THE COAL TRADE.

The Union of the Bituminous and Anthracite Conl Miners-Further Trouble Ahead-The Bitumisous Trade-The Conl Question in the Legislature-The Complete Tonnage for the Week, Etc.

At a meeting of representatives from the an-thracite and bitnminous coal fields of Pennsylvania, which commenced yesterday at Johns-town, a union of the trade associations of the two forward to for some time by the anthracite miners, but what the meaning of it is remains to be seen. If it be only an enlargement of the jurisdiction of the W. B. A., the bituminous miners uniting in fellowship under condi-tions, the public can afford to let the action go narebuked for the present, awaiting the time when trouble is occasioned by the coalition to raise a cry against it. But if the union has been formed with the understanding that the immense bituminous coal fields are to be governed by the same corrupt form of government and under the same conditions as the anthracite, then it is now time to expose the move, and in every possible way hold up the members of both associations to the strongest condemnation of the reaches from the runnors at present in cirassociations to the strongest condemnation of the people. From the rumors at present in cir-culation, the latter appears to be the end in view, and it is reported that the bitumi-nous miners are soon to unite in a general strike for the purpose of producing a complete famine of all kinds of that While the in each of the bit which it fuel. While this is not so frightful as it seems, because we cannot believe that any considerable number of the innumerable Western miners will be such fools as to cut off their own heads for the benefit of their far-distant and unknown Eastern brethren, for which act of self-sacrifice they would not receive the slightest return in any way, yet the bare possibility of such a thing demands the most earnest and decisive action. A mere peaceable combination of all miners for their own mutual interests can be borne, but when it comes to an immense union for the express sinister purpose of de-priving the consumer entirely of a necessary of life as important as daily bread, or at the best, the doling out of the commodity in quantities and at prices most agreeable to those in the union, it should not be submitted to tamely. The anthracite union is bad enough, so bad, in fact, that its utter ruin would be the best thing that could happen, both to its members and to all who have ever had anything to do with it. But the formation of a more extended absolute monarchy, under our very eyes, and under the protection of a republican government, should be opposed at every point and in every possible way, by every man who has the best interests of the country at heart. If we let these things go on, the final act will be not only bloodshed, but bloody war itself, for questions concerning the necessaries of life affect every one, and when brought to an issue, those wronged will bear no tridluc triffing.

The bituminous trade is largely increasing by reason of the strike, and the leaders see that they can do nothing unless this also is stopped. In the event of their move being unsuccessful, the only effect of the lengthened suspension will be a great reduction in the demand and the annihilation of the natural rate of increase in the production for some time to come. Many iron furnaces and manufactories are being altered so as to burn bituminous, though the anthracite is preferred, and this change once made will not be altered again in a hurry. Many other consumers, also, who can use either anthracite or bituminous, declare their intention of using only the less desirable of the two fuels until there is some assurance that the anthracite trade is on a much surer basis. The Pennsylvania Road is now bringing large quantities of bitu-minous direct from the Western fields, and semi-bituminous from Baltimore and Western Mary-land is coming in fast by all the routes.

The Senate Committee of the State Legislature on the coal troubles is busy taking testimony in the matter. It is, however, only a prolonga-tion of the trouble to submit it to such arbiters as these. They will not make a report for some

A "SUPE'S" TROUBLES.

One of the Roman Soldiers of the Stage in Durance Vile.

The ambitious young men who play the highly The amointons young men who play the highly tragic role of "supe" in our theatres, upon whom is foisted all the drudgery of the stage, who occasionally with ill-fitting clothes that make their proverbial awkwardness all the more conspicuous, serve their mimic lords with diluted wines; or, armed cap-a-pie, with trem-bling limbs march in and out before the wonder-stables and capsa in a contractive are stabled stricken audience, and eventually are stabbed under the armpits and die temporarily, have the misfortune of being the worst paid and hardest worked people who serve, in their way, to en-

Such an one was Charles Howard, eighteen years of age, who was employed as a supernu-merary at the Arch Street Theatre. As his salary at this business was not sufficient to meet his wants, he became, on the 4th of February last, an errand boy in Adams' Express Com-pany's office, No. 322 Chesnut street. But even with this addition to his weekly stipend, disappointed in not having enough, he resorted to pilfering. On the 9th of February he stole a gold watch valued at $100, which he carried to a pawnbroker's, presenting at the same time to the inquisitive Abraham this fictitious note:-

"This is to authorize the bearer to raise some money on this watch-about $30. I am sick, and in want of funds. I would be able to redeem it in May. H. J. G. NEWMULLER, "No. 723 South Tenth street."

This satisfied Abraham, and he handed over $25. Last night ex-Detective Levy, who had been engaged by the company, arrested Howard at the Arch Street Theatre. He was taken to Alderman Smith's, and having confessed to the theft and the writing of the note, was held in $1200 to answer.

SUPPOSED ABDUCTION OF A BOY .-- Yesterday afternoon a man on Broad street, near Pearl, stopped a lad, aged thirteen years, named Thos. McElwee, and asked him would he like to go and work on a farm. The boy answered that he would like to go, and the man said he would take two boys if he could get them. McElwee then went with the man to Pearl street, where another boy was met named Robert Smith. After some conversation the man, accompanied by the two boys, proceeded to the Baltimore depot, when the man took Smith, who is twelve years of age, in the cars, saying he was going o take him to Delaware county, and he promised to return to the city next Monday and take McElwee. Young Smith's parents are in a very distressed condition over the kidnapping of their son. The last has light hair, wears a blace Kossuth hat, light colored jacket, dark blue pants, and a

A STRUGGLE WITH A RUFFIAN AND A RUF-FIAN'S FAMILY .- Some three weeks ago, a noterious rough named George Young beat a drover at the West Philadelphia Drove Yard. A warrant for his arrest was issued, but so adroit was Young that he persistently eluded capture. Yesterday afternoon, Lieutenant Smith, of the Sixteenth district, had good reason to believe that Young was in the house of his mother, on Forty-first street, near the Pennsylvania Rail-road, and he despatched Officers Hoopes, Coch-rane, and McFarland to make the arrest. Officer Hoopes demanded admittance to the house, which was complied with by Young's mother. The other two policemen remained outside. As scon as Hoopes had entered the house the doors were locked, and Young and a brother, assisted by the mother, made an assault on him with clubs, etc. A tussle ensued, and the officer, being a powerful man, succeeded in keeping his assailants at bay. Finally, he drew his revolver, and frightened off the mother and brother, and then had a desperate struggle with Young. The two officers outside hearing the noise, broke in the doors, and rendered assistance in securing the ruffian, who fought like a tiger all the way to the station house. He had eventually to be tied with a rope. Alderman Randall sent him to prison in default of bail. It is said that he is a terror to the neighborhood, and the people would not grieve much if he never comes back again. COUNTRY SEAT AND FARM FOR SALE -50 or 100 acres. time, and when they do, a bill, if any is prepared, will be delayed before being presented. Then it will be considered in the House, where it will probably be passed as a sort of sop to Cerberus, but when it comes to the Senate it will be surely killed and the miners will have all their trouble for nothing. The principal railroad companies cannot be touched, at all events, because they have not transgressed their charters, and if they had they are by far the most powerful with legislature, men. As it is, they have fully as many of their agents in Harrisburg now as have the miners, so as to save unnecessary trouble. Both parties during the week have been busily besieging the members of the committee. Arbitration between the parties concerned themselves, without refer-ence to any legal or judicial body, which is the shortest mode of settlement, hangs fire as yet from want of action by the miners. The following is the complete summary of the trade for the past week as reported for the Pottsville Miners' Journal of to-day:-1.000 1041

The Journal remarks:-"There are still at least 16,000 tons on hand at Port Richmond, and on all the cargoes shipped to New York to take advantage of the prices ruling there, the shippers, with only a single exception or so, have experienced heavy losses. From the highest point coal has fallen four dollars a top, so we were coal has failen four dollars a top, so we were informed by a dealer yesterday, and all are auxious to sell. Bituminous coal is also arriving in largely increased quantities from Baltimere, where the supply was nearly doubled over that of last year, within a couple of weeks. The Chesapeake and Ohio Canal is also navigable, and upwards of 40 cargoes have been shipped and vessels despatched to Alexandria to carry it to New York on its arrival. York on its arrival.

Large contracts are being made for bituminous coal at low rates by manufacturers and steam lines for the season. In Boston they have ample coal to last until May, and if the trade is not more brisk than it is now, some of the dealers will have stocks to last until July. Throughout all the New England towns the supply of coal seems to be ample, as all are practising strict economy and diminishing the number of fires."

"For every week the resumption of the anthracite trade is delayed will the price of coal recede from 5 to 10 cents a ton. This will arise from the from 5 to 10 cents a ton. This will arise from the lessened consumption caused by the high prices pre-valing in the markets for anthracite; from the eco-nomy practised in its use; and also from the stoppage of those works which use only anthracite and which, in the present state of trade, prefer stop-ping to going on and paying these high prices. Another reason is the increased consumption of bi-tuminous coal, caused entirely by the uncertainty of procuring a regular supply of anthracite at fair prices, while contracts can be made for bituminous coal throughout the whole season at low rates; and if the duty should be removed on foreign coal, at extremely low rates."
