Remarkable Dream.

"I had a dream, which was not all a dream." Byren. "I had a dream the other night, When all around was still."—Suscen The ancients, from the time of Nosh, up to our venerable grandfathers and grandmothers, had great faith in the verification of dreams—so much, that to them, a dream was reality itself; or was sure to be, at least. But of late, the world has grown wiser, (in its "own conceit,") and dreams are pronounced merely the result of an excited imagination, occasioned by too great an indulgence in the luxuries of life. Likely this latter view is correct, generally speaking; but we know an "exception to the rule." Who ever knew a printer to have an overloaded stomsch! ("I," answers our devil, "didn't I meet my namesake with the pitch-fork, one night, after eating a pound of skipper-cheese ?") (True, true, poor imp; but you havn't gone to bed with a full stomach, since.) Who ever knew a printer to have the night-mare? Who ever knew a printer to dream? No one. Yet, we had a dream, the other night, and we believe it will be verified-"Young American" in sentiment, as we are; -in fact, rather than the wream should not "come true," we will consent to be called "Old Fogy" all our life. Now hearken to our dream :- One night last week. while poring over the proof of our last paper. seeking for errors in typography, the dullness of the matter set us to nodding, and soon transported us to the land of sleep. Although we had gone to work supperless, we dreamed : and dreamed a dream of happiness. We thought it was Christmas, 1858. We were sitting in our office, engaged in penning a piteous appeal to our patrons to pay us our just dues, or send us to the County Poor House, we didn't care which, when we heard a tremendous racket out-doors, resembling the patter of many feet. We opened the door to see the cause of the exitement, hoping to find a local item; when in teppedia crowd of human beings, laden with boxes, barrels, bales, baskets, &c., who deposi-

ns out, and rented our office for a forwarding Parchouse!" We were puzzled. Apprehenevely, we examined each piece of baggage .magine our astonishment at finding No. 1, adressed "McCrum & Dern," from "somebody;" 2. likewise: No. 3. ditto: No. 4. 5. 6. 7. kc., &c., &c., all to "McCrum & Dern" from somebody." We seized the sheep's-foot, and bened a box, and another, and another; they vere all filled with estables, wearables, and one ox. (would you believe it,) with gold dollars!

by G. W. Kessler, Altoons. PROTRACTED MERTING .- A protracted meeting of a very interesting and solemn character. is in progress in the Lutheran Church in this place. Rev. Lloyd Knight, of Hollidaysburg, has been assisting the Pastor, Rev. J. Steck, most of the time, and will remain during this week, as will also Rev. Aughe, of Williamsburg, who came to their assistance on Tuesday evening. It is designed to continue the meeting for some time. Rev. D. Steck, of Lancaster city, who is a very eloquent and able preacher, will preach on next Monday evening, the 13th, and will in all probability continue to do so every evening of the week.

JUST RETURNED .- J. B. Hillman has just returned from the East with his second supply of Fall and Winter goods, a sight of which will astonish his customers. There can be no better evidence that Joe sells at low prices and keep good goods, than the fact he has already put out the large stock he brought up a month or two ago. Look out, gents, for the fancy shawls. he has some good ones and you must be sharp if you get a chance at them. Step in ladies and see what he has for you, and be waited upon by a couple of the cleverest "Joe" clerks in chris-

Delo, formerly Weigh-master at this station, left this place on Monday morning last, to take charge of the stock scales at Pittsburgh His departure will be regretted by many with whom he was associated, as he was always on hand when a good or benevolent project was to be carried through. His place at this station has been assigned to Gen. Potts, of Hollidaysburg.

Henry S. Wharton, Esq., has been appointed ticket and freight agent at Huntingdon, in room of T. K. Simonton, resigned. Mr. Simonton took charge of the Exchange Hotel, in that place, on the first inst. Mr. S. is a clever fellow and we hope he may have plenty of custom. We advise those of our citizens who visit Rules for Travelers.—The following facts | the "ancient village," to give him a call and we will warrant they will be well treated.

ODD FELLOWS' SUPPER. -The Odd Follows of this place intend serving up a supper on Christmas eve, in the "Keystone Hall," over Lowther Plack's store. It will no doubt be a grand affair. We shall notice it again.

THE PANIC-MORE FAILURES .- The panic in New York seems to be on the increase. In this city everything goes on smoothly, and the only failures we have heard of were the failures to furnish good fits made by some inferior clothing establishments. There is no such difficulty to e encountered by those who patronize the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chesnut street, above sixth. Gentlemen and Youths never fail to procure capital fits at this popular establishment.

The Hair.—People have for centuries been afflicted with bald heads and the only remedy, herefoliore known, has been those abominable wigs. By a recent discovery of Professor Wood these articles are being fast dispensed with, but a great many persons still patronise them, because they have been so often imposed upon by Hair Torics of different kinds. To all such persons we earnestly make Restorative there is no such thing as tail. We know of a lady who was bald, who used the article a short time, and her head is now covered completely with the tiniest and most beautiful curls imaginable. We know of numerous cases where hair was rapidly falling out, which it restored in greater perfection than it ever had been before.

It is also without doubt one of the best articles for keeping the halo in good condition, making it soft and glossy.

Such as Indigestion, Acidity of the Stomach, Colleky Pains, Hearthurn, Loss of Appetite, Despondency, Coativeness, Blind'and Bleeding Piles. In all Nervons, Rheumatic and Neuralgic Affections, it has in numerous instances proved highly beneficial, and in others effected a decided cure. This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared on strictly scientific principles, after the manner of the celebrated Holland Professor, Börbave: Because of its great second in the most of the European States, its introduction into the United States was intended more especially for those of our fatherland scattered here and there over the face of this mighty country. Meeting with great success among them, I now offer it to the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful medical virtues must be acknowledged. It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continuous use of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in effect, it finds its way directly to the seat of '100, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping spirit, and, in fact, infusing new health and vigor in the system.
