

PHILADELPHIA.

Late Additions to PEARL'S MUSEUM.

PAPER made of abellus. It is curious, but has not yet been applied to use: the lining renders it brittle, and when put into the fire, becomes soft, changes from a yellowish white to a light orange of blue and wants tenacity.

A bird of the Kail kind, perhaps not noticed by any Naturalist, as being a bird of America. If at all noticed it has the characteristic marks of those birds, but is at least three times as large as the common Rail.

A Salmon and a Pike caught in the Miami river, Western territory. The first is 3 feet 3 and a half inches long, and the latter 3 feet 2 inches. Presented by Major John Stagg.

A Buffalo Cow, measuring 4 feet 4 inches high at the hump, and 9 feet 4 inches from its nostrils to the root of her tail.

A specimen of window glass made at Boston. It is far superior in whiteness, evenness of surface, and is free of blisters than the best European glass that we know of in America. Presented by Mr. Ebenezer Hazard.

A spear taken from a negro in the action at Morn Pile in St. Domingo. Presented by Mr. Mayer.

THE AMERICAN MUSEUM, from its commencement in January, 1787, to its termination in December, 1792, in twelve volumes, price, neatly bound and lettered, nineteen dollars and one fifth.

The opinion of the President of the United States, respecting this work, is as follows:

“I believe the American Museum has met with extensive, I may say, with universal approbation from competent judges; for I am of opinion, that the work is not only eminently calculated to disseminate political, agricultural, philosophical, and other valuable information; but that it has been uniformly conducted with taste, attention, and propriety. If to these important objects be superadded the more immediate design of rescuing public documents from oblivion—I will venture to pronounce, as my sentiment, THAT A MORE USEFUL LITERARY PLAN HAS NEVER BEEN UNDERTAKEN IN AMERICA, OR ONE MORE DESERVING OF PUBLIC ENCOURAGEMENT.”
