Ho! FOR SALT RIVER. - The manner in which that portion of the defeated party, who inhabit this neck 'o timber," take the "drubbing" they received on Tuesday of last week, may be inferred from what follows, although we confess our inability to do justice to the last scene in the programme :-

As soon as the result of the election was known, the defeated party began to make preparations for emigrating to the head waters of "Salt River," a locality said to be set apart for the special accommodation of defeated politisians. Previous to the departure of the whole delegation, small bands started ahead, some to sell tickets for the trip and others to look out a

On Thursday afternoon, four persons appeared on our streets, dressed in fantastical costume, and having with them a horse and dearborn wagon. The horse was one of the sorriest looking animals we have seen in a long time, and the wagon was not much better. On the side of the wagon was a board with the inscription "Passengers for Salt River." Three men were in the wagon, one of whom acted as driver, and for a whip he had a long bean pole with ten or twelve feet of rope to the end. Another announced their coming by blowing lustily on a tin horn, and the third lifted the tickets of passengers. The fourth man walked in front, and lead the horse. On his back he carried a knap. sack filled with hay, a handful of which he pulled out and gave to the old horse each time they halted. This party created a vast deal of merriment, and played out their game very well.

On the same evening another party of some ten or a dozen made their appearance having with them a horse and wagon, and martial music. Some half a dozen of them, painted like negroes, walked in front, and gave vent to their feelings by any amount of blubbering and crying and expressions of regret at having to go up "Salt River." In their wagon they had various kinds of provisions, and some of them carried their cabbage in their arms. This party also created considerable merriment and called forth peals of laughter from all who saw them. But the final departure of all the emigrants, displays, that we have ever witnessed. About half-past seven o'clock, the cavalcade appeared, preceded by "Madame Julian's Band," consisting of some ten or a dozen performers on tin ding instruments. They were seated in a wagon drawn by two horses. Following them came and men, that it is possible to imagine, and the box. the query with us is where they found such rigging. In a short time the tagine was out and a crowd of people collected on the spot, but a few buckets of water, judiciously applied, put out the fire before the engine were heard in all directions. This change was is John's motto, so walk along. as unexpected to almost every one as was the result in the town. Curtin stock went down when the vote of Altoona was announced, and betting men in that party were a little shy, but it suddenly took an upward tendency during the night, and bets of $20, $50 and $100 were freely taken in the morning on an even election. A little later in the day a number of bets were taken at odds of 5,000 and 10,000 majority for Curtin. Still later a few were made at odds of 15,000 and 20,000 majority, and one, we believe, at 30,000 majority for Curtin. We are satisfied that more money changed hands in this place on the result of this election being made known, than on any similar occasion. The betting fever raged for a time, and quite a number on the unlucky side were eased of their loose cash. Betting is illegal, and only a softer name for gambling, and we were astonished to find some of our citizens indulging in it. If everybody's pocket-book had been like ours, we feel sure that they would not have went in very deep. Handsomely bound in one volume, 12 mo, 526 pages. Price $1.25. Literary Notices from the Press throughout the Country. Literary Notices from the Press throughout the Country.

The Sunny South.—This book is composed of a series of letters, written in an interesting style of a narrative, embodying the most romantic features of social life on different kinds of plantations. We can bear testimony, from our own personal observation of similar scares in the South, to their truthfulness as here depicted. They are portrayed in a vivid, interesting style, and we would like to see the book in the hands of thousands of deceived people, who have no personal knowledge either of Southerners or Southern life, except what they have gained from partizan jour nais, or those who intentionally have written to deceive.—Daily Republic, Buffulo, N. Y.

They give, so far as we can judge, faithful pictures of Southern life, and are penned without prejudice. They present scenes quite different from an 'Uncle Tom's Cabin,' pictures presented here are quite graphic, and we think portraits painted are in very nearly natural colors.— THE SUNNY SOUTH.—We have rarely peeped within the covers of a more appetizing volume. Although not intended as an answer to the foul untruths in the Uncle Tox trash of the last ten years, it nevertheless does unmercifu y hurl back to their source all lies of such a nature, and are glad to believe that the book will be read in thou sands of northern homes. The south also should take to it benignantly, for independent of its truthfulness and in-tegrity it is one of the liveliest and most entertaining books THE SURNY SOUTH.—The enterprising publisher, Geo. The Sunni South.—This is a captivating volume, strong with her theme, and she carries the interest of the reader along with her, as she, in her anusing off-hand style, de-lineates the peculiarities of a Southern home.—Fress. The Sunny South.—Whatever bears the name of Profeseffect and a wide popular currency: and this is just the case with "The Sunny South, or the Southeiner at Home," which appears from the press of G. It is vivid in style, keenly observant, interesting in plot, and in purpose and manner it obviously springs from a warm heart, and will be as warmly welcomed by a host of readers.—New Yorker.

"This is the third Volume, and the completion of a serier f works by the same author, on the history of the Israel ish monarchy. The origin under Moses, was treated of in the "Pillar of Fire," and its great glory under David is treated of in this work, (The Throne of David.) while the decline of licbrew power and the opening of the new dis-pensation meet their delineation in the "Prince of the House of David." These works are historically valuable, ooks of information relative to the scenery, geography and manners of the Holy Land, The style is interesting and powerful and the work leads us to the contempla tion and study of the sublime language of the Bible and the great doctrines of truth it contains, without being, as such books too ordinarily are, either maudlin, stupid, dogmatic or conceited."-Boston Daily Atlas.

WOLFE'S Pure Scotch and Irish Whisky.
ALL IN BOTTLES.

I beg leave to call the attention of the citizens of the United States to the above Wines and Liquors, imported by UDOLPHO WOLFE, of New York, whose name is familiar in every part of this country for the purity of his celebrate SCHIEDAM SCHNAPPS. Mr. Wolfe, in his letter to me, speak ing of the purity of his Wines and Liquors, says: "I will stake my reputation as a man, my standing as a merchant of thirty years' residence in the city of New York, that all the Brandy and Wines which I bottle are pure as imported, and of the best quality, and can be relied upon by every purchaser." Every bottle has the proprietor's name on the wax, and a fac simile of his signature of the certificate.—The public are respectfully invited to call and examine for themselves. GEORGE H. ASHTON, No. 832 Market St., Phila. le Agent for Philadelphia Read the following from the New York Courier: are happy to inform our fellow-citizens that there is one place in our city where the physician, apothecary, and country merchant, can go and purchase pure Wines and donors, as pure as im o not intend to give an elaborate description of this merchant's extensive business, although it will well repay any stranger or citizen to visit Udolpho Wolfe's extensive warhouse, Nos. 18, 20 and 22, Beaver street, and Nos. 17, 19 and 21, Marketfield street. His stock of Schnapps on hand ready for shipment could not have been less than thirty ses; the Brandy, some ten thousand cases Vi tages of 1836 to 1856; and ten thousand cases of Madeira, y and Port Wine, Scotch and Irish Whiskey, Jamaica and St. Croix Rum, some very old and equal to any in this country. He also had three large cellars, filled with Brany. Wine, &c., in casks, under Custom-House key, ready for ettling. Mr. Wolfe's sales of Schnapps last year amounted to one hundred and eighty thousand dozen, and we hope in ess than two years he may be equally successful with his Brandies and Wines.

Ilis business merits the patronage of every lover of his species. Private families who wish pure Wines and Liquors for medical use should send their orders direct to Mr. Wolfe, until every Apothecary in the land make up their minds to discard the poisonous stuff from their shelves, and replace it with Wolfe's pure Wines and Liquors. We understand that Mr. Wolte, for the accommodation of small dealers in the country, puts up assorted cases of Wines and Liquors. Such a man, and such a merchant should be sustained against his tens of thousands of oppo ents in the United States, who sell nothing but imitati Sept. 13, 1860-6m.is.

PROF. WOOD:—The wilt please accept a fine to inform thee that the hair ou my head all fell off over twenty years ago, caused by a complicated chronic disease, attended with an eruption on the head. A continual course of suffering through life having reduced me to a state of dependence, I have not been able to obtain stuff for caps, neither have I have able to do them un, in consequence of which my head been able to do them up, in consequence of which my head has suffered extremely from cold. This induced me to pay Briggs & Hadges almost the last cent I had on earth for a two dallor bestless. dollar bottle of thy Hair Restorative about the first of August last. I have faithfully followed the directions and the bald spos is now covered with hair thick and black, though short, it is coming in all over my head. Feeling cenfident that another large bottle would restore it entirely and permanently, I feel anxions to preserve it. that another large bottle would restore it entirely and permanently, I feel anxious to persevere in its use, and being destitute of media fo purchase any more. I would ask thee if thee wouldstriot be willing to send me an order on thine agents for a bottle, and receive to thyself the scripture declaration—"the reward is to those that are kind to the window and the defeather."

PROF. O. J. Wood:—Dear Nir:—In the latter part of the year 1852, while attending the State and National Law School of the State of New York, my hair, from a cause School of the State of New York, my hair, from a cause unknown to me, commenced falling off very rapidly, so that in the short space of six months, the whole upper part of my scalp was almost entirely bereft of its covering, and much of the remaining portion upon the side and back part of my head shortly after became gray, so that you will not be surprised when I tell you that upon my return to the State of Indiana, my more casual acquaintances were not so much at a loss to discover the cause of the change in my amparance. as my more intimate acquaintances were to appearance, as my more intimate acquaintances were to recognize me at all.

I at once made application to the most skillful physicians in the country, but, receiving from them no assurance that my hair could again be restored, I was forced to bethat my hair could again be restored, I was forced to be-come reconciled to my fate, antil, fortunately, in the latter part of the year 1887, your Restorative was recommended to me by a druggist, as being the most reflatbe Hair Resto-rative in use. I tried one bottle, and found to my great satisfaction that it was producing the desired effect. Since that time I have used seven dollars' worth of your Restor-ative, and as a result, have a with cont of warr softled. itive, and as a result, have a rich coat of very soft-black hair, which no money can buy.

As a mark of my gratitude, for your labor and skill in lended its use to many of my friends and acqua
