whart, on the Delaware, just this side of Bridesburg, is becoming a famous locality for pugilistic contests. At daylight yesterday morning Officers Landenburger and Nugent, of the Eighteenth district, saw a large crowd on the wharf, and suspecting that no good was going on, ran down the wharf to ascertain the cause of the Sunday congregation. Some fellows on the outposts gave the alarm to their brother roughs, and the whole crowd jumped into boats and rowed away. It was found that a prizefight had been in progress, and the pol saw in the boats a couple of men—evidently the principals—with damaged eyes, flute lips, and otherwise battered faces.

GARROTERS.

A Man Knocked Down and Robbed of $400 this Morning in Port Richmond. About 5 o'clock this morning Officer McDonough, of the Eighteenth district, observed at the corner of Richmond and Huntingdon streets three men, who were secretly engaged in counting some money. The officer quietly withdrew for a while, and secured the assistance of Officers McDonald and Rotan. The three officials then made a break for the money-changers and captured them. They were taken to the stationhouse, and two of them gave the names of John Glenn and Arthur McConnell.

The name of the third party taken into cus tody is not given, because at the hearing before Alderman Neall it was discovered he was in no way connected with the other two, that he had come up a few minutes previously, and was curiously watching the pair, just as the officer did in the first place. Shortly after the prisoners had been locked up in the cell a man named Kern entered. He stated that he is a boatman. that he had been attacked, knocked down, and robbed of a pocket-book containing $428 and a number of bills of lading.

The prisoners were immediately trotted out of the cell, and Mr. Kern recognized them as the parties who had plundered him. McConnell had previously been searched, and in his possession was found a pocket-book, a pair of steel knuckles, and a large lever scale such as is used by butchers. This article, it is supposed, he carried with him to be used as an offensive weapon. The pocket-book was shown to Mr. Kern, and he identified it as his property. All the money was recovered and handed over to its owner. The prisoners, as stated, were before Alderman Neall, and were each placed in $800

A YOUTH WITH A STRAIGHT FLUSH OF Money. - On Saturday last a lad named Joshua Lumley, recently set free from the House of Refuge, was arrested in Frankford on a warrant which had been issued by Alderman Castor, pased on the following facts:-Lumley has no visible means of support, and yet lately it has been observed that he had no lack of money in his possession, and the which also he spent with a liberal hand. He bought two horses and wagons and was otherwise prodigal in his ex-penditures. He was arrested as before stated, and in his pocket was found a balance of $89 When asked to explain as to the manner he acquired the eash he made many contradictory statements, one of which was the rather absurd story to the effect that he had been in New York and found while there a pocket-book containing $291 lying on the sidewalk. The alderman has held him for a further hearing, as it is supposed that the boy has stolen the cash from some of the neighbors.

A MAN BLACKJACKED AT BROAD AND WASH-INGTON STREETS -Suddenly, at midnight on Saturday last a man was blackjacked at Broad and Washington streets. Officer McVeagh observed the transaction, and he gave chase to the assailant, who ran into an all-night house, through into the yard, followed at the heels by the policeman. The fellow tried to make use o the fence, but he was not quick enough, and he was captured. The officer marched him out, but he had proceeded no further with his charge than a couple of pavements from the tavern when suddenly two men ran out of the drinkery, attacked the policeman, and beat him badly. In the melee the prisoner escaped, but the two assailants were arrested by reason of assistance having arrived. When taken to the lock-up they gave the names of George Allen and Henry Dietrich. Alderman Dallas held each in $900

Young Robbens,-At daylight on Saturday morning some of the Frankford police found in confectionery store, on the Bristol pike, four boys who were working away, carrying out goods as if they intended to entirely strip the place of its sweet contents. They were taken in custody and gave the names of Cassiday, White, Bender, and Dillot. Alderman Stearne celd each in $500 ball.

THIEF ARRESTED .- Sergeant Donnelly, of the Seventh district, yesterday, at Hancock and Master streets, arrested one John Fetter, who some three weeks ago robbed the cash drawer of Pat Murphy's tavern, at Broad and Coates streets. Fetter is under $400 bonds by Alderman Cahill.

A Chapter of Wife-Beaters-The Character of the Men. We present this morning for public admiration the names of a number of those flowers of chivalry known as wife-beaters swaggering bullies, who would run a mile from a boy, but who, with a brutality only born of craven hearts, maltreat only those from whom they can fear no return. The first case is that of Lorraine Norton, who resides at No. 8 Newkirk street, and who beat his wife yesterday, and has been held in $600 ball by Alderman Neall. The next enstomer is Mr. John Fine, and whose domicile is at No. 629 Lehigh avenue. He maltreated his wife in a shameful manner yesterday. Alderman Neall held him in $700 ball. Alderman Dallas has had the pleasure of requiring George Springfield, of No. 1505 Ells-worth street, to enter bail in $500 for the same offense.

Sergeant Gilchrist yesterday went into the house of Henry Zimmerman, living at No. 541 China street, and dragged that individual to the station-house for beating his wife. This man Zimmerman had a knife and he threatened to cut his own throat, and really, had he carried this threat into effect, would civilized society be much of a loser in consequence? Alderman Cabill held Zimmerman in $600 bail.

The last case which claims especial mention is that of Dennis Hays, who lives on Second street, below Berks. On Saturday night this man was beastly drunk in a tavern near his house. His wife went in search of and found him fast asleep, lying on the broad of his back on the floor. She removed his pocket-book, knowing it contained a considerable amount of When he got awake he demanded the return of his cash, and the request being disputed, he brutally struck her a powerful blow in the face, cutting a cruel wound of about three inches on her right cheek. He struck her s second time and cut her lip badly. He was arrested and Alderman Heins held him in $1500

KENSINGTON M. E. SABBATH SCHOOL celebrated yesterday their fiftieth anxiversary. The church had been handsomely decorated. pying the pulpit recess was a large cross with the word "Jesus," and over the end gallery an arch with a sun, and the words "The light of the world," and over the side galleries the words "Upward, onward;" all of gas jects, which are to be illuminated as one of the attractions of their jubilee concert this evening. From the centre of the ceiling were suspended wreaths of evergreen and a beautiful basket of flowers with the figures 50. The church was filled morning, noon, and night. The afternoon service was peculiarly beautiful and interesting. Over 1200 children of Siloam and Kensington schools occupied the lower floor, and the galleries were crowded, as well as the vestibules, with friends of the schools. The singing was not to be surpassed. Rene Guillou and Thomas W. Price, Esqs., made most excellent addresses. morning service, at which Dr. Kynett preached an appropriate sermon, and the evening service, at which short addresses were delivered by Rev. A. K. Street and other old scholars of the schools, were both occasions of much interest. The whole exercises were a grand success, and will not soon fade away from the memory of those who participated in them.

A PITCHED BATTLE WITH CORNER-LOUNGERS -Officers Baker and Connell, of the Seventh district, had a battle with four corner-loungers at York avenue and Callowhill street. The officers teld the men to leave, and the reply of the men was that they would not. An attempt was made to arrest them, and this started a lively fight. They battered each other with consider able vigor, and for a considerable time, but at last, assistance arriving, the officers of the law trinmphed, and the four malcontents were securely housed in the station-house. They were heard by Alderman Toland, and were each placed under bail. Their names are John McQuade. John Mulligan, Walter Clary, and William Green William Green.

A LADY STRUCK BY A DRUNKEN MAN .- Two drunken men, named Felix Conner and John Duffy, were yesterday afternoon standing on the corner of Fourth and Thompson streets. Two adjes who were on their way to church passed at the time, and the drunken men thought it a fit opportunity to have a bit of fun. Duffy de liberately went up to one of the ladies and hit her a powerful blow in the face, and Conner stood by and enjoyed the transaction as if it was one of the best jokes of the season. Officers McGucken and Devlin, of the Tenth district, did not see the matter in this light, and they marched the practical jokers off to the stationhouse. Alderman Shoemaker placed Conner in $500 ball and Duffy in $1000.

A CHILD RUN OVER BY A MILK WAGON .- The driver of a milk wagon, named John Henry, urged his horse at a furious rate of speed at Eighteenth and Christiau streets yesterday. child who was crossing at the time was knocked down and run over, the wheels of the vehicle passing over its body. Every one thought the child had been killed, but when it was picked up it was found, strange to say, much bruised but not seriously injured. The driver of the wagon was arrested and taken before Alderman Dallas. He was held to ball for a further hearing to await the result of the injuries in-

ALL DRUNK.—Edward Cox, Robert Sink, John Taylor and William Brown are the names of four men who hired a wagon yesterday, and became fearfully intoxicated. In this condition they drove down Bainbridge street at a furious rate and destructive tendency. One of the men was leaning back with his arm on the wheel, and they were all shouting with drunken delight. At Third and Bainbridge streets the horse, well-nigh exhausted, was stopped, and the four men taken into custody for cruelty to animals, riotous benavior, and reckless driving. Alderman Lutz committed them.

DARING ACT OF A THIEF .- Last night a thief named Jerome Wood snatched a watch and chain from the pocket of a man at Eleventh and Filbert streets, and ran off with it, pursued by the usual crowd, who were lustily yelling "stor Wood ran into the precincts of the Sixth district, and was there captured by Officer Kelly. A partner of Wood, named John D. was arrested at the same time, and Alderman Jones held the pair in $800 bail. The watch without the chain, was recovered.

IN THE WORST KIND OF A PLACE. A drunken man this morning at 9 o'clock fell into an unboarded well of an out-house at the brewery of Ludwig Stein, on Coates street, above Third. Ropes, grappling trops Third. Ropes, grappling irons, etc., were brought from the Seventh District Station-house. and after much difficulty the man was released from his perilous, and certainly very unpleasant, A stream from a fire-plug was required to deodorize him.

AN ALLEGED MURDERER .- John Fox, alias "Scott," who was shot by Lieutenant Flaherty, taken to the hospital, and subsequently removed to the County Prison, is in a worse fix than ever. Detectives Haggerty and Gordon are off to secure a requisition upon which he can be transported to Clark county, Ohlo, where he is charged with the murder of a banker some time ago.

CRUSHED BY A LOCOMOTIVE. — Mr. Frank Connelly, aged thirty-four years, was seriously if not fatally injured by being crushed this morning between a locomotive and the oil-house at the Kensington depot. He was removed to his home, at No. 2030 Sepviva street.

IMPROVING .- Daniel Boone, who was stabbed at Nineteeuth and Stiles street on Saturday night last, and who it was feared would die in consequence, is much better this morning The physicians predict his recovery.

DIED OF HIS INJURIES .- Michael McArdle, who was crushed by a falling flagstone at Don-nelly's stoneyard, at Eighth and Master streets, en the 29th ultimo, died this morning in St. Mary's Hospital.

A SINGULAR CASE.

A Young Man Arrested on the Eve of His Wedding at the Instigation of His Father, Who Charges Him With For-

The irate father referred to is Mr. Charles Moran, a real estate agent and collector of rents. His son, Mr. M. V. Moran, a man of twenty-five or twenty-six years of age, has long been engaged to Miss Annie Ivers, a beautifu and accomplished young lady. The father and mother of Mr. Moran bitterly opposed the mar-riage upon the ground, it is said, that Mr. Moran and Miss Ivers both suffered from lung complaint. The lady and her triends earnestly protested that her lungs were in excellent condition, and Mr. Moran was of the opinion that his lungs were equal to any he had ever had. and plenty good enough to enter matrimony with. Being of lawful age, sound mind, and considerable spirit, he determined to marry the object of his choice in spite of parental opposition, and sagely remarked that it was his wedding and not his father's.

Night before last the young couple started for church with the intention of making such religious preparation as is usual in the Catholic Church prior to a wedding. While on the steps of the sacred edifice the young man was taken into custody on a charge of forgery preferred by his father. The young lady did not shrick or faint, as was reported, but being endowed with strong nerves and a stronger love for the man she was about to marry, accepted the situation with philosophy, satisfied that her lover's character would not suffer by the accusation. She returned home with her friends, while Mr. Moran was conducted to the Third District Station-house and locked up for the night. Yesterday morning Mr. Moran, Sr., visited him, and after a short conversation withdrew the charge. The wedding was not deferred, but was solemnized at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and the pair are now as happy as it is possible for them to be under the adverse circumstances encountered in their endeavors to become one. The bridegroom, it appears, had been em-ployed in his father's office as cashier and business manager, and it had been customary with Mr. Moran, Sr., to sign blank checks, which his son filled up for any amount needed in business transactions Moran, Sr., bad refused to advance the money needed by his son for the expenses of the wedding, and the latter having, as claimed, $350 due him as salary, filled up a check for the amount and drew it at the bank. The transaction, as claimed by his freinds, appears to have been legitimate, and his father's action seems to have been the result of undue excitement .- St. Louis Democrat, June 9.

MARY AND ELLEN .- Mary Smith and Ellen Lowry, both highly-respectable young ladles, are now in Moyamensing, having been sent there by Alderman Lutz for robbing a stranger of $15 on Saturday night at their boardinghouse in Trout street.

The Damage to the Kron Prinz. NEW YORK, June 12 .- The Kron Prinz at Falmouth, England, damaged, is probably the North German Lloyd steamer of that name from Aspinwall, bound to Bremen.

The New Capitol at Albany. ALBANY, June 12 .- The ceremonies connected with the laying of the corner stone of the new Capitol on the 24th promise to be imposing.

The Grand Master of the Grand Lodge has extended an invitation to all the Masonic Lodges in the State to be present, and distinguished Masons from all parts of the United States and Canada are expected to participate in the demonstration. It is believed that at least one thousand Knights Templar, in complete uniform, will be in attendance.

Governor Hoffman will deliver the address. There will be a fine military display, which will include nine brigades and regiments and com panies from various sections of the State. Message of Mayor Hall.

NEW YORK, June 12 .- The annual message of Mayor Hall, with accompanying reports of the different departments of the city government, was submitted to Common Council to-day. The report claims that the present system of municipal government has been attended by marked success, and that the administration of municipal affairs in all the departments has been characterized by vigor and economy.

The Comptroller's report gives the receipts from January 1 to April 30 of the present year at $14,501,945; deduct amount of over draft in December, $967,675, leaving $13,534,270; payments, $11,917,183; balance in treasury April 80, $1,617,081.

The Mayor states that the credit of the city now rests on a firm basis because the sinking fund, as now constituted, will be found amply sufficient to pay the city debt as it matures without resort to taxation for a dollar for that purpose.

Allusion is made to the attack upon the city credit, and it is stated sufficient reply to them is found in the fact that the Mayor and Comptroller find it the easiest of their duties to nego tiate both at home and abroad at handsome premiums all bonds authorized by the Legislature.

THE FLOOD AT NEW ORLEANS.

Latest Mail Accounts. From the New Orleans Picayune, June 6.

We are now almost realizing the spectacle of a submerged city. By far more than one-half of the town is under water, and the rising waters, with a stealthy, cat-like advance, are coming in every direction. Citizens are flying from their homes, and thousands of families are to-day shelterless and without food. From Rampart street to the woods, from Julia street to the lake, a scarcely uninterrupted flood extends. The canals, from whose affluent waters came the first menacing peril, have themselves disap-peared in the lake-like sheet that spreads in every direction. The strong wind from the lake still brings fresh material to swell the rising tide, and property and life are alike being sacrificed to the treacherous and subtle element. Since 7 o'clock Sunday evening the water has risen a the rate of twelve inches in twelve hours. now floods Canal street to Dryades street, and on Common street the water extends to Ram-part. In the angle of the city fermed by the Old Basin, Claiborne street, and Elyslan Fields street, there is but little water; only such, in-deed, as arise, from overflowed sewers. But be-tween Elysian Fields street and Lafayette ave-nue, and far beyond Florida walk, the flood extends uninterruptedly to a vast lake—a minia-ture sea. Nor does it stop here, but covers all the vast area below Canal street from Bayou St. John to Jourdan avenue, and from Hagan avenue up Poydras to Rampart street. Nearly every homestead in this wide extent is sur-rounded by water. Many families have left; but others will remain confined to their houses and suffering for food. It is true the charitably dis-posed and the authorities are putting forth every exertion to minister to their necessities; every exertion to minister to their necessities; but their facilities for transporting food are few, and many must suffer the greatest extremity before assistance can reach them. It was reported yesterday evening that the water was slowly receding at Milneburk; but this does not appear possible, in view of the fact that it is rising elsewhere. The same volume of water that passes over the rear of the city would conthat passes over the rear of the city would contribute equally to a rise at the lake end. All of the street cars beyond Rampart street have stopped. The travel on this thoroughfare, however, will scarcely be affected, unless, indeed, it be those cars which run out Esplanade street. The advance in this direction of course is not to thought of. In brief, this is the present condi-tion of the flood. It is hardly probable that it can remain so long, and by the time this in print the reflux may have set in. Towards noon there was an evident abatement in the rise, and towards nightfall the waters began receding. Nevertheless, it was very slowly. Among the noticeable incidents connected with the flood are the exorbitant charges made by boatmen for removing persons and families.

Absolutely dependent upon their kind offices, the poor people have to submit to any extortion they may choose to exact. Would it not be as well for the superintendent to detail police to prevent this sort of transactions? Robberles in the flooded district are numerous, and nearly every hour some complaint is made of those wretches who pray upon the unfortunate and those in distress.

It is to be hoped, however, that in a few days the flood will have entirely subsided. In the meantime efforts to assist those in affliction should be redoubled.

N. Y. MONEY MARKET SATURDAY.

From the N. Y. Herald. "The Government bond market enjoyed rather

"The Government bond market enjoyed rather more than its share of the duliness that was generally prevalent on the Stock Exchange. It now goes on record that at one session of the Government department the past week not a single transaction occurred, and the presiding officer went through the call almost without interruption, and then only when the bidding or asking prices changed by a difference of an eighth per cent. The market has, however, a very firm undertone, and sellers are not plentiful, while, as usual, the speculative movement is inconsiderable.

"The money market, as compared with that of the preceding week, showed a faint increase in activity, attributed to the demand for money among the wool growers. The only change, however, was a slight increase in the number of transactions at four per cent, among the stock brokers, three per cent, being the average and general rate for the great majority of call loans. Prime commercial paper was scarce, the offerings having been absorbed earlier in the season, and was quoted at 45666 per cent, discount.

"Foreign exchange declined, as a result of the more active demand for cash gold in speculative transactions, and, once down, falled to rally when cash gold became easier. The first-class bankers ask 110% for sixty-day sterling, and 110% for sight bills.

strong, according as the 'bull' clique kept or lost control of it. Early in the week, when the first 'squeeze' frightened so many of the 'shorts' into 'covering,' a portion of the clique, through timidity or through a miscalculation as to the effect to be produced by the Government sale of gold, went out of their gold, and the clique operations not only were embarrassed but threatened to go into chaos. On Friday and baturday, however, a new deal was had. The scattered elements of the combination were, it is said, not together again, the gold out into according tered elements of the combination were, it is said, got together again, the gold put into a pool and a board of directors (1) appointed to give a central management to the ball movement for the future and control it until the speculation should result in a profit to "the various 'shareholders' in this freshest and most unique enterprise in the way of a joint stock company. On Saturday the market opened quiet, with sales alternately at 112% and 112%, especially as cash gold was in better supply and cost a consideration for carrying. Afterwards the rate became flat for borrowing, and gold advanced to 112%, which tion for carrying. Afterwards the rate became flat for borrowing, and gold advanced to 112%, which was the quotation at the formal closing of the board. Subsequent to banking hours a 'squeeze' on Monday was threatened, and borrowers paid 1-82, 1-16, 3 32, and % for the use of gold until Tuesday morning, the closing rates being 5-32 bid for a small lot and % for half a million. Hereupon gold advanced to 112%, and closee at five o'clock 112%.
