FEMALE SUICIDE.

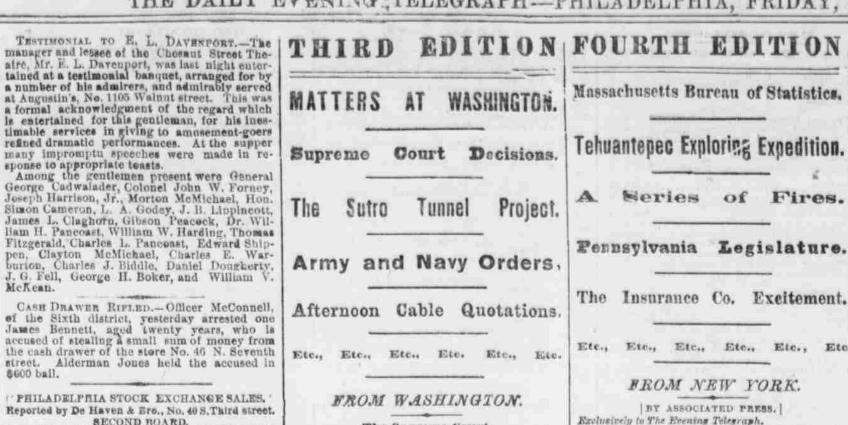

A Lady Cuts Her Throat with a Razor-Distressing Scene in the Afflicted Household.

A correspondent of the Illinois State Journal. writing from White Hall, Ill., April 24, says .-On last Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Susan Culver, wife of Alonzo J. Culver, a merchant of White Hall, Greene county, committed suicide by literally cutting her throat from ear to eat with a razor. She was, it is believed, laboring under temporary aberration of the mind at the time. There is no other assignable cause for the terrible act.

The unfortunate young woman was nearly related to a number of the oldest and best citizens of White Hall.

Mrs. Culver had been quite unwell for several days, and had during this term of indisposition exhibited at times indications of mental derangement. Saturday last shortly after dinner her mother, Mrs. Cox, who was with her in the sitting-room of her dwelling, thought she observed a strange and unnatural appearance in the expression of her countenance.

Just after noticing this unusual expression her daughter left the sitting-room and passed into her bed-room. A few moments subse-quently, Mrs. Cox, whose suspicions that something was wrong had been aroused, went to her daughter's room. When she reached the door she found it locked, and passed around to another door of the room. As she was passing round to the other door, she heard a sound coming from her daughter's room, as if some-thing heavy had fallen upon the floor. Upon entering the room she beheld the prostrate, ifeless, and bleeding form of her daughter before her, and the crimsoned razor lying near. From the position of the body, and other circumstances, it was evident that Mrs. Culver had stood before the glass of her bureau when she made the fatal cut. The blood which spirted from the severed arteries was found scattered around over the bureau and on the floor. On examination of the wound, the fact was revealed that the keen edge of the razor had severed the ries windpipe, and ligatures, and penetrates

THE MARYLAND OYSTER LAW. The Pet Child of a Democratic Legislatare

Savagely Attacked by a Democratic Newspaper. the Frincess Anne True Marylander rejeices

editorially over the fact that in every case where an appeal has been made to the courts of that county for the decision of a justice of the peace, imposing fines under the oyster law, the decision of the justice has been reversed. It declares the law sectional and oppressive, and says the courts of the section, oppressed by its operation, will never enforce its provisions. It then proceeds to pitch into Captain Huster Davidson, "Commander of the Oyster Navy," in the following vigorous style:-

But this syster law has another feature that should damn it forever, in the obnoxious execution of its provisions. The burden of condmontion of this feature should rest forever, not on the law, but on the leadership of its police force. Either ignorance or tyranny is the only cause to which the malexecution of the law can be attributed. It is not the purpose of law that it should be executed without discrimination, according to its letter. There is a meaning and intent in all law, and it is the intent that must be executed.

Is Captain Davidson ignorant of this fact? It he is, let him be set aside and a better man be appointed. If he knowingly arrests a man when no charge of non-compliance with the requirements of the law can be sustained against him, then put the tyrant down, and let him pay the forfeit of false imprisonment. To instance the above, the law requires an oysterman to obtain and pay for a comptroller's license; to receive from said officer two sets of numbers. corresponding with license, one to go on the starboard side of the mainsail and the other on the port side of the jib. The license was paid for and the numbers obtained. The requirements of the law were complied with except that the numbers were placed on opposite sides of mainsail and jib, by mistake, yet the man was arrested and fined. We congratulate our oystermen that such abuse of the law (bad as it is) can and a remedy or appeal before a jury that Captain Davidson cannot bully and a court that he cannot hoay.

A MIXED CASE.

Charleston Priests and Sisters of Merey. A Washington despatch to the N. Y. Tribune save .- One item of the Deficiency Appropriation bill gives $12,000 to the Sisters of Mercy, Charleston, S. C., for the purpose of rebuild ing a Roman Catholic orphan asylum in that city destroyed during the war. The gift was in consideration of valuable service rendered to sick and wounded Union officers and soldiers. While the matter was before Congress some objection was made to it on the ground that, after the money should be paid, there was no guarantee that it would not be diverted from its original purpose and applied to other uses. In reply to those objections the Roman Cathelic Bishop of Charleston wrote a letter in which he assured members of Congress that the Sisters of Mercy there were a corporate body, and that it would be impossible for any priest to have even the handling of the money. On Saturday morning last the Lady Superior and a companion came to this city for the purpose of obtaining the money. On Monday morning a Roman Catholic priest arrived from Charleston, and finding the Sisters at the house of a friend, peremptorily ordered them home, so that they left yesterday without obtaining their warrant. The priest went to the Treasury Department and obtained the warrant, payable to the Lady Superior, alleging that he was the representative of the Sisters of Mercy. Prominent citizens of Washington, who are Roman Catholics, and who desire to see the money devoted to its legitimate purpose, fear that the priest who was able to order the Lady Superior home may also order her to sign the warrant and so obtain the money.
