advance for the time ordered.

THE EVENING TELEGRAPH, from its original establishment, has been in the receipt of telegraphic news from the New York Associated Press, which consists of the Tribune, Times, Herald, World, Sun. Journal of Commerce, Evening Post, Commercial Advertiser, and Evening Express. The success which has attended our enterprise is, in i tself, a sufficient evidence of the freshness, fullness, and reliability of the news which we have received from this source. In March, 1870, we entered into a special contract by which THE EVENING TELEGRAPH has the exclusive use of the news furnished in the afternoon by the Associated Press to its own members, the North American, Inquirer, Ledger, Press, Age, Record, and German Democrat, of this city, and the leading journals of the East, North, West, and South: and hereafter THE TELE-GRAPH Will be the only evening paper published in this vity in which the afternoon despatches of the Assoclated Press will appear.

The earliest regular edition of the THE EVENING TELEGRAPH goes to press at 116 o'clock. and the subsequent regular editions at 2%, 3%, and 4%. Whenever there is important news of the complications in Europe, extra editions will be issued after this hour, and before the regular time for the early edition.

THE STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE of the Republican party of Pennsylvania will meet at the Logan House, Altoona, on Wednesday, June 21, at 12 M. A full attendance is requested, as business of importance will be transacted.

THE SATURDAY NIGHT FIZZLE. EXACTLY what the persons who tried to get up a mass meeting on Saturday night at the Academy of Music proposed to accomplish by inviting the respectable citizens of Philadelphia to sit in a hot theatre and hear the report of the self-appointed committee of anti-Penn Squarites who made themselves ridiculous at Harrisburg last winter, it is impossible for us to tell. It looks, however, as if they desired to make their grievances an issue in the political campaign now opening, and to place an anti-Penn Square independent ticket before the public. The meeting, however, was a disgusting fizzle, and less than five hundred persons appeared to represent the twentyfive thousand names said to be attached to the petition for the abolition of the Building Commission which was carried to Harrisburg not many weeks ago by the self-appointed committee aforesaid There was much sound doctrine in the report read on Saturday night, and in some speeches made, in regard to the necessity for reform in our municipal government; but as reform, according to the report and the utterances of the speakers, appeared to mean nothing more than the non-erection of the much-needed public buildings, unless they can be erected in the neighborhood of Sixth and Chesnut streets, we are afraid the only result of the meeting will be to make those who participated more ridiculous in the eyes of the community at large than they have hitherto been. The character of the opposition to the plans of the commission for the erection of the public buildings is well understood by the people of Philadelphia, and as the corruption so loudly charged upon the commission has thus far existed, to all appearances, only in the imagination of those who are interested pecuniarily in another site than that chosen by an immense majority of the people of Philadelphia last October, the plain, practical citizens, who desire to see proper accommodations provided for the courts and the municipal offices, find it impossible to get up any enthusiasm in behalf of any of the too transparent dodges of the anti-Penn Squareites. The attempt of the Washington Square property-holders to make the real reform movement now in progress, with a fair prospect of success, bear the burden of their grievances, is disgraceful, and it shows how utterly mean and selfish are those who have been fighting the Penn Square project. The meeting on Saturday night should prove to those who have been excited by the Chinese thunder of the anti-Penn Squareites how utterly without influence they are, and how little they can rely upon any support from the community at large. A cause that cannot collect five hundred persons at a mass meeting after all the noise has been made about it, that is possible, may be set down as practically worthless; and the anti-Penn Squareites, having now demonstrated their weakness to the satisfaction of themselves and of the public, ought to subside, and by putting up the rent of their offices fifty per cent. try and make as much hay as they can while the sun shines, for ere many years the office-letting business will certainly cease to be very profitable in the vicinity of Washington and Independence Squares. There is no use in trying to prevent the inevitable.

THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE

NORTHWEST. THERE should be a large attendance at the Academy of Music to-night to listen to the addresses of Hon. William D. Kelley and Hon. S. Garfielde on the subject of the development of our Northwestern territory by means of the Northern Pacific Railroad, not merely because the subject is one of great interest and importance, but because the speakers

Pacific Railroad concur in representing it as one of the richest on the continent. Its mineral wealth is immense, its soil is wonderfully fertile, and its climate is salubrious, Facilities for communication are alone needed to make it in a few years one of the most important and valuable portions of the Union, and these the Northern Pacific Railroad will give. With the completion of this road it is confidently expected that emigrants from other portions of the United States and from Europe will throng there to take possession of the fertile lands, and in a few years what is now a wilderness will be the home of a thriving population of hardy workers bent upon making the most of the treasures Nature has been storing up for them during unnumbered centuries. Judge Kelley has made a special study of the present condition and the future prospects of the Northwest, and he is fully alive to the importance of the results to be achieved by the construction of the Northern Pacific Railroad. His address this evening will undoubtedly be eloquent, and will be filled with valuable information that will be well worthy of the attention of all who are interested in the development of our national resources.

IMPEACHMENT OF A WESTERN GOVERNOR.

It is a significant and encouraging sign of the times that Butler, the late Governor of Nebrasks, has been successfully impeached and deposed from office on the charge of having used, for private purposes, some of the funds belonging to the State. The deposed Governor is said to have been an enterprising man, and he is credited with having done the State some real service; but he was proved guilty of the offense charged, and therefore rightfully deposed. It is to be regretted that impeachment is commonly regarded as a clumsy and nearly impracticable remedy for official misconduct. It should be made swift and sure in its operation. Pennsylvania has had dozens of prominent officials guilty of even more serious offenses than those of which Governor Butler was accused, and the failure to punish these official culprits has arisen chiefly from the supposed impracticability of impeachment. While that constitutional remedy remains inoperative, there is little hope for redress for notorious peculation, corruption, and flagrant misconand the ability to obtain an elective office, by hook or by crook, is made to imply the right to prostitute its functions, to neglect its duties, and to convert into engines of extortion or oppression powers which are theoretically conferred for the promotion of public welfare. Under a drastic system of impeachment, wellnigh half of the officials elected in Philadelphia could be, and should be, disgraced, dishonored, and not only deprived of their misused positions, but rendered incapable of holding any public place of trust in this community. The example set by Nebraska is, therefore, well worthy the tion of other States, and as it is probable that the Constitution of this Commonwealth will soon be remodelled, it is worthwof consideration whether means should not be adopted to simplify and extend the process of impeachment, so that a High Court of Impeachment could, if necessary, be in permanent session for the express purpose of promptly excluding from State and important local offices the incapables, knaves, and rascals of high and low degree who are parpetually creeping or climbing into power.

THE UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL. WE invite the attention of our readers to the advertisement in another column, which makes an appeal in behalf of a new hospital to be managed by the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania. The medical schools of Philadelphia have a world-wide fame, and it is a matter of importance to every citizen that they should be maintained at the highest state of efficiency.

With the increased accommodations of the new University buildings in West Philadelphia will come a necessity for greatly enlarged facilities for medical study, if the medical department is to maintain its wellwen reputation and keep up with the times, and a hospital under University management is not only an important but an absolutely necessary auxiliary to this department. Apart, however, from the importance of a hospital from an educational point of view, the rapid growth of the city renders an increase of hospital accommodations indispensable if the sick and wounded who are continually seeking the shelter of such institutions are to be properly cared for, and a new hospital cannot be better established than in connection with the University of Pennsylvania. The advertisement referred to sets forth in plain, practical terms the necessities of the situation, and as the amount asked for the erection of buildings and for a permament endowment is not large for a great and wealthy city like this, it is to be hoped that the appeal will be responded to by the philanthropic citizens of Philadelphia with their accustomed generosity.

THE GAS LOAN.

SHALL the people of Philadelphia be freed from the tyranny of the gas ring? or shall they in the future as in the past pay out their money on demand to be expended at the discretion of an irresponsible body of men, whose mismanagement of valuable public works has been for years a source of pecuniary loss and personal aggravation to every citizen that has been obliged to pay a gas bill or a municipal tax to meet interest on the gas loans? These are the questions the members of Select Council should ask themselves, and should be prepared to answer without equivocation to their constituents, before they vote upon the ordinance now before them for the creation of a loan of half a million dollars for the rebuilding of gas works which were have the gift of oratory, and they will destroyed by the Board of Gas Trustees be well worth bearing for their without authority, and for no apparent purown sakes. All the accounts that have been given to the public with regard to pose except to obtain the control of a large the territory to be traversed by the Northern | sum of money which if was hoped would be extorted from the city under the that . the supply plea would be insufficient. Instead of granting the money, Councils would serve the public interests much better by making an inquiry into the destruction of the Market street works, and by endeavoring to have it demonstrated, by an appeal to the courts if necessary, whether the trustees had a legal right to commit such an outrage. We are strongly of the spinion that the gas ring can be broken or at least that the performances the trustees can in a measure brought under control, if be the proper steps are taken; and we sincerely hope that there are enough members of Select Council who have the public interests at heart to take advantage of the present opportunity, and strike the first blow at the power of the ring by refusing to authorize the loan of $500,000. If this loan is refused the trustees will be obliged to answer to the public for the destruction of the Market street works, whether they are taken into court or not: and if there is a deficiency in the gas supply next fall and winter, there will be such a lively outburst of public indignation against the ring that reform cannot fail to come

> THERE is a reasonably fair prospect that a permanent French Republic may be established on the ruins of the varied old governmental systems of France. A large proportion of the shrewd politicians of the nation are at heart attached either to the Orleanists or the Bonapartists; but either set would prefer a republic to the establishment of a monarchy antagonistic to its special tastes; and it is possible that this mutual jealousy may ensure the permanent exclusion of all monarchical pretenders. M. Thiere is apparently disposed to array the Bonapartists and the Orleanists against each other, for the purpess of preventing either faction from gaining an indisputable ascendancy; and a true republic may finally be evolved out of their antagonism.

A DESPATCH from Pittsburg brings the gratifying intelligence that two County Commissioners of Allegheny county, McLee and Heely, who pleaded guilty to the charge of receiving bribes for granting licenses, were each sentenced on Saturday last to a fine of $2000 and imprisonment for one year. The people in the western part of the State have evidently grown tired of tame submission to official rascality, and two of their office-holding figure-heads have been very properly fined and imprisoned. When will Philadelphia be wise, courageous, and vigilant enough to seek a similar remedy for the wrongs inflicted upon her citizens? Is it not high time that the Pittsburg system of locking up and fining public robbers and plunderers was adopted here?
