Fires and Distressing Accident.

On Thursday night last, the barns at tached to the State Lunatic Hospital, at Harrisburg, were discovered to be on fire. about 11 o'clock. Every effort was made to eave the adjoining properties by the Harrisburg firemen, who repaired to the spot, fortunately with success. The large new bank barn, which cost $2,000, together with 16 tons of hay, all the farm implements, including a number of costly able to get up something interesting on short agricultural machinery, harness, Steward's notice. wagon, a dearborn wagon, a large farm wagon, seven horses, a lot of chickens and a couple of pigs were entirely consumed. The roof and attic of the gardener's house was burned. The entire loss is estimated at 84,000.

On the same night, a little after two o'clock, the barn attached to the Dauphin county Poor House was discovered to be on fire With this there were consumed five horses, fourteen valuable milch cows, one large bull, a calf, 25 tons of hay, 50 bushels of rve. 40 bushels of potatoes and a number of chickens and ducks. The loss is estimated at $5,000.

While the Citizen Engine Company was proceeding to the fire at the Lunatic Asylum barn, one of the members, Samuel J. Miller, tripped and fell under the wheels of the engine which passed over his body under his arms. He was taken up in an insensible condition and borne to his residence where he died at 10 o'clock the next morning.

A man who gave his name as Martin Henry-Wolf, who had been some 13 months in the Asylum, and had been pronounced crazy by the attending physician, was arrested as the supposed incendiary. While in the Asylum he became so violent that he was finally committed to jail in Harrishurg. On the day previous to the fire, the Court ordered him to be sent to the County Poor House, but the carriage which conveyed him there was not out of sight, ere he run off from the institution. He could give no satisfactory account of sometime in September next. his whereabouts on the night of the fires ther hearing.

Probable Effects of the War.

That the effects of the war news upon the business of this country will be very great cannot be questioned. Already it has caused a considerable advance in the price of breadstuffs, and bids fair to make flourishing times for our farmers. The New York Tribune advises the farmers. throughout the country to plant and sow freely, persistently; for grain and meat are likely to be in demand next fall. The war which now threatens is unlikely to be a short and cannot be a little one. It is likely to array a million of men in arms against each other, subtracting many times that number from productive industry, to employ them in casting cannon, making powder, charging shells, etc. All these must eat, and pattle fields are not well adapted to growth of food. We shall be disappointed if Europe does not afford us a large market for breadstuffs before the end of the current year.

Italian question, in referring to the war which it will be noticed by the foreign news, in another column, has already been commenced, said that it would not be a war between two great nations contending for some definite object, but a war exciting the most violent passions, and once begun In Italy it will extend far beyond the limthat country. Other passions will he roused, other interests will be touched, other nations will be called upon to interdens, and war originating in Italy, will cerwide, wrapping the whole of Europe is the general conflagration.

The outbreak of this dreadful scourge so soon after the time the foreign embassies were at Yeddo has led the people to attribute to them its introduction into their country, and superstition points to the coincidence as a punishment for opening Japan to foreigners. By the latest accounts the disease was less virulent.

Fortunately the men were hardly scratched, the greatest damage being done to their clothes. A wagon was standing in the yard, and the enraged horse, howling and snorting with agony, seized the shaft between his teeth, and shaking the vehicle violently. wrenched the shaft entirely off. His drendful distress seemed to search in this violent manner for some relief. At various times he emitted hideous noises painful to hear.
