The argument before the Supreme Court restrain the sale of the Public Works, adverti-sed to take place to morrow, was completed on Friday last. Messra. Hirst and Meredith appear as counsel for the Canal Commissioners, and against a sale; and the Attorney General of the State and Mr. Stanton, of Pittsburgh, for the Governor, and in favor of the sale. Previous to the close of the argument, the Commissioners of Allegheny county withdrew from all participation as parties in the prosecution of the injunction. Mr. Mott, one of the Canal Commissioners, and in whose name the injunction was sued, was handled without gloves by the opposing coursel, and placed in a position not at all desirable. He is shown to be the owner the Pennsylvania Railroad. He declares that the respective offices, to be supported at the the purchase of the Public Works, by this come | October election; and to transact such other pany, would jeopardise and depresate Ais stock. In one bill he states that the sale would be for the exclusive benefit of the Railroad; and in his oath to another bill he avers that the company would suffer pecuniary loss. Mr. Mott, as the President of the Board of Canal Commissioners reported last winter, to the Legislature, that the profits on the Canals belonging to the Commonwealth, for 1856, amounted to nearly Fifty-
