THE TYRONE STAR AGAIN.

Verily, we were disappointed in the "terrible castigation" we expected to receive in last week's issue of the Tyrone Star, not, however, as the editor of that paper would flatter himself into the belief, because we dreaded it, but because he had so loudly trampeted through this and other places that he intended to "sew us up," while, in reality, his article was only a begging of the question, concluding with a few indirect charges, which, as he put them, simply meant nothing.

The editor of the Star says he has always felt the kindliest feeling towards us, and yet in less than five lines following he misrepresents us in a manner which is calculated to do us an injury where his true character is not known. He charges that we lend our influence in favor of a certain political party. This is is not the case. We published an extract of a speech, made by a Republican speaker, at the request of a number of our patrons who are members of that party; but we also plainly stated at the same time that our columns were open to our patrons of other political parties, for the same purpose, and if they do not possess themselves of our offer it is not our fault. In an editorial article in the same paper in which the extract referred to was published, we commented on "political trickery," and especially upon the contemptible practice of garbling extracts from speeches. In doing so we had no reference to particular persons or parties, but because the editor of the Star was guilty and the shoe pinched, he construed our remarks into an attack upon him, and to justify his attack upon us in return, he charges us with being the aggressors; but this "stop thief" cry, read both papers. We did not become the apologist of Carl Shurz, for reasons which we gave in the article to which the Star took exceptions. are not in accordance with his professions.

With last week's issue of the Star we are done, and now come to notice an article in the issue of Monday of this week, in which we find the indirect charges of last week made anew. with such alterations that we can now understand them. We dislike, and have ever tried to avoid, personal controversies with our cotemporaries, but a mean personal attack made upon have had nothing to do with the selection of us by the Star, compels us, injustice to ourselves and others, to reply in like manner; and if we chance to reveal some things, not agreeable to the feelings of our slanderers, they have no one to blame but themselves. We copy the follow- with caution. ing extract from the Star, of Monday last:

"We might have referred more particularly to Thomas Ford, and his celebrated raid in Pennsylvania, in 1856, and have called Mr. McCrum to the witness stand. We might have alluded. in pointed terms, to some of the influences exerted in behalf of Mr. Blair's election in 1858, bringing the records of Blair county in evidence. We might have said something in regard to a certain offer made week before last to the Bell | nally intended :and Everett State Committe, and called upon a banker to substantiate what we said."

The first sentence, in reference to the rail of Thomas Ford, in 1856, is meant to revamp the story put in circulation by II. Bucher Swoope, immediately after the '56 campaign, in which it was charged that the Altoona Tribune received $400 for supporting Fremont. This charge was fairly and flatly contradicted at the time it was made, and it was found necessary to transfer the charge from the Altoona to the Cambria Tribune. Mr. Jolly, as well as every other person who read the Tribune in 1856, knows very well that we did not support Fremont, and this fact alone is a sufficient refutation of the charge. To set | were a woman, and your husband should go off this matter at rest and stop future harping thereon, Mr. McCrum, whom the Star summons as a witness, now takes the stand and is ready to be ly suffocate—what would you say? Don't you in the other hand a tin vessel, and all were qualified to the fact that no sum of money was imagine there would be a row in the family? paid, either directly or indirectly, by Thomas Ford or any other person, to the then proprietors of the Tribune, for political purposes; and about sense enough to parade the streets all one-half the amount said to have been paid the question. Didn't you swear that you'd shoot Tribune, if he can prove that such was the case. We want no more of this charge without the yourself. It would have been the best thing I

We now come to the second sentence in the the records of Blair county. Herein is the black to be the father of a large family. Next thing home-aye, my wife and children, the jewels of almost touched his forehead, and being there and craven heart of our assailant laid open .-The atmosphere which surrounds a being so lost to all the finer feelings of common humanity want to know nothing about politics, if I have as to seize upon the misfortunes of another and attempt to construe them into a reproach, prevents us from a near approach, and sinks him so low that we can hardly hope to reach him, yet not so low but that such insinuations as he makes, if allowed to pass unnoticed, might work to our lajury. His insinuations are intended the us into his support. This is untrue. We never sleep to night, and you never once thought of had a case at law in which Mr. Blair was either me. You're an old brute!

for or against us, consequently he could not have had any influence over us in that way. While speaking of difficulties at law, we might as well BY tell a little more. We had difficulty, financially in 1858, along with many other men who felt the crime of 1857-58. But why had we the difficulty? simply because a set of as graceless scamps as the country affords, persisted in èess—a character.

have made an offer to the Bell and Everett State jorities." Committee, in which case a certain banker in this place who is connected with the Bell and an offer to the Bell and Everett State Committee, | Ingersoil, democrat. through him, or any other person, he tells what is false, and we call upon him to substantiate the charge. The only conversation we have ever had with any person, which could in any way be construed into an offer to the Bell party, is simply this: - Some time since Mr. Caldwell came into our office, and after talking over political matters, he remarked, as we thought, in a joking manner, that in case Bell was elected President, he' had the disposal of this post office. We replied, in a joking manner, that if he would insure us the post office, we would go for Bell. This was all that passed in reference to the matter, and it certainly does not read like a proposition to the Bell and Everett State, Committee. If Mr. Caldwell told the editor of the Star anything more than we have detailed, and that it was other than a joke, we repeat that it is false, and M. H. Jolly, or the person who gave him his information, are hereby called upon to prove the charge, or wear the brand of deliberate falsifiers.

Correspondence of the Altoona Tribune.

MESSES. EDITORS :- Before I left Altoona. was asked by some of my friends, who are subscribers to your paper, to furnish letters for the Tribune, giving a history of my travels and a description of the country I passed through. I also promised the junior Editor that I would write occasionally, and I now comply. I have not been idle since I left you, and if I give you a full description of the country I have now presed through, then this is only one of a series of hingletters; and if they are read with as much interest as I felt in visiting the different places, I am sure a great interest will be manifested.

I left Altoona on the 10th of August, but witnessed nothing of interest on my trip to New York. On the 18th of August I found myself and southern coasts, where the effects of the on board the steamship Kangaroo, and dis- gulf stream are mediately felt. is called "Emerald's Isle" on account of its beauty, and well may it be so called, for it is a lovely country. The surface is an undulating

plain, rising in some parts to a considerable elevation, and at others forming extensive levels, occupied by bogs or moorland. Its scenery is characterized by openness of prospect, beauty

and picturesqueness, but wants in grandeur -

More than one-half of the land is arable, and about one sixth under cultivation, the remain-

buildings: there are no hills that could properly be called mountains, though some of them

very nearly approach that rank. The temperature of Ireland is more equable than that of England or Scotland, the winters being less se-article numbers and strict attention to business, he was soon forced to aid room after room to his establishment until his is now the most entensive establishment of the kind in Philadelphia, and being one of special interest to all housekeepers, we deem it worthy of this special notice. Mr. Toram is himself a master mechanic, a shrewd business man, and a gentleman. He superintends his own business and may be figured at the establishment early and late. He is, in the strict sense of the word, a utilitarian, and the reader must not expect, should be visit his business place, to find a "showy" establishment, unless, indeed, a hire of industry and well stocked ware rooms of large dimensions but unpretending style may be considered showy. The place is an attractive one, however, and especially to rung housekeepers commencing life and looking for home comforts. The varieties of style and gradation of prices are such as to enable one to purchase according to taste and with a certainty of purchasing at the lowest prices. Make a note of this, reader, and call at the establishment or send your order. Address STEPHEN TORAN, N. E. corner of 9th and Market streets, Philadelphia, and your furniture will be selected from a stock embracing everything from the best and most elaborate finish to the plainest and cheapest. All orders receive the personal attention of Mr. Toran and his efforts to please are generally satisfactory. Sept. 13, 1860-1m.

Carno, Ill., July 29th, 1560. Mesars. John Wilcox & Co.:—Your "Impectine," or "Per. sian Fever Charm," has done wonders. I was wholly despondent and wretched when I applied it, and in five bours the chills were removed and no fever has ensued. It is the implest cure imaginable, and a wonder of nature or art. I would not be without this "Inpectine" a single hour .-By constantly wearing I seem to be "agus proof." E. M. STOUT. Yours very truly.

Monte, Alabama, July 23d, 1860. GENTLEMEN:-I have been statched from the grave by the application of your wonderful "Inpectine," or "Persian Fever Charm." For several years I have suffered every season from Fever and Agne. Last Spring my lifewas threatened, but your remedy has destroyed the disease and I am rapidly gaining an appetite and strength.

Respectfully yours, D. N. BARRON This truly wonderful preventive and cure for Fever and Ague and Bilious Fevers will be sent mail, post puld, on receipt of one dollar. Also for sale at all respectable Druggists and Country Stores.
