

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

HOLY TRINITY.

Condition of the Parish Association. We have before us a neat pamphlet containing the annual report of the Parish Association of Holy Trinity Church for the year ending May 1, 1871.

The Church Sewing-school reports:—24 teachers and 250 scholars. Average attendance, 163 scholars. The Church Home reports:—23 teachers and 260 scholars. Average attendance, 150 scholars.

A mothers' meeting has been held every Tuesday evening throughout the year, with the exception of two or three weeks in mid-summer. 51 members are on the roll, and the average attendance 27.

The parish library has been enlarged, and now contains 1329 volumes. A new Trinity chapel is reported in a very flourishing condition.

CITY TRAVEL.

New Branch Line of the Union Passenger

The cars of the new branch line of the Union Passenger Railway Company will, it is announced, commence running to-day. The route is to be between Washington Square and Twenty-third and Columbia avenues.

THE NAZARETH HALL REUNION.

The Nazareth Hall Reunion Society will meet at Nazareth, Pa., on Friday next, at 10 o'clock, for the purpose of holding a reunion of the members of the Alumni.

THE NEW DEPOT AT GERMANTOWN.

Yesterday workmen commenced making excavations along the line of the Chestnut Hill Railroad, preparatory to the building of the new depot of the Germantown and Norristown Railroad Company.

A GREAT CAMP MEETING.

A Methodist camp meeting will commence at Salt Lake, Utah, on Saturday next, and will last long enough to cover 10,000 people.

NEW INDIAN AGENT.

Wm. H. Brown is a colored man, and he is reported to have stolen, in Middle alley, last night, a suit of clothes valued at $25, from an Indian.

THE PITTSBURG SUFFERERS.

The Mayor this morning received the following additional contributions:—David P. H. ... $3; Heier S. Nott ... $1; Combs ... $100; James, Kent, Santee & Co. ... $100; Previously acknowledged ... $1190.

THE CHERRY-STREET SHOOTING.

William Kendall, the proprietor of the saloon at Eighth and Cherry streets, and who shot Frank Killacky in that vicinity at an early hour yesterday morning, surrendered himself yesterday to Lieutenant McGuffin, of the Sixth district.

SMITH'S ISLAND.

The Mayor this morning appointed a couple of additional special officers to look to the preservation of the king's peace at Smith's Island.

"A JOKE."

A push-cart containing a bedstead and half a stove was left this morning in front of the residence of an up-town supervisor.

ELECTION OFFICERS.

Meeting of the Board of Aldermen in Common Council Chamber This Evening. At 10 A. M. to-day the Board of Aldermen met in Common Council Chamber.

The President announced that the first business in order was the election of officers. Alderman Carpenter renominated David Beiler for the presidency.

Alderman McMullin—We have no nominations to make. The other nominations were thus made:—Clerk, James W. Powell; Assistant Clerk, William C. Merain; Messengers, Joseph Riblett and Joseph C. Fuller.

Alderman Moore and Smith were appointed tellers, when a motion was made to elect the officers by acclamation, which was agreed to, and they were so chosen.

President Beiler tendered to the board his thanks and the thanks of his associate officers for the honor conferred upon them.

Alderman Carpenter moved that a committee of five be appointed to perfect a plan by which all the canvassers could be elected at the same time.

Alderman McMullin's amendment was lost by a party vote. The original motion was then lost, the vote being 24 in favor and 25 against.

Alderman Carpenter moved that when the Board of Aldermen adjourns, it adjourn to meet on the 1st of August, at 10 o'clock in the morning.

Alderman Carpenter's motion was lost by a vote of 30 for and 25 against. Another motion that the board adjourn to this day two weeks, at 3 P. M., was agreed to.

The following is a correct list of the members of the board:—First Ward—Samuel Lutz, Jesse S. Bussell, Second Ward—Hugh Collins, James Hagan.

Third Ward—Wm. P. Hibberd, L. Goodson, Fourth Ward—Geo. Moore, Wm. McMullin, Fifth Ward—Wm. W. Dougherty, John P. Delaney.

Sixth Ward—J. B. Matins, Michael Quirk, Seventh Ward—Andrew Morrow, George Patchell, William Bellshaw.

Eighth Ward—Nichols, R. R. Smith, Ninth Ward—David Beiler, S. P. Jones, Jr., Tenth Ward—W. P. Hibberd, L. Goodson.

Eleventh Ward—Wilson Keer, John H. Cahill, Wm. P. Becker, Twelfth Ward—Wm. S. Toland, Peter Hay.

Thirteenth Ward—Charles M. Carpenter, Joseph Plankinton, Fourteenth Ward—A. J. Boswell, J. R. Massey.

Fifteenth Ward—Charles E. Pancoast, John N. Hagey, Sixteenth Ward—A. H. Shoemaker, A. Riddel.

Seventeenth Ward—J. DeVing, T. Burns, Eighteenth Ward—Albert T. Eggleston, Luke V. Sulphin.

Nineteenth Ward—Charles Inox, William R. Heins, William Howell, Twentieth Ward—Francis Hood, Chaikley Kemble, Jas. I. Allison.

Twenty-first Ward—John P. Thompson, Peter Deem, Twenty-second Ward—Robert Thomas, Jacob Gehl, J. M. Waterhouse, Joshua Comly, Wm. J. Murphy.

Twenty-third Ward—Benjamin H. Singler, Watson Comly, Henry Broun, John Lingerman, Ross M. Knight, J. M. Thatcher, Jas. Day, Thos. Heiveston, Howard Barnes, John E. Valse, Josiah Keper, John C. Glenn, John P. Crooks, Peter Coster.

Twenty-fourth Ward—George E. Johnson, John Alexander, Thos. H. Clark, Twenty-fifth Ward—Oswald McDonald, C. Hitchcock, John B. Gallagher.

Twenty-sixth Ward—T. Dallas, S. P. Hull, Twenty-seventh Ward—Chas. H. Lungren, Thomas Randall, Simeon Taylor.

Twenty-eighth Ward—C. Meyers, Chas. K. Sorber, Joshua S. Fletcher, Thomas Heins.

INLAND NAVIGATION.

Chesapeake and Delaware Canal Company. The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal Company was held this morning at the office of the company, No. 417 Walnut street.

The following is a condensed statement of the financial condition of the company, made from the treasurer's balance-sheet, cash account, and exhibits, which are herewith submitted:—

Table with financial data: Total cash on hand May 31, 1870: $121,996.28; Add cash on hand May 31, 1870: $55,529.93; Total cash on hand May 31, 1871: $177,526.21.

Net cash in Treasurer's hands: $121,996.28. The amount thus stated as cash in the Treasurer's hands is not subject to the order of this meeting.

A dividend of three per cent. out of this sum for the last six months, clear of all taxes, is recommended. This dividend will require an appropriation of $42,597.58.

The amount of capital stock now outstanding is $1,881,000.00. The amount of funded debt is $213,556.91.

The contingent fund accounts as follows:—Securities on hand July 1, 1869, to credit of this fund: $20,000.00; Securities purchased since that date: $6,280.00; Cash on hand May 31, 1871: $1,292.91.

Three sets of new lock gates have been constructed during the past year, to take the place of the old ones, which had been in use fifteen years, and the locks have been otherwise improved and repaired.

The machinery for raising water for the upper level, having received the usual and necessary repairs during the past winter, is now in the best working order, and the canal as a whole is capable of having received the usual and necessary repairs during the past winter, is now in the best working order.

The suggestions made in the last annual report, in relation to the removal of the waste earth from the sides of the locks and the prevention of slides were acted on during the past year, in accordance with the plan therein proposed, with the good results then anticipated.

After the election of the following officers the meeting adjourned:—President—Andrew C. Gray; Directors—Samuel W. Jones, George Caldwell, Joseph Jones, J. F. Fisher, John Robison, William H. Hunsar, H. Pratt McKean, J. P. Gilpin, T. A. Biddle, I. V. Williamson, Isaac Ford, Charles H. Hutchinson, Edwin Swift, and David Scull.

WIFE-BEATER.—John Douglas, living at No. 1514 Pemberton street, is under $400 bail for Alderman Dallas for beating his wife yesterday.

PORT WARDENS.

Annual Meeting of the Board for Organization. At noon to-day the annual meeting of the Board of Port Wardens was held at the rooms, No. 115 Walnut street.

Mr. George W. Hacker moved that Gideon Clark take the chair, which was then done. The credentials of the following members were read:—John J. Kersey, Robert Greer, John K. Lee, M. D., Ludiaa Matthews, Preston Brearley, Jacob Walker, Galloway C. Morris, and George Truman.

Mr. Jeffrey was elected almost unanimously. Messrs. Hacker and Brearley were appointed to escort the gentlemen to the chair.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

The President then made a neat speech, in which he first welcomed the new members to the board, and then defined their duties, thus:—Keep the wharves in good order in the channel of the rivers, thereby giving to all a free passage; remove all obstructions in the rivers Delaware and Schuylkill, such as snags, vessels or encroachments of any kind; see that all docks shall be kept dredged to a sufficient depth, so that vessels can lay in safety at the wharves to discharge and receive their cargoes; visit and make a thorough examination of all localities when application is made to locate a vessel in the river.

INQUESTS.

The Coroner's Examination in the Cases of Mary E. Dwyer and George J. Green.—The Testimony. Deputy Coroner Sees, at 11 o'clock this morning, held an investigation in the case of a child, Mary E. Dwyer, who was run over by a wagon on May 15, on Third street, near Gaslight, and afterward died from the effects of the injury then received.

The Coroner's Examination in the Cases of Mary E. Dwyer and George J. Green.—The Testimony. Deputy Coroner Sees, at 11 o'clock this morning, held an investigation in the case of a child, Mary E. Dwyer, who was run over by a wagon on May 15, on Third street, near Gaslight, and afterward died from the effects of the injury then received.

The Coroner's Examination in the Cases of Mary E. Dwyer and George J. Green.—The Testimony. Deputy Coroner Sees, at 11 o'clock this morning, held an investigation in the case of a child, Mary E. Dwyer, who was run over by a wagon on May 15, on Third street, near Gaslight, and afterward died from the effects of the injury then received.

The Coroner's Examination in the Cases of Mary E. Dwyer and George J. Green.—The Testimony. Deputy Coroner Sees, at 11 o'clock this morning, held an investigation in the case of a child, Mary E. Dwyer, who was run over by a wagon on May 15, on Third street, near Gaslight, and afterward died from the effects of the injury then received.

The Coroner's Examination in the Cases of Mary E. Dwyer and George J. Green.—The Testimony. Deputy Coroner Sees, at 11 o'clock this morning, held an investigation in the case of a child, Mary E. Dwyer, who was run over by a wagon on May 15, on Third street, near Gaslight, and afterward died from the effects of the injury then received.

The Coroner's Examination in the Cases of Mary E. Dwyer and George J. Green.—The Testimony. Deputy Coroner Sees, at 11 o'clock this morning, held an investigation in the case of a child, Mary E. Dwyer, who was run over by a wagon on May 15, on Third street, near Gaslight, and afterward died from the effects of the injury then received.

The Coroner's Examination in the Cases of Mary E. Dwyer and George J. Green.—The Testimony. Deputy Coroner Sees, at 11 o'clock this morning, held an investigation in the case of a child, Mary E. Dwyer, who was run over by a wagon on May 15, on Third street, near Gaslight, and afterward died from the effects of the injury then received.

The Coroner's Examination in the Cases of Mary E. Dwyer and George J. Green.—The Testimony. Deputy Coroner Sees, at 11 o'clock this morning, held an investigation in the case of a child, Mary E. Dwyer, who was run over by a wagon on May 15, on Third street, near Gaslight, and afterward died from the