of which time the dinner would be prepared. During the interval, a number of the young folks repaired to the platdepartment of the entertainment. Ample justice having been done to the "good things," the crowd separated into groups and amused themselves in dancing, swinging, singing, promenading, &c. Mirth and pleasure reigned supreme, and the best of order was observed by the entire assemblage. We are pleased to state that at this, as at the other celebration, there were no drunken men or rowdies, and nothing was done which could in the least wound the feelings of any of the participants. At a few minutes after marched back to town. All expressed themselves highly delighted with the manner in which they had spent the day. The dinner, we understand, netted a handsome sum

From the above it will be seen that the resident population of Altoona proper, is but a fraction less than 4,000. The floating population we believe would more than make up the fraction at any time, while the suburbs north and south of the town, which are not included in this estimate. would swell the population to at least 5,000. This may be considered doing pretty well for a town not yet eight years old. Notwithstanding the pressure of the times, building goes on as rapidly as ever, and should it continue for eight years to come, of which we have no doubt, we shall be applying for a city charter before some of our neighbors, who coast an older name and more advantages. SPRUCE CREEK. June 8th, 1858. MESSES. McCaust & Duan :- Trusting that a few lines from the pen of one whose peregrinations have enabled him of late to take a pretty general survey of Little Blair and tre o'clock, the procession was re-formed in the grove and umns, I will venture to tell you of the pleasure and satiscounty, and I must confess, the most interesting place I have visited for some considerable time. Notwithstanding improvement seems to be undaunted, and your young village is steadily and rapidly growing, and will no doubt eventually become a very respectable city; for it has in its favor all the advantages that are required to make it such In truth, Altoona is now very much more city-like than some places that boest a city title; and even more so than some older towns that make greater pretensions to honorable importance. But least I should be charged with unpassed, and knocked her in the middle of the track, the charitableness for the follies of early indiscretion, or disrespect for venerable dignity, I will here assure you and ing them to a jelly. She was taken to the office of Drs. your readers that I am not prompted by the base design of flattery; but I sincerely hope that my humble epistle will give your readers in other places a more just idea of what hearty dinner with some kind friends, saw the display of Altoona now is, and what its future prospects are. Where celebrations were held on Saturday the peocellent and justly popular house recommended to the citi-

ple must have been peculiarly unfitted for a proper observance of the Lord's Day. I was truly gratified to find the Sabbath 20 religiously kept in Altoons, where one would expect to find more or less excitement at all times. In a town where the population is so miscellaneous, as yours necessarily must be, I would have regarded it as a very moral place if considerable rowdyism, Sabbath-breaking and leafing about the corners had been manifested; but to find it exempt from everything of the kind was more than I expected. Many older towns that I have visited are certainly far behind vours in their moral and religious relations. I would not forget the respect that is due to old age, but think it is but just to say that Altoons may very safely be taken as a model by some towns that should have learned a great deal from experience by this time, and ought to be much better by practice than, they know, they are.

Having visited two of your churches on Sabbath, I feel free to say that the opinion already expressed of your moral nosition is truthful, and I am satisfied that your pulpits are filled by men who are well qualified to sustain

At least I could find no account of it in any of their papers, nublished several days afterwards, and was much disappointed, as I wished, when there the other day, to send several papers to some friends, to let them know that there was at least one place in Blair county where the Anniversary of our National Liberty was celebrated in a becoming and patriotic manner—and that too without the exercises and patrictic manner—and that too without the exercises of the day being interspersed with "the firing of squibs," "the fizzing of spit devils," "the odorous perfume of villainous salt peter," "or continued vociferous cheers and laughter," or being followed by "penny collections," "or a powerful strong smell of burnt rags," or any other occurrence "that resulted in bloody noses," "scratched faces,?" ON THE RAIL, July 6, 1858. Museus. Entrous: Being somewhat of a patriotic temperament and desirous of enjoying myself at times, I accepted an invitation to the celebration of the Evangelical Lutheran Sabbath School at Lewistown, Pa., on Saturday, 3d inst. I arrived there at six in the morning of that day, and took breakfast at the "National Hotel," kept by Mr. Ross, who, by the way, is a whole souled landlord. We (for there were some ladies and gentlemen along, and a merry crowd it was) made ourselves as comfortable as the state of the thermometer would permit. One of our party suggested that we send for a minister, and, getting him there with the expectation of marrying a couple, we could perhaps see a picture of mortification, when he would find that we didn't need him. So a little negro boy wa sent after the Rev. ——. The little clup went and told the Reverend gentleman to come down to the "National," as a gentleman and lady wished to see him, and he said. "I tink dey want to git married." The preacher went into the house and said to his lady: "Give me my hat—I must go down town to marry a couple; are these clothes good enough for the occasion?" His lady told him they were and down to the hotel he came on a trot, and as I saw him coming, I imagined I saw five dollar bills dancing through his brain. Upon perceiving us, who we were and what we wanted, he feigned no disappointment, but the palpable truth was too plainly written upon his countenar then concluded to put on soher airs and go up to the church where the children were forming into ranks preparatory to their marching to the grove. I was surprised-I was completely astonished to see the large crowd of children

When they had formed in ranks, I took the trouble count thom, and I found they numbered two hundred and thirty-four-all belonging to the S. S. of the Lutheran Church, and superintended by Col. Hamilton. I was informed that it was the largest and most pro-

Each class had provided a dinner, and good dinners they were too. The people were the "pressure of the times," the spirit of enterprise and kind to the visitors, and all seemed to enjoy themselves vastly. That was a happy day for the children-all were happy. The celebration passed off satisfactory as far as I

As I have intimated that I was a patriotic chap, I tho't I would keep "bobbing around" a little longer and visit nother celebration in honor of our nation's birth-day. Whither do you think I went? Why, to your own Altoo na, of course. On Monday morning I found myself in your goodly town, brought thither by a huge iron horse of enornous proportions. I saw the procession, heard the Declaration of Independence read, heard a good oration, laughed at some queer toasts, (some I had laughed at before)—ate a fire-works and the "sights" in general, and I am now on

FORT BRIDGER, U. T., May 31, 1858. We have now a weekly mail in operation from St. Joseph's, on the Missouri River, to this place, and will hereafter be enabled to communicate more frequently with our friends than during the past winter. Mr. Jno. M. Gov. Powell of Kentucky, and Ben M'Cullough of Texas, arrived in camp on last Saturday and will leave immediately for Sait Lake City, then and there to ascertain on what terms Brother Brigham will vamoose the ranche or knock under. A party of about 400 Mormons, men, women and children, passed through camp to-day on their way to the States. They were in a very destitute condition, but pockoted considerable of the gentiles extra dimes by selling all the provisious they could possibly spare. I saw them selling fowls at $6.00 per pair. They had all kinds of vehicles, from un ox-wagon down to a hand cart. A train of 30 wagons arrived in camp to-day, loaded with provisions. They arrived just in the niche of time, for the fact of it is, the Commissary department had been run rather low for a juke. Col. Hoffman is on Green River, 35 miles from this place, and will be up in four days, with reinforcements and provisions. Capt. Marcy was at the Pacific Springs, in the South Pass, on the 29th ult., and will be here by the 4th of June. It is snowing to-night. I think the weather clerk for the western department must be on a spree. There is any amount of snow in sight on the mountains South of Camp. More anon.

FORT BRIDGER, U. T., June 4th, 1858. The ranche of the Indian Department is moving along very smooth at present. Dr. Forry, Supt. of Indian Affairs for this Territory, left for Salt Lake Valley yesterday, in company with Gov. Cummings, the U.S. Commissioner's having left the day previous. Mr. Morell, Post Master for Salt Lake City, left for that place on the 2d inst., accompanied by the back mails which have been lying in the office at this place since last December.

How to DESTROY ROACHES.—In moving to tenements vacated by unneat people, persons often find themselves overrun with myriads of maliogany-colored roaches. The North American says: "this was once our case, yet we so speedily exterminated the vermin, that others similarly situated may get rid of them. Make ous, sturing it awhile over the fire until incorporated with the paste, which will require about ten minutes. FORTUNE FAVORS THE BRAVE .- Man's life hangs upon the most brittle thread—so it is with fortune. A dime luckily invested, has often been the basis of an ample fortune, whilst years of toil and privation have been repaid with a meagre subsistence. How uncertain are all things earthly—a beggar to-day, a prince to-morrow. We have just learned some good news. A friend of our youth—a poor, God forsaken printer-has drawn a prize of $16,000 in Swan & Co's Lottery, Augusta, Georgia. Bob, you're a lucky dog!—Middleport (Ill.) Prese.

THE PARIC-MORE FAILURES.-The panic in New York seems to be on the increase. In this city everything goes on smoothly, and the only failures we have heard of were the failures to furnish good fits made by some inferior clothing establishments. There is no such difficulty to be encountered by those who patronize the Brown Stone Clothing Hell of Rockhill & Wilcity everything goes on smoothly, and the only Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above sixth. Gentlemen and Youths never fail to procure capital fits at this popular establishment.

DIED.

In Lock Haven, Pa., on Friday, the 9th instant, Dr. WIL-LIAM D. STARK, late of Altoons, in the 26th year of his age. The sudden dembe of this young man is, under the circumstances, truly afflicting. He had but a few months since graduated at the Medical University of Pennsylvania with great honor and credit. Some seven weeks ago he left Altoona in good health, and with fond expectations of success in his profession. During his short residence in Lock Haven, he had made hosts of friends, and had given such evidence of ability in his profession as warranted a brilliant career. But he was suddenly cut down by a violent attack of Typhold fever, and the chief consolution of his afflicted relatives is the full conviction that he died as he had lived, an eminently plous and practical Catholic and devout Christian.
