THURSDAY, OCT. 28, 1858.

Where parties are unknown to us, our rule for adver laking is to require payment in advance, or a guarantee from known persons. It is therefore useless for all such to send us advertisements offering to pay at the end of three or six: months. Where advertisements are accompanied with the money, whether one, five or ten dellars, we will give the advertiser the full benefit of cash rates.

A press of job work and the absence of one of the editors during a part of the week, has prevented us from giving that attention to the local department of our paper which it should have received. We have on hand a letter from Utah and other interesting items which we shall give next week.

We have but little doubt that if the Col. desires the office he will receive it by acclamation, at least we hope so.

Col. L. W. Hall.

In the midst of the general rejoicing and the expressions of approbation of the efforts of individuals in regard to the late election in our district, we cannot forego the pleasure of pay-ing a just and merited compliment to Col. L. W. Hall, of Altoona. He was a noble champion in the great cause of the people; and assisted by his eloquence, power and strong arguments to preserve the 18th district in its political opinions and save it from the hands of the spoilers, In season and out of it, when called for, he was always ready, and we must say, that his real was commendable and worthy of the highest approbation by the opposition to the Lecompton and anti-protection party of this District.— While we take pleasure in awarding him every need of praise, it is not only us, but it is upon the lips of hundreds. The people will not let the opportunity pass by, at the proper time, to do him justice for his noble and disinterested efforts in behalf of Freedom and a Protective Tariff. Long may he wave! - Whig.

We most heartily subscribe to all that is contained in the above quotation. Col. Hall is one of the most promising young We predict that the day is coming when & Co., Boston. he will be rewarded handsomely by those whom he has devoted his time and talents to benefit—the people.

Printers Esquires.—The art of printing was practiced in Germany, Italy, etc., as a genteel pastime, in the houses of the educated and wealthy, who, however, could not entirely dispense with the aid of the artizan. From this ntermixing of rank arose the privilege of the printers to wear arms, (to be an armiger esquire.) In 1541, Francis 1, suppressed that right relative to journeymen and apprentices.

The Allegheny Valley Echo is a new paper just started at Emlenton, among the mountains in the Keystone State. The editor says he shall not publish another paper for three weeks, as he is obliged to look up some paper, ink. &c.. at Pittsburgh. His news record is comprehensive: We learn that the river is very low, and fish plenty. Next Monday will be the first day of our first Fair, and from all appearances, it's going to be a first-rate show; there's to be a flying horse," a "rearing mule," and a "tumbling jackass" on hand, expressly for the benefit of the ladies; and "Guni" Davis is expected to get drunk by the time class G is attended to. Our friends, Messrs. Harrison, Morgan and Harvey Sloan have been to a great deal of trou ble and expense in getting up a patent backaction anti-terrestial Pegasus, that's going to fly over the flying horse, and the sights and seers on this occasion will undoubtedly crowd the enclosure. We shall give a full history of it in our next. Matrimony has been greatly on the increase for some time past, and after a while something else will be on the increase; several jugs of Squire Murrain's Mountain Dew have left town lately. Some scoundrels broke into Mr. Gormley's cellar, got some old fish oil instead of whiskey, left his garden gate open, and an old sow entered and eat up all his sour krout on the stalk. Warren money is now good, and John Forker's potatoes didn't turn out so well as they might have done; there will be an average crop generally. Ross Porter's oxen ran off last night, smashing down some eighty rods of fence: singings are very plenty, and a child was born up in the wilderness with a ring in its nose; the low stage of the river, and the rise of candle wick induces us to whittle our splinters down to a point. Cash receipts of the week-fifty cents and a dime from Mr. John Mehrten, and trouble and torn trousers.

A BEAR TREED BY A HORSE. - Says the Michigan Watch Tower, bears are more numerous this season than for several years in the central counties of the State, and adventures with them are quite common. Mr. D. Cross, of Fairfield. who recently visited Eaton county, relates to us an affair which occurred four miles east of Eaton Rapids, which presents an example of maternal care by a mare of her colt, that is rarely exhibited by the horse kind, if it was not a hair breadth adventure. A mare with a colt by her side was feeding in a pasture, when she was approached by three bears, an old one and two cubs nearly full grown. Alarmed for the safety of her colt, the mare forgot the usual fear of the horse for these animals, and attacked them with such vigor that they were forced to retreat They were pursued so closely that one of them was compelled to seek safety, and remain in a tree until the owner of the mare, who had however, some of them would like to know the watched the whole proceedings, went to the house for a gun, returned and shot it.

curred in Poutoco county, Arkansas, a few days since. There was a free negro living in that county, who some time since killed a white man near Fort Smith, and Governor Harris issued orders to Mr. Young Brown, sheriff of that county, to arrest him. He accordingly, with two other men, went to arrest him. When they got near the house the negro ran to a crip where he had fire-arms. One of the sheriff's party ran to the door of the crib, and seeing the negro with a pistol presented, he ran away, and the ted to 104,128 barrels of flour, 5,634,184 wounded, then clenched the negro; but having bushels of wheat, 6,624,287 bushels of corn, and 275,714 bushels of oats, making 18,127,456 thus ended his frombles. Is the Atlantic Telegraph a Fail-

The general tone of the press on both sides of the ocean, says the New York Herald, regarding the Atlantic telegraph, is one of discouragement at the result of the enterprize, which they rather hastily and unwarrantald failure. The French and English papers ridipoint to the long silence which has followed the although I am known as a worker. Entering transmission of the last dispatch, as a proof of the contest in a District comprising ten counties transmission of the last dispatch, as a proof of the contest in a District comprising ten counties the unsuccessful termination of the great undertaking. But should we never get another word through the present-cable, is it just to say that the enterprize has not succeeded, or that the practicability of the work has not been fully and completely established? Have not the mechanical difficulties which stood in the way been removed by Mr. Everett's paying out machine? And although the electrical department has not yet succeeded in rendering that success permanent, does any one imagine that the Atlantic felegraph is a thing of the past?—that it is ever to be revived? Should the present cable never again be orked, and the present company be unable to carry the prize to a more successful termination. there are others who will be ready and willing o undartake the task. The great benefits which telegraphic communication between this continent and Europe must confer upon both, form the best guarantee that could be presented of its ultimate and permanent establishment.-But even if private companies were not to be found ready to enter upon the task, the English and American governments will take it in hand. The practicability of the enterprize once established, the mere pocuniary considerations concompared with the great benefits which it will confer upon the commercial world, independant of the other and grander results which must follow its successful accomplishment.

Execution of Mary Twiggs.

DANVILLE, October 23. The woman Mary Twiggs convicted for partipating in the murder of her husband and Mrs. llark, was executed yesterday. The town was crowded with people from the country, and the roofs of the buildings adjacent to the prison were filled with persons, anxious to witness the

She bade farewell to her brother and children nd after devotional exercises in her room, was taken to the scaffold at a quarter past ten ofclock, leaning upon the arm of one of her spiritual advisers. A chapter had been read, and an impressive prayer offered up on the scaffold, Mrs. Twiggs spoke for six or eight minutes, protesting her innocence, declaring her readiness to die and her trust in a just Judge, only egretting to leave behind her the two orphan children. She was much affected throughout. The solemnity of the scene was made more impressive by her growns and sobs. Even after the cap was drawn over her face she appealed to God in the most earnest manner, and she asserted her innocence. At ten o'clock and thirty-five minutes the drop fell, and after struggling for a few moments, the wretched woman hung lifeless.

There was an immense concourse of people around the jail, and two military companies were in attendance to preserve order.

A DANGEROUS EXCITEMENT Yesterday. our telegraphic column, we gave an account of Ind., by Louisville officers, of Horace Bell and we stated that his offence was the rescue of his father and brother, in July last, from a Kentucky jail, where they were confined for running off negroes. The telegraph, yesterday af-terneon, informed us that the excitement at New Albany, consequent upon this arrest, had so increased that a considerable body of men, heavily armed, left the place for Flizabethtown Island, where Bell was confined, to rescue him. It is also reported that a body of Kentuckians were gathering together to meet them. We earnestly hope the authorities of both States will take such measures as to preclude the pos-

The following is stated as of recent occur ence in Liberia : Two children, one four and the other six years old, rambled away from their friends, who were hay making. They had their friends, who were hay making. They had gone from one thicket to another, gathering fruit, fliughing and enjoying the fun. At last they came near a bear lying on the grass, and without the slightest apprehension, went up to him. He looked at them steadily without moving; at length they began playing with him and mounted upon his back, to which he submitted with perfect good humor. In short, both mitted with perfect good humor. In short, both second inclined to be pleased with each other. scemed inclined to be pleased with each other; indeed the children were delighted with their new playfellow. They were not long in finding out the spot, when, to their dismay, they beheld one child sitting on the boar's back and the other feeding him with fruit! They then called when the youngsters win to their friends, and Bruin, apparently not liking the interruption went away into the forest

> ALL SWEPT AWAY. -- Among the many sad so cidents, says the New Orleans Delta, of the present opidemic, which have come to our knowledge, and which we have generally abstained from publishing, is the following, perhaps us surpassed in afflictive interest:—A German, who came to this city many years since, had sequired a large property, and last spring he sent over to 'faderland' and removed to this city il the members of his immediate family, some seven or eight in number father, mother, brothers and sisters. Not long after their amval the pestilence entered his household, and ceased not its work of death until every one of the newly arrived relatives were carried forth to their graves in a strange land which the had come so for to fill.

Cost of a Scot in Parliament.—It is indeed says the Times London correspondent, no slight matter, this of fighting one's way up to the un paid seats of English Parliament. Mr. Thackery, for instance, told me that his unsuccessful contest for the comparatively small borough a Oxford, cost him over £1,000, sterling, one item of which for the hire of "cabs and five," amounted to £175 or nearly $900. The coun ty contest, are, of course, much more costly.-One friend of mine who stood twice in succession for a country representation, loosing the first and winning the second contest, spent upon the two more than £12,000., or $80,000.

SUDDEN CHANGES -Mr. Geo. W. Constable one of the Salt Lake mail conductors, says that when he left Salt Lake City, on the 4th of las month, the heat was oppressive; but when it got three day's travel out of the city, it snowed and the fourth day the ground was frozen nul the ice plenty. Three days later he went through snow nearly a foot deep, and when be got over on the North Platte, the mosquitoes s tacked him in swarms, and nearly devovred him. This was experiencing sudden changes and the four seasons in rapid succession.
