THURSDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1860.

Where parties are unknown to us, our rule for adver ising is to require payment in advance, or a guarantee from known persons. It is therefore useless for all such to send ne advertisements offering to pay at the end of three or six months. Where advertisements are accompanied with the money, whether one, five or ten dollars, we will give the pivertiser the full benefit of cash rates.

s. M. PETTENGILL & CO.,

Advertising Agents, 119 Nassau street, New York, and 16 State street, Boston, are the Agents for the Alloona Tribune, and the most influential and largest circulating Newspapers in the United States and the Camedas. They are authorized to contract for us at our lowest rules.

The Result.

Sufficient returns have been received to war rant the conclusion that Andrew G. Curtin has been elected Governor of Pennsylvania by a majority approximating 30,000. This result was entirely unexpected by the supporters of Gen. Foster, in whom they had a candidate worthy of better fate; and such a triumph was not dreamed of by the most sanguine and enthusiastic friends of Col. Curtin. Politics in Pennsylvania is not what it was in days gone by. Once the result of a Gubernatorial contest could be predicted in advance with considerable accuracy, but it now requires the count of votes to arrive at a conclusion. It is not our intention to comment upon the result at this time, more than to remark that "doubtful things are mighty uncertain" in politics, and that those who "bet their money on the bob tail nag" are not always sure of winning. We have official returns from but few counties, consequently we omit a table this week, hoping that previous to our next issue we may receive the official vote of the State.

The Congressional delegation from this State stands 19 People's Party to 6 Democrats.

On joint ballot in the State Legislature the People's Party will have a majority of between 45 and 50.

Indiana .- In this State the Republicans elect majority, and have a majority in both branches of the State Legislature, which will give that party two United States Senators, who are to be elected this winter, to take the places of Messrs. Bright and Fith, whose terms expire on the 4th of March next.

Onio.—The Republicans have carried this State by 20,000 majority, notwithstanding they loose three Congressman and gain but one.

CONNITTEE MEETING. -The Reading Democratic State Executive Committee met in that city on the 12th inst., and adopted a resolution rescinding the action of the said Committee at its meetings in Philadelphia and at Cresson, and recommending the Democrats of the State to support the Electoral Ticket as adopted by the Democratic State Convention at Reading, on March 1st. Amendatory resolutions providing for the appointment of Committees to confer with the Constitutional Union and Douglas parties, were rejected. The Committee then Godey's Lady's Book for November is one of the richest numbers of that periodical. The engraving, "Crossing the Brook," is one of the finest and prettiest we have looked upon in a long time. The fashion plates and patterns for needle work are of the latest styles and almost without number. Certainly no one ever regrets the price paid for this Book, and those who may chance to see it, who do not take it regularly, must regret that it is not a visitor at their house. Price $3 per annum. L. A. Godey, Philadelphia.

The October number of the Student and Schoolmate contains much of interest to the rising generation, and every parent who can possibly spare one dollar, could not invest it in anything which would be of more advantage to his children than by ordering this little magazine. Published by Galen James & Co., 15 Cornhill St. Boston.

The Farmer and Gardener for October contains much of interest to the farmer at this season of the year. This work is fast rising in popularity and usefulness and will soon rank second to none in the country, as an agricultural journal. Price $1,00 per annum. Spangler & Baunders, Philadelphia.

The Douglas State Committee met at Harrisburg a few days since, and resolved to recommend to all Douglas men throughout the State to vote, in November, the straight Douglas Electoral ticket formed at Harrisburg some weeks ago.

The Tyrone Star will receive attention next week.

PENN'A R. R.—The Pennsylvania Rail Road Company has lately had the following notice posted in all their ticket offices and also in their passenger cars, vir :-"On and after October 7th, 1860, Passengers from Stations where the Company has an Agent, who fail to procure tickets at the regular offices of the Company, will be required to pay an excess to the conductor. The conductor will, in each case, give the person paying such excess, a ticket, which will be a receipt for the full amount paid, and will entitle the holder to receive a drawback, equal in amount to the excess riable, and Conductors will be required to carry Letter from Ireland.

Museus. Editors:—I promised in my last that you should hear from me again this week, and in order to make good my promise I will now give you a description of the principal towns from Quenatown, at the head of Cork harbor, to Dublin, and further north. I will youch for the correctness of all I write, and appeal to all Irishmen to bear me out. Queenstown was originally called Cove, and received its present appellation from the Queen, in 1849. It is built on the face of a hill sloping to the harbor shore. It is much frequented by invalids on account of the salubrity of its climate. I would not be doing justice were I to remain silent with regard to the harbor of Cork, which is one of the most extensive in the United Kingdom, being capable of affording shelter to the entire Britishnavv. Into it Drake retreated when hotly pursued by the Spanish fleet, and Crosshaven creek was pointed out to me as being the creek into which he sailed and where he was so effectually hidden that the Spanish were completely lost in conjecture as to his whereabouts, and actually spent days in fruitless search for him in the river, concluding that nothing short of magic could have taken him so suddenly out of their grasp. The spot is to this day known as "Drake's Pool.

Black Rock is the first promintory worthy of note. From a distance its appearance is truly picturesque, presenting the idea of a formidable old castle, standing out on a tongue of land against the clear water of the Lee. Black Rock is supposed to be the place from which William Penn embarked for America. Here we enter a wide river called Lock Malion. Spike Island is opposite Queenstown and is the most conspicnons and largest. It is a convict depot, with accommodations for 2,000 convicts, I was compelled to get an order from the Governor before I could visit this island. Rock Island contains the powder magazine, which occupies six chambers excavated in the solid rock. I was told that it usually contains 12,000 barrels of gunpowder, besides other kind of amunition.

The next island is Hawboline, which contains the ordinance stores, an armory and a tank capable of holding 5,000 tons of fresh water. To this island I went without a grant. Next we came to the city of Cork. Here we were greeted by about three score and ten beggars, who saluted us with "och, but would you see the brave Yankee boys!" "ain't they darling boys!" "welcome to Ould Ireland;" "may God bless yees;" " wouldn't you be afther giving a penny to a poor ould widow to buy some bread." To get rid of them I handed out a few English pennies, which I was tired carrying, they being a huge coin as large as a P. R. R. baggage check. I stopped at the Royal Victo-Better treatment you could not get anywhere. You will find a very polite runner on the little steamer that runs out to the ship, ask him M., so I close by promising that you shall hear for this hotel and he will almost carry you there: again from Yours Respectfully, and to him I am indebted for much of the information I received concerning Cork and the surrounding country. This city is generally termed the capital of the South. It had long been the home of a Pagan temple on the site of which St. Fionre Barr, the Anchorite, from Gongam Barra, founded a monastery in the beginning of the seventh century. The Danes are said to have founded the city. The name "Cork,"or "Corrach" or "Corcagh"-means "swamp." I now start from Cork for Dublin, by cars, and the first place we stop at is called Blarney. Here we find Blarney Castle, which was long the residence of the young McCarthy's, Barons of Blarney. This Castle was built in the middle of the fifteenth century, by Cormac McCartney, surnamed "the Strong." It consists now of the massive dungon tower about 120 feet to be without a Proof Safe, and hence the great high, and another portion, less substantial, though almost strong enough to warrant the men" will not risk the purchase of a so-called conjecture that before the introduction of gun- SAFE which, in the hour of trial, must prove it. almost as marvelous as the power attributed to considerable force since irresponsible parties the "Blarney Stone," that a few lines contain- are engaged in the manufacture of them. As the kissing of this would be somewhat difficult, you, who seek for "blarney" honors, will be glad to know that at the summit, and within easy access, is another "real stone," bearing date 1703. I feel indebted, very particularly, to Mr. Blake, for the following verses which were written concerning this stone :-"The groves of Blarney, they look so charming,

Down by the purling of sweet silent streams,
Being banked with postes that spontaneous grow there,
Planted in order by the sweet rock close.

"Tis there the daisy, and the sweet carnation, The blooming pink, and the rose so fair, The daffodowndilly, likewise the lilly, All flowers that scent the sweet fragrant air.

There is a stone there, that whoever kisses, Oh! he never misses to grow eloquent; Tis he may clamber to a lady's chamber, Or become a member of Parliament.

"A clever spouter he'll sure turn out, or An out and outer to be let alone!

Don't hope to hinder him, or to be wilder him,

Sure he's a pilgrim from the Blarney Stone." Pretty well for Blarney.

About a quarter of a mile from the castle is Blarney Lake, and it is a smart piece of water. paid, if presented to any authorized Station A tradition remains that at a certain season driving a four horse team, and being run over by one of herds of white cows rise from the bosom of the it out. Other stories are told, and if you lend a willing ear and a three-pennybit you can get any number. We now leave Blarney, and must be content with a passing view of the country, since I can not stop until I get to Dublin. Were I to intimate anything else of Ireland than that it exceedingly beautiful, I would not be giving correct description, as the tourist cannot help out be delighted. Now, for the first time, I saw the bogs—or turf lands. The turf is cut out with a long-handled narrow-bladed spade, and very much resembles rotten manure, while it is wet. It is wheeled out and stacked up in ricks, and in about a month, good weather, it is dry enough to burn. I took very good care to secure specimens of different curiosities for the Library Association. I secured a piece of turf and a number of very rare curiosities from the Giants Causeway, the greatest curiosity on the earth, of which I will give a minute description in my next. I must not forget to say that at a place called Mullinar, they manufacture gas from the turf-from the residue they extract a substance from which they make candles and oil-from this second residue they extract an alkali used by soap-boilers, and from this residue they obtain the best manure for land. Almost all towns, large and small, use gas. The turf gas makes a beautiful light. Gas sells here at $1,00 and $1,25 per thousand feet—it never exceeds one $1,25. This is quite a figure below the Altoona price. Can't give the reason. Before I close this letter I must not forget to ay in hehalf of the Irish that they are the mo ria Hotel, in St. Patrick Street, kept by Mr. kind and hospitable people I ever met. Fire and Thief Proof Chests.

W. R. BOYERS.

For the benefit of our business men, we copy the following from the Williamsport Press:-The manufacture and sale of Fire and Thief Proof Chests has become a business of immense magnitude; and although confined chiefly to one leading house in Philadelphia, Safes of Philadelphia manufacture are now found in every part of the country. The great amount of security which is realized at so trifling a cost nakes it a matter of immediate interest to every prudent business man. A certain degree of se curity can be had by insurance, but the best insurance policy is imperfect where the books and valuable papers are at the mercy of the devourng element, and this fact is so generally understood that no man who makes any pretensions to being a careful business man can afford extent of this department of manufactures. We have still to record many wonderful cures effected by this remedy, but must wait another opportunity. One thing you can rely upon, what we have published are from persons much respected in our community, and are literally true. J. QUINTUS, (Ed. Sheboygan, Nicuwsbode, Sheboygan, Wis.)

Me_It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among Americans than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reasons are obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases ordinary medicines can do little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED BITTERS. The weak and nervous denizen of the counting house, the exhausted toller upon the shop-board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful repenerator in the "Bitters," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacions medicines. But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible form of disease. Who would not give it a trial? Sold by druggists and dealers everywhere.

See advertisement in another column. Infantile Cordial.

We would request particular attention to the advertise ment of Messrs. CHURCH & DUPONT, addressed to "Mothers." The INFANTILE CORDIAL OF Dr. KATON is a medicine of great celebrity, and the standing of its manufacturers will be a sufficient guarantee of the care taken in its unvarying purity. The "Broop Food" is for a class of diseases unfortunately very provalent in this vicinity, and its high reputation should ensure a ready sale .- Willimantic (Conn.) Journal. 83 See advertisement.
