

ALTOONA, PA.

THURSDAY, JUNE 3, 1888.

Where parties are unknown to us, our rule for advertising is to require payment in advance...

The Right of Search.

This subject has excited a deal of controversy, through the press, within the past few weeks. The "British Outrages," or the "insults" recently offered, by British cruisers, to American Merchant vessels in the Gulf of Mexico and the Atlantic...

To examine a vessel sufficiently to detect whether or not she is engaged in the slave trade, will take but a very short time and does not cause the least hindrance or delay. All vessels honestly engaged in trade are alike interested in suppressing piracy and unlawful enterprises on the seas...

A Prize Fight.

On Sunday morning a week, a collision, according to the rules of Fisianna, occurred on Long Island, in the vicinity of Red Hook, between John Casey of Troy, and Charley Ross of New York City. The combatants were well matched in height, height and age, each being about 24 years old and weighing 140 pounds.

The first round was fought "shy," both combatants acting on the defensive; but at length Casey rushed in and threw his man heavily, which called forth the plaudits of his backers. On the second round Ross attempted to rush in, but was stopped by a blow in the face which sent him reeling, when he was again pounced on by Casey and thrown head foremost to the earth, his opponent falling on top.

Repeal of the Usury Laws.

The following bill, repealing the penalties on usury, passed on the 21st of April last, has received the signature of the Governor and is now the law.

Sec. 1. Be it enacted, Etc. That the lawful rate of interest for the loan or use of money in all cases where no express contract shall have been made for a less rate, shall be six per cent. per annum, as heretofore, and the first and second sections of the act passed 2d March, 1798, entitled "an act to reduce the interest of money from eight to six per cent. per annum," (Purdon, 461, sec. 1 and 2), be and the same is hereby repealed.

Sec. 2. That when a rate of interest for the loan or use of money, exceeding that established by law, shall have been reserved or contracted for, the borrower or debtor shall not be required to pay to the creditor the excess over the legal rate, and it shall be lawful for such borrower or debtor at his option to retain and deduct such excess from the amount of any such debt, and in all cases where any borrower or debtor shall heretofore or hereafter have voluntarily paid the whole debt or sum loaned, together with interest exceeding the lawful rate, no action to recover back any such excess shall be maintained in any court of this Commonwealth, unless the same shall have been commenced within six months from and after the time of such payment. Provided, always, That nothing in this act shall affect the holders of negotiable paper taken bona fide in the usual course of business.

Outrages in Kansas.

So frequently, of late, has this head appeared over paragraphs detailing outrages committed in this Territory, that they almost fail to attract the attention of the general reader, and yet many of them are grievous in the extreme, and exhibit a state of affairs disgraceful to the country.

The Lawrence Republican, extra, contains a letter dated Moneka, Linn county, 20th ult., stating that on the 19th a party of pro-slavery men from Missouri, came into the trading post, situated on the road from Fort Scott to Leavenworth, where it crosses the Osage, taking two men named Andrews and Campbell, prisoners.

Further on they captured Mr. Stilwell, recently from Iowa, and a man named Reed. Continuing on the road toward Kansas City, till they had taken twelve men, the party halted in a deep ravine, when the prisoners, with the exception of Andrews, who had been dismissed from custody, were formed in line and fired upon, and five of them killed, viz: Stilwell, Ross, Colchester, Robinson and Campbell. The remaining six were wounded.

After the accomplishment of their bloody work, the ruffians rode off. The affair created intense excitement in Lawrence and that neighborhood, and a force was being organized to pursue the perpetrators of the outrage. Gen. Lane was at Lawrence, but it was not known whether he would participate in the pursuit or not. The sources of this information are considered entirely reliable.

The Gold Mines of Iowa.

The Pittsburgh Journal appeared a letter from a correspondent at St. Louis, announcing a wonderful streak of luck which Col. Dick Gray has happened to hit by the purchase of lands in Iowa. Some of our readers are inclined to doubt the story, but there are good reasons to believe it to be nothing but the truth. The first discovery of gold was made at St. Charles, Madison county, some time during the past autumn. A man at work building a milldam picked up some small lumps of yellow ore from among the loose earth, and carried them home for the amusement of his children. Near the close of the winter, some returned Californians chanced to stop at the house, and seeing the lumps, pronounced them to be gold. One of the lumps was sent to Cincinnati for examination, with a request that if it was found to be worth anything, the value should be returned in money. The result was the return of $225 as the worth of the lump of gold.

Cheap—McLain & Lehr's groceries.

On hand—the letter to Young Men—read it.

Coming—the Circus and the Fourth of July.

What has become of the Tyrone Star?—We have not received a copy for three weeks.

The Junior is at present enjoying all the pleasures (?) of fitting and fixing up.

Rich—the war between the Lewistown and Millintown editors in relation to the removal of the Pa. R. Co.'s shops.

A new batch of counterfeiters on the York County Bank, it is said, has been put in circulation in the eastern part of the State. Our readers should look out for them.

Henry B. Antony, editor of the Providence Journal, has been elected U. S. Senator from Rhode Island, for six years from the 4th of March next.

FROM OUR OWN CONTRIBUTORS' CORRESPONDENTS.

The Jones Widow's Story.

"We used him that gives his neighbor drink, that put us by the bottle to him, and makes him drunk also." In my walks through the country, observing men and things, I stopped one evening at a neat little dwelling by the wayside to inquire of its inmates how far it was to a house of entertainment. The only occupant of the house was a female apparently in the wane of life, of pleasing address and tidy in appearance. She told me that there was a tavern about one mile distant on the road-side; "but," she said, as tears went trickling down her cheeks, "don't stop there, it is the gate of death." Being interested in the woman's manner and desiring to know something of her life, I asked her if I could remain under her roof for the night, at the same time telling her who I was and something of my business, besides promising to remunerate her liberally in the morning. She cheerfully consented, and I was ushered into a room, the furniture of which was neatly arranged, yet of an ordinary kind. After I had partaken of a simple repast, I inquired of her what were the touching associations connected with that tavern along the way that caused tears to flow and words of such fearful moment to pass her lips. Trying to repress the emotions of grief that swelled her bosom, she proceeded to narrate the following story. It contains volumes against the sale of that beverage which has brought hundreds to the same unhappy end. The lady began: "When I was a girl of eighteen, I became acquainted with a young man who afterwards became my husband. He loved me with a devotedness almost unparalleled, and indeed that love was ardently reciprocated; but one great objection I had to becoming his wife was, that I feared he was tampering with liquor. He frankly said he had been imbibing occasionally, but vowed if I would become his wife he would never touch it again. I have believed he was in earnest, for nobly did he keep that promise for ten years of our wedded life, when I thought it had been sealed by my faithfulness and prayers. I thought we should both die happy in the blessed consciousness of having performed our vows to God and ourselves. But alas! that pleasing spell was broken!—We lived during the space of ten years in a neat and pleasant villa away from the haunts of wicked men and from places of idle amusement. At last he sold that property and purchased the farm near the tavern. He prospered well in his new situation until he listened to the siren voice of present pleasure and overcame by the persuasions of the bar-room loungers to join their number, then he was stealthily lured from the path of duty and urged on to ruin. Then he forgot the promise he had made to his wife of his bosom long years before. I was ignorant of the course he was pursuing until he had proceeded so far in his downward road as to baffle all my entreaties, fears and prayers.

"Few were sleepers which he now spent at home in the midst of his family. His business was gradually neglected, his substance was squandered at the bar.

"One day he staggered into the house uttering curses that appalled me, and while still in the fit of intoxication he commenced maltreating the children and drove me from the house. After I had arrived at the house of a friend, about a mile distant, and was lamenting over my unhappy condition, I happened to turn my eyes toward the house from which I had just been banished, when oh dreadful! the dwelling was enveloped in a sheet of flame! I, in company with my hospitable friends, hastened to the distressing scene, but arrived just in time to witness the falling in of the roof and hear the cries of anguish of my two only children and miserable husband! The feelings I then and there experienced cannot be described. Would to God I could remove from my memory the impressions of that hour! In his frenzy he had pressed the house on fire—the climax of his madness which sealed our destiny. The two children that perished with their father were the only ones that lived to that fatal day—three having died in the days of our prosperity. The landlord who was the destroyer of my husband and my happiness, got our farm in payment of the debt which my husband had contracted at his bar and elsewhere, while under the influence of the spirits he retained. The house in which I now reside was given to me by a kind friend who knew my calamity—all my relatives have long since 'gone before.' I now live comfortably upon the charity of my dear neighbors, who are to me as affectionate parents.

"I hope to meet all my children in a better world, where there are no rumblers or drinkers who kill and destroy." As the poor woman ceased, she gave vent to a burst of grief which affected me much.

In the morning as I was about taking my leave of her, she asked me if I had any unmarried sisters. I told her that I had but one. She replied with much emotion, "Oh, then tell that unmarried sister and all whom you have any influence to avoid the rock upon which I split—to have nothing to do with young men who have formed an appetite for ardent spirits, or who associate with the wicked."

Such was the widow's story, and similar is the experience of thousands. Truly,

"Man's inhumanity to man Has countless thousands mourned."

PHILO.

Blairsville, May 29, 1888.

Messrs. Editors:—I presume you will expect me to furnish you with a report of the Military Encampment at this place, of which I have spoken in my former letters. Well, it has gone through all the various stages of beginning and ending. The only drawback upon the whole affair was the rainy weather. Had it not been for the rain, however, it is likely that I should have been deprived the pleasure of witnessing the display, nevertheless I feel sorry because it deprived the soldiers of their pleasure. Through all the rain and mud of Tuesday last a number were engaged in bringing in poles and evergreens to form arches and wreaths with which to decorate the town. On Monday evening the ladies of the town collected at the "Cunningham House," and made up bags and trunks enough to have done honor to Gen. Jackson in his palmetto days. I would not like to say how many ladies were present, lest I might be mistaken.

Wednesday morning was ushered in by a general rain and with very high winds. The Packet Boat coming up from Pittsburgh, met with so much water that, it is said, the horses sometimes swam along on the top-pole. I do not give this for a fact. Another boat coming up would not risk their horses, and a company of volunteers who were aboard jumped out, took the toe-line and pulled the boat through. All the rain, however, could not deter the companies of this place from turning out in uniform. During the day a number of companies arrived and Blairsville assumed the appearance of garrison life. A beautiful exhibition of "The pomp and circumstance of glorious war," was there presented. The shrill notes of the car-piercing fife, the noisy rattle of the kettle drums, and the deep throb of the bass drums, combined with the innumerable banners floating to every breeze, aroused the martial spirit and excited in the minds of the people a love and admiration for those who hold themselves ready to defend their country from wrong and oppression.

Twelve companies composed the parade, viz: Washington Artillery, Salem Artillery, Rough and Ready Blues, Blue Riders, New Alexandria Blues, Washington Cavalry, Citizens' Guard, Pennsylvania Infantry, Washington Blues, Meckling Blues, Bigler Blues, and one company of which I could not learn the name. The two companies of this place had got up a beautiful banner to be presented to the best drilled company, which was awarded to the Pennsylvania Infantry, of East Liberty. Several companies were presented with handsome wreaths, by the ladies.

As near as I can learn, there were about 457 rank and file and musicians. Generally speaking, they were all fine looking men and well drilled. The good conduct and order was remarkable. No drunkenness or fighting was to be seen. The most amusing part of the whole performance was the "run off" of an ox team. It took fright at the martial display and "cut stick" for the outsiders of the town as fast as it could travel. No damage was done we presume, or it would have been reported.

ALPHA.

Martinsburg, May 31, 1888.

Messrs. Editors:—Almost two months have elapsed since I last wrote you. It was all owing to the fact, however, that I had nothing worth communicating, or at least nothing that would have been facious to your numerous readers. Since my arrival in this place, I have been making a few observations which I shall note, hoping they may add interest to your columns. This village is small, but it is beautifully located in one of the finest valleys in the State, and is surrounded by elegant farms. No more suitable place could have been selected for the location of the Blair County Normal School, which is now in session, and of which I shall give you a correct report as I possibly can. The school was organized of the morning of the 25th inst. It was opened with reading a portion of Scripture, and prayer, after which Mr. Dean, our worthy Superintendent, delivered a brief, but able and instructive address to the audience, stating the object of the school. He was followed by Prof. Calkins, the teacher, in a neat address on the subject of education and the manner of conducting Normal Schools. Mr. C. calls from the Empire State and is undoubtedly an efficacious instructor and highly educated gentleman. He is assisted by Miss Sallie A. Wardell, of Peekskill, New York, who is a lady of high accomplishments, and her versatility in the art of imparting instruction and civility of manners will crown her future days with success and happiness.

There are between forty and fifty pupils in attendance, but more are expected soon. I would suggest to those who have made calculations to attend the school to be up and doing, for delays in such cases are dangerous. I hope the delegation from Antes, will immediately take up their line of march for this region. On Wednesday evening last the pupils called a meeting, and quite a number formed themselves into a society to be termed the "Embryo Club." The object of this association is to form the nucleus of a future one to be established in this county. On Friday evening another meeting was held, which was addressed by Messrs. Dean and Calkins in an able and instructive manner. Their lectures are to be continued during the session.

Mr. Kulp the gentlemanly and obliging proprietor of the Martinsburg Hotel, is manifesting a lively interest in behalf of the students now boarding with him. May his generous hospitality be rewarded by abundant prosperity. MAC.

The best bite we ever had when we went fishing, was the bite we took along.

Men, like law-books, need revising occasionally.

The people of Maryland have voted against the Legislative proposition for a constitutional convention.

Prejudice is a thick fog, through which light gleams fearfully, serving rather to terrify than to guide.

Lightning rods take the mischief out of the clouds—hickory rods take it out of bad boys.

The N. Y. Times says the stock of Blairton now in that city is the largest ever known. The Banks and the Sub-Treasury hold $40,584,278.

In the committee on the factory bill, a witness from Dundee was asked, "When do your girls marry?" He replied, "Whenever they can meet with a husband."

Demetrius Arnold, the traitor, was a grocer and provision store-keeper in New Haven, where his sign is still to be seen—the same that decorated the store before the Revolution.

At a social party one evening, the question was put, "what is religion?" "Religion," replied one of the party, "religion is an insurance against fire in the next world, for which honesty is the best policy."

The remains of President Monroe, which have for a quarter of a century mouldered in a private tomb in the upper part of New York, will probably be removed to Virginia on the 4th of July next, at the request of the Legislature of that State.

Just as we are going to press, an interesting item of local news has "loomed up." This morning the Proprietor of the Cambria House, Johnstown, received a telegraphic dispatch from a gentleman in West Newton, Westmoreland county, stating that two horses had been stolen from a stable in that place last night, and that the thieves had probably taken the road leading from Blairsville to Ebensburg. Constable Gager, accompanied by a posse, immediately started out for the purpose, if possible, of arresting the thieves. On arriving in the neighborhood of Ebensburg, he had a short conversation with the Constable's assistants, who was in front of the Constable's house, and immediately started in pursuit. One of the "fugitives" finding that he was closely pursued, turned around and manifested a disposition to fight, whereupon George very politely knocked him down, and then secured him. He is now held in jail. The other "horseman" made his escape. He has not yet been arrested. Both of the horses were secured, and are now in the possession of the Constable.—Ebensburg Democrat.

We have some funny stories about the freshets in the west, but here is one from the Memphis Appeal, which is a trifle ahead of any of the others: "The Kate Frisbee on her last trip had among her passengers a gentleman of the name of Jones. His business was this: One day last week he saw a nondescript sort of article floating down the Mississippi near his plantation; it resembled a miniature Noah's ark, with the hull knocked off. Curiosity led him to board it, when he was astonished to find himself in the store of a friend residing fifty miles up the river. The contents were not greatly injured. He tied the store to the shore, and started off to let his trading friend know where he might find his lost place of business."

A correspondent of the New York Tribune says that by an act of the late Wisconsin Legislature no debt can now be collected, if by mistake it is made, short of two years. The defendant is not required to answer short of six months. A sham plea of any kind will suffice to defer proceedings for another six months, special terms of court having been abolished in order to create delay. Then a supposition and other artfully devised dilatory proceedings create a system which is almost equal to abolishing legal collection of debts.

INTENSE EXCITEMENT!—McCORMICK'S NEW GOODS HAVE ARRIVED AND ARE NOW BEING OPENED FOR INSPECTION AND SALE. "Halloo, neighbor, I'm here on the ground again. Perhaps you recollect what my last year's effort was like; my horse a moment and let me where the LIME STONE was. But it is different now. It reminds me a little of the campaign of 1856, when Gen. Harrison was President. You have only to go with the crowd and you will have no difficulty in finding McCORMICK'S STORE. From an excitement down the valley, and the quantity of goods I see carried away, they must be selling off very rapidly and very cheaply.

"You are right, my friend; I would say to you, sir, go ahead and your anticipations will be fully realized. He is a very large and well selected assortment of goods. He'll sell you a dress for fifty cents and give the trimmings into the bargain, I'm told, and all other goods in proportion." "Good bye, neighbor, that's where I am going to buy my hat's right, and should every body else do so." DRY GOODS, GROCERIES, HARDWARE, QUEENSWARE, STONWARE, CHINAWARE, Hats and Caps, very cheap. Bonnets, Misses' Hats, &c.; Ladies' Gaiters, Shoes and Slippers, with Misses' Boots and Men's Boots and Shoes, and every other article kept in a first class country store, can be had cheap for cash, at McCORMICK'S. All articles of country produce taken in exchange for goods. Altoona, May 31, 1888.—J. B. McCORMICK.

BARGAINS! BARGAINS! A NEW STOCK OF READY-MADE CLOTHING. SUITABLE FOR THE SEASON, JUST RECEIVED BY ETTINGER & ULLMAN, AND NOW BEING DISPOSED OF AT PRICES WHICH DEFY COMPETITION. MR. ULLMAN announces that he is waiting upon all who may favor him with a call. He feels confident that he will be able to render satisfaction both in quality and price. [April 18, 1888.]

THE MORMONS EVACUATING SALT LAKE CITY!! Tremendous Excitement in East Altoona!! The subscribers respectfully inform the citizens of Altoona and the rest of mankind that they are prepared to carry on the BLACKSMITHING BUSINESS in all its various branches, at the new stand next door below Peter Reed's Cabinet Shop, on a double street, in East Altoona. They further announce that they are anxious to render satisfaction to all who may favor them with their patronage; and no effort will be wanting on their part to merit the patronage of the community. Various Carriages, &c., made and ironed to order, for which good prices will be taken. Remember the place, on Adams' Alley, where Blacksmithing is done on the shortest notice, and most reasonable terms. JOHN W. HOOPER, T. A. JAMES. Exchange, May 27, '88.—2m

RESTAURANT AND LAGER BEER SALOON.—The subscriber would respectfully announce that he will keep constantly on hand, at his saloon under the Masonic Temple, a supply of refreshments, such as Cakes, Cheese, Butter, Cream, and an excellent article of Lager Beer, manufactured at the Altoona Brewery, which is pronounced the best in the country. His saloon is fitted up in good style for the comfort and accommodation of his patrons, and he hopes by strict attention to their wants to merit and receive a fair share of patronage. My 15, 1888.—F. J. FERRIS, N. W. HAWKING.

Drs. Hirst & Good Tender. Their professional services to the citizens of Altoona and vicinity in the several branches of MEDICINE AND SURGERY. Country calls regularly attended to. Office, No. 120 North Second St., Altoona, Pa. By consent, D. H. Good refers to: J. B. Luden, M. D., Alexandria, Pa.; J. R. Luden, M. D., Huntington, Pa.; Dr. Ross, Royer and Fey, Williamsburg, Pa. April 22, 1888.—J.

PAY UP.—THE SUBSCRIBER RESPECTFULLY REQUESTS ALL those who have not paid their subscription to him to call and settle their accounts with Wm. Talbot, at the old stand, who has charge of the books. All accounts not paid on or before the 15th of June, will be placed in the hands of an officer for immediate collection. JAMES REARNEY. May 29, 1888.—4t

LUMBER FOR SALE.—60,000 Shingles, 50,000 Lathes, and all kinds of BUILDING MATERIAL, lower than the lowest, for Cash. Apply to JOHN SHOEMAKER. March 29, 4t

SETTLES FOR SALE.—THE UNDERSIGNED has on hand a lot of Settles which he will sell cheap for cash. JOHN SHOEMAKER. March 29, 4t

GROCERIES.—A LARGE AND COMPLETE assortment of Groceries have just been received at the store of J. B. HILMAN. April 22, 1888.—J. B. HILMAN.

500 DOZEN FRESH EGGS JUST received and for sale by J. L. KIRBY.

MABLE & CROSBY'S FRENCH & AMERICAN CIRCUS!

The Equestrian Campaign of 1858 having commenced, the Managers of this gifted combination of FRENCH and AMERICAN STARS wish to impress these facts upon the public mind, viz: that this is the only Circus in the world, and the only one in the United States.

THE STAR SHOW OF 1858. Confident that they have succeeded in this respect, and in confidence that the public will admit it, the Managers respectfully invite all to the following:

REAR BRIDLE AND COMPARE. The Colossal Music Car will enter and parade through the principal thoroughfares, drawn by splendid steeds, and conducted by the celebrated WIZARD BUGLE BAND, led by the Wizard Bugle, RICHARD WILLIS.

ALSO THE FOLLOWING: MABLE VIRGINIE, The Queen of the Equestrian Art; The Fairy-like French Rider and Dancer, MISS BRIDLE; MR. CHAS. E. SHERWOOD, The greatest general performer in the world; MONS. MOGIAN, The French Acrobat, acrobat and juggler; WILLIAM ARMSTRONG, The Matchless Horse Rider, Leaper and Vaultor; MONS. DENZOR & LASHIN, The Great and Wonderful Acrobat in the World; WILLIAM CROSBY, The Jovial Prodigy of the Ring; RUBY PASTOR, The American Acrobatic and Circus Singer. This Company will also perform at Altoona, Saturday, June 3rd. Philadelphia, Monday, June 4th. Pittsburgh, Monday, June 5th. May 27, 1888.—4t

A FORTUNE FOR $70,000 TO BE HAD FOR $10!—SWAN & CO'S LOTTERIES, AUTHORIZED BY THE STATE OF GEORGIA. The following Subscribers have drawn $25,000, $5,000, $1,000, $500, $250, $100, $50, $25, $10, $5, $2, $1, $500,000, $1,000,000, $2,000,000, $5,000,000, $10,000,000, $20,000,000, $50,000,000, $100,000,000, $200,000,000, $500,000,000, $1,000,000,000, $2,000,000,000, $5,000,000,000, $10,000,000,000, $20,000,000,000, $50,000,000,000, $100,000,000,000, $200,000,000,000, $500,000,000,000, $1,000,000,000,000, $2,000,000,000,000, $5,000,000,000,000, $10,000,000,000,000, $20,000,000,000,000, $50,000,000,000,000, $100,000,000,000,000, $200,000,000,000,000, $500,000,000,000,000, $1,000,000,000,000,000, $2,000,000,000,000,000, $5,000,000,000,000,000, $10,000,000,000,000,000, $20,000,000,000,000,000, $50,000,000,000,000,000, $100,000,000,000,000,000, $200,000,000,000,000,000, $500,000,000,000,000,000, $1,000,000,000,000,000,000, $2,000,000,000,000,000,000, $5,000,000,000,000,000,000, $10,000,000,000,000,000,000, $20,000,000,000,000,000,000, $50,000,000,000,000,000,000, $100,000,000,000,000,000,000, $200,000,000,000,000,000,000, $500,000,000,000,000,000,000, $1,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $2,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $5,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $10,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $20,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $50,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $100,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $200,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $500,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $1,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $2,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $5,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $10,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $20,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $50,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $100,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $200,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $500,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $1,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $2,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $5,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $10,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $20,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $50,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $100,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $200,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $500,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $1,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $2,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $5,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $10,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $20,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $50,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $100,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $200,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $500,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $1,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $2,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $5,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $10,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $20,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $50,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $100,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $200,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $500,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $1,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $2,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $5,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $10,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $20,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $50,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $100,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $200,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $500,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $1,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $2,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $5,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $10,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $20,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $50,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, $100,000