

THE ALTOONA TRIBUNE. McGURUM & DERN, Publishers and Proprietors. Per annum (payable in advance) $1.50. Single copies 5 cents.

TRIBUNE DIRECTORY. CHURCHES, MINISTERS, &c. Presbyterian, Rev. A. B. Clark, Pastor. Methodist, Rev. J. W. Wilson, Pastor.

ALTOONA MAIL SCHEDULE. Eastern Way at 6:30 A.M. Western " " 6:40 A.M. Hollidaysburg " " 7:00 A.M.

RAILROAD SCHEDULE. Express Train East at 6:30 A.M. West " " 6:40 A.M. Mail " " 7:00 A.M.

MEETINGS OF ASSOCIATIONS. Masonic Lodge, A. O. U. M. No. 251, meets on second Tuesday of each month.

COUNTY OFFICERS. Judge of the County, Joseph Taylor. Sheriff, Joseph Caldwell. County Commissioner, David M. Conner.

ALTOONA BOROUGH OFFICERS. Judges of the Peace, Jacob Good, J. M. Cherry. Town Council, James J. H. McCormick.

LIQUORS.—A LARGE AMOUNT of well selected LIQUORS has been received at the lowest rates.

HENRY LEHR'S STORE IS IN the town of Altoona, Pa., near the depot.

PURE WHEAT FLOUR AND GIN. The Standard Patent Flour is the best for all purposes.

Select Poetry

OUR IDOL. We know not the author of the following lines, but they will be appreciated by many of our readers.

Select Miscellany

THE NEW NEIGHBOR.

'Have you heard that we are going to have a new neighbor, Phillip?' 'No, I have not, Mrs. Howey; pray, who is it?'

'Indeed I do not know. The person who informed me of the simple fact, could not remember the name—the stranger is a female at any rate.'

'Are you acquainted with her, Mrs. Howey?' 'Not personally; I saw her once—she is really beautiful, but—'

'You will hear enough about her before she will have been here a month.'

Incident at the Five Points.

There is a crowd over at the corner. By the dim light of the street lamps, and the lesser light of two or three candles held aloft, the faces of the miserable beings gathered there look very baggardly.

Letter of a Dying Wife.

The following most touching fragment of a letter from a dying wife to her husband (says The Nashville Gazette) was found by him, some months after her death.

Councils to the Young.

Never be cast down by trifles. If a splinter breaks his web-twenty times, twenty times will he mend it. Make up your minds to do a thing, and you will do it.

THE DRUNKARD'S WILL.

I leave to society a ruined character, a wretched example and a memory that will soon rot. I leave to my parents the rest of their lives, as much sorrow as humanity, in a feeble and decrepit state, can sustain.

FRATERNITY.

The difference between praise and flattery is worth attending to. Praise is the expression of real sentiments; flattery of pretended sentiments.

Incident at the Five Points.

There is a crowd over at the corner. By the dim light of the street lamps, and the lesser light of two or three candles held aloft, the faces of the miserable beings gathered there look very baggardly.

Letter of a Dying Wife.

The following most touching fragment of a letter from a dying wife to her husband (says The Nashville Gazette) was found by him, some months after her death.

Councils to the Young.

Never be cast down by trifles. If a splinter breaks his web-twenty times, twenty times will he mend it. Make up your minds to do a thing, and you will do it.

THE DRUNKARD'S WILL.

I leave to society a ruined character, a wretched example and a memory that will soon rot. I leave to my parents the rest of their lives, as much sorrow as humanity, in a feeble and decrepit state, can sustain.

FRATERNITY.

The difference between praise and flattery is worth attending to. Praise is the expression of real sentiments; flattery of pretended sentiments.

Incident at the Five Points.

There is a crowd over at the corner. By the dim light of the street lamps, and the lesser light of two or three candles held aloft, the faces of the miserable beings gathered there look very baggardly.

Letter of a Dying Wife.

The following most touching fragment of a letter from a dying wife to her husband (says The Nashville Gazette) was found by him, some months after her death.

Councils to the Young.

Never be cast down by trifles. If a splinter breaks his web-twenty times, twenty times will he mend it. Make up your minds to do a thing, and you will do it.

THE DRUNKARD'S WILL.

I leave to society a ruined character, a wretched example and a memory that will soon rot. I leave to my parents the rest of their lives, as much sorrow as humanity, in a feeble and decrepit state, can sustain.

FRATERNITY.

The difference between praise and flattery is worth attending to. Praise is the expression of real sentiments; flattery of pretended sentiments.

Incident at the Five Points.

There is a crowd over at the corner. By the dim light of the street lamps, and the lesser light of two or three candles held aloft, the faces of the miserable beings gathered there look very baggardly.

Letter of a Dying Wife.

The following most touching fragment of a letter from a dying wife to her husband (says The Nashville Gazette) was found by him, some months after her death.

Councils to the Young.

Never be cast down by trifles. If a splinter breaks his web-twenty times, twenty times will he mend it. Make up your minds to do a thing, and you will do it.

THE DRUNKARD'S WILL.

I leave to society a ruined character, a wretched example and a memory that will soon rot. I leave to my parents the rest of their lives, as much sorrow as humanity, in a feeble and decrepit state, can sustain.

FRATERNITY.

The difference between praise and flattery is worth attending to. Praise is the expression of real sentiments; flattery of pretended sentiments.