Clipper and Christopher L. P. Boice, who accompany the Allegheny knights to Europe. The Great Western Band, of twenty-five pieces, go with these knights upon their tour. Around the figures is the legend, "Magna est veritas et prevalebet." The beauseant is of black and white satin, heavily fringed with gold lace, and ornamented with gilt tassels and gilt pendant chain-slung missiles used by the knight crusaders of the Richard Cour de Lion era. The front is ornamented further by a beautiful copy of Murillo's famous "Ecce Agnus Dei," reduced and painted in oval form. The picture represents the youthful St. John the Baptist in the wilderness with the lamb in loving embrace. The emblematic Roman cross has fallen to the ground at the feet of the forerunner of the Saviour. These banners have been made to order, in the best manner, under the supervision of Mr. Jeremiah L. Hutchinson, of this city, who is a past eminent commander of St. John's Commandery, and past most eminent grand commander of the Grand Commandery of Penn-

AN INVETERATE .- A First district police officer yesterday arrested James Thompson, who is accused of being an inveterate boarding-house thief. This man's thieving propensities run in this direction, and it has been his practice to rob every house with which he has had any connection. He stole from a house on Pemberton street, above Nineteenth; also, from another at Fifteenth and Federal streets; and from some three or four more. When he was arrested yes-terday, he had in his pocket a portemounaic which one of his victims identified, and, this being sufficient, Alderman Dallas sent the accused to prison.

TREE BLOWN DOWN .- A tree in front of the residence of Mr. Peter Lamb, on Second street, below South, was blown down during the furious gust of wind yesterday afternoon, and narrowly missed demolishing a carriage containing a gen-tleman and two ladies. It smashed the crosspieces of an iron awning.

FELL FROM HIS WAGON .- Yesterday afternoon Patrick Hendrick, while driving at Fifteenth and Filbert streets, fell from his wagon, which passed over him and cut his head badly He was conveyed to the Sixth District Station-house, where his wound was dressed. He was then sent to his home, No. 4 Tammany court.

NEARLY DROWNED .- Andrew Quinn, subject to attacks of epilepsy, fell into the Schuyikill at Chesput street wharf last night but was resened by Officers Cahill and Gibson, of the Schuylkill Harbor Police.

MR. JOHN T. SLEVIN will be the recipient of a complimentary benefit at the Assembly Bulldings this evening. A first-class performance will be presented, and we predict—what Mr. Slevin richly merits—a full house.

SLIGHT FIRE,-Croft's confectionery store, at No. 127 North Second street, was slightly damaged by a fire at 10 o'clock last evening.

73.84..58.66..65.58 being the averages of the menth.

This gives a mean temperature for the month of 66.25 deg., which is unusually high, but not by any means the highest on record, as some might have been led to expect. The average of the mean temperature of the month of May since 1790, or 82 years, has been 62 69 deg., and since 1825, or 47 years, 62 78 deg., thus making the mean temperature of the month just closed about 3% deg. above the average. The highest mean temperature on record for May was 71 deg., in 1892, and again in 1826; the lowest being 51.75 deg., in 1848. The mean temperature of May, 1870, was 65.23 deg., or one degree only below that of the past month. The highest point attained in May, 1870, was 87 deg., on the 21st, the lowest being 50.5 deg., on the 11th and 12th. Last month the highest was 91.5 deg., on the 30th, and the lowest 49 deg., on the 4th. During May, 1870, the thermometer stood at and over 70 deg. on 19 days, on 7 of which it went above 80 deg.; during the past month it went up to and above 70 deg. on 30 days, on 19 of which it exceeded 80 deg. On three days only during the past month, the 4th, 5th, and 6th, did the thermometer fall to exceed the average mean temperature of the month in the past. In the following table are shown the principal points of the month's temperature in contrast with the corresponding month of the previous five years:-

PLEA FOR HELP.

Relief Asked for the Pittston Sufferers. This morning the Mayor issued the following self-explanatory appeal: -OFFICE OF THE MAYOR OF THE CITY OF PHILADELPHIA, June 1, 1871 .- A terrible calamity has recently happened at Pittston, in the interior of our State.

Whilst a large number of poor men were en-gaged in their laborious vocation as miners in a coal shaft over 800 feet below the surface of the ground, a fire occurred at the mouth of the shaft, and the burning timbers falling in upon them, many of the poor men met with a most dreadful death, leaving their families destitute and helpless.

The condition of their widows and orphans is deplorable in the extreme, and their cry comes to us in agonizing tones, appealing for help. Though we cannot restore to them those whom they have thus lost, we may do something to temporarily alleviate their sufferings.

Philadelphia has never turned a deaf ear to the voice of distress, and I feel assured that the appeal now made will not be disregarded. Any donations for the purpose left at this office will be promptly forwarded to the local Committee of Relief at Pittston. Daniel M. Fox, Mayor.

THE LIGHTNING YESTERDAY AFTERNOON. The short and sharp thunder storm yesterday afternoon did not pass over Philadelphia without leaving a trace of its effects. A flag-staff on the house of the Columbia Engine Company, on Market street, near Thirty-fourth, was struck by the lightning, three feet from the roof, and demolished. The walls of the building were slightly damaged.

A bolt stuck into the stable of Mr. Myers, No. 2521 Brown street, and killed a mule valued at $200, and a dog. Strange to say, the electric fluid did not in the slightest manner injure the stable. The hoofs of the mule were completely torn from its ankles.

The mizzenmast of a brig at Verree & Mitchell's iron wharf, on Delaware avenue below Laurel, was also struck. The electricity passed down the mast into the hold of the vessel, and distributed itself in the cargo of iron with which the vessel was loaded. A number of men who were there working were knocked down. Three places in Jersey were also struck by lightning.

BITTEN BY A MAD DOG, AND HYDROPHOBIA ENSUES.—About a month ago a hostler at the Germantown stables, at Sycamore and Spruce streets, named Thomas Keegan, was bitten by a mad dog. This morning he was seized with a violent attack of hydrophobia, and so violent was the attack that it was found necessary to remove him to the Pennsylvania Hespital.

HONORABLY DISCHARGED .- The four men who were arrested on suspicion of being con-cerned in the disappearance of Patrick Gartland, of which case mention was made in The Evening Telegraph of Monday last, were yesterday honorably discharged by Alderman Burns. There was not a particle of testimony against these men.

STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL .- A strawberry festival will be held this evening at the First Re formed Church, on Race street, below Fourth.

The church will be handsomely decorated, and a very enjoyable entertainment may be expected by those who propose to attend.

THE TWELFTH WARD DEMOCRACY.-The Demecrais of the Twelfth ward have organized themselves into a seciety called the Wyoming Democratic Association, the officers of which are Samuel W. Arnold, President, Alderman Peter Hay, Vice-President, Thomas James, Secretary, and William T. Ladner. Treasurer. FOREIGN NOTES.

Thiers Promises to Maintain the Republic. Versatiles Correspondence of the Independance Belge, of After the stormy discussion respecting the peace treaty, M. Thiers held a reception. It was remarked that only the Left centre and the whole Republican centre were present; M. Thiers warmly received the Deputies who had so firmly supported him. "I thank you," said he, "for the patriotic assistance you have given me. I'am happy to see the men who represent the republic support me in the difficult task I have accepted, and which I hope soon to bring to a good end. I have declared myself for the republic. You understand that if I, an old monarchist, declare the republic to be the true form which the Government of France should assume, it is not without much reflection that I have attained this conviction.

"I am an honest man. At the age I have reached one has but one interest—that of being favorably remembered. I shall therefore deceive no one. I shall not betray the Republic. As long as I am at the head of the Government the Republic will be in no danger. A certain part of the Right hat shown itself hostile to me personally. What can I do in the matter? Is it because I will not lend myself to any combination? The Due D- wished for the Embassy to Russia. M. M. T. wanted me to restore the official candidature in favor of one of his relations: I shall not restore it. I know why these gentlemen attack me. It is because I do not do what they and their friends ask of me. I am sorry for it. But with your help and that of the country I hope at length to re-establish order, which is so essential to us, with the Republic, which is no less so. I feel a conviction that justice will be done me at last." This language, uttered frankly and even with good humor, made a deep impression on the numerous Re-publicans who thronged the rooms of the pre-

It is satisfactory to learn, however, that in almost every engage ment with the French forces the Kabyles have been driven back with loss. Exclusively to The Evening Telegraph. Views of the Treaty of Washington. HALIFAX, June 1 .- The Washington Treaty continues to be discussed by the newspapers. The Colonist and Express approve of the treaty, and the Chronicle and Recorder treat the subject from party views. The Reporter partly approves and disapproves of the treaty, expressing a desire to see more favorable conditions to the portion relating to the fisheries. In the latter paper last evening the following telegram from one of the Ottawa Cabinet appears:-"If the treaty is ratified by the Queen the portion respecting the fisheries wal be accepted or rejected by the Canadian rariament next session. Governy the Canadian rarliament next session. Govern-ient and Parliament are quite free to deal with it as the interests of Canada may require.

The Citizen has an editorial this morning which proceeds on the presumption that the functions of Parliament have been assumed by the Canadian Government by whom it affirms the treaty has been ratified.

OTTAWA, June 1.—The Government papers seem to foreshadow the intended policy of Sir John A. Macdonald and Cabinet with reference to the Washington treaty. The Times says:—
"Neither the Government of Canada, as a whole, nor Sir John A. Macdonald, as first Minister, are committed to the treaty. They have taken care to reserve to themselves the right of the most complete freedom of action." The Cilizen says: -"Macdonald displayed sound judgment in avoiding the extremes and taking a more moderate course, as it is understood the signing of the treaty was with reluctance and reserva-

Mr. Caldwell presented a minority report on taxes, fees, and deposits, recommending that any company doing business in any other State than that in which it may be organized should be taxed only upon the amount of premiums received, after deducting commissions and losses actually paid in such State, and that a tax of three per cent. upon such net receipts in addition to the departmental fees would be equitable, and life accident insurance companies should only be subjected to such taxation as the State in which they are organized may deem proper. The question of deposits should be left entirely to the State in which companies are organized.

The Members of the Cotton Exchange met to-day and decided to close the exchange at 2 P. M. during the summer months. Poor Prospects for the Crops. MEMPHIS, June 1.—Gloomy reports of the crops have been received from Pulaski, White, Woodruff, and Jackson countles, Ark. Owing to the incessant rains and late frost the stand of cotton is very poor, and many plantation have been ploughed up and planted with cotton. The Fort Smith Herald says the reports from counties of the mountains are gloomy enough, especially wheat, and it is doubtful if even the seed can be saved.

THE NEW MINISTERS.

We give below brief sketches of the two new members of the French Ministry appointed by M. Thiers to succeed M. Picard and General Lefle:-

M. Victor Lefranc, Minister of the In-M. Lefranc, who has succeeded M. Pleard as Minister of the Interior, was born at Garsin, in the Basses Pyrenees, on the 2d of March, 1809. He received a good education, but was not prominent in politics until after the Revo-lution of 1848, when he was elected to the Constituent Assembly, avowedly as a repre-sentative of the party of order, but really as a supporter of the restoration of monarchy. He supported Louis Napoleon against the Reds until the real designs of the President became apparent, when he at once went into opposition. At the time of the dispersion of the Assembly, when a number of the Representatives met at the Mayeralty of the Tenth Arrendissement and decreed the deposition of Louis Napoleon M. Lefranc was not present. After their arrest, however, he, with Bixlo, went to Mazas Prison voluntarily and enrolled himself a prisoner. He was soon released, however, when he went in to retirement, from which he did not emerge until after the overthrow of the empire last September. M. Lefranc is probably an Orleanist, but of that there is no certainty. He is said to be a man of ability, but to be lacking in firmness and decision of character.

General Courtot de Cissey, Minister of War Probably the most extraordinary appointment ever made by M. Thlers is that of General Cis-sey as Minister of War to succeed General Leflo, named Minister to Russia. Lefle is one of the most preneunced of anti-Bonapartists; Cissey is, or at least was, a warm adherent of the Napoleonic dynasty. He is a man in the prime of life, and was born in Northern France. He studied at the Ecole Militaire, and, after graduating, was commissioned a seus licutenant and sent to Africa, where, in the endless wars with the Arabs, he won reputation and promotion. During the Crimean war he served with credit, as also during the war in Italy, winning the rank of brigadier-general and subsequently that of general of division. For three or four years previous to the outbreak of the war of 1870 he was in command of one of the military divisions of France, the last being the Sixteenth division, with head-quarters at Rennes. No greater proof can be found of his Napoleonic sentiments than the fact just stated. On the declaration of the fact just stated. On the declaration of hostilities his division, with the Fifth corps, to which it belonged, was sent to Metz, and General Cissey participated in all the battles at and around that city. He surrendered with Bazaine, and remained in Germany on parele, when he returned to France. The conspicuous part he took in suppressing the Commune rebellion in Paris is too recent to need recaditulation. Unless the sentiments of General Cissey have changed since September last he is still a Bonapartist, and with his appointment as Minister of War the entire military government of France has been placed in the hands of the adberents of Napoleon. CURTAINS AND SHADES.
