OUR RELIGIOUS COLUMN.

ONE BY ONE. They are gathering homeward from every land, As their weary feet touch the shining - trand, One by one;
Their brows are inclosed in a golden crown,
Their travel-stained garments are all laid down, And, clothed with white raiments, they rest on the

Before they rest they pass through the strife, Through the waters of death they enter life. One by one;
To some are the floods of the river still,
As hey ford heir way to the heavenly h hers the waves run flercely and wild, Yet all reach the home of the undefiled,

Where the Lamb loveth His chosen to lead,

One by one. We too shall come to the river's side, One by one;
We are nearer its waters each even-tide,
One by one;
We can hear the noise and dash of the stream,

Now and again, through our life's deep dream— cometimes the floods o'er the banks o'erflow, Sometimes in ripples the small waves go, Jesus! Redeemer! we look to Thee.

One by one; We lift up our voices tremblingly, One by one The waves of the river are dark and cold, We know not the spots where our feet may hold, Thou, who diest pass through in deep midnight, Strengthen us, send us the staff and the light, One by one.

Plant Thou Thy feet beside as we tread, One by one; On Thee let us lean each drooping head, One by one: Let but Thy mighty arm round us be twined, We'll cast all our fears and cares to the wind; Saviour! Redeemer! with Thee full in view, Smilingly, gladsomely, shall we pass through, One by one.

THAT BLESSED HOPF.

"By grace are ye saved." And the same grace by which we are "called," and "justified," and "established," and helped "in time of need," not only brings salvation to mankind, but also teaches them "that denying ungodly and worldly lusts, they should live soberly, and righteously, and godly in this present world, looking for that Blessed Hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ; who gave himself for us, that He might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto Himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works."

The faith, the hope, and the conduct of the followers of Christ are thus brought under the direction of the saving grace of God. The world's ungodliness and lusts are to be discarded, and the world's hopes are as vain as its lusts are vile. The hopes of joy in earth's vanities, of peace in paths of sin, and of golden days in a world that reeks with guilt, and tramples scornfully on the Saviour's blood, are doomed to sad terrible disappointments. Such hopes cannot abide the trials of life, the agonies of death, and the stern realities of judgment and eternity.

For those who would build upon a sure foundation, "a better hope" is prepared, "which hope we have as an anchor to the soul," entering "into that within the vail." And those "who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon the hope set before them," have obtained "through patience and comfort of the Scriptures," "a lively hope," a sure and steadfast hope, a "good hope through grace, a "hope of salvation," a "hope of eternal life, 'a "hope of the glory of God," a hope of the "resurrection of the dead," a hope of being like Jesus and seeing Him "as He is," a blessed hope of the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ; a hope that "maketh not ashamed, because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost."

LAY HOLD ON GOD.

Are there times when all things here seem hollow and unreal, with vanity and emptiness written upon them-times when there seems to us, as there seemed once to the royal preacher at Jerusalem, no profit to a man of any labor wrought under the sun; but vanity of vanities, and all vanity? What help is there against this, the worst sickness of the soul, save in laying hold of Him who is not hollow. not unreal, not a shadow nor a dream; who abides forever, and who causes His servants to inherit substance; what help but in laving hold of Him, as He can be only laid hold of in prayer? Or, again, are there other times when the world threatens to become too much to us-the near hillocks of time to hide from us the more distant mountains of eternity-earth's tinsel to outshine heaven's gold? It is in God, in the light of His presence, as we press into that presence, that all things assume their due proportions, are seen in their true significance—the tinsel for tinsel, the gold for gold; that the hillocks subside, and the mountain-tops appear; that the shadows flee away, and the eternal substances remain .- Trench.

SUMMARY OF CHURCH NEWS.

-A correspondent of the Protestant Churchman has a list of thirty-two presbyters who are in the habit of making the omission of the word "regenerate." They are distributed through seven dioceses. Several of them are doctors of divinity. Many of them have done this with the knowledge of their

-The Purchase case has become the subject of a voluminous correspondence, which is of little interest to outside readers, as it relates to technicalities and details. The principal fact which has taken place is that Mr. Purchase has made two applications for a rehearing. The first application was, for some reason, not acted upon. The second was referred to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, who took the matter into consideration, and appointed the 26th of April to hear the application. The council of the Church Association have come to the conclusion that the decision does not prohibit the use of the black gown in preaching.

Y., in discussing the Chenev question in the secular papers, declare that Syracuse, paptismal regeneration is a doctrine of the Bible, and of the Protestant Episcopal Church, and defend Bishop Whitehouse in suspending Mr. Cheney.

BAPTIST.

-The National Baptist gives the statistics for 1870 from the Baptist Year Book of 1871. The statistics are fuller than those for the previous year, but still marred by many deficiencies arising from the failure of local associations to report. Nevertheless, important gains are indicated by the following figures: -

77,795 70,179 1,419,493 1,231,849

Gain 2,602 2,031 7,623 198,144 Maine falls back a little in its figures, as it did in 1869 and in 1868. Nebraska has increased her 756 Baptists to 1000, and also reports seven new churches. New York State is not doing well. Her net gain in members is only 114, while the number of her churches has retrograded from 842 to 839. Pennsylvania has gained 12 churches, 3 ministers, and 5096 members during the year. The three States having the largest number of Baptists are: Georgia, with 134,337; Virginia, with 122,120; and New York, with 100,616. Sunday school statistics are given as follows: -

-A "railway chapel" was dedicated at Dennison, Ohio, on April 6, for the use of the officers and hands of the "Panhandle" Railroad, which has its workshops at that place. This chapel is said to be the second building of the kind in the country.

—There are forty-one Presbyterian churches on the line of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne, and Chicago Railroad. Of all the ministers who were supplying these churches two years ago, only ten now remain.

-At the regular semi-annual meeting of the Reformed Presbytery of Pittsburg the congregation of Ebenezer, Mercer county, Pa., were dismissed, on their own petition, to connect themselves with the United Presbyterian Presbytery of Butler. At the same meeting the congregation of Hermon, at their own request, were dismissed to connect themselves with the United Presbyterian Presbytery of Mercer.

Magrader, a former member of the late Schuyler Presbytery, and a signer of the Declaration and Testimony, who renounced the jurisdiction of that Presbytery because of the action of the Assembly of 1867, that met in Cincinnati, has been received as a member of the Presbytery of Central Ohio. Twenty-two ministers who had served in their respective charges two years were returned to the same churches for the third year, and thirteen closed their third year's pastorate. Most of them testify that the third year was the most successful of the three.

-On his own responsibility, Dr. Carlton has appointed three experts to examine the accounts of the Book Concern during his connection with it.

Gilman, Esq., of New York, relative to the present condition and successful completion of the $5,000,000 memorial fund. Rev. Drs. Willits and Humphrey of this city will also make addresses. The object is not to collect funds, but to interest every Presbyterian in the completion of this good work before the meeting of the General Assembly in May.

ROMAN CATHOLIC.

-"Dr. Dollinger," says the London Saturday Review, "is the one Catholic divine of Germany who enjoys a European reputation both without and within the bounds of his own communion, whose piety no ultramontane has ventured to question.

-The Roman Catholic College of Maynooth, the grant to which was withdrawn under the act for the disestablishment of the Irish Church, has, it is said, within the last few days, received from the Church Commissioners the sum of £360,000 by way of compensation.

-The Pope is said to have lately granted audience to a messenger from Bishop Dupanloup, of Orleans, who was prominent among the opposition in the Œcumenical Council, tendering the submission of his own opinions to the decision of the Church. A cardinal's hat is held out in prospective as a reward for this obedience.

-The Christian Advocate lately called attention to the fact that the Moravian Church, which is in a sense the parent of Methodism, has made such insignificant progress. In this country it has but 55 ministers and 25,000 people in its congregations; while Methodism numbers its preachers by thousands and its members by millions. The Moravian replies, in a courteons tone, that the Church of the Brethren has exerted a wide and salutary influence upon other churches, in conserving orthodoxy in Germany and in promoting a spirit of union in America, looking more to spiritual fellowship than growth in numbers.

UNIVERSALIST.

-It is a suggestive fact that to-morrow is the centennial birthday of Hosea Ballou. This name has long been regarded by large numbers of people as the synonym of very ss and mischievous errors. But saying nothing now of his opinions, his one-hundredth birthday can scarcely fail to suggest: -1. How powerless what are called unfavorable circumstances are to hinder a man from wide and eminent influence if he really has the stuff of manhood in him; and, 2. How great have been the changes in theological opinion and religious organization in this country during these hundred years past. Mr. Ballou was born in Richmond, N. H., then almost a wilderness, April 30, 1771. His father was a Baptist preacher, a good man, but so exceedingly poor that the inevitable hardships of pioneer life beset his children in their most rugged form. A rougher a more destitute childhood, as regards conveniences and advantages, it would be difficult to imagine. But in the case of young Hosea it proved the germ of a great manhood. He joined his father's church when he was eighteen, but he was a Universalist preacher before he was twenty-one. His second attempt to preach was a failure, and an elder brother (father of Rev. Moses Ballou, of this city) had to finish his discourse. But he soon grew into eminence, and in his prime is said to have been a preacher of wonderful simplicity and power. The Universalist Church does not now generally hold some of his opinions, but no man has done so much as he to shape its fundamental principles or to give origin and impetus to what is called Liberal Christianity in America. The denomination will of right widely commemorate his centenary birthday, and his character and work are to be the topics of sermons to morrow morning by Rev. Messrs. Ballou and Brocks, the Universalist pastors of this city.

MISSIONARY.

-Mr. Leonard, of Marsovan, Turkey, writes as follows of the observance of the week of prayer at that mission:-

"It may interest you that a small congregation of enlightened Armenians and Greeks here, on the shores of the Black Sea, are observing the week of prayer. About thirty persons, including women and children, meet every evening in an upper room, leased by the board, and, following the order of topics suggested by the Evangelical Alliance, engage in prayer and praise. Pains are taken to give to the meetings a social character, and to have the room attractive and pleasant. A merchant brother brings some Turkish carpets to cover the hard wood floor, making a nice seat for the children; a watch-tinker volunteers a marine clock, which finds a prominent place on the bulging mantelpiece; two native sisters arrange in good taste the usual supply of stiff cushions on the divans against the wall; and the low, unpainted candle-stand rejoices in a pure white table-spread. Our preaching is in Turkish. The singing is unqualifiedly congregational. If it sometimes lacks melody, the want is more than compensated by the delight which every one feels in having a part.'
