The Fox-Taggart Libel Case.

The Fox-Taggart Libel Case. The trial of Colonel John Taggart and Henry L. Taggart, of the Sunday Morning Times, was called to-day, and Mr. Mann, who was associated with Mr. Cassidy as counsel for defendants, applied for a con-tinuance on the ground of the liness of Mr. Cassidy ; but this day having been positively fixed, Attorney-General Brewster representing Mr. Robert Fox, who compiains of the libel, insisted upon trial, and the Court said the case would have to proceed. Mr. Mann then withdrew from Court and failed to ap-pear for the Messrs. Taggart, who were put upon trial for libeling Robert Fox, without any other counsel than Judge Brewster, who was also counsel for the prosecution. After making a brief opening, Judge Brewster proceeded to examine the following witnesses:-

The defendants admitted they were the proprie-tors of the paper. T. T. Derringer, living at No. 2007 Green street, testified that he knew both defendants; he had a conversation with Mr. Taggart on the Saturday be-fore the article entitled "Fox, the Nuisance" was published, and Mr. Taggart said he had been told that Mr. Fox kept s disorderly house at Nineteenth and Green streets; witness said it was not so; that there was no more quiet and orderly house in Green street, and the article should not be published under any circumstances; Taggart said he had his informa-tion from good authority.

The paper of December 4 was offered in evidence, containing the article cailing the prosecutor "Fox the nulsance" and "Australian Boo," and charged that at his residence he kept up the most wicked and noisy revels on Sunday; that this caused great consternation in the neighborhood, and a delegation of the residents cailed upon him and asked him to move away or abate the nulsance, and he replied to them that he would do neither, but if he was mo-lested he would start a brothel there. Rovert Fox sworn-I reside at the northeast cor-ner of Nineteenth and Green streets; I am a mar-ried man; have lived there two years and a half; I have read the article spoken of; I understood it as referring to me; the charges contained in that article were false; I have kept my house quietly, and on the Sabbath never had any noise or music or dancing or reveiry of any kind, and am not in the habit of receiving visitors on Sanday; none of my neighbors ever waited upon me or remonstrated with me as to the manner my house was conducted; I never threatened to start a tavern or ladies' board-ire thenes there is a more constrated or any darged

Cross-examined by Colonel Taggart-I have always gone by the name of Robert Fox in England and in this country, I keep a theatre; I did keep a casino on Chesnut street; I was never convicted in this court of any offense; I did plead guilty to the charge of selling liquor without a license; (bills shown to witness), those are bills of my theatre. Mr. McFerren, residing opposite Fox's, said the article in the paper was, in his opinion, false. Mr. Matthias Marple, residing next door to Mr. Fox, said the article in the paper was entirely false. OFFICIAL FOLLY.

Germantown Disgusted with its Steam-Fire Engine.

The Germantownonians are making merry, while they cannot conceal their chagrin, over a lumbering engine which the Paid Fire Depart-ment Commissioners have located in their suburb to protect it from the ravages of the fire-fiend. Perhaps it never occurred to these gentlemen that for the country roads over which they will be continually travelling, the steamers for use on the outskirts of the city should be as light as possible. They sent to Germantown Engine No. 19, a ponderous-wheeled, ungainlylooking affair, weighing seven thousand and four hundred pounds! "This delicate piece of mechanism," says the Chronicle, "Is to be hauled over the hills of Germantown and through the muddy roads whenever a fire occurs, provided the wheels do not sink beneath their burden." It was found that the steamer was too heavy to be moved into the house by the ordinary means, and so ropes and pulleys were brought into requisition, and after much tugging the heavy apparatus was drawn into the house of the ex-Fellowship Engine Company. It is folly to send such cumbrons, unwieldy affairs to be used on unpaved roads.

MARINE.—The steamship Tonawanda, Captain L. D. Barrett, arrived from Wilmington, N. C., at one o'clock this morning, with a cargo of naval stores, lumber, etc., fifty-five hours from port to port. She will resume her place on the Savannah line and will sail for that port on Sunday morning next, 28d insiant, at 8 A. M. Freight will be received until six o'clock tomorrow evening. The Pioneer, Captain John Wakely, will sail for Wilmington, N. C., on Tuesday, 25th instant, at six A. M.

THE SEMI-CENTENNIAL OF TRINITY CHURCH, SOUTHWARK.—On next Tuesday, April 25, the fiftieth anniversary of the laying of the corner-stone of Trinity Church, Southwark, will be celebrated in the church building on Catharine street. In the morning, at 10½ o'clock, there will be a service, with a sermon, and at 8 P. M. a parish reunion will be held of a very interest-ing character, consisting of music, addresses by clergy and laity, and a historical sketch of the parish.

INCENDIABY WORK.—A fire 'at Chesnut Hill last night destroyed a barn the property of Dr. Kane. The fire was evidently the work of an Kane. The fire was evidently the work of an incendiary, as an attempt was also made to burn down the house of the doctor, also a mass of brushwood had been placed on the portico and fired. It burned a portion of the lattice work and then went out. The house is a three-story structure. The damage to it is insignificant. The dwelling was not occupied at the time.

A LOST BOY.—Some boys last night brought to the Third District Station Honse a deaf and dumb lad, aged ten years, named Jacob Grau. He is a German youth, and is quite intelligent, writing fluently in both German and English. He states that he came recently from Columbus, Ohio, in search of his father, who is in this city. The lad is under the charge of Special Officer Reeder, at the Mayor's office, where ap-plication can be made plication can be made.

COLLISION.—On Tuesday night last, between 10 and 11 o'clock, a collision took place at Fif-teenth and Poplar streets between a car of the Union line and one of the Thirteenth and Fif-teenth streets line. A Mr. Potts, who resides on Twentieth street, above Poplar, had several of his ribs fractured, and also received severe internal injuries. Both cars were badly damaged. Another gentleman occupant of the car at the time of the accident also received injuries. time of the accident also received injuries,

The city passenger railways have im-proved their stock by the purchase of fresh horses. and are now in good order. There is great delay in the trial of cases in court, Indice is given other cases having the precedence. The extension of the society's action into surround-ing counties involves an additional necessity for more ample means. The funds are so nearly ex-hausted that much desirable work is necessarily mitted omitted. The crnel practices of throwing nails and pieces of iron or tin into the street, and of driving fat cat-tle and other cloven-hoofed stock over the cobble-stones, are specially commended to public attention. Horses are often seriously and sometimes fatally injured by the former act, and the latter perils the public health through the feverish inflammation which it produces in the cattle.

AN EMBEZZLER AND "BOODLE MAN."-Some time ago James O'Shay placed in the possession of James Redman ten barrels of liquor, valued at $800, to sell for him on commission. Redman sold the liquor advantageously and thea sold the liquor advantageously and thea pocketed the funds, shut up his shop, and made himself scarce. This was in keeping with his character, for a man versed in the "boodle game" is not above stealing. Detective Hag-gerty has been looking for Mr. Redman some time, and finally succeeded in arresting him this morning. He is held for a hearing this after-noon noon.

BEATING A CITIZEN .- On Wednesday even-ing last John A. Woodhouse, who is an officer appointed by the Mayor, came out of a hotel on Poplar street below Fourth, and attacked William S. Elder, a highly respectable gentleman, and freely used his mace upon his head. Mr. Elder had to be carried to his home, where he now lies dangerously ill. Woodhouse was taken before Alderman Shoemaker and held in $800 bail to answer.

HIGHWAY ROBBER .- Detectives Gordon and Haggerty this morning caused the arrest, at Sixteenth and Market streets, of one George Showers, who is accused of having robbed a man, at Fifteenth and Market streets, of his watch and chain, one night last winter. The watch was found in a pawnbroker's shop, where it was pledged by a party to whom Showers sold it. A policeman of the Sixth district ar-rested the accused. The case will be called by Alderman Kerr this afternoon.

ARREST OF ANOTHER PICKPOCKET.—Yester-day we chronicled the arrest of the notorious Ezekiel Corson, alias "Peanuts," and William Riley for picking the pocket of an old Quaker of a wallet containing $500. This morning Detective Gordon succeeded in arresting a third party to the transaction, named Washington Kerns, with the alias of George King. He will have a hearing this afternoon at 2 o'clock. have a hearing this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

LODGE ANNIVERSARY.—The twenty-fifth or silver anniversary of Excelsior Lodge, No. 46, I. O. O. F., will be held on next Tuesday even-ing, April 25, in Handel and Haydn Hall. Arrangements have been made which will render the exercises very interesting.

SCHOOL EXHIBITION .- An exhibition for the benefit of the Library of the West Penn Square Academy will be given by the scholars of that institution, in the school building, on next Monday evening, at 8 o'clock.

the information upon which the article was written. Here the prosecution closed. Colonel Taggart then said this article was not written in cold blood, but was provoked. He said Fox had circulated large posters calling his paper a black mail sheet, and had printed upon his theatre bills that the Sunday Times had a circulation of only bills that the Sunday Times had a circulation of only 150 copies per week; that he had caused to be writ-ten to him the most offensive and threatening let-ters, and most insulting letters to his family; and Mr. Fox had employed persons to do him violence. These were provocations. In regard to his present family he knew nothing: the article com-plained of was written by himself, he did not deny t and were willing to take the rearronsibility and his it, and was willing to take the responsibility, and his son had nothing whatever to do with it. A proposi-tion had been made to him to settle this matter upon the payment by him of $700, with which to pay counsel fees.

Colonel Taggart offered some documents to the inry, but the court ruled them ont as not evidence. When Colonel Taggart had concluded his remarks Judge Brewster made a few remarks Judge Paxson delivered a brief charge, and after a short deliberation the jury rendered a verdict of guilty. Sentence deferred.
