succeeded to-day, under the ruling of Vice-President Colfax, in getting his resolutions read in open Senate relative to the use of the navy in the ports of Hayti without, as he alleges, the authority of law.

The President's friends, Conkling, Cole, and others, made points of order against the reading of the resolutions, but they were overruled by the Vice-President, who decided in favor of Sumner.

Cole and others denied the allegations of the resolutions, but Sumner gave notice that he was prepared to substantiate every word in the resoutions from the official executive documents. Grady, the Murderer of Mrs. Falukner, was hung to-day at noon. The President refused to reprive him, notwithstanding the strong pressure brought to bear on him. About two hundred people witnessed the execution.

He then sketched the rapid increase of Western trade, and proved from statistics that had the canal been in operation this year its revenue would be over two millions and a half, and that for 1870 would exceed four millions. What the West wanted was the cheapest and largest possible outlets to the ocean.

Governor Bross said a large majority of the people of the West were in favor of free trade and reciprocity, and are determined to have it. If legislators now at Washington will not give West will send those who will.

Mr. Holden said that Mr. Bross deserved thanks for his elaborate statements, and that there was perfect unanimity among all parties as to the importance of improving all avenues leading to the West.

Sir A. T. Gale trusted what was going on at Washington would lead to a settlement of these questions. Mr. Holden, as a representative of Chicago, thanked the committee for their good feeling. Sir George Cartier, in reply, favored reci-procity between the two countries, and a ided that Canada should be thankful for the expression of the desire of the people of the West to supply us with their great trade. This morning the deputation breakfasted with Sir F. Hicks.

Tug Clyde, Duncan, Havre-de-Grace, with a tow of barges, W. P. Clyde & Co. The French Relief Committee of the New York Chamber of Commerce have received the following letter from Hugh McCulloch, a member of the London Distributing Committee:

No. 41 LOMBARD STREET, LONDON, E. C., March 7, 1871.-Gentlemeu:-I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 20th ult., addressed to Messre, Moran and Mor gan and myself. Ere this you have received advices of the action of the committee on the distribution of the money placed in the hands of Mr. Morgan, but it may be proper for me to say that the best means within our control have been used to extend relief to those parts of the rural districts of France that suffered most severely by the war. It may also be proper for me to say that the committee and other Americans in London are much gratified by the liberality manifested by citizens of the United States, and especially by the citizens of New York, in the donations they have made to sufferers in France. Such a prac tical illustration of sympathy for these distressed people is an evidence of what Christian civilization is doing to create fraternity between the inhabitants of different and widely sepa rated nations. Very respectfully, your obedient servant, HUGH MCCULLOCH.
