THE COAL TRADE.

The Schnylkill Rate of Wages for June-The Appeal of the Operators - The Lehigh Region and the Situation_The Complete Tonnage for the Week-Quotations, Etc.

Tennage for the Week-Quotations, Etc.. The constitues of operators and miners of the Schuyikuli reg met during the week for the pur-pose of ascertaing the average price of coal for the mosth of some and of fixing the rate of wages. The average price was found to be $2.61 per ton for the previous thirty days, according to the books examined, which, according to the decision of the ampire, would reduce the wages four per cent, from the $2.5 b per ton basis.

This rate is lower than the men expected, but so far it appears unlikely that there will be any dif-ficulty on that account. Should another mouth show a still lower average, which is probable, then it is more than likely that there will be much discontent, though an actual stoppage at the present time is not expected, if the majority of the men have any say in the matter. To avert this calamity which the operators profess to fear, that class are still calling upon the purchasers to come and buy now, saying that they are holding off in expectation of still lower rates which are provable for the summer from present appear-ances, the ultimate effect of which course would, however, be disastrous by creating in undue demand and consequent high prices in the future. But it might be a question whether the purchasers are not now buying in their usual quantities at this time of the year, and whether the operators do not desire them to depart from their usual custom and much out of the way to accommodate the miners and counteract the evil effects of their own work and counteract the evil effects of their own work. The miners cannot expect that after doing so much injury to the trade they are to go scot free, and never know, when they are working, that a suspen-sion had ever taken place. The situation in the Lehigh region remains sub-stantially unchanged. A meeting of the W. B. A. of the district was held during the week, when it was resolved to agree to a compromise. The men were instructed to accent an advance of five mer cent on instructed to accept an advance of five per cent. on the offer of the operators and go to work. But this the offer of the operators and go to work. But this advance the operators refuse to give, saying that when they desired to compromise the miners would not. They now assert their intention of holding to their terms during the whole season, if necessary. The market at this port is reported active, with a good demand at slightly advanced rates. Vessels afte not as plenty as last week. The following is the complete summary of the trade for the past week, as reported for the Potts-ville Miners' Journal of to-day:-

They conndentay believe the coming conventions will ratify. On the selections for Mayor, District Attorney, and Judge they got along smoothly enough, but now find themselves in hot water in their endeavors to settle upon chaldlates for the rest of the city offices. They tried to shift Barger, who is pushing for the City Solicitorship, on the ground that he had been identified with some of the city c utraisaton bills; bot Mr Barger, who does not relish to be thus twisted about by the wire-pullers, declares that he Republican nontinee, is connected with the Paolic BaldingsCommission, there should be no, reasonable objection to his becoming the Democratic nominee. The Star Chamber has also settled upon Colonel Reynolds as a candidate for Prothonotary, but Pas-torius and one or two others who are pushing for the office are determined no to withdraw. Wood-ward will be forced out of the field and William J. Harbison accepted as the candidate for the City Controllership.

Controllership. On Thursday last the Democratic members of both branches of Councils met in Common Council Cham-ber to nominate a candidate for Guardian of the Poor. Last week the Supreme Court, sitting at Har-risburg, appointed James Armstrong a member of the Board of Guardians, but it is questionable whedesire them to depart from their usual costom and purchase their winter's supply now instead of later in the season. The result which is feared is a result of the action of the miners in suspending, and if lower prices come immediately by reason of it— which is the thing that the operators fear more than the excessive demand of the latter part of the season, though they are urging the former upon the purchasers as a reason why, for their own bene-fit, they should purchase now—the purchasers can-not reasonably be expected to put themselves very much out of the way to accommodate the miners

THE MORTALITY OF THE CITY.—The number of deaths in the city for the week ending at noon to-day was 285, oeing 36 in excess of those of last week, and 2 less than those of the correspond-ing period of last year. Of these, 186 were adults: 147 were minors: 212 were born in the United States, 58 were foreign, 6 were people of color, and 9 were from the coun-try. Of this number, 38 died of consumption of the lungs; 5 of disease of the heart; 11 of marasmus; 5 of old age; 6 of typhoid fever; 14 of convulsions; 8 of inflammation of the lungs; 5 of congestion of the brain; and 21 of debility.

A PEDDLER TRIEF.—Henry Myers, a peddler of shoe-laces, fancy soaps, etc., yesterday went into the store of Mr. Daniel Coyle, at No. 2034 Callowhill street, and, nobedy being about at the time, he walked behind the counter, seized a package of penknives, and then got out of the place as quickly as possible. The theft was discovered in time and Myers was arrested, the knives recovered, and Alderman Pancoast committed him.

GATHERING OF THE SINGERS.—In Musical Fund Hall, on Monday morning next, the National Musical Convention will begin its sessions, which will be continued several days. Delegates will be present from the musical associations of the principal cities of the Union, and the object of the convention will principally be the protection and advancement of the interests of the musical fraternity throughout the United States.

ther this appointment will stand, seeing that at the recent session of the Legislature an act was passed transferring the power of appointing the Guardiana from the Courts to Councils. The caucus on Thursday was called to accept the provisions of this act, by nominating a candidate to represent the "minority" in Councils, and the gen-tleman selected was Dr. James Kent Gilbert. They overslaughed Mr. Armstrong, who has been a highly-respected member of the board for many years. It was he who started the agitation against the prac-tice of selling the bodies of deceased paupers to medical schools—a practice which gave to the Guar-dians the certainly unpleasant title of "Board of Buzzards," and which was eventually broken up. Next Wednesday afternoon the Republican mem-bers hold their caucus for the same purpose.

DATE & BETTY VICE ATTEMPT

Next to the Minister of the Gospel stands a regular graduated Physician, in our estimation. But, while we hold in high esteem those who administer to the last wants of our loved ones, we are compelled to differ with many of them in treating THROAT and LUNG DIS-EASES.

Dr. L. Q. C. WISHART'S

"THEORY."

His Remedies Cure.

First. Not by stopping cough, but by loosening and assisting nature to throw off the unhealthy matter collected about the throat and bronchial tubes, causing irritation and cough.

Second. Most Throat and Lung Remedies are composed of anodynes, which allay the cough for a while, but, by their constringing effects, the fibres become hardened, and the unhealthy fluids coagulate, and are retained in the system, causing disease beyond the control of our most eminent physicians.

Third. The Pine Tree Tar Cordial, with its assistants, are preferable, because they remove the cause of irritation of the mucous membrane and broncial tubes, assisting the lungs to act and throw off the unhealthy secretions and purify the blood, thus scientifically making the cure perfect.

A Voice from the People.

A Cure of Seventeen Years Standing of Painful Suffering.

J, BOOPER JOLLY, of Philadelphia, do certify, that for seventeen years I was afflicted with Dyspepsia, and what I assert is well known by many respectacle persons of Dorchester county, Maryland. Having tried the best Physicians and every medicine I heard of, but of no effect, I was induced to call at Dr. WISHART'S Office, and, after examination, was pronounced to have Chronic Dyspepsia. I procured his Great American Dyspepsia Pills and Pine Tree Tar Cordial. I now can recommend it for the cure of Dyspepsia and Nervous Diseases. HOOPER JOLLY,

A large crowd of people had collected, and of course half a dozen wild stories were in circulation, not the least of which was one to the effect that Meade had shot a man, and some of the encode professed to have seen the blood. High Constable John Curley happened to pass at the time, and stepping up in the quietest manner, told Meade that he had better go inside and put the weapon away. This request was met by such a profane answer that Mr. Curley promptly took Meade in custody and locked him up in the Central Station. Buns, the Register of Wills, with conspiracy to chisel the public out of a large sum of money, they came out into court this morning, and stating that the Grand Jury had ignored the bill without examining Speaker Strang, who was named as one of the witnesses for the prosecution, moved the Judge to grant an order sending the case into the Judge to grant an order sending the case into the present Grand Jury for further consideration, it now being possible to obtain the attendance and testimony of Mr. Strang, the Legislature having ad-journed. Notice of the application was served upon Mr. Bunn, but he disdained to give it the slightest attention, and did not appear either in person or by counsel to resist this proceeding. Mr. Sidebotham, actuated by the influence of his primitive adage, offered to refer the Court to the A. B. Ridgway, Esq., counsel for the Law As-sociation, who have undertaken to suppress this crying evil, moved the court for a rule on the Sheriff to show cause why these deputies should not be dismissed. The Sheriff's counsel, Mr. Glipia, made a technical objection that the proceeding should have been by petition instead of affidavit and rule; and the court, after considering the question, to-day sustained this point. Mr. Ridgway has prepared the petitions in accord ance with this ruling, and the matter will be re-sumed next Monday. He is making stremuous efforts to defeat the systematic course of plundering for many years pursued by the servants of the public, and in so doing he has the support and good-will of the community.

His dress was that of a gentle-man, and his countenance indicated what is well known of him, that he is an intelligent, shrewd, and daring desperside. REMARKABLE SUICIDE.

Saloon-keeper Shoots Himself on Ac-count of the Sunday Liquor Ordinance.

From the Chicago Times, 13th. The suicide of Mr. Matthew Wostnonsky, at No. 473 South Canal street, yesterday afternoon, was one of the most peculiar ones that has happened for some time. Deceased was a Bohemian saloonsome time. Deceased was a Bohemian saloon-keeper. He was aged about forty-six years, and had only himself and wife to support, their only child being married to a worthy young mechanic. A few weeks ago one of the West-side policemen car-ried to Mr. Wotnonsky a circular printed in the Gerried to Mr. wothonsky a circular printed in the Ger-man language, ordering him to keep closed bis saloon on Sunday. This was signed by W. W. Ken-nedy, Chief of Police. The poor man worried over this order a great deal. His business through the week did not amount to much, and it was only on the Sabbath day that he managed to make anything in dealing out have beer and bad iquors. Once he said to his wife:-"What can I do ? I can't make my living, so I will have to shoot myself." The wife expostulated with him, and for the time being quieted his excited feelings. Yesterday morning, when he had opened his salooa, he picked up the paper and read something which made him perfectly furious. He laid down the paper, exclaiming "That's my last." and went into his bedroom. Taking a revolver from the bureau, he tried to shoot himself, but before he could ac-complish his intention his wife interfered and took the pixel form his hands. She then made him pro-mise to attempt nething of the kind again. Tor several hours he sait in the saloon, utterly re-fising to speak to any one. Finally he said to his wife that he would go in and he down. A moment later she heard the report of a pistol, and when she rushed into the bed-room she discovered to her hor-ror that he had shot himself. The ball had entered over the right ear, and hodged in the brain. Several physicians were sam-moned, but they were of no use. In less than one hour the man was dead.

The Amiral General is said to be one of alls measures ships in the Russian navy, and instructions have been given to have her cabins and staterooms fitted up in the most elegant and inxurious manner, be-fitting the accommodation of the illustrious trav-elier and the large suite of noblemen and gentlemen who accompany him. It has been erroneously stated that the young Russian Grand Duke was the third son of the Empeperor. He is the second son; the Cæsarowitsch Alexander, or Prince Imperial, is the nrst; Grand Duke Alexis next; and then comes the youthful and handsome Prince Vladimir, who is now enjoying the hospitalities of the royalty of England at Sandring-ham House and Windsor Castle. Though of the blood imperial, the Grand Duke is said to have been compelled by his Imperial father to pursue the regu-lar curriculum prescribed at the Imperial Marine Academy; and it is also said that the young Prince has not only manifested a great disposition for the acquirement of learning, but has displayed more aptitude than one generally finds in the pampered persons of Prince pupils.

aplitude than one generally finds in the pampered persons of Prince pupils. Those who have recently seen him speak of him as a fine-looking, tall, soldierly-appearing young gen-tleman, with a very dignified and commanding pre-sence, though yet quite young. He eschews the ceremonies and pomp of Court as much as Kussian etiquette, which is very exacting, will allow him. Prince Alexis wears but one decoration, and is generally seen dressed in the uniform conforming to his rank in the Imperial Navy. The fact of his being a Grand Duke of the Empire will not, it is said, have the effect of hastening his pro-motion in the Russian navy, where merit alone is not, it is said, have the effect of hastening his pro-motion in the Russian navy, where merit alone is rewarded with increased rank. He now holds the position of commander in the navy, and has won it solely by strict application to his studies and his own individual exertions, unassisted by any one save, of course, the promptings of the best talent in the land employed in teaching him. Recent letters from St. Petersburg represent that great rivalry seems to exist among the young Rus-sian noblemen desirous of joining the suite of the Grand Duke in his voyage to America. The Russian papers are full of the preparations that are being made both at St. Petersburg and at the naval depot at Cronstadt, from which port, as is well known, the Imperial frigate and her convoy will sail.—New York
