FROM THE COLUMBIAN CENTINEL

THE REQUEST.

YE Lambkins that sport on you mountain's green fide, With a fleece that's as white as its fnow, From your grazing O turn for a moment afide, And then bleat a foft echo to woe.

Ye warblers that foar on the wings of the air, That diffend with foft rapture the throat, Let pity induce ye to hear a fond prayer, And O! lend to my forrows a note.

When DELIA once fmil'd I were happy as ve: We alike were exposed to fate : The steel of detraction was aimed at me, And malice spread snares for my feet.

Alike have we felt the keen pang of distress, For the Lamb to the altar is bound, The young have been torn from your tender carefs, And my DELIA has cruelly frown'd.

Go feek the fair Maid, over hill and o'er dale, In her ear go and whisper your pain, She'll certainly pity; then tell her my tale, And O, mark if the pities again.

But should you not know her, if thousands you find, By these tokens distinguish your choice, You'll view all your innocence stampt on her mind, Hear your music excell'd by her voice.

TRISTITIA.

FROM THE CONNECTICUT COURANT.

ANNED Sheep Skins at this day are in great demand for a variety of uses-but for want of proper attention in taking off the wool, the skin is many times so far injured as scarcely to be worth dressing. The following method will be found beneficial:—As soon as the skin is taken off the sheep's back, spread it on a horse or cow, and in fix or eight hours the wool will come better than in any other way. After the wool is off, spread the skin on a pole, and let it hang in the shade (as the sun will be very detrimental to it) till convenient to fend it to a tanner. This practice will render sheep skins of four times the value they now are, and fave thousands of pounds to the country in a short time.

A L B A N Y, June 14.

The celebrated Indian, Col. Joseph Brandt, chief warrior of the Six Nations, passed through this city on Tuesday last, from the Westward, on his way to Philadelphia-we flatter ourselves this is an indication of some pacific measures being on the TAPIS.

NEW-BRUNSWIC, (N.J.) June 19. On the 6th current, a coroners inquest was held on the body of a young Negro woman, late the property of Samuel Hunt, at the Presbyterian church at Maidenhead, where it had been fent the preceding evening for interment—the coroners inquest reports that her death was occasioned by a most barbarous and inhuman whipping, inflicted by her faid mafter, which she furvived but a few hours-the act was committed by him and a connection of his by the name of Elias Hunt, under the direction and superintendance of Mrs. Hunt, wife of the faid master; we hear they are all confined, and no doubt but they will have a fair and impartial trial.

EXTRACT.

"FROM an erroneous estimate of the requifites to happiness, we often err in the application of the means of its attainment. Without considering how much more pleasing are the contemplations of virtue upon its disappointments, than of vice upon its successes, man has too often been beckoned from his duty by temptation, or driven from it by fear."

Cure for the Rheumatism .- Soft foap spread upon brown paper, and applied to the part affected, is recommended as specific in this complaint.
