ADDRESS

Of the State Central Committee.

To the People of Pennsylvania

Convention that nominated David Wilmot for Governor, William Millward for Canal Commissioner and Joseph J. Lewis and James Veech for Judges of the Supreme Court, appeal to you for their election, be cause they believe that the best and high est interests of the Commonwealth would be subserved thereby.

Mr. Wilmot's election would be a protest against that Democratic policy which has of reasons fastened forty millions of public debt upor the people; which has oppressed them with enormous taxetion; which has connived at the grossest speculations of the State offipera; which has maintained corrupt and speculating men in high public positions; for years thwarted every practicable move ment for the sale of the Main Line of the Public Works; and which has ranged the every essential of greatness.

He This is probably the last opportunity we does not, however, deign to enlighten us as instruments that find their way into his of quently happens that from eight to ten are handed in by a single individual, who desires to pay the fees in advance. Does any one suppose that the Recorder would be iustifiable in thrusting aside other business of pressing importance, for the purpose of counting the tens of thousands of words contained in thèse instruments?

If, therefore, Mr. Wilson, in following common usage, has in some instances charged a little too much, he has in full as many instances deprived himself of the entire amount which the law entitled him. The law also allows him fees for making searches, &c.; and altho! Mr. W. spends much time display, however was anything but discredita- celling Monday go down, until the alarm who will aver that he has ever been charged ble The vegetables, particularly, were of a has been sounded, and all the camp fires littone furthing for such service. Would it net be marvelous, indeed, if Mr. Wison would wilfully exact illegal fees upon instruments where his guilt would at once be manifest, and at the same time decline fees which the law guaranteed to him? If this petty and malicious mode of warfare locs not recoil upon the authors, by an increased vote on Tuesday next, we shall acknowledge ourselves greatly deceived.
