It was durly on the morning of a lovely day in Jane, A. D. 1800, that a rather large group of a quaint old tavern, in the ancient little town of Swinburne, in the west of England.

expected to come off.

They were, in fact, awaiting the arrival of the mail coach, which was to bring down Colonel Hastings, and his son Albert, who was the bridegroom elect of Lady Etheridge, Baroness of Swinburne, the last of her race, and sole heiress out into the street. of the immense wealth and vast estates of her lordly ancestors.

Next came forth a young gentleman, whose handsome person and haughty manner at once attracted general attention. His form was tall, and finely proportioned, crowned by a haughty head and face, with high aquiline features, fair and fresh complexion, light blue eyes, and very light, flaxen hair. His expression of countenance, in keeping with his whole manner, was stern, almost to repellant severity. Great beauty of person, with great dignity of manner, forms a combination very attractive to most young women, and perhaps its was this that fuscinated the young beiress of Swinburne Castle. for this was Albert Hastings, the bridegroom elect. He was followed into the house by his valet, bearing his dressing-case. After a slight repast, Colonel Hastings, attended by Cassinove: drove off to the castle to have a preliminary interview with Lady Etheridge, (who was his ward,) and arrange the marriage settlements. On arriving at the lordly castle, Cassinove was shown into a sitting-room, while the colonel proceeded to the library, whither his ward was requested to come to meet him.

As the young Italian paced up and down the room, occasionally pausing before a full-length mirror, which reflected the spacious window (reaching from ceiling to floor,) and the picturesque lamiscape beyond, suddenly, among the roses outside, glided a purple-draped female figure, that immediately rivetted his attention. It was a woman in the earliest bloom of youth -As young Cassinove gazed upon her reflected footsteps, there was a certain natural majesty down one side of her face. A rusty black gown

This was not all that Mr. Hastings wished, but neither logic nor cloquence could convince or persuade Rose Elmer to desert her niling mother; and upon no other condition than that of being allowed to remain with her would she consent to the secret marriage.

And, finally, he obtained a promise from Rose that she would meet him at the cottage that same night, where, by a previous arrangement, his confidential servant, disguised as a clergy man, was to be in attendance to perferm the marriage ceremony. After which Rose should return to he mother, to remain during the few weeks of his absence in Wales, whither, he said. important business forced him. This agreed upon, they took leave of each other for a few hours, and returned to the village by different routes. Mr. Hastings went to his inn, and summoned his confidential servant to his presence. And Rose Elmer, full of hope and joy, turned down the street leading to her mother's outrige. When Rose entered the house, there was a smoldering fire in the grate, and beside this fire, in an old arm chair, sat a female, whom no one would have passed without a second look. To such, help is at hand if they will but avail themselves of it, and hope,—the harbinger of brighter days.—may be awakened without foar of chilling disappointment. Dr. O. PERLIES BROWN'S ACACIAN BALMAN does just what is claimed for it, and may be relied upon by the sick as being the most successful in curing lung and throat disorders, of any renledy known at the pre-ent day. The many phases assumed by Consumption justifies the apprehension of those who have reason to fear its approach, either from constitutional or hereditary tendency. While the discoverer of this remedy does not believe that people should be constantly dosing themselves with

there are many cases where disease is too long allowed there are many cases where obscase is too sing another to remain unchecked in the system; and a slight cough, regarded at first as simply an annoyance, ceases only with the life of the patient. An impure state of the blood, through debilitation of the lungs, fills the system with morbid humors, and pulsation becomes feeble or accelerated to a feverish intensity—the heart, liver, and kidneys, separately performing functions of vital neces-ity to our well being, are impeded in their regular action the digestive organs falter in their task, and refuse to perform the process of separating the nutritious elements from food, and the whole mental being is well-nigh ready to sink under the burden of life. The patient so afficted, accounts his case a complication of disorders, and often refuses to resort to medication, from his thorough disbelief in any prospect of cure. To such

CVI ASK THE TRIAL of the ACACIAN BALSAN, as thoroughly worthy the confi dence of all. Every symptom of Consumption is surely and permanently eradicated by its use. Its effects are none other but strengthening and renovating to the en-tire system. Bronchitis, Asituma, Coughs, Colla, and General Debility, are effectually cured by its use. Night Sweats Loss of Flesh, and Wasting away of the Muscles Loss of Appetite. Soreness of the Throat, Chest, and Lougs, Liver Complaint. ACOB SNYDER, TAILOR, The Hero of One Hundred Fits per Month . I would respectfully set forth my claim to public attention, as a Fashionable Taitor as follows:

Because I keep an excellent assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres, Vestings and Trimmings, which, when examined. always please.

Because my work is made up in a manner that takes down the country and gives all my customers a city up-Because I am not inferior as a Cutter to the best to be found anywhere. Because long experience in my business gives me entire control over it and I ain not dependant upon any one to lift me out of the suds.

Because I am still on the sunny side of forty, and therefore my taste as a Cutter and workman unimpaired.

Call on me, in the corner room of the "Brunt House."

Give me a trial and you will go away pleased.

OF FUEL.

The subscriber takes pleasure in offering to the public NEW GAS AND SMOKE CONSUMING

Cooking Stove, recently patented, which is destined to so percedo all others, as it requires

than other stoves and is more easily, quickly and regularly heated. No unpleasant smell of gas arises from the fact that it is all consumed ere it can escape. There is no tradile from smoke as that unpleasant and often annoying exhalation is also consumed inside at the stove. Neither is there any danger of flues or chisneys becoming clogged with soot or the mortar looshed by the gas arising from coal fires.

Persons wishing to purchase stoves are invited to call at the store of the subscriber, in the Masonic Temple, and so amine the above stoves.

HOSTETTER'S

It is a fact that, at some period, every member of the human family is subject to discase or disturbance of the bodily functions; but with the aid of a good tonic and the exercise of plain common seuse, they may be able so to regulate the system as to secure permanent health. In order to accomplish this desired object, the true course to pursue is certainly that which will produce a natural state of things at the least hazard of vital strength and life. For this purpose, Dr. Hostetter has introduced to this country a preparation bearing his name, which is not a new medicine, but one that has been tried for years, giving satisfactien to all who have used it. The Bitters operate powerfully upon the stomach, bowels, and liver, restoring them to a healthy and vigorous action, and thus, by the simple process of strengthening nature, enable the system to triumph over disease.

For the cure of Dyspepsis, Indigestion, Natsea, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, or any Bilious Complaints, arising from a morbid inaction of the Stomach or Bowels, producing Cramps, Dysentery, Colic, Cholera Morbus, &c., then Bitters have no equal.

Diarrhoen, dysentery or flux, so generally contracted by new settlers, and caused principally by the change of water and diet, will be speedily regulated by a brief use of this preparation. Dyspepsia, a disease which is probably more prevalent, in all its various forms, than any other, and the cause of which may always be attributed to derangements of the digestre organs, can be cured without fail by using HÖSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, as per directions on the bottle. For this disease every physician will recommend Bitters of some kind then why not use an article known to be infallible? All nations have their Bitters, as a preventive of disease and strengthener of the system in general; and among them all there is not to be found a more healthy people than the Germans, from whom this preparation emb nated, based upon scientific experiments which have tended to prove the value of this great preparation in the scale of medical science. FEVER AND AGUE. - This trying and provoking disease, which fixes its relentless grasp on the body of man, reducing him to a mere shadow in a short time, and rendering him physically and mentally useless, can be drives from the body by the use of HOSTETTER'S. RENOWNED BITTERS. Further, none of the above-stated diseases can be contracted, even in exposed situations, if the Bitters are ned as per directions. And as they neither crests nausea nor offend the palate, and render unnecessary any change of diet or interruption of ordinary pursuits, but promote sound sleep and healthy digestion, the complaint is " moved as speedily as is consistent with the production of a thorough and permanent cure. For Persons in Advanced Years, who are suffering from an enfectled constitution and infirm body, these Bitters are invaluable us restorative of strength and vigor, and nest only be tried to be appreciated. And to mother while nursing these Bitters are indispensible, especially where the mother's nonishment is inadequate to the demands of the ohild, consequently her strength must yield, and here it is where a good tonic such at Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is needed to impart Semi-orary strength and vigor to the system. Ladiet should by all means try this remedy for all cases of debility, and, before so doings should ask their physician, who, if he is acquainted with the virtue of the Bitters, will recommend their use in all cases of weakness CAUTION .- We caution the public spaint will any of the many imitations or counterfeits, but sak for Hostetter's Celebrated Stonach Butter, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. Hostotter's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our subgraph signature is on the label.
