NEW REGULATIONS, -On Monday last, the new regulations in regard to the Conductors on the Express and Fast lines, on the Penn'a Rail Road, went into operation. By this arrangement, the Conductors on those lines must run the entire length of the road from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh, without change. This will no doubt be a great convenience to through passengers, as it will obviate the necessity of showing their tickets so often, but it will be a little rough with the Conductors until they learn the ropes. We are sorry for the change, because it will deprive us of the regular and agreeable visits of those whole-souled Conductors. May Boley and Col. Zook, Gasy, and Roloff, of the Middle Division, and Col. Irvin and Beggs of the Western Division, but we are pleased to know that they are all to be continued on their respective lines. and we may be enabled to meet them occasionally in our travels. It is universally admitted that the Conductors on the Penn'a Rail Road are the best in the Union, and without disparagement to any of the others on the Road, we must be permitted to say that six more popular men than those above named could not be placed in their positions. They are men with whom it is a pleasure instead of a burden to movel-men who endeavor to make passengers feel comfortable and contcuded, rather than wishing themselves at the end of the road; and by their care and correct knowlege of their business, inspire all with confidence and make them feel perfectly safe. They have a pretty hard road to travel for some time to come, but they are equal to the task. If they can not perform the duty assigned them none others need try.-We hope they may be long spared to occupy their present positions and contribute to the increasing popularity of Pennsylvania's proud enterprise, the Central Rail Road, and to the com-

Hotel Thieving. - A young man named Enoch Jones, from Juniata county, who has been some three or four weeks in the city, was arrested carly yesterday morning, on a charge of having stolen $19.75 from the pockets of Charles B. Horner, who slept in an adjoining room, at the Drover's Hall, Penn street, Ninth-ward, kept by Samuel Howard On scarching him none of the missing money was found in his possession. A journeyman butcher from Altoona, named Buck, testified he arose early, and went to market—that the accused slept in the room beyond that occupied by him and Horner, and had to pass thro' their room to get out-and that witness himself had been robbed of fifteen dollars and a watch a few nights before, in a tavern in Allegheny. Other witnesses threw no more light on the affair, and there appeared to be no ground to suspect the accused other than the fact that he had previously alleged that he was "almost strapped," and after the larceny asserted he had himself been robbed of two dollars that morning, in the same manner. The Mayor thought the evidence insufficient to justify the detention of the accused for trial. - Pittsburg Dispatch, 17th inst.

fort of passengers who may from time to time

fall under their care.

A FACT TO BE REMEMBERED. - Every business man and mechanic, who has a proper appreciation of the true mode of doing business, ought to have impressed upon his memory the fact that no man should be delicate about asking for what is properly his due. If he neglects doing so, he is deficient in the spirit of independence which he should observe in all his actions.— Rights are rights, and if not granted, should be demanded. The selfish world is little inclined to give one his own. unless he have the manliness to claim it. The lack of the proper fulfilment of this principle has lost to many, fortune, fame and reputation. Occasionally a customer. who is less a gentleman than an upstart, puts on haughty airs and affects to be insulted at being dunned for money that he ought to have paid long before. No matter. The laborer is worthy of his hire. We know it is unpleasant to be dunned and equally unpleasant to dunn other people: nevertheless, circumstances sometimes require that we submit to both; but we would be sorry to get "wrothy" at a man because he asked us for his own, and we think a man 'very small potatoes' who will fly in a passion when we demand a small bill.

LOGAN HOTEL, HOLLIDAYSBURG. - While on h visit to the town "over the hill," on Monday last, we enjoyed the hospitality of that model landlord, Corporal John Kieffer, proprietor of the Hotel above mentioned. In justice to his table we must say, that we have seldom sat down to a better one, at the first-class city Hotels, on extraordinary occasions; and we were informed that it was not as replete with good things on the day in question as it is in general. We do not wonder now that the Corporal's house and lable are so favorably spoken of by those who patronize him, for we feel sure that a man Friday last, a son of Mr. D. C. Miller, of this who stops there once will be sure to call again. place, had his arm broken and wrist very badly Every luxury that the home and foreign markets dislocated, by being caught between one of the furnish good fits made by some inferior clothing afford, grace his table. No expense is spared boxes and an upright of the revolving swing, to procure the first and best of everything that erected for the 5th of July celebration. He re-

RAILROAD CONDUCTORS .- The following article, which we copy from the last number of the Johnstown Echo, we take pleasure in transferring it to our columns, on account of the deserved compliment paid to the gentlemanly, obliging, and deservedly popular Conductor of the Hollidaysburg Branch Train, Capt. James Cra-

"There is nothing conducts so much to the comfort and enjoyment of the travelling public as affability and kindness on the part of officers with whom they are brought in contact. It is of little moment how comfortable or convenient cars may be, or how strictly enforced the regulations that govern the road, if conductors pos sess not in an eminent degree all the attributes of gentlemen, and use not every exertion to render the condition of passengers pleasant and agreeable. The popularity of the Pennsylvania Railroad has in a great measure been built up by the uniform courtesy and gentlemanly deportment displayed by each and all the passenger conductors with the road. There is, perhaps, no road in the Union that bears a better reputation in this respect, nor one that deserves it more. This being the case, we feel somewhat reluctant in referring to the meritorious conduct of any particular person holding the position of conductor, but a long acquaintance with and the universal popularity gained by our young friend, Capt. James Cramer, of our evidence to the many others that point him out as one of the model conductors on the road. We have yet to see the man, woman or child who have not on his train felt conscious that and an affable and obliging conductor, or who did not receive every attention they sought and every kindness they deserved. From boyhood we have known Jim, and can truly say we have rue nobleman in every respect.

"We do not know that Jim has ever sought or would accept further promotion from the Company, but we do know that no man connected with the road deserves more from those whose interests he has done his full share in promoting."

SUNDAY SCHOOL PIONICS.—The scholars, teachers and friends of the United Brethren Sunday School, of this place, held a pionic in the grove, near Peter Miller's, on Thursday last. The day degree the pleasures of the day, and all expres- need, and have a right to expect, in their incessed themselves highly delighted with the enertainment.

On the day following, (Friday,) the Presbyterian, Sunday School repaired to the same grove interrupting this course of epistles for a short for the purpose of spending a day of pleasure time, by stating that my object was chiefly to and recreation, and eating sundry good things let the interest and excitement connected with which had been provided for the occasion. The the celebration of our mational birth-day pass day, as in the above justance, was beautiful, and off, and then renew the suggestions of the last there was quite a large assemblage of persons letter. DISTINGUISHED VISITOR. - George H. Munday, better known as "hatless" Munday, of Philadelphia, paid our town a visit last week, and delivered a couple of lectures, in front of the Logan House. Whatever may be his failings or oddities, Georgelis nevertheless a pretty shrewd old man, and can deliver about as good addresses (although we do not like their character or tendency) and get off as nich puns as any street lecturer or stump speaker that travels .-He managed to pick up quite a respectable pile of small change, by lecturing and selling songs, during his stay in this place. He left on Tuesday morning last for Pittsburg.

COMMITTEE MEETING. -We observe by a call published in the Register and Whig, of this week. that a meeting of the County Committe, appointed at the Convention of the opponents of the national administration, held on the 5th of August, 1857, will be held in Hollidaysburg, on Saturday next. What action the Committe will ake in reference to forming a union of the conflicting elements of the opposition to Democracy, we must wait and see.

CHEAP GROCERIES AND PROVISIONS. - Our young friend Harry Bell gives notice through our advertising columns, this week, that he keeps a Grocery, Feed and Provision store, in East Altoons, and that he intends to sell as chean as any other man in the town. Although but a short time open, he has already secured a large custom which is evidence that he sells at fair prices. We hope to see Harry well patronzed, as we think he deserves it.

Court.-The July term of court of Quarter essions, for this county, will convene in Hollilaysburg, on Monday next, 26th inst. Most f the cases on the civil list have been continpied in disposing of criminal cases, of which there are a goodly number on the docket.

How to Cool A Room .- The Scientific Ameri can says that the simplest and cheapest way to cool a room is to wet a cloth of any size the larger the better, and suspend it in the place you want cooled: let the room be well ventilated, and the temperature will sink from ten to twenty degrees in less than an hour. During such a torrid as we have had this would be worth try-

LETTER NO. 11. The "Library Association Again"-A "Literary Society.

My Dear Young Friends-After a brief silence I have again scated myself to the pleasant service of addressing you a few lines. Several things have conspired to interfere for a time with the regular appearance of these "Letters." The intense heat, the oppression of a temperature ranging from 80° to 95°, according to Fahrenbeat's gradation, has had its share in their interruption. I could not but feel for Editors during the extreme hot weather of the last few weeks. Their's is not only a position of great responsibility, wielding as they do the right of the "Press" for weal or for woe, but it is one of incessant toil. They know no rest. It matters not what takes place, they are expected to know it—warm as it may be, they fluence. must write, write, write. Though the thermometer be at "fever-heat," still they must sweat over their editorials. And these are expected to be racy and witty, yet grave and dignified—they must be long and they must be the Hollidaysburg Branch train, induces us add | short—they must be historical, moral, political and religious, or some one of the many judges or critics, under whose review they pass, will condemn them. In short, an Editor must be they were under the charge of a true gentleman | the "Rare Bird" who unites in his style all the fun of Dickens, the wit and sarcasm of Prentiss. the political acumen and forecast of Greeley, added to the beauty of Irving. And even then ever found him a generous hearted friend and a he could not please every body. Of all the situations in the world, I know of no one more difficult to fill to general satisfaction than that of an Editor. It is not strange, therefore, that, under the pressure of the heat and the general excitement of a general celebration, the Editors of the Tribune should ask for a week's respite. Welcome as is the weekly visit of their spirited paper, I accord to them most cheerfully their brief and much needed rest. I trust that all the readers of the Tribune will be the better prewas very favorable, and we are pleased to learn | pared to appreciate the efforts of its gentlemanfrom a number who were in attendence that | ly and energetic Editors, by its want, even for everything passed off in the most satisfactory one week, and all of us be ready to extend tomanner. > But, young gentlemen, this is a great digression. I intended to strengthen my apology for and the plan suggested is unquestionably feasible. I feel that while so much interest was manifested in getting up a suitable observance of so important an event as the anniversary of our independence, nothing farther ought to be said, especially as some of those who were so energetically engaged in making arrangements for the celebration, were those who would be expected to take an active part in getting up a

"Library Association."

Now that the celebration is over, I would again urge you, young friends, to make the effort to secure a room and fill it with good books, &c. I am happy to inform you that the suggestion is regarded with great favor by the officers of R. R. Co. Mr Scott has expressed himself quite favorably on the subject, and says there will be no difficulty about a room. And the Board will unquestionably favor the object, and honor a petition for the appropriation of such a room. Now, then, why not go to work? And let it be a general matter. I would include among young men. all from eighteen years old or younger up to forty or forty-five. Indeed, none who wish to subscribe and become mombers, need be excluded from the association.

There might also with great propriety be connected with it a "Literary Association." A society for your improvement in composition. declamation and debate. None of you know to what situations you may be called in life. And however this may be, the improvement resulting from such an association would add very much to your ease and comfort in social intercourse with your fellow-men, while it would widen and deepen your influence with those around you. It does seem to me that all men are bound to improve whatever talents God has given them. There is nothing like the difference, naturally, between men, that persons are apt to suppose. The apparent differences are owing much more ed, and the Prothonotary has given notice to to the opportunities and efforts to improve than the Jurors summoned for the second week, that to natural differences. And as others, by effort they need not attend. The term will be occu- and application, have learned to be writers, speakers and disputants, so may you. No man has ever excelled in any thing without labor and patient, diligent effort. If others have thus succeeded, so may you. Why not do it? These suggestions are thrown out for your candid consideration. As ever, your sincere friend,

T. N. K. FORTUNE FAVORS THE BRAVE .- Man's life hangs upon the most brittle thread-so it is with fortune. A dime luckily invested, has often been the basis of an ample fortune, whilst vears of toil and privation have been repaid with a meagre subsistence. How uncertain are all things earthly—a beggar to-day, a prince to-morrow. We have just learned some good news. A friend of our youth-s poor, God forsaken printer-has drawn a prize of $16,000 in Swan & Co's Lottery, Augusta, Georgia. Bob, you're a lucky dog!—Middleport (Ill.) Press.

THE LIVER INVIGORATOR PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD. COMPOUNDED ENTIRELY FROM GUMS, COMPOUNDED ENTIRELY FROM GUMS; is one of the best Purgative and Liver Medicines now before the public, that acts as a Cuthartic, easier, milder, and more effectual than any other medicine known. It is not only a Cuthartic, but a Liver remedy, acting first on the Liver to eject its morbid matter, then on the stomach and bowers to carry off that matter, thus, accomplishing two purposes effectually, without any of the painful feelings experienced in the operations of most Cuthartics. It strongthens the system at the same time that it purges it; and when taken daily in moderate doses, will strongthen and build it up with unusual rapidity.

The Liver is one of the human body; and when it the powers of the system stomach is almost entirely action of the Liver for the functions; when the stomach is at fault, and the whole quence of one organ—the quence of one organ—the Liven—having cased to do its duty.
