Three Candidates for Congress.

Notwithstanding the exertions of a number of politicians to patch up the rent now existing between the American and Republican parties, in this county, we can not for the life of us, see that that rent is becoming any smaller. On the contrary. much as it is to be regretted, the breach appears to be widening. It was agreed werbalieve as a consideration to the Amerfrom that in the event of the nomination of Mr. Blair for Congress, the Republican county ticket was to be withdrawn immediately that this promise has not been filalled and rumor save it will not be Anumber of Republicans and some of the candidates refuse to submit to the dictation of the Congressional candidate's friends and insist upon keeping up a distinct orwantedion. What the result of this course Will be we can easily sum up. Mr. Patton the American candidate for Congress is still in the field and will remain there. will receive the support of the Americins in the District and also of the Remublicans who are dissatisfied with their candidate. Each party blames the other, but that does not mend the matter.

In Huntingdon county, affairs arolin a worse state than in Blair, as the disaffection appears to be more general, and there is no capital to trade upon, whereby the Americans can be brought into the sup port of Mr. Blair. o beissonsh weresty if PENERLVANIA IRON MANUFACTURE -In Rennaulvania alone, there was produced last year, nearly 450,000 tons of nig iron: of manufactured iron, 227,837 tons. The entire production last year was 1,000 ...000 tons, while the consumption was only 1.386.000 tons. a fact in itself which to a great extent, accounts for the unusually small demand from England. The iron manufactured in the States, in 1856, was as much as it was in England 35 years ago. In Pennsylvania, alone, there are employed 40,000 persons, taking the furnaces, mills and forges.

The feud between the two delegations from New York city does most seem to have been compromised or haded in any degree. The softs predominated. We have received the October number of the Atlantic Monthly. It is a very superior one, filled with a number of high-toned original articles. The first article, "The New World and the New Man," is especially deserving perusal for the vigor, freshness and quaintness of the thoughts. The "Autocrates gives in this ssue the last of his charming table conersations. The whole series is to be published in book form, and will certainly make one of the most readable books of the season. EXCITING NEWS .- The State Fair .-The enterprising officers of the State Society have made arrangements to have a Donkey race, the last in to win a silver cup. There will be rare sport. We have little doubt the competition will be lively. The rules of the race are, that no owner shall ride his own animal; that no one who starts shall turn back, or stop, and that the last one at the goal shall be considered the winner. Of course, it is for the interest of every aspirant to urge on the Donkey on which he rides, so as to keep shead of his own, ridden by another.

In another column will be found the communication of "An American. in reply to the attack of the Hollidays. burg Register on the American Congresional Conference. Neither the attack of the Register nor the reply of "An American" will tend much to heal the breach between the satisfied and dissatisfied portions of the party. It will require a diferent mode of procedure to drive the Americans into the support of the Republican candidate.

The wild or fox grape, which, three years since, was a drug in the Hartford (Connecticut) market at one dollar per bushel, is now selling at two dollars, and generally finds ready sale at that. The Philadelphia Bulletin points out the ollowing advantages resulting from the use of orinoline: It frees woman from a needless weight of skirts, it strengthens the system by exposure to cold and mids manufactures, stimulates the whale fishery, improves figures, displays ankles to a delirious extent in getting up stairs, and gives editors subjects for articles. All things considered, we see no great reason to grieve over the institution. It is not every fashion which developes so much or such varied industry as crinoline.

MRSERS. EDITORS:—It appears, by the last Hollidaysburg Register, that the mess presentation of the proceedings of the Area Congressional Conference to John Pens James had a serious effect upon him and threw him into

The idea that John Brotherline would not the ert his friends, and so with This seeing up the American party, seemed to be more than poor Jones could bear. He denounces John as all sorts of a had man for not following in his lead. We hope he may well enjoy whatever he and he is weak enough to think he can drive others. In this he is greatly mistaken.

He attacks the proseedings in a manner altogether becoming a new convert in politics.-His entire article attacking the Americans evinces all the feelings of a heart fatally bent upon mischief to the American party.

He states that no American Conventions has been held in any of the counties to authorize the holding of an American Conference to nominate a candidate for Congress. The truth is the little follow turns around so often in politics that he does not really know where he was a month ago. He is weak enough to think the Americans ought to turn with him as often as he turns. The facts are an American Convention was held in this place, on the 20th day of may last, and appointed three citizens of this county to attend an American Congressional Conference, as conferces. Jones would now desire to wipe out the existence of that Convention, by modestly asserting that it was never held. It is true that the Conferees did not attend such a Conference, but does that ignore the fact that the Convention was held. Certainly not. The Conference was held, and there being no authority to compel the attendance of the delinquent Conferees, others were substituted by the Conference in their places. This is what john pean jones esq., editor of the Hollidaysburg Register, Associate Judge of the several Courts of Blair county. Freasurer of the Poor Fund of said county, and general recipient of all the favors of the party, and Dictator and Commander-in-chief throughout his whole Baillwick, denounces as A HIGH HANDED OUTRAGE EPON him. If the base ingratitude of Jones towards him does not trouble his conscience, I can not by anything I can say, reach ran, Landon Reeve, George F. McCabe, and the other gentlemen composing the Conference are all worthy, honorable men, of good standing, whom Jones can not succeed in branding successfully as cheats. They are all far above his reach and all far better men than he is.

But why does Jones attack these gentlemen Does he think by demolishing them he will finish the American party, and have built up com pletely, on its ruins, the Republican party. In this we think he will be slightly mistaken. The American sentiment will still be hovering about to annoy him. More in No. 2.

SPRINGEIELD, Ohio, Sept. 14, 1858. MESSES. EDITORS :- I have just returned from pleasant walk with a boon companion of former years. Our conversation naturally turned upon the scenes of our own native State, where stand the lofty hills and towering mountains which often filled our minds with emotions of the sublime—where meander the cooling streamlets adown the rugged mountain's side; -and as we dwelt with rapture upon the other loved obiects of our boyhood and maturer years. I said to my companion: "I do wonder what has become of the Altoona Tribune, as I have'nt seen a copy since I left my father's house!" My friend endeavored to comfort me by telling me that it would vet come-but I would not be comforted. I immediately went to my room and, snatching up a pen, dipped it into the ink, resolved to make my grievances known to the Editors. knowing that they would compassionate me and send me the Tribune ere I should entirely collapse into the "horrors."
