WEATHER REPORTS

We clip the following from the Evening City Item of yesterday, May 23:— The present system of weather reports gives rate present system of weather reports gives great satisfaction to the country, and is of much value to various classes of citizens. We are confident, however, that several improvements can be made, without burdening either the officers of the Signal Service, or the newspaper columns. For example, the "probabilities" are now given for such large sections of country that they may fall to give true information at particular they may fail to give true information at particular points. It would be well, in our judgment, to be more specific in predicting for smaller sections, especially on the seaboard. Again, the "probability" is given only for twenty-four hours in advance; but we think the data would usually enable the officer in charge to predict for forty-eight hours. With regard to the shorter and more certain predictions, we trust that an efficient system of signals will be devised to be displayed at lighthouses, for the warning of coasting vessels. For all these purposes, the number of stations ought also to be increased. We have taken the more interest in this subject, because we had the honor to be the first newspaper (with the exception of the Boston Courier) to propose the use of the telegraph for this purpose. In our issue of April 8, 1848, twenty-three years ago, we said that such "daily bulletins of the coming state of the weather' would "save more property from shipwreck than ten times the cost of the system." besides the saving of lives. On January 13, 1849, we referred to the article in the Boston Courier (which, by the way, was written by ourselves before the Hem was born), and, after describing the system, said that the time was coming when "seamen will look to telegraphic bulletins of coming weather with as much certainty as they look to the 'Nantical Almanac' for eclipses, We returned to the subject on the 17th of March, 1849, and ask:—'At how early a period in the progress of a storm is its course and velocity" 'developed" and, "if we had twice or three times a day" 'telegraphic despatches of the weather," "might we not, even with our present knowledge of meteorology, predict the weather on the Atlantic coast" 'and on the lakes?" In the same issue of our paper following words-But in the end we shall see somebody else take up... our plan. Who cares where the glory goes, if the good thing is only done?"

we foretold the present state of the case in the

THIS IS THE SEASON OF THE YEAR when the system should be thoroughly purged of the humors which create disease. There is no purgative or cathartic so mild and efficacious as HELMBOLD'S GRAPE PILLS, causing neither nausea or griping pains—as is the case with the ordinary cheap patent pills of the day—most of which are composed of calomel or mercury, and carelessly prepared by inexperienced persons. After thoroughly purging the system use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA, the Great Purifier, and they will insure new life, new blood, and renewed vigor. Try them.

See remarks made by Benjamin Travers, F. R. C. S. Speaking of those diseases, and diseases arising from the excess of mercury, he states that no remedy is equal to the Extract of Sarsaparilla; its power is extraordinary, more so than any other drug I am acquainted with. It is, in the strictest sense, a tonic, with this invaluable attribute, that it is applicable to a state of the system so sunken and yet so irritable as renders other substances of the tonic class unavailable or injurious. See REMARKS of the GREAT CHEMISTS AND PILL MEN OF AMERICA.

WM. R. WARNERIA CO. H. T. HELMBOLD will remark, in conclusion, that his remedies are the result of long and careful study. The Fluid Extracts have been before the public twenty years; the sale of them in that time proves their value. All have been benefitted by them who followed my instructions, and to-day they stand UNEQUALLED in the extent of their sale and UNSURPASSED by any Medicament in the Dispensatory of the United States, not excepting a single HERB, ROOT, PLANT, or scientific preparation.
