some dozen or twenty of the juventles of this

parents to give a little attention to their pook-sell them to the boys. The house built by the boys was in close proximity to the fence which surrounds the reservoir lot. In the afternoon a number of them collected at the house, when one of their number set fire to it. Being composed of combustible material, it burnt ranilly and the fire was communicated to the reservoir fence, some three or four panels of which were burned and broken down before it could be

That's olever. Altoons possesses the only ser viceable-looking double shot gun this English man found during his visit to the United States of America: Of course he was a judge of the article, and we should not be surprised to bear of "mine host" obtaining a large price for his gun some of these days. The following, in relation to the railway cars of this country, as compared with English lines, we give without comment except saying that that portion in relation to tobacco juice is only too true, and the remainder slightly exaggerated :-

"Here, at Altoona, I had time to consider the boasted comforts of the American railway .-Some of my friends on board the Africa, in the voyage across the Atlantic, had assured me of its infinite superiority to the English lines, thus: Yes, sir ; you should see our railway carriages. Guess you'll be surprised! None of your little carriages, shut up, but each car like a great long passage; a path up the middle; yes, sir; and seats each side with a door at each end. Yes, sir: at night—yes, sir,—fine beds—so comfortable-sleep all the way; and if there are three cars, can walk out of one into the other, and do as you like; yes, sir." Oh! after I had experienced the travel of these boasted mains, how I longed for the cleanliness and privacy, and civilization and choice of society on the rail ways of old England. The American trains are filthy, their floors not only moist enough to wet through a moderately thick boot with the saliva and tobacco juice from a hundred diseased teeth and stomachs, but the door at either end permits such a thorough draft right through, and the citizens of the United States have such a perpetual desire to open and shut them, that a man used to ease and comfort, is sure to eatch the ear-ache. And oh! the ladies' dresses!— The homs of those are stained three inches high with the fifthy tobacco juice, which it is impos-At 8 o'clock the party appeared at the Jus- sible for them to escap SERIOUS ACCIDENT FROM A FLUID LAMP.—On Vednesday evening last, a step-daughter of Mr. John Schweigert, proprietor of the Red Lion Hotel, in this place, was seriously burned by her and the result was that some five or six boys clothes taking fire from a fluid lamp, which was were bound over to Court for trial on a charge upset or exploded. The accident occurred in a room on the second floor. As soon as the girl found her clothes on fire she screamed and ran down stairs. Her step-father, hearing her 1857, in relation to injuring or destroying any scream, came to her relief, and meeting her on the stairs, attempted to tear off the burning clothes, but her dress being a new woollen one. it would not tear easily. After considerable effort he succeeded in getting it off and quenching the fire, but not until his hands were badly burned. The girl, who is about 14 years of age, was severely burned about the left breast and arm and right thigh. For a while it was thought that she could not survive her injuries, but, under the skillful treatment of Dr. J. M. Gemmill, she is now on fair way to recover.

On inquiring the cause, we learned that she had been detected in carrying away coal, which she had not purchased, from one of the coal-yards in this place. As the day was a little cool, and as there is no fire kept in the institution referred to, we doubt not a little of the coal she had pilfered would have been very acceptable, if placed upon a grate therein. Probably the cooling off she received will deter her from repenting the peration which sent her up

P. S. We have since learned that the woman has been bound over to appear at next term of Court to answer the charge above named.

The hum of business subsides; salesmen address their subjects in tones of gentle persuasion : the hammer descends upon the nail with measured force; boxes and bales are taken up tonderly, lifted with care. Affected by the general complaint, the lawyer abbreviates his brief, and puts the case mildly: the divine revives the past, and discourses from the barrel where the fruits of early composition repose; the doctor, conscious that no remedy of his will reach the epidemic, prescribes easy diet. The effects of the fever are not unpleasant, and all yield to them with grace. The mind wanders just far enough, and the dreams, instead of being dreedful, are soft and full of music and summer. Ferree, manager at Blair Furnace, and a man named Tries, whom Mr. Ferree had discharged from the works. Tries was under the influence of tangle foot whiskey at the time, and Mr. Ferree, not wishing to have anything to do with a drunken man, endeavored to get away from him. While they were jangling, a man named Rose, who lives at the Furnace, and the clerk in the store came up to the parties and interfered to get Triesaway. A son of Tries, who was standing by, with a piece of cinder in each hand, on seeing the clerk go up to his father, let slip one of the pieces which struck the clerk back of the head, cutting a gash and almost felling him to the ground. Tries then attacked Rose, but he got the wost of the battle. After a little scrimage, Tries and his son retreated to a cinder pile and stunces. gathering up each an armful of cinder, attacked Mr. Rose's house, breaking in a window and endangering the safety of the females inside The clerk came up to town and had a warrant issued for the arrest of the rioters and placed it in the hands of Constable Ely, who waited upon the Tries at an early hour on Saturday morning, but found that the old man was among the missing. The boy was arrested and brought before Esquire Cherry, who bound him over to appear at Court.

BOUND OVER .- Michael Scanlan and his wife Mary, two characters well known to most of our citizens, as the host and hostess of the "Green Bush Taveru,' were waited upon by Constable Ely, on Tuesday morning last, and brought before Esquire Cherry to answer an indictment of four counts, viz:—selling liquor to minors—selling liquor on Sunday—selling liquor without license-selling liquor in smaller quanties than one quart, on all of which they were found guilty, and were consequently bound over, in the sum of $200 each, to answer at the next term of Court. If business continues as brisk as it has been for the last two weeks, Altoona will furnish a fair share of the cases to be attended to at the next term.

THE VALUE OF TIME.—If time is valuable to those who have caught a cold, so that they cannot stop from their ordinary avocations, we would be way of salutary advice throw in a bint, in behalf of DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL Cough Synup, a medicince that has many a time oured a case of cough in one night, by the administration of a tablespoonful or two, taken at bedtime. Numbers of our citizens can endorse our statement in this respect. It is besides a pleasant medicine to take, and every bottle of it is prepared by Dr. Keyser's own hands.-Sold at 50 cts and $1, by G. W. Kessler.

Sugy Beer. - Mr. Runyan informs us that he has now on hand a mammoth steer, which will dress in the neighborhood of 1100 pounds clean meat, which he will have in market on Saturday morning week. The steer can be seen at any time, previous to Friday week, at his stable.— Mr. R. kills note but the best beeves, but we think a slice from the region of the flank or surloin of the animal referred to, would draw water from the teeth of a John Bull.

By special request of many of the afflicted. Mrs. Dr. Forester will remain in Hollidaysburg until April 6th. Mrs. F. is well recommended, and many of the best citizens of Hollidaysburg and surrounding country, who have been already relieved by her treatment, are ready to testify to the fact of her ability to cure all diseases of blindness or deafness, when encouragement is given. top of my head and threatning to make me baid.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Rectorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hair and sousibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the grutification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex. I strongly recommond all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and lise it if growing gray or getting bald.
