LOCAL ITEMS.

HUNTINGDON FAIR AND ENGAMPMENT .- Distressiny Accident .- On Thursday morning last, we jumped aboard the Mail Train, Col. Weitzel. Conductor, and were soon "rushing over bridges" and "dashing through the vales" on our way to seen at the military encampment and agricultural fair then in progress at that place. The train consisted of the usual express and baggage cars and six passenger cars, in which there were barely seats enough for those on board when it the train was over-loaded. At the latter station there were some 150 or 200 persons waiting to ere the excited crowd began to pour into the cars, and soon every inch of space inside and outside, on which it was possible to obtain a foothold, was occupied. We have been in crowds him enthusiastically, without being subject to before but never in one like this. We pitied the the charge of fawning for favors. ladies, for certainly their hoops needed mending or straightening after getting out of the crowd The train would not hold all the passengers to get on at this station, consequently some 25 or 30 had to wait for the Accommodation Train. At Barree station and Petersburg there was 200 more passengers waiting, but they didn't get on this train. Some of them who were not piously inclined gave vent to their feelings towards to railroad and the crowd in terms more expressive than chaste. Notwithstanding their imprecations we arrived safely at our destination and found there the largest crowd that was ever seen

The encampment was a decided success. There were some 17 or 19 companies on the ground on Thursday. Gen. W. H. Keim, of Harrisburg, acted as Commander-in-Chief. Gen. Negley and staff, of Pittsburgh, and Gen. B. F. Bell and staff, of this Division, were also on the ground. A drizzling rain which continued to fall during think we hear you ask, and with all possible the entire day, detracted very much from the speed we beg leave to make known that Messrs. pleasure of spectators, as also from the display J. & J. Lowther, at the "Model Store," have the military would otherwise have made. The just received the largest, finest and prettiest streets and houses in different parts of Huntingdon were decorated with arches and wreaths. The fair was what we would call a failure. although the managers say that the receipts in money were larger than on any previous occasion, no doubt from the fact that there were more people in attendance at the cucamrment than are usually drawn to fairs. The only redeemable feature was the floral display. Some of the boquets were really beautiful. The centre of attraction on the fair ground appeared to be a baby, some seven months old, which weighs in neighborhood of 80 pounds, and which was exhibited at 15 cents a sight.

On Thursday evening a terrible accident occurred on the railroad track, in the vicinity of the depot, by which two men named Peter Mc-Carty and James McMahon were instantly killed, and Francis Kane seriously injured. The facts, so far as we could ascertain them at the time, are as follows. There was to have been a Republican meeting in the place that evening, and a club of "Wide Awakes" were parading the streets, followed by a tremendous crowd of people. The club was passing down Railroad street at the time the Fast Line from the East | gage. was due at the station. The procession was a considerable distance above the station when the train came in, and, had it stopped at the station, as it should have done, the procession street, and the fact that there was a train of coal cars standing on the track next to that on | therein. which the train came in, which prevented people from getting off to that side, we think it miraculous that there were not more persons killed or dent was unavoidable on his part. JESSE'S COME BACK .- Don't imagine that Jesse had left town "for good," as the saying goes, for in truth he was on a visit to the city of "Brotherly Love" to "lay in" his fall stock of Hats, Caps, Fars, &c., which he now offers to the public at prices which will "take," we mean, he'll take the money and you'll take the article. He has a fine assortment of Ladies, Misses and Children's Hats and Furs, to which he invites their special attention. If you want anything in the line of head-covering or furs, go to Jesse Smith's and examine his stock. R. Finley; R. S., D. Irons; A. R. S., John R. no fears in entrusting their work to him, as he knox, Thomas Rent, Wm. Kline, Sarah Garden; F. S., D. J. Neff; T., M. Clabaugh; guarantees satisfaction and can give it. C., George McDonough; A. C., Wm. McCor-mick; I.S., Urish Hockenberry; O. S., John Boyles; Chaplain, Geo. R. Everson.

THE PRINCE OF WALES AT ALTOONA.—Long suite did not stop to dire at the "Logan House," as was first arranged. The delay of the train where every possible attention was given them. gave time for the crowd to increase, and by the time it arrived, we judge there were between 1,500 and 2,000 persons at the depot, a considerable portion of whom were ladies. The change in the programme, by which the Prince passed on without getting off the train, was quite a disappointment, nevertheless, he appeared at the rear end of the car, tipped his hat and made a graceful bow to those who stood in that ocality, which was responded to by cheers from the crowd. He remained standing upon the platform while the train stopped, and a good portion of the crowd obtained a view of him. He is a fair looking young man, but not composed of any better material than the greater portion of the young men in the crowd who stood the "ancient borough," to see the sights to be around him, nor is he any more contented and happy in his position than are the mechanics who earn their bread by the sweat of their brow in the shops in this place. Three-quarters of a century since, so near a relative of the crowned head of Great Britain would have received a left this place. Passengers were added at all | much wamer reception than was given the Prince the stations between this and Spruce-Creek and of Wales on Tuesday evening last. But time has wrought a change. > BELL AND EVERETT MEETING.—The Friends of Bell and Everett held an enthusiastic meeting in front of the Post Office, in this place, on Friday evening last. They were addressed by ex-Gov. Moorehead, of Ky., one of the ablest stump speakers now travelling. His speech is said, even by those who do not agree with him in polities, to have been one of the best delivered in preceded by the Altoona Brass Band. The procession, numbering 65 or 70, marched through several streets, previous to the organization of the meeting. Everything passed off decently and in order, as should be the case at such meetings, there being no interruption by members of stock of goods that ever graced their shelves, know that they were hard to beat; but they have eclipsed themselves this fall. They have brought goods for the ladies which the ladies did not know they needed, nevertheless, if they but call and examine the stock they'll find they need more than they imagined, and that the " Model" can supply them with everything.

RESIGNATIONS.—We are sorry to announce that Cols. J. J. Weitzel and Harry Gray have resigned their positions as Conductors on the Penn'a Railroad. / Both the gentlemen named have been connected with the road in the capawhich time they have made themselves hosts of friends, who will regret their resignation. In fact Col. Weitzel had become such an "institution" on the Mail Train, between this place and Harrisburg, that it seems almost impossible to do without him. His appearance at each station every day was as regular as the rising of the sun. We wish the retiring gentlemen every prosperity in whatever business they may hereafter en-

"THE KETTLE."-The Register of last week notices some corn and penches raised in Milligan's Cove, better known as the "Kettle," by Mrs. Lewis, of Gayapost, and says they are first would have turned up the first street and been rate articles. We have no doubt that as good out of the way ere the train pulled out. But grain and fruit may be raised in that "neck'o for some reason the breaks on the train would timber" as elsewhere, but for the sake of our not hold, and instead of stopping at the station, it hunters we regret that this well known good ran the length of the train past it, and into the hunting ground is to be broken up, as the axe crowd which was in the street above, causing of the settler is now being laid at the roots of the death and injury of the persons above nam- the tall oaks, and the thickets of under-brush, ed. Pole Up.—On Saturday evening last, the Bell and Everett party, of this place, raised a tall hart. The citizens of the town appeared to be pole on the corner of Virginia and Annie streets, very much excited after the accident, and were opposite our office. The pole is some 85 feet tevere in their strictures upon the engineer of above the ground. On the top is a small flag the train, but from what we can learn the acci- and about 25 feet below a red, white and blue streamer about 15 feet long. At a point level with the attic windows of Lowther & Plack's building, in which is the club room of the party, a rope is stretched across Annie street from the pole to one of the windows, and from this a large flag is suspended to the bottom of which is attached the names of Bell and Everett.

FINE WORK.—A day or two since, our dental friend, Dr. Bittner, exhibited to us a sett of teeth he had just finished for a lady in place. Of course, a great many did not care ling at a speed of twenty-five or thirty miles an about seeing the Prince, but merely came to see hour, when the locomotive struck a cow and the crowd, or had business in the vicinity. We knocked her off the track, but she afterwards went on business-for an item. For this reason the Prince and of them slightly, and only three of the whole seriously. They were taken to Pittsburgh,

A Fuss Ur STREET.—There has been a fuss and a rush up street for several days past, not to see a dog fight or to hear the lawyers call each other hard names and make out characters for their clients, at a V a head, before a dignified J. P., but to see the piles upon piles of new goods just opened at Joe Hileman's store. Joe went to the city a short time since with a big pile of money and he spent it all for the accommodation of the people of Altoona. He bought something for the old and young, grave and gay, rich and poor, everybody and the "rest of mankind," and all he now asks is that the people call and examine his selections.

Boquer -Our friend, D. M. Greene, has our thanks for a beautiful boquet of fall flowers:-He must have a fine assortment from which to select, to get one so handsome as that left with us. As we have said before, we love flowers, and always place them in the best article in the vase line, that we have, if it should be a dilapidated cream mug, (printers don't often have which we think have been bought at prices that will enable us to compete with any other house in this section of the date of the section of th tal.) Every person who has a lot might have flowers. They add such a charm to home that we wonder why all do not have them.

CONTRACT AWARDED .- The contract to rebuild he railroad bridge across the Conewago, on the line of the Harrisburg and Laucaster Railroad, which was destroyed by fire some time since, has been awarded to Messrs. Piper & Shiffler. Col. J. L. Piper is of this place, and is the Superintendent of bridge-building on the Penn'a the firm in bridge building is sufficient guarantee that the work will be well and quickly done.

AND GROWS MORE POPULAR EVERY DAT! And testimonials, new and almost without number might be given from indies and gentlemen in all grades of socie-ty, whose united testimony none could resist, that Professor Wood's Hair Restorative will restore the bald and gray, and preserve the hair of the youth to old age, in all its youthful beauty.

BATTLE CREEK, Mith., Dec. 21st. 1859. Prof. Woon:—Thee wite pieuse acropt a line to inform thee that the hair on my head all fell off over twenty years ago, caused by a complicated chronic disease, attended with an eruption on the head. A continual course of suffering through life having reduced me to a state of dependence, I have not hear able to obtain staff for case, neither have I ave not been able to obtain stuff for caps, neither have been able to do them up, in consequence of which my head has suffered extremely from cold. This induced me to pay Briggs & Hodges almost the last cent I had on earth for a two dollar bottle of the Hair Restorative about the first of August last. I have faithfully followed the directions and the ald spot is now covered with hair thick and black, though thort, it is coming in all over my head. Feeling confident that another largs bottle would restore it entirely and per that another mays cottle would restore it entirely and permanently. I feel anxious to persevere in its use, and being destitute of means to purchase any mage. I would ask thee if three wouldst not be willing to send me an order on thino agents for a bottle, and receive to thyself the scripture de--" the reward is to those that are kind to the Wi-Thy friend, SUSANNAH KIRBY, ow and the fatherless"

LIGARTER. Nuble Co., Ind., Feb. 5th, 1859. PROF. O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—In the latter past of the year 1852, while attending the State and National Law School of the State of New York, my hair, from a cause unknown to me, commenced falling off very rapidly, so that in the short space of six months, the whole upper part of my scalp was almost entirely bereft of its covering, and much of the remaining portion tipoli the side and back part of my head shortly after became gray, so that you will not be surprised when I tell you that upon my return to the State of Indiana, my more casual acquaintanees were not so much at a loss to discover the cause of the change in my ppearance, as my more intimate acquaintm

Lat once made application to the most skillful physicians in the country, but, receiving from them no assurance that my hair could again be restored. I was forced to become reconciled to my fate, until, fortunately, in the latter part of the year 1857, your Restorative was recommended to me by a druggist, as being the most reliable Hair Reator rative in use. I tried one bottle, and found to my great satisfaction that it was producing the desired effect. Since that time I have used seven dollars, worth of your Restor-; and as a result, have a rich coat of very soft black air, which no money can buy.

As a mark of my gratitude for your labor and skill in the production of so wonderful an article, I have recom-mended its use to many of my friends and acquaintances. tho, I am happy to inform you, are using it with like of-
