TROUBLE.

The Paid Fire Department vs. The Polic and Fire Alarm Telegraph-Rowdyisn at Fires-The Cause of Delays.

On Saturday last we published a local item to the effect that three men had been arrested a the fire as Richmond and Norris streets for hurling backs and interfering with the opera-tions of the new Fire Department. This, to gether with repeated charges against the new department of delay in getting on the fire-ground, induced the commissioners on Saturday afternoon to hold a special meeting in order (inquire into the matter.

STATEMENT OF CHIEF ENGINEER JOHNSON. President Landenslager occupied the chair The Chief Engineer was called, and made statement to the effect that, on Friday night a the fire, the department was almost paralyzed through the interference of a gang of organized roughs. "I myself," said Mr. Johnson, "had to fight with a party of them to obtain possession of a line of hose, and when I obtained coutrol of it, in a short time I found the supply of water of R. In a short time I found the supply of water shut off. I followed up the line of hose, when I found that the hose had been detached, there-by preventing the flow of water to the fire. The disorderly persons seemed to have full control of the fire-ground, and I repeatedly implored the noise of the ground have the ground but we the police officers to clear the ground, but we received very little satisfaction, as the rough did not seem to fear the officers. I would also state that I struck box No.73 on a second alarm as I wished the services of additional compa nies, and upon inquiry in the telegraph office they say they received no alarm on the second signal, consequently the additional companies did not come upon the ground.

"I have seen symptoms of a disposition to ob-struct and interfere with us at nearly every fire within the city limits. On Friday evening was with great difficulty that I could make my way through the crowd to the fire, and was re-peatedly insulted. There was an excellent op-portunity to exclude the crowd from the vininity of the fire. I asked the police to clear the ground, but with little avail. I have, according to law, the control of the fire ground. The efforts of my men were almost paralyzed by the everbearing and threatening crowd of roughs. Assistant Humphries was interfered with by outsiders. I requested the police officers to ar rest these men, but they did not do so." Numerous questions were put to the Chief He stated that the cause of delay in getting to fires is mainly owing to the lateness with which the alarm is sent, either on the part of the police or the telegraph. "The men are quick in hitching up. The average time is 30 seconds. One o the papers said that the department was late a the fire at Richmond and Norris streets, but know that on the telegraphic alarm it was very quick. There is a lack of sympathy with the department.

President Laudenslager stated that he had seen the Mayor, and was informed by that magistrate that he had issued orders daily, but they are unattended to.

The board, after deciding to take active mea sures, adjourned.

SPORTING.

Yacht Race To-day on the Delaware. Under the auspices of the Cooper's Poin Yacht Club a regatta commenced this morning at 10 o'clock, on the Delaware. Seven classes of yachts, ranging in length from 16 to 60 feet, participated for prizes valued from $50 to $125 each. The scene in the vicinity of the starting. point, off Cooper's Point, was brilliant-no le than 150 yachts of all descriptions were floating lazily upon the unrufiled surface of the Dela ware. The calm disconcerted the lovers of the sport, but a few faint puffs from the northwest followed by a brisk breeze, restored their hope and filled the sails of the graceful vessels, careen ing them to their gunwales. At 10 o'clock, when the yachts had taken up their position, allotted them according to their size and class, the signal was given, their fastenings cast off, and they shot quickly down the river amid the shouts and between the

THE PORT WARDENS.

An Explanation of the Recent Act of the Legislature Compelling the Reporting of all Arrivals.

At noon to-day a special meeting of the Board of Port Wardens was held at No. 115 Wainut street, E. Hooper Jeffries, president, in the chair

After the reading of the "supplement to the Port Wardens bill," passed at the recent session of the Legislature, General Gideon Clark moved that a committee of three be appointed to draft an explanatory preamble and resolutions. Agreed to.

The Chair appointed Mesars, Clark, Morris, and Cramp as that committee, who then retired and soon reported the following:-

retired and soon reported the following:--Whereas, The following has passed both branches of the Legislature and has been signed by the Gov-ernor, to wit:--"That all vessels over seventy-five tons burden shall, within twenty-four hours after arrival at the port of Philadelphia, report and regis-ter at the office of the Board of Warlens for said port, and all proceedings for neglect to obey harbor regulations as at present existing shall be held be-fore any Justice of the Peace or Alderman of the city of Philadelphia, and the proceedings for the en-forcement of penalties in all cases shall be com-menced by capita." menced by capias."

Therefore this is to inform the public that this law gives the board no additional authority, but law gives the board no additional authority, but enables them more effectually to carry out existing laws. Since the creation of the board all vessels have been required by law to report, but for the last two years, owing to our defective laws, nearly all coastwise vessels refused to report. By the operation of this law the board will be enabled to give daily a full and reliable report of the arrivals and departures at our port, and obtain for the use of the public the complete commercial statistics of Philadelphia. This has long been felt a want, and numerous commercial geniaemen have re-quested the board to take such action as would place Philadelphia in the same position as New York, Boston, and Baltimore. When, last year, the Na-tional Government asked the board for the commer-cial statistics of Philadelphia, it was impossible to tional Government asked the board for the commer-cial statistics of Philadelphia, it was impossible to furnish accurate information; and daily inquiries are made at this office for the tonnage, draft of water, or location of some vessels of which we possess no registry. Under the old law, when vessels refused to obey harbor regulations, the remedy was by warrant, which generally took eight or ten days before a hearing, during which time the vessel left port. This law compels an immediate hearing, so that if one vessel is incommoding another, or will not move to let her out of her berth, or will not rig in her jibboom, or, having been six days at a wharf, will not go outside, this bill will give an effectual and immediate remedy. This bill imposes no new fees, and excludes all give an effectual and immediate remedy. This bill imposes no new fees, and excludes all barges and small craft; and the board will make arrangements whereby captains will not be inconvenienced by reporting. Again, last year veveral vessels escaped Quarantine with fever, and were some time in the city before discovery. Had this law been in force then, these vessels,would have been sent back immediately. It will thus be seen that this bill is intended to enable the Board of Wardens to enforce the police and sanitary laws of the port and to obtain valuable commercial statistics, and will be in no sense a re-striction on commerce.

The board gave their assent to this document and then adjourned.

A CONJUROR.

New Branch of Medical Art-How the Thing Works.

The days of ignorant superstition and juggling sharpers have not passed yet. A German woman living in Charlotte street, above Canal, has a sick child. On last Saturday afternoon a German named Fergus went to the lady and said that he could cure the infant. Said the glib-tongued rascal to the lady:—

"You see, madame, I am a physician from Germany. I practice a peculiar kind of medicine. I cure by the charm known as 'nervous sympathy.' Don't be drugging your child with your infernal allopathic stuff, but leave the child to me, and I warrant it will be on its legs in short order." And thus he went on at this voluble rate order." And thus he went on at this voluble rate to a great extent. The bait was gulped down, and the child was produced for the "nervous sympathy" practice. Fergus commenced operations by drawing from his pocket a small vial, which he tasted himself and then gave some to the infant. He then asked for a two-dollar bill. This was produced. He laid it upon the table, sprinkled is with the mysterious liquid, folded it up, and handed it back again to the mother. All this time he was muttering and mumbling like a lunatic. He then went out, and said be would return in half an hour. Prompt to his promise, Fergus appeared again, and recommenced the "nervous sympathy" operations. He asked the "nervous sympathy" operations. He asked the woman her age, and her husband's age, and when he came into the country, and a host of other questions. He finally got down to busiother questions. He main got down to busi-ness, and plumply put the questions—"Have you any money about the house? How much? What kind of money is it, and where is it?" During this time he was still keeping up the domestic incantation scene, muttering, crossing himself, and all manner of strange motions and sounds. The woman said she had $40 in greenbacks. She was desired to bring it down stairs and lay it upon the settee. She did so. Out came the little bottle again, and the cash was sprinkled as before. Handing the bottle to the woman, he said. "Here, take this up stairs and sprinkle the child." She complied with this request also. She went up stairs, leaving the cash on the settee, and when she returned Fergus and the money were gone ! Fortunately the swindler was arrested yesterday. He was taken before Alderman Riddle and is now in Moyamensing. not conspicuous for its quality. If this evening and to-morrow's events are not more creditable to the PONTIFICAL CELEBRATION .- The coronation of his Hollness Pope Plus IX was celebrated in St. Augustine's Church, Fourth street, near Vine, yesterday, with solemn ceremonies. Rev. Father Stanton celebrated mass, and the choir, under the direction of H. G. Thunder, sang Scherbauer's Grand Mass in the most effective manner. The solos of the mass were admirably manner. The solos of the mass were admirating sung by Miss Cathcart, soprano; Mrs. McHugh, contralto; Mr. Holmes, bass; and Mr. Fisher, tenor, while its grand chorals were executed with rare spirit] and effect by the large chorus that assisted in the performance. A prominent feature of the musical portion of the celebration was the trendition of very fine O Salutaris Hostia, from Donizetti, which was sung by Mrs. McHugh, at the offertory of the mass, accompanied by Mr. Thunder on the violoncello and by Mr. G. W. Hewitt at the organ. A DESPERATE GANG .- John O'Nelll, William Dudley, and James McQuade, the latter a des-perate ruffian, and who, it will be recollected, is under ball for nearly beating the life out of Mr. George Pabst at Callowhill street and York avenue, were arrested last night for a malicious piece of business at the Lincoln House, Fourth and Wood streets. These men were on the "beating" game last night-that is, they went to a number of places, bullied the bartenders out of drinks, and never thought of paying for them. At 1 o'clock this morning they brought up at the Lincoln House. The proprietor, who had closed up, refused to go down and let them in, when they deliberately smasked the glasses in his windows. Officers Jones and Shelly, of the Seventh district, arrested them, and they have been held in $500 ball by Alderman Toland.

A YOUNG MAN DROWNED.—Thomas E. Parker, aged twenty-two years, was drowned in the Delaware to-day, at half-past twelve o'clock, opposite Kaighn's Point. The deceased was on the yacht Delaware, which had just ar-rived from a pleasure trip. He and two others were on the bowsprit, when the shroud parted, were detained than into the water Historic precipitating them into the water. His com-rades managed to retain hold of the tackling, but Mr. Parker unfortunately missed his grasp, and when thrown into the water, sank out of sight. The body up to this hour has not been recovered. He resided at Sixteenth and Coates streets.

BASE BALL .- A game of base ball will be played this alternoon on the Athletic grounds, Twenty-fifth and Jefferson streets, between the Athletics of this city and the famous Red Stock-ings of Boston. As this is the second game for the championship between these two clubs, a very close and exciting game may be looked for. Game called at 3 o'clock.

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY ELECTIONS. - This evening, between 6 and 8 o'clock, our Democratic citizens will assemble at the various precinct-houses and elect by ballot one person to serve as judge and two persons to serve as inspectors of primary elections (each person to vote for one inspector for the ensuing year). There will also, at the same time and place, be elected three persons to represent each re-spective division in a Ward Convention to be called the "Ward Delegate Convention," and three persons to represent each division in a Ward Convention to be called the "Ward Nomi-nating Convention," and in addition to these, two representative delegates are to be chosen in each division, and in some of the wards one senatorial and one surveyor's delegate will be voted for.

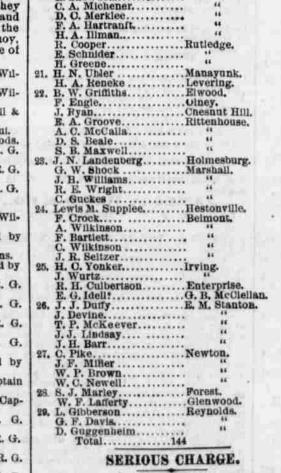

HORRIBLE. - A woman aged about thirty years, giving the name of Johanna Clark, was years, giving the hane of solumina Clark, was found, during the violent thunder gust of Satur-day night, drunk, lying on the broad of her back in Chesnut street. In her arms she had a child with not a stitch of clothing on but a pair of shoes. She and the babe were taken to the Central Station and cared for.

ANOTHER GOUGE .- A thief, some, six weeks ago, gained, by an ingenious lie, the confi-dence of Mr. James Dehan, living at No. 813 North Sixteenth street. He was admitted to the house, and, watching his chances, one day last week he decamped with $58 belonging to Mrs. Dehen. He has not since been heard COAL OIL AGAIN .- A coal-oll lamp last night exploded, and set fire to the clothing and burned Mrs. Sarah Newman, living at the rear of No. 339 New Market street. The unfortunate woman was horribly burned. She was taken to St. Mary's Hospital. 'The probabilities are that she will not recover.

FELL DEAD .- Frederick Schaeffer, aged 65 years, living at No. 329 St. John street, fell dead this morning at seven o'clock at the corner of Fourth and Wood streets. He was in perfect health when he left home. The body is at the Morgue, awaiting an inquest by the Coroner.

MEETING OF COUNCILS .- This afternoon both branches of Councils met in joint convention and elected William H. Taggart Coal Inspector, under the provisions of an act passed by the recent Legislature.

An Officer of the Sixth District in Trouble. James Manghan, a police officer of the Sixth district, was this morning held in $1000 bail by Alderman Beitler on a charge preferred by James Robinson, who in his testimony stated that on Saturday night, the 17th instant, he and a friend named McFalls were standing on Market street, between Eighteenth and Ninetcenth, when Manghan and another man came along.

They were both drunk, and Manghan was in citizen's clothes. McFalls made a remark to the effect that "You won't arrest Patton in these clothes, will you?" To which Manghan made a reply that he would arrest McFalls, and with this remark he seized the latter. The witness then remonstrated at the rough way in which his friend, who was a cripple, was handled. The policeman then dropped McFalls and seized Robinson, who of course objected to be taken, as he was not aware that he had in the slightest degree violated any law. Robinson was clubbed, blackjacked, dragged to the sta-tion house and while there he was choked, as he alleges, by the drunken policeman. The next morning, Sunday, he was taken before Alder-man Jones and discharged on bail being entered. He was only out of the station house for short time when he was rearrested, lodged in the station house, and kept there without a hearing until Monday afternoon at half-past two, when he was released. He sought to ascertain on what charge he had been locked up, but all the information that was given him was that he was accused of being a fugitive from justice at Baltimore.

OWNER WANTED .- Lieutenant McLees, of the Frankford police, reports that there is now in his station house, awaiting an owner, a lot of door-knobs, keys, latches, door-bolts, and a quantity of japanned hat and coat hooks, which were found wrapped up is a bed quilt in Pross woods, near Frankford, on Thursday night last. A newspaper wrapped around some of the goods had written on its margin the name of "J. H. Tombleson.

THE STORM OF SATURDAY NIGHT .- During the heavy gale of Saturday night the roof of the dwelling at the western end of Harrison's Row, on Richmond street, above Wheat Sheaf lane, was blown off, and the house, which is not occu-pied, completely saturated with water.

A large sycamore trees adjoining the dwelling of Mr. Clark, at Bustleton, was struck by light-ning and shivered to pieces. In its fall it narrowly missed the house.

A NEAT SWINDLE.-- A Mrs. Gregory, living at No. 730 Evangelist street, was swindled by a sharper out of $30 on Friday night last. The sharper out of $50 on Friday night last. The fellow during the absence of her husband went to the house with a long story to the effect that her son had robbed his employer of $400, that the boy had been arrested and all the money with the exception of $75 had been recovered. and that if this amount was handed over the case would be settled and the lad set at liberty. Mrs. Gregory handed out all the money, which was $30, she had in the house. The fellow took it and disappeared. The story was found to be a lie, and thus she was swindled.

CHORAL ACTION.—The grand orchestral ser-vice took place at St. John's Catholic Church yesterday afternoon, as stated. At its conclusion a meeting of the choir was held in the parlor of the parochial residence to take action on the resignation of the leader, Mr. T. E. Harkins, Professor W. A. Newland presided, and Mr. James A. Connor acted as Secretary. Resolutions were unanimously adopted expressing re-gret at the severance of Mr. Harkins from the choir, and complimenting him upon the success-ful results of his labors to bring the choir to a degree of Lerfection generally acknowledged.

amounts to the proper owner, the company. Not long ago, the company becoming suspicious of him, sent an agent to this city to settle with him and receive his report. The agent then had evidence to show that Lewis was indebted to the company in the sum of $2500. This Lewis denied, but admitted that he had received a few hundred dollars for which he had failed to account, but which he would make all right. An investigation of his acts proved him to have been more of a swindler than the company had at first anticipated.

Lewis has heretofore been deemed an honorable young man, but this act has dispelled all illusions as to his true character. He has brought disgrace upon a respectable family. A bench-warrant has been issued for him, and he will probably be arrested.

THE NEW YORK SENGERFEST.

The Reception Last Night. The Reception Last Night. The reception concert with which the musical in-cidents of the twelfth general Sængerfest were commenced last evening was hardly as noticeable an affair as the importance of the occasion de-manded. A short programme, without comprehen-siveness or novelty to commend it, was executed, and but one soloist of distinction was heard. The gene-ral interpretation of the bill was not remarkable either. The expected chorus of 1060 voices stood forth only four hundred strong, and their work was not conspicuous for its quality. If this evening and projectors and the performers, the present Feast of Song will certainly not be remembered.

C. & A. PEQUIGNOT. No. 608 OHESNUT STREET. -2m PHILADELPHIA. of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing:-TREASURY DEPARTMENT, June 24, 1871.-To. Hon. George S. Boutwell, Sec'ry of Treasury:-The undersigned, designated a committee to ex-smine the cancelled bonds in the hands af the Com-mittee on Destruction of Bonds, Mr. Wilson being chairman, with special reference to the genuineness of the bonds, respectfully report that we have ex-amined exchange cases numbered 2837 to 3950, in-clusive, as per schedule in the hands of Mr. Wilson, consisting of 86 463 bonds, of the denominations of fifty dollars, one hundred dollars, five hundred dollars, and one thousand dollars, five hundred 1 to 543, 590, 250. Also redemption cases numbered 1 to 97, inclusive, as per schedule, consisting of 23,018 bonds of the denominations of fifty dollars, one hundred dollars, five hundred dollars, and one thou-sand dollars, inverting to 512,337,100. Number of bonds examined, 109,481. Total amount, 560,787,580, All of which, after a careful examinabonds'examined, 109,481. Total amount, $60,787,380, All of which, after a careful examina-tion, we found to have been printed from the genuine plates engraved in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, Treasury De-partment. In exchange case No. 3198, there was a memorandum stating that two bends, of the denomi-nation of one thousand dollars each, number 24,242, and number 31,524, were delivered to the Loan branch of the Secretary's office, to be used in New York as evidence. Also, in exchange case number 3147 there was a memorandum stating that 3147 there was a memorandum stating that three bonds of one thousand dollars each had been withdrawn and sent to New York to each had been withdrawn and sent to New York to be used as evidence in the suit of the Bank of New-ark. These missing bonds are not in the amount reported examined by us. It has been suggested to your committee by Mr. George W. Casilear, Superintendent of Engraving and Transferring, that that portion of the bonds containing the number and denomination should be preserved for future reference and examination in case of duplicate numbers being presented. We con-sider this suggestion important, and would respectfully recommend its adoption. And further-more, we endorse the opinion of the chief of this burean, Mr. Geo, B. McCartee, that a duplicate copy of all bonds and notes issued by the Government under their several acts. of each denomination, or an oblig and hotes issued by the Government under their several acts, of each denomination, printed upon the same quality of paper, and pro-perly cancelled, should be preserved by this depart-ment in Bureau of Engraving and Printing for future reference. It is within the knowledge of your committee that a note was sent from the Long Branch Secretary's office to M. Casilear for examination, in which there was no information of such issue, and nothing with which to compare it in order to form an opinion as to its genuineness. Your committee desire to bear testimony to the courtesy of Mr. Wilson in affording every facility while pursuing our investigation. Respectfully submitted,

DAVID M. COOPER, WILLIAM H. BARLE, Committee.

Terrible Shooting Affair.

BALTIMORE, June 26 .- A young woman, aged about twenty years, name unknown, was murdered at an early hour on Saturday morning near Chase's station, on the Philadelphia Railroad, by a party of men, who claim to have mis-taken her for a man dressed in women's clothes who had been prowling about the neighborhood for some time past, stealing poultry, etc. She was first seen on Friday night acting suspiciously, and early on Saturday morning a party of four whites and two colored men went in search of her. They found her sitting on a bank beside the railroad track, and one Joseph League, who was armed with a shot gun, fired the charge, taking effect in her forebead, killing her instantly. The woman had blue eyes, long flaxen hair, was neatly clad, and of lady-like appearance. It is supposed she was insane and had escaped from custody. The murderer was arrested, and the authorities are investigating the affair.
