni Sodality to the Pope, protesting against the occupation of Rome by the soldiers of the Florentine Government. This protest was sent to the Holy Father, and his answer to it is now published.

The following is a translation of the Papal brief. It is of peculiar interest as the first answer sent from Rome to the protests of the American Catholics and the Pope .--

diction :--

We who cherish with especial love associations of Catholic youth, and because nothing can be more acceptable and agreeable to us amid the great confusion of the times and the snares of the impious, than that youth particularly should walk zealously in the way of the Lord and firmly adhere to Christian discipline; we could not, I say, beloved children, read the noble declaration of your sentiments expressed in your letter of the 8th day of December last, without being moved towards you with a peculiar sentiment of love.

For both your unshaken devotion towards us and this Apostolic See, as you express it, altogether requires this of us, as well as the exalted feelings of faith and religion by which you ex-press your abhorrence of the sacrilegious crimes cammitted by the enemies of truth and justice against our rights and the rights of the Apostolic see and against Holy Church, condemning with merited reprobation the impious deeds of the tyrannical rule of those who by armed force and by all sorts of deceit and fraud have trampled upon our civil power and liberiy.

But what especially, beloved children, gives us a great esteem for your virtue, and gains our special praise, is your eloquent declaration that you and all the members of your Sodality place your honor and glory in upholding and preserving firmly the principles of religion and justice which you have received by inheri-

Efforts to Avoid the $1,150,000 Tax-Gar-bied and Suppressed Testimony. From the affidavit of Hudson C. Tanser, late Official Stenographer to the Legislature of New York, in relation to the scrip dividend issued by the New York Central Railroad Company, we give the following:--REAL EARNINGS OF THE CENTRAL. Deponent further says that he has made extracts from the sworn statements of the New York Central Railroad Company to the Legisla-ture of this State, which show that the net earnings of the road from 1853 to a time shortly prior to the passage of the dividend tax were

$1,697,012.21, showing conclusively that this dividend of $23,000,000 was not earned before the passage of the Dividend Tax act. It also appears from the same sworn statements that the cost of the road and equipments up to 1858 was $22,044,529.25, and that it amounted, according to the sworn report of 1868, to $36,607,696 $7, thus showing that the amount expended from the earnings of the road for that purpose was, during that period, $14,-563,167-62--thus disproving the position taken by the railroad, that this dividend of $23,000,000 used in improving the condition of the road. Deponent further says that he does not ques-tion the accuracy of the following, to be found on page 42 of the printed report of Horace F. Clarke's testimony:

Q. There was a condition, I believe, in the interest certificates in regard to the payment of the dividend? A. Yes, sir; the condition was that the dividend thereon should be paid out of the future earnings of the road. Q. Only to be paid if the future earnings would warrant it? A. That is all Q. Has there been any injunction against the

Q. Has the injunction been removed? A. It has not. Q. Can you state to the committee whether the road would have been able to pay the dividend upon the interest certificates out of its earnings had the injunction not been issued? A. They had the money.

Q. I understand they were not to be paid unless the future earnings of the road war-ranted ? A. That was in the future; they had the money, and it belonged to the stockholders; the money has certainly not been earned since. Q. The idea was, would the subsequent earn-ings of the road since the issue of them lead you to believe that you could pay a dividend on these certificates? A. No, sir; the interest certificates were issued upon money then in hand. Well-regulated railroads do not make dividends out of earnings in the future; they wait until

By Mr. Selkreg-Q. Is there any difference or are they alike, the stock and these interest certificates: that is, if the company declare a dividend upon their stock, do they expect to declare a dividend of the same amount upon the Q. Then I understand that this is stock, in effect, although not in name? A. It is not stock in effect, because there is no legal authority to issue stock. SOME OF COMMODORE VANDERBILT'S TESTI-

A large concourse of the friends of the deriosity were gathered about the wharf, the scene reminding one of the early days of the California gold excitement. Many of the emi-grants are Swedes and Germans, nearly all young and able-bodied men and women.

The purpose of these colonists in going to the hitherto almost unexplored regions of Lower California is to gather an article of moss or "orchilla," which is a substitute for the much and abounding in fruits, game, and wind cattle. Mr. Puch at once made a contract with the Lower California Company for the exclusive right to gather and export this orchilla. He then spent some weeks in New York, employing men to go there for this purpose. He desires to employ altogether about 3000 men, women, and children, the first instalment of 400 having rately not off on Saturday

Mr. Preh binds himself to pay to each colonist whom he employs from $15 to $25 per month, according to capacity, with board and lodging.

This noble resolution, beloved children, keep faithfully and steadlastly; for since the foundations of social order and prosperity in every form of government, but especially in that which exists among you, are to be based evidently on these principles; you know that the whole stability, happiness, and honor of your country depend upon the same, and that no others deserve better of it than they who strive to preserve and to promote reverently the love justice, pure morality, and religion.

We pray God to confirm and strengthen with his grace your wills in these sentiments, and that your example may produce abundant fruit even to the advantage of others.

Finally, as a presage of all heavenly gifts and as a pledge of our paternal benevolence, receive, beloved children, the apostolic benediction, which we very lovingly bestow on each and every one of you. Given at Rome, at St. Peter's, on the 1st day of February, 1871, the twenty-fifth year of our pontificate. PICS P. P. IX.

SMALL-POX IN NEW YORK.

Alarmisg Spread of the Hideevs Malady-Pala-ful and Peculiar Incidents.

The virulent type of the present visitation of small-pox excites serious apprehensions. Last week there were eighteen deaths reported. There are now 135 cases of the disease. Of these 129 are at the hospital on Blackwell's Island. The disorder is scattered all over the city. Fifth avenue has contributed fittake to and Madison avenue one. It is a mistake to tenesuppose that the disease is confined to tenement-house localities. It is "no respecter of persons," and attacks those in high as well as those in low places. Sometimes a physician is not called to visit persons of wealth who are afflicted, for fear he will betray the hidingplace, as it is known that he is liable to prosecution unless he registers the patient.

A gentleman of wealth and respectability recently wedded a city belle, and, after a fortnight's honeymoon, the couple returned to this city, where the bridegroom installed his bride into a fashionable boarding-house and went into the country to prepare his suburban residence for her reception. During his absence she was taken ill; a physician was summoned and he pronounced the maindy small pox. The landlady hurried down to Dr. Morris and insisted upon the mamediate removal of the unfortunate lady. In spite of all remonstrances, the bride was forced to go to the hospital. She could not gain admission elsewhere. The husband hearing the news came on almost frantic, but of course was not allowed to go to the pest house. Pe was assured that his wife, being of robust health, and receiving every attention, was pro-gressing finely. Subsequently she failed, and suddenly died, her husband being prevented from visiting her or attending her funeral.

Several cases have been reported in person at the Sanitary Office. One came into the build-ing completely pitted. Dismay selzed upon policemen and clerks, who scattered in all directions, some eliding down the bannisters. some vaniling out of the windows, and others plunging pell-mell into closets, and locking the doors. Finally a brave African was bribed to lead the sufferer to the ambulance. Patients pitted from head to foot, and in a blaze of fever, have been known to ride in public vehicles and walk the streets to the hospital. It is now impossible to avoid the danger of contagion. But the most horrible reflection of all is that when once seized with the small-pox the person is at once isolated from all the world. The nearest and dearest friends cannot see them, When death ensues the Board of Health men wrap the corpse in double sheets, com-pletely saturated in carbolic acid. The coffin is scaled perfectly tight and boxed. No funeral is allowed. The remains are interred privately in the family plot, vanit, or "potter's field." This contagion was first detected five weeks ago, in This two persons who had come from a Boston ocean steamship, that had small-pox on board, but was not quarantined.

The currents of air, it is believed, carried the particles of contagion over to the atmosphere of this city, where it has since spread. In the In the suburbs the pestilence is raging to a feavial extent, In Brooklyn, Newark, Jersey City, Hobokon, and Paterson it prevails to an alarming extent .- N. Y. Times, lo-day.

WAR OF THE LAMPLIGHTERS.

Novel Contention in St. Louis-Operations of the Hostlie Forces.

The St. Louis Republican of Friday says: -The lamp-lighting difficulty remains unad-justed. The fact that Mr. Dunn and Mr. Zider, the two contractors, have a force of lamp-lighters in service, ensures the lighting of the lamps, even if some collisions occur. Last night Mr. Zider's men commenced work, while Mr. Dann's brigade continued their regular operations. The lamps were lighted with unusual promptitude, but Mr. Zider claims his competitor started boys at the work a quarter of an hour before the proper time. In most instances there were two lighters for each lamp. Some of the Zider boys got hurt by being knocked on the legs by the adders of their rivals. All the lamps being light 4, of course there was no further cause for difficulty until the hour for extinguishing arrived

Then, however, Mr. Zider states he tound the boys of Mr. Duwn had withdrawn, and so the work was done by the new hands. It was more than usually laborious, for it is averred in some localities lamps were frequently relighted and had to be as frequently put out.

It was reported yesterday that Mr. Dunn, con-sidering himself interfered with, had determined to withdraw his men until the validity of his contract had been determined in conrt, which it is expected will be done to-day.

The Chicago Tribune of the 3d inst. says: -

A terrible accident occurred in the West Division of the city, late yesterday afternoon, resulting in the instant death of two men, and fear-fully crushing another. Mr. Angus Martin had just raised his house, located at No. 348 Hubbard street, one story, and the blocks upon which it rested had, it was supposed, been securely arranged. Himself and two carpenters who lived with him, named Joseph Smith and William Spiers, were at work in the basement, when a sudden wind, almost like a hurricane, came ep, and fairly lifted the house from its

The blocks tumbled over instantly, and with a terrible crash the building came down upon the heads of the unfortunate men. Spiers and Smith were killed instantly. The former's neck was broken, his head crushed, his legs broken, and his body otherwise horribly mutilated. One hand was pressed against his face, leading to the inference that he had attempted to shield himself from the fate which he had no power to avert. The neck, arms, and legs of Smith were broken, his ribs fractured, and his body otherwise mangled. His arms were folded over his head as though he, too, had endeavored to protect himseli from the danger which threatened. Mr. Martin was saved from death in a miraculous manner. It happened that a large timber fell by his side, thus protecting him from the weight of the other timbers. As it was, several of his riks were broken, both legs severely bruised, and it is thought his spinal column is buared. An inquest was held this morning, the jury rendering a verdict in accordance with the above facts, with the further statement that the accident was the result of carelessness, in not having the house properly braced.

bag, his garments having all crept up about his neck. Hugging and thumping against the wall, he would, in passing the windows, strive to secure a foothold on the sills and lintels. At last, after much thumping and swaying to and fro, he reached the first floor, where he stood for a while and attempted to arrange his clothing. The 2000 persons collected on the walk were jeering and laughing. One boy cried out to him as he strove to smile complacently:-

The case put on trial was that of Gilbert kadan, who was indicted in July last upon the charge of non-observance of his marriage vows. The averments of the prosecution are, that in 1833 the defendant married Charlotte B. Stockport, and lived harmoniously with her for upwards of forty years. He was sexton of Christ Church, in that city, and succeeded in saving up a competency. In 1868 he was observed to be in improper intimiser with one Mary Tully, a woman who was sometimes employed to clean out the church. In 1868 his wife was compelled to institute proceedings in divorce, pending which he came to proceedings in divorce, pending which he came to this city with Mary Tully, and has been living here with her ever since. The case is yet on trial.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

EVENING TELEGRAPH OFFICE, Monday, March 6, 1871,

The week opened this morning on a dull loan market, the weather being unpleasant and threatening; but a break in the sky followed by clear weather had the effect of quickening matters both in business and financial circles soon after the opening hours. The demand for speculative loans is very light, but there is a fair business in discounts, with rates generally in favor of good borrowers. We quote on call at 5 to 6 per cent. and on good business paper at 7 to 8 per cent. on moderate time.

Gold is quiet and steady, with sales ranging from 110%@111. Government bonds are generally steady, with a slight advance in the 1881s. Stocks were quiet and steady. Sales of State 6s, second series, at 10515; City 6s, old bonds, at 10115, and new do. at 10175. Reading Railroad was moderately active, with sales at 50% @@50%. Pennsylvania was stronger, selling at 61% @61%; sales of Norris-town at 82%, and Lebigh Valley at 60%; 39% was bid for Catawiesa preferred and 27% for Philadelphia and Erie. Canal shares were dull, with sales of Lehigh at 35¼, b. o., and Susquehanna at 5; 16% was bid for Schuylkill preferred.

In miscellaneous stocks we notice sales Chesnut and Walnut Streets Railroad at 46;

Germantown do. at 3015; Feeder Dam Coal at S1, and McClintock Oil at %. PHILADELPHIA STOCK EXCHANGE SALES. Reported by De Haven & Bro., No. 40 S. Third street.

N. Y. MONEY MARKET ON SATURDAY.

From the Herald.

"Wall street, owing to the largely increased volume of business and advance in prices, has required more money the past week, but was readily supplied at four to five per cent, some balances being, excep-tionally, left with the larger government houses at three per cent. Strict'y speaking, the demand has been more active, but the receipts of currency from been more active, but the receipts of currency from the interior are still large enough to keep the rates of interest from advancing. Prime commercial paper has found a ready sale at 6% per cent., but rates continue to range from 6 to 7 per cent. "Foreign exchange was filmer on the announce-ment that the Bank of England had rated the minimum rate of disc curt to three per cent, but an attempt to advance quotations was not encoustful, the supply of bills having been increased to a sight extent by shipments of bonds to Europe, where five-twenties ard ten-forties underwent a sudden ad-vance of about one per cent, in face of the higher vance of about one per cent, in faces of the higher rate of the Bank of England. They upward move-ment of our securities in Europe succe ding the alteration in the rate of discount occasioned general surprise and is not as yet fully understood.

surprise and is not as yet fully understood. "The weekly statement of the associated tanks is by a strict and close analysis unfavorable, the gain in specie and legal-tenders, which amounts to over $1,60,000, not being equivalent to twenfy-five per cent, of the increase of liabilities. The deposits have been swelled to the extent of 0, or $7,400,000. The surplus reserve fails of only $221,000, and the banks still hold over $18,00,600.

"The speculation in gold continues to wane, and several important influences transpiring during the week had little effect. The offer of the Govern-ment to sell $7,400,000 of treasure during the monta of March occasioned a decline from 111% to 110%, of March occasioned a decline from 111% to 110%, from which, upon the announcement of the advance in the Bank of England rate of disc, unt, there was a reaction to 111%. These figure s show an extreme fluctuation of only 5 per cent, certainly a training one as compared with the materials afforded for a wide speculative movement. With peace in Europe we may look for a revival of the shipments thither of American securities. The pause in gold is ther-fore on income of a sharp decline before the middle of summer. The progress of the country to specie pay-nents cannot be interrupted now that peace reigns on both continents. Gold will begin where it left of last summer just before the delaration of war off last summer just before the declaration of war between France and Prussis, and a fail to 105 alos before the 4th of July would not be unnatural or

The Government list was irregular, but in the "The Government list was irregular, but in the main strong. The original rise, which was based on the theory that the Treasury Department would ex-ercise their influence in favor of the higher prices as a prehminary to offering the new loan, was so much in advance of the foreign market that a sunden decline was produced by the im-portation of bonds from Europe. But the foreign market reacted on the purchases made for shipment to the United States, and hence when the debt statement for February, showing so handsome a requestion, followed the amountement handsome a reduction, followed the announcement of the Treasury Secretary's intention to boy ten million bonds during March, prices in London sid-dunly advanced and our market sympathized. In fact, one theory of the advance in the Bauk of England discount rate is that the directors of that institution were desirous of repressing the growing iavor of our securities,"
