To be able to state contained that the temperature is an appeal of the inhaltion, is to fidently that Consumption is curble by inhalation, is to me a source of unalloyed pleasure. It is as much under the control of medical treatment as any other formidable the control of medical treatment is any other formidable disease; ninety out of every hundred cases can be cured in the first stages, and fifty per cent, in the second; but in the third stages, is impossible to save more than five per cent, for the Langs are so cut up by the disease as to bid defiance to medical skill. Even, however, in the last stages, Inhabitation affords extraordinary relief to the suffering attending this fearful securge, which annually desirous ninety-five thousand persons in the United State alone; and a per rect calculation shows that of the present population of the earth, eighty millions are destined to fill the Consumptive's grave.

Truly the quiver of death, has no arrow so fatal as Consumption. In all ages it has been the great enemy of life, for it spares neither age nor sex, but sweeps of alike the brave, the beautiful, the graceful and the gifted. By the help of that Supreme Being from whom cometh every good and perfect gift, I am enabled to offer to the afficted a permanent and speedy cure in Consumption. The first cause of tubercles is from impure blood, and the immediate effect produced by their deposition in the lungs is to prevent the free admission of air into the air cells, which causes a weakened vitality through the entire system. Then surely it is more rational to expect greater good from medicine entering the cavities of the lungs than from those adminis entering the cavities of the lungs than from those adminis-tored through the stomach; the patient will always find the lungs free and the breathing easy, after Inhaling remedies. Thus, Ir kalation is a local remedy, nevertheless it acts con-stitutionally, and with more power and certainty than remedies administered by the stomach. To prove the pow-erful and direct influence of this mode of administration, chloroform inhaled will entirely destroy sensibility in a faw rainutes, paralyzing the entire nervous system, so that a limb may be amputated without the slightest pain; in-heling the ordinary burning gass will destroy life in a few heling the ordinary burning goes will destroy life in a few
