A LL ABOUT SHOES!

We do not boast of Auction Shoes

That wants a shop to wear.

Now very much we feel inclin'd

At shillings six a pair, For sure no lady would them choose

Such Gaiters to expose,
They are not good, and you will find
Them bursting round the toes.

Such ill made Shoes you could not wear

We often with them meet; Just made to sell, they rip and tear

Then walking in the street

A lady passing by one day Was caused a deal of trouble.

Superbly dress'd in garments gay And Shoes not worth a bubble.

We pay the prices for our work

To have it honest made.

To worthy men who are in truth

The masters of their trade.

And we can boast of extra nice

Of fairy bhoes at fairest price

The Crusader's Song to the Hebrew Maiden.

BY MRS. CRAWFORD.

Hebrew maiden, veil thy beauty, Lest my heart a rebel prove. Breaking bands of noly duty, For the silken chains of love.

Look not on me, sweet deceiver, Though thy young eyes beam with light, They might tempt a true believer To the darkest shades of night.

Hebrew maiden, while I linger. Hanging o'er thy melting lute, Every chord beneath thy finger Wakes a pulse that should be mute. We must part, and part forever; Eyes thet could my life renew! Lips that mine could cling to ever! Hebrew maiden, now adieu l

THE HELREW MAIDEN'S ANSWER. Christian soldier, must we sever?

Does thy creed our fates divide? Must we part, and part forever? Shall another be thy bride? Spirits of my fathers sleeping; Ye. who once in Zion trod. Heaven's mysterious council keeping, Tell me of the Christian's God !

Is the Cross of Christ the token Of a saving fuith to man? Can my early vows be broken? Spirite answer me! They can. Mercy-mercy thone about him-All the blessed with him trod: We can ne'er be saved without him!

Christian. I believe thy God!
