A NOVEL IDEA. General Pleasanton's Theory of the Difference of Chemical Power in the Sun's Rays-Interesting Experiments.

At the regular monthly meeting of the PHILADELP Pennsylvania Society for promoting agricul-ture, held last week, General Pleasanton read an able and interesting essay on the use of blue glass in the development of vegetable JAY COC and animal life:-The General gave an account of an experiment of his own with a grapery of 84 by 26 feet, and 16 feet in height at the ridge.

Into the glazing of the grapery, at every seventh row of white panes, a row of violet panes (blue not being at the time procurable) had been introduced, alternating on opposite sides of the roof, so that a violet beam might fall eventually on every leaf in the grapery. The cuttings planted had grown rapidly. The gardener was kept busy daily in tying up new wood which the day before he had not observed. In a few weeks after planting, the walls and the inside of the roof were closely covered with luxuriant foliage. A distin-guished seedsman has borne his testimony that he had never seen any vines that equalled those thus treated. The vines were planted in April, 1861. In 1862 they bore a wonderful number of branches. It was found that the building, small as it was, contained no less than twelve hundred pounds of grapes. In 1863 the amount of fruit was quite as large as during the preceding year, and so it had continued season after season without abatement, the vines seeming to require no time to rest.

The next experiment was with the piggery. glazed roof half white and half violet was placed over the building, and similar resulls were obtained, the animals thriving beyond expectation.

An Alderney calf, so puny and feeble that its life was despaired of, was placed in a pen under violet glass. In 24 hours a marked changed had occurred. The calf rose to its feet, walked about the pen, took its food from the finger, and manifested great vivacity. In a few days its feebleness had disappeared; it began to grow, and its development was marvellous.

The same principles have been applied to the raising of poultry with the most remarkable success.

Senator Schurz on His Attitude in Congress-Explanations to His Constitu-

The following extract from the speech of Senator Schurz, at the serenade given him in St. New Louis on Tuesday last, presents its principal points:-

In the constitutional limitation of political powers, In the constitutional limitation of political powers, we find, as our ancestors always have found, the main safeguards of popular liberty. And when those constitutional limitations are disregarded, even for the protection of the rights of some, those rights will be put in jeopardy by the danger brought upon the rights of all. The safe-guards of our common rights and liberties contained in the Constitution are too sacred and valuable a boon to be permanently jeopardized in providing for a passing emergency. For reasons like these I found myself compelled to oppose the so-called Ku-klux bill even against a majority of my party friends in Congress. (Cheers.)

in Congress. (Cheers.) But a still more striking instance of that loose But a still more striking instance of that loose-ness of constitutional notions revealed itself in that most flagrant usurpation of the war-making power by the Executive in the Santo Domitgo case, an attempt not only utterly without parallel in the history of the country, but without the shadow of a constitutional argument to palliate it. Starting as that attempt was, more startling is it that such an act should so far have passed without a declaration of sentiment in Congress, preventing it from becoming a most dangerous precedent in our history. But worse still is it, that such an act can be committed without at least arousing public opinion to a commanding demonstration of disapproval It is, indeed, time that the American people should open their eyes to the dangerous character of this tendeney, and that neither a great name nor an object appealing to our sympatates should be permitted to

STREET RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

A Boy Killed in Attempting to Jump off the Cars-The Driver Badty Injured.

At half-past 10 o'clock yesterday morning a terrible accident occurred on a Kinsman Street Railroad car, resulting in the death of Master Harry Gillette, aged seven years, and son of Mr. J. M. Gillette, late one of the proprietors of the Birch House. The car was drawn by two horses. the front platform inclosed to prevent any one from getting off there.

Young Gillette, according to accounts, attempted to get over the railing around the platform, and was assisted by the driver. During this operation the driver lost his balance and let the boy fail under the car, the two wheels passing over his body. The driver fell, also, and was seriously injured.

Coroner Schenck was informed of the accident, and immediately empanelled a jury and held an inquest.

The Superintendent of the Kinsman street road was questioned as to the rules of the road, concerning the exit and entrance to the cars. The driver on the car when the accident happened was, he averied, a sober, temperate man. and a good driver. It was an imperative rule of the road that no one should get on or off the front platform, and the driver was inexcusable the violation of this rule.

After bearing the evidence the jury returned the following verdict .--

"We find that the deceased came to his death by being run over by a car of the Kinsman Street Railroad, the driver Graham handing the boy earelessly off the front platform of the car. The child lived but a few minutes after the ccident. The wheels of the car passed over stomach, leaving scarcely any marks, but inflicting great pain. It was an interesting and beautiful child, and the parents are overcome with grief at the sudden and melancholy bereavement .- Cleveland Leader. 8d inst.

OUTRAGE IN OHIO.

A Man Roasted Over a Slow Fire. The Mahoning (Ohio) Register says: -Mr. Wm. Murrin is an aged man living in Coltsville, near the State line. He has considerable means. He gave two hundred acres of land to the estadishment of a convent in Bedford, and was supposed to keep a large sum of money in the house where he lived alone, and remote from any other human being. On Saturday night, the 21st of April, three men entered his house and aroused him from his bud, and demanded that he should show them where his money was, threatening that if he did not they would murder him. Such threats induced Mr. Murrin to tell them where they would find a little over fifty dollars in gold and silver, which was all he had in the house. This they took, but were not satisfied

Believing that there was more money about the house, notwithstanding his assurance to the contrary, they kindled a fire in the stove and held Mr. Murrin over it, subjecting him to a slow torture of the most painful kind. They persisted in this torture till they found that they could get no more plunder, when they left their victim in horrible pain on the bed, and de-parted. In the morning Mr. Murrin managed to reach the nearest neighbor's house, and told his story. Search was at once instituted for the desperadoes. The old gentleman was not able give any exact description of his torturers, and therefore the search is somewhat futile. Suspicion has been placed on one or two bad characters who were seen in this vicibity a day or two previous, but no information could be obtained to justify any arrests.

I shall, as heretofore, give my carnest efforts to the subject of civil service reform, not only with a view to raise the standard of working efficiency in the service of the Government, but to the abolition of the patronage, or more properly the spolls sys-tem, which surrounds the Executive with sycophants and as I once expressed it in another place makes the atmosphere of the White House so thick with flattery that the sound-wave of public opinion cannot penetrate it. (Great chcering.) A system which is transforming into office-mongers the representatives of the people is most seriously endan-gering the independence of the legislative branch of the Government, and is gradually demoralizing ur whole political life. Finally, you will find my voice and my vote in opposition to that most unjust system of taxation which, by means of a high protective tariff, under the pretense of developing certain industrial inte-rests, takes money out of the pockets of the many and puts it into the pockets of the few-(cheers)instead of the treasury of the people; and in favor of such an adjustment of our taxes as will distribute m est equally the common burden, reducing taxation to as low a point as will be compatible with the conscientious discharge of our national obligations and an economical administration of the Government. Here, my friends, you have in a few words my political programme, touching the most important questions now before the people; firm and uncom-promising maintenance of equal rights as guaran-teed by the Constitution as it is; amnesty and a policy calculated to restore fraternal feeling; strict idelity to the essential principles of constitutional government; reform of the civil service; revenue reform, and a reduction of taxes. In these things ] honestly believe, and in working for their realization I am profoundly in earnest,

THE MOTHER OF THE CLAFLINS.

The Old Lady Weak-minded-Alleged Conspiracy and Blackmailing Operations.

Meadames Victoria C. Woodhull and Tennie C. Cladin appeared in the Essex Market Police Court yesterday expecting to be called upon to testify in relation to certain charges brought by their mother, Mrs. Annie Clafia, against Mr. James H. Blood, alas Dr. J. H. Harvey, who is said to be a pariner in their firm of Woodhull & Clafia. The defendant, however, had not been arrested, but had promised to appear before the court this morning to answer the charges against kim, and the case was therefore the charges against kim, and the case was therefore postponed until to-day. The complaint in the case, made and swern to by Mrs. Annie Cladin, alleges that she is more than sixty-eight years of age and the mother of six children-Mrs. Margaret A Miles, Mrs. Mary Sparr, Mrs. Victoria C. Woodhulf alias Victoria Bised, Hebron C. Claffin, Mrs. Uticav V. Broobar, and Mrs. Tennessee C. claffin, Mrs. Uticav V. Broobar, and Mrs. Tennessee C. claffin, That until the ist of April, 1871, she and her children, with the exception of Hebron O. Claffin, lived in comfort at No. 16 East Thirty-eighth street. That in the same house there resided also Dr. Canning Woodhull, who was formerly the husband of ker daughter Victoria C., and from whom ahe obtained a divorce in Chicago in the winter of 1864 or a divorce in Chicago in the winter of 1864 or 1865, and James H. Bloed, otherwise known as Dr. J. H. Harvey, who stands also in the relation of a husband to her daughter Victoria C. The adidavit continues that James H. Blood had so alienated the continues that James H. Blood had so alienzed the affections of her daughters from her as to cause them to drive her away from home and deprive her in her old age of the means of living, and had fre-quently threatened in the presence of her daughters to murder her, so that she feels in dauger of her life, and behaves that she is not safe from the said James H. Blood. The complaint in addition to this presence various ather safe alleged to have here specifics various other acts alleged to have been committed by Biood and by her daughters, Victoria committed by blood and by her dagaters, victoria and Tennessee, under his exciting and corrupting influence, which allogations are withheld from publication pending the legal examination, and ends with the prayer that blood may be ar-rested and dealt with according to the law. The complaint is accompanied with a davits of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Sparr, son-in-law and demoher of the old lady variations it in all it dedaughter of the old lady, verifying it in all its de-tails. Mrs. Woodhull venemently and indignantly depies the whole story. She says that her mother is to make the affidavit, which is a black and infamous lie; that only last week she sent the old lady a check to pay her rent; that she will yet overwheim check to parties with disgrace, and that, after all, it is only a family quarrel-and what family has not its dirty linen to wash? No doubt justice will be done to these ladies in the examination, which will take place to-day.-N. F. World, Seturday.
