It is estimated, and from what we can learn, the estimate is a liberal one, that $40,000 will build the works and lay down pipes through all the streets of the town, and thereby mable all who wish to obtain pure water and cheap light .--Certainly there are fifteen men in the town who are able to take the remainder of the stock necessary to accomplish so desirable an end The stock will be taken. but we would rather that

CULPABLE CARELESSNESS .--- We notice in some persons a culpably careless practice, in hitching horses to young shade trees, or the boxes around them, which some of our humane and liberal citizens have placed along the sidewalks. These acts of carelessness, or we may say outrages. are generally committed by persons from the country who come to town with marketing or to make purchases, who, to save a little trouble in looking for a hitching post, fasten their hitch. ing strap to a tree and allow their beasts to stand for hours. At this season, horses soon becoine restless and hungry, and consequently chew the trace, destroy the boxes, or injure the pavement. In some cases it may be attributed to thoughtlessness on the part of the persons so your ey a around this room, and what a noble and soul-cheering spectrcle presents itself to your view and admi-ration. What means that lovely picture hung in that beautiful frame on the wall? What means that marble hitching their horses, and if so, it argues that they have little care as to the appearances of their residences, band pay no attention to im- ton table with its pitcher full of God's own pure beverage water? What means those two stands, one provements, else they would not thus despoil placed on each side of this spacious hall, with their pleasing, choorful, smiling occupants? What means these other mose made by others. Farmers would complain bitterly if any of our citizens should visit their forms and tramp down their growing erge, or injure their trees; but think nothand of despoiling trees planted along the streets towns. Our attention has been called to this by observing a number of trees around the "Logan Honse" square so much peeled by horses that they must die, and also seeing a horse, siew days since, breaking down a tree box, thereby injuring the tree very much. We think there should be a Borough Ordinance to prevent ss h destruction, if there be, not one already up in the Ordinance Book. VALUABLE R. R. IMPROVEMENT. -- We find in a number of papers, the following notice of Loughridge's Graduating Car Brake, with which the Penn'a R. R. Co., has equipped its Fast Line trains, which places in the hands of the engineer the entire control of all the brakes in his train. With this great improvement an additional security of at least one Dundred percent. over the old system of handbrakes has been secured, and trains han be regulated by the engiueer for stopping at all stations, checking up at bridges, switches, &c., with perfect accuracy.-A train can be brought to a full stop, at any time, within four hundred feet, when running at thirty miles per hour, obviating serious risk of collision with obstructions, cattle, &c., The practical working of this great invention may fairs, it does not require prophetic vision to inform us to be witnessed every day on the fast lines from But finally—the Gift itself.
