Printing in Dry Colors.

Having purchased the right to use the new patent process of printing in Dry Colors, we would inform the public that we are prepared to execute all descriptions of Job Work, such as Posters, Sale-Bills, Hand-Bills, Circulars, Displayed Cards, &c., &c., in colors, at prices, costing but a third more, than is now paid for similar work, done in the common black ink .-This process of printing in Dry Colors is entirely new and enables the operator to produce a great variety of colors and beautiful shades by a single impression, the materials being incomparably cheaper than any of the old processes, while the labor and time required is reduced in exact proportion as the number of colors and shades on one bill is increased. By this process, several colors can be produced on a bill printed in common black, blue, or red ink, thus enabling the Jobber to print any desired number of copies plain, and the balance in different colors, without once changing the ink or washing the roller, a result which cannot be attained by any other process at more than double the expense. The Colors thus produced Call and examine specimens.

To the assertion that the article in our last issue was written by Mr. Brotherline, we merely reply that it is false, and the author no gentleman. We never considered the editor of the Whig a gentleman, and therefore expected nothing better of him. He may discuss the qualifications and popularity of Mr. B. as much as he pleases, so long as he sticks to the truth, without our interference; but should he attempt a pervertion of facts, he will find us ready.

A notice in the last number of the Juniata Register, informs the public that Wm. M. Allison (formerly one of the editors of this paper) has purchased the interest of A. G. Allison, in that paper, and will hereafter have charge of the local department. The polical department will remain under the control of Col. Greer. The new firm has our best wishes for their pecuniary prosperity.

Since the editor of the Pittsburg True Press is so anxious to receive credit for all articles copied from his paper, we think it would be "practising his preaching" to credit local items copied from the Tribune.

The election J. Edgar Thompson, Esq., to the Presidency of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad, while at the same time he retains a like position on the Pennsylvania Railroad, will enable the two Roads to act in conjunction and make this the most convenient and desirable route to the West: The important results which may accrue from this virtual union of these two great Roads cannot be fully estimated at present. The New York Tribune, a paper naturally inclined to favor and promote the interest of the two great rival lines of its own State, leading into New York City, and not likely to Mr. Thompson, savs:

"The inducement for the selection of Mr. Thompson as head of both roads were ample, as well in his high character and experience as a railroad manager, as in the fact that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company is the largest stockholder and bondholder in the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad, and as its natural ally, is most deeply interested in its success. Mr. Thompson entered into the service of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company as its Chief Engineer on the organisation of the engineer department of that road in 1847, having previusly established a high reputation as Chief Enzineer and Superintendent of the Georgia Railroad. The Pennsylvania Railroad was located and constructed under his supervision. The character of the work to be done called for the highest order of engineering ability.

"In February, 1852, Mr. Thompson was elected President of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and has since administered its affairs with eminent success. In thorough, practical knowledge of railroad affairs in every department, the fruit ning. of long experience, and in administrative ability, he has few equals among railroad men in this country, and upon few men could so great a burden as he is about to assume rest with more certainty that it will be borne with honor to himself and satisfaction to the public and to the owners of the properties concerned."

It is rumored says Saturday's New York Tribune, that Mr. John A. Washing ton, the present proprietor of Mount Vernon, designs to remove the remains which rest there before transferring the rest of the property to the women of the Union. GREAT SALT LAKE CITY. )

July 29, 1858. FRIERD Jon: -The advance of the army left Camp Scott on Sunday, June 18th, and was followed on the 14th by the General and staff, but in consequence of the bad condition of the roads and bridgeless rivers and streams, the main body did not arrive here until the 28th. They passed through the city very quietly, with the exception of one band, the members of which, to show their patriotism, to the denizens of a descried city, played "that ar national hair," "Jordan am a hard road to trabel." They camped on the other side of Jordan, about 11 miles from the city, where they remained until the 80th, when, in consequence of the absence of wood and good grazing, two very essential requisites, they moved up Jordan about 18 feoted by the rust. over estimate the administrative ability of miles. Morphy, the great American chess player is now in England, and has already made his mark. The London Times contains the following notice of him:-

Mr. Morphy, who arrived out by the Africa, quietly walked into the St. George's Chess Club one night last week, and, after beating Mr. Lewen, who is a recognized champion, with the greatest ease, offered a challenge to Mr. Staun-Mr. Staunton accepted the proposition sat down, went to work, almost cleared the board in some twenty moves, and was about withdrawing in contempt, when he was arrested by a "check. which in three moves more grew into a "mate." You may imagine the consternation of the hero and of the lookers on. "May I ask your name, Sir?" said Mr. S. "Certainly, Sir," replied his young antagonist. "My name is Morphy. "Oh! of America?" "Yes, Sir." "Ah! then, I am sorry, but I am not quite in play just now. should rather not risk another game just at resent." And so Mr. Staunton withdrew. The event has excited quite as great sensation in the world of chess as was bred in the world of yachtsmen by the victory of the America; and Mr. Morphy has made up a match with Anderson, the Hungarian, upon which all England that playeth chess will, of course, be vehemently betting in the course of a fortnight. You nay regard this as a set off, perhaps, against the defeat of Mr. Ten Broeck's horses, though it should be remembered that the battle even there is not yet given up.

AN ELEPHANTINE QUARREL .- A young elephant, born a few months ago in Paris, has, by some undutiful conduct, given offence to his sire. A strange and unnatural antipathy exists between the pair, and it was sought to diminish this feeling by bringing the animals somewhat into contact. The father was accordingly introduced into an enclosure, separated by a strong iron railing from his cub. The latter, on seeing him, at once commenced collec-ting sand and small pebbles in his trunk, and discharged them at the face of the elder animal. The other elephant immediately gave signs of terrible wrath: he withdrew to the extremity of the cage, and then charged down on the railing which separated them. Fortunately the iron withstood the shock, and the attendant succeeded in appeasing him. The family mutiny was at once brought to a close by the removal of the elder elephant.

THE WHISKEY REMEDY .- We learn from Clearfield, that a very estimable lady, for her piety and social qualities, of that place, while out one day last week, on the mountain near by, with a Whortleberrying party was bitten above the knee joint by a rattlesnake, after which, she calmly, coolly and deliberately cut the snake in two, placed its pieces upon the wound and took her garter and bound them fast, drank one quart of whiskey, swallowed three large pieces of cobacco.smoked six cigars and afterwards eat two bound of "Bear Grease!" At last accounts the lady appeared to be doing well, as she was trying to run down a wolf. To the Volunteers of Penn's.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE, Harrisburg July 22, 1858.

I have received many letters making inquiries as to the payment of Volunteers, visiting the Encampment ordered at Williamsport, September 7, 1858, and it being impossible to answer all of these communications. I deem it proper to make this public reply. The 6th article, sections 1 and 2 of the Constitution of our Commonwealth, requires its freemen to be armed and disciplined for its defence," and in obedience to that injunction, our Legislatures from time to time, have passed laws regulating the Militia, the last law bearing date April 21, 1858.

Our Militia System, for many causes, has failed heretofore to accomplish the purpose, at least of discipline. The law of last winter was passed with especial reference to that design, and as an inducement to our able bodied citzensfarmers, mechanics laborers—to form themselves into companies uniformed and equipped in a proper manner, provided a payment to them of one dollar and fifty cents per day, (not to exceed six days) as some equivalent for the time consumed in schooling themselves in military tactics. The Legislature wisely provided for the proper payment of these and other military expenses, by authorizing and requiring a military tax to be assessed and collected throughout the State, and appropriated especially to the military fund, so much thereof as should be necessary to be used for military purposes, and directed the surplus left to be paid into the State Treasury. No other fund can be touched for the payment of the volunteer militia but this one; and the surplus, after it reaches the Treasury, cannot be touched for the payment of any Division or Brigade military expenses. The State Treasury is relieved from any burden or liability in these matters. Every county in the State is constituted Brigade, and the militia tax raised in each in applied to the payment of its military expenses and if the military taxes paid are less than the expenses, the volunteers of that Brigade must hen remain unpaid to that amount. There is established in every Brigade a Board of Audiquired to audit the military expenses of their respective brigades, and are authorized to draw an order on the County Treasurer for such as shall meet their approbation, to be paid out of the military fund. If any is the military fund if any is the military fund. tors, composed of military men, who are rethe military fund, if any, in the Treasurer's

Military companies attending Camp "Susquehanns" in September next, are entitled to daily pay for their attendance, which will be paid out of the military fund of the brigade to which they respectively belong, but should there be no fund in the particular brigade to pay the same, then the companies will remain unpaid, but if the collectors are faithful in their duties, each baigade will have a fund more than sufficient for this and their ordinary ex-

The rules and regulations from my office are now in the hands of the State Printer, and will soon be ready for publication. I make the fullowing extract from them, as applicable to the present subject, viz:

"The military fund in the State Treasury is esponsible for no military expenses except those of the Adjutant General, General Staff. repairs of arms, &c.

If the military fund in any county is not sufficient for the payment of the expenses of the brigade, the county treasurer will make a pro rata division among the several claimants. No officer whatever, in any division or brigade, has any authority to make expenses which shall in any event be chargeable to the State. The county treasurers will be careful and ob serve the law, in making payments, and are

1. To pay no military expenses unless on the order of the Board of Auditors, as directed by act of Assembly of April 21, 1858. 2. The salaries of Brigade Inspectors will ot be paid until the close of the military year, eing the last day in December in each year : if paid before, and the said Inspectors have not made their proper returns to this office, the treasurers do so at their own risk. The law equires this salary not to be paid until notice given to treasurers by the Adjutant General. The Brigade Board of Auditors will observe proper economy in the expenses of their brigade, and pass no bills that are in any way exhorbitant.

All military officers are enjoined to take especial care that the proper assessments are made, and all the military taxes collected. All collectors and treasurers will be held to strict account, under the law in relation to the collection of military fines and taxes. The Encampment at Williamsport will be large and respectable, and it is desired by this lepartment that as many companies as possible e punctually in attendance at that time. It is "Camp of Instruction," and many able military men from this and other States will be there to impart instruction and give to the volunteers assembled the benefit of their knowledge and experience.

However much we may regret their absence yet those who cannot bear the additional expense are not expected to be in camp-but all who can do so conveniently should have military pride enough to attend promptly where duty

A sufficient number of excellent tents will be provided for the accommodation of all, and the Quartermaster General will assign quarters to all companies immediately on their ar-

In closing this communication, I am pleased to state that the Commonwealth is likely to receive a handsome surplus from the military fund, which will find its way into the sinking fund, and assist in paying the debt that hange so heavily on our people.

Respectfully. EDWIN C. WILSON,

Adjutant General

LOVE IN THE CARS. The Harrisburg Herald says: One of the employees on the Pensylvania Railroad informs us of a singular adventure which occurred on the passenger train of cars coming into this place on Saturday evening last: In one of the cars a young gentleman seated, apparently deeply occupied in reading a book he held in his hand, until he got to Lancaster. At that place a very handsome young lady entered the cars, and took a seat opposite to him. Before she had been long in the train, the eyes of both met, and they recognized one another as old acquaintances when young, having been separated by their parents moving apart-those of one to the West, and of the other to Philadelphia. The two soon became enwrapt in earnest conversation, fell ardently in love with one another, and by the time they arrived in our borough, had resolved to be united as man and wife, and travel on their journey to the lady's home together. Accordingly, when the train arrived here, they took lodgings at a hotel, sent for a minister, and were united in the bonds of conubial bliss, and taking the next train, were off on their bridal tour .- Our informant says he is acquainted with the parties,
