

ALTOONA, PA.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1860.

Where parties are unknown to us, our readers are invited to require payment in advance, or a guarantee from known persons. It is therefore useless for all such to send us advertisements offering to pay at the end of three or six months. Where advertisements are accompanied with the money, whether one, five or ten dollars, we will give the advertiser the full benefit of cash rates.

S. M. PETTINGILL & CO.,
Advertising Agents, 119 Nassau street, New York, and 10 State street, Boston, are the Agents for the Altoona Tribune, and its most influential and largest circulating Newspapers in the United States and the Canadian. They are authorized to contract for us at our lowest rates.

The Tyrone Star Again.

Last week we promised that we would this week give attention to the reply of the Tyrone Star to our last article in reply to the charges that that paper has brought against the Tribune. We would not give it, as the article in the Star is certainly not worth noticing, but having given a promise we will fulfil it, hoping that this may be the last time we shall be called upon to notice so trifling an object.

After the manner in which the Star has down upon us when it first opened this needless controversy, we did not expect to find it so early backing water in the manner it did last week. The editor of that paper doubtless imagined that we would treat his onset upon us with silent contempt, as did others here and elsewhere whom he assailed, but he found out his mistake, and now that he is likely to receive a little more than he bargained for, he is anxious to get out of the scrape as fast as possible. We have no more desire for a personal controversy than the editor of the Star, yet when he assails us in a manner which leaves personalities our only means of defence, we will use them; and if the result has been the exposition of some private matters which, for his credit, had better remain so, he must blame himself. He don't appear to like our manner of calling things by their proper names; but we can't help it; it's a fashion we have. We never, "Jerry Snook" like, insinuate that which we do not know to be true and cannot prove, or say other than what we mean and will stand by.

In reference to the Tom Ford affair, we said in our last that we now have it out of his own mouth is the editor of the Star condemned. The insinuations in relation to Tom Ford were intended to sustain the charge that the Tribune is a Republican paper. In last week's issue of the Star the editor says that he knows we never received one cent of Tom Ford's money. What then has Tom Ford to do with the matter, and why has his name been brought in? This is inexplicable to us. What we remarked during a private conversation with the editor of the Star, to which he refers, was merely surmises as to what might have become of money which might have been given to some person to be handed over to us in case we would do certain things, but it in no way sustained his charge of Republicanism, made against the Tribune. We now come to ask why the editor of the Star insinuated that which he knew to be untrue?—Simply to endeavor to injure us, pecuniarily, by arming a certain political party against us. Is such conduct honorable? We leave the public to decide, only remarking that we forgive him, as he is impotent to harm.

The county records are again referred to by the Star, and the charge twisted into another shape. He now says arrangements were made for us thereon by the political friends of Mr. Blair. This he knows to be an unflattering falsehood. We positively deny that any arrangement was ever made on said record for us by any political friend of Mr. Blair, and no arrangements are to be found recorded there other than those which the law allowed us to make. We dare the editor of the Star to prove by the record, or a single witness, one word that he has written in relation thereto. Why is it that the Star evinces such a dislike to drag before the public the names of those by whom he says can substantiate his charges, and yet every week drags into his columns the names of private citizens here and elsewhere, for the purpose of injuring or ridiculing them, simply because they do not think as he does on political subjects. There is something rotten here, and we know where. The truth is he has no proof, and dare not mention the name of an individual. To us this refusing to give names appears a very lame way of getting out of a very tight place. But it is characteristic of the man; he only tells truth when he can't help it. But as we are merciful, we forgive him this offence also, knowing his falling.

He still continues to assert that we did make an offer to the Bell-Everett party, but of an entirely different character from the one we noticed last week as having been made, in a joking way, to a person in this place, and he dares us to say that we know nothing about it. We do say, most emphatically, that we know nothing of any offer to any banker or Bell-Everett man, and we say further that whoever asserts that we ever made an offer to that party, for money or reward, as insinuated, is a villainous slanderer and falsifier, and we dare not publish the charge except his own signature. Our "castor" is in the ring and if the man who gave Jolly his information can "come to time," we hope he will do so.

And now, as we have denied the last charge, we suppose the Star man is satisfied with us; if indeed, he was not two weeks since. Our language and grammar does not all lightly on his classical stomach, which evinces dyspepsia, but he is informed that we take our dough, in this particular, to suit ourselves, not him. His last article was headed "A Parting Word," consequently we have no hope of hearing from him again, "not a pity." He concludes by saying that no attack we may ever make on him hereafter will induce him to descend again to our level. "How we applaud him!" Before he takes his everlasting flight to regions of illimitable space, where none but "big bugs" dwell, we hope he will descend for a minute, or less, just long enough to fix that little matter which we reminded him of some two weeks since, and then he may elevate himself as far above us as his conceited imagination will carry him.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.—A destructive fire occurred in Philadelphia, on the morning of the 19th, destroying the fire story building, known as the Franklin Building, on 6th street, below Arch. The fire originated in the book-binding of Duncan White, on the fourth floor, and destroyed some $2,500 worth of property belonging to him. The third floor occupied by W. S. Young, general job printer, was deluged with water, several forms of newspapers and periodicals soaked into pi, and other damage done. Mr. Young can form no estimate of his loss. Smith & Peters, stereotype printers, occupied the second floor and sustained damage to the amount of $2,000 or $3,000. The loss to building, stocks, machinery, &c., is estimated at $16,000.

THE "PLUG UGLIES" AND "BLOOD TUBS"
DEFEATED.—Baltimore city has at last relieved herself of the rule of the ruffian clubs which have so long been the terror of all her good citizens. The organizations of "Plug Uglies," "Blood Tubs," "Killers," "Rip Raps," &c., which have so long held almost undisputed sway at the ballot box, preventing all but those who voted with them from depositing their votes, have been overcome by a reform party, composed of the honest and peaceable citizens of the city. The reform candidate for Mayor was elected by nearly ten thousand majority, and that party had a majority in every ward in the city.

STRANGE MORTALITY.—We have already noticed the fatality attending the disease known as dysentery, or putrid sore throat, in various sections of the country. In a number of families two, three and five children have died in quick succession. One family in Delaware county recently lost eight children within a period of four weeks. This alarming malady, which makes such terrible havoc amongst the young, seems to be to a great extent unmanageable, baffling the skill of the best physicians on its first appearance, but gradually takes a milder stage, as has been noticed in cholera epidemics, where it continues in one locality, and readily yields to early medical treatment.

OREGON U. S. SENATORIAL ELECTION.—On the 8th instant, news reached San Francisco, by telegraph, that the Oregon Senatorial election took place at Salem, on the 24 instant, in due legal form. J. A. Smith, a Douglas Democrat, was elected for the long term, and E. D. Baker, Republican, for the short term, 5 years. Baker is a non-intervention Republican, with views similar to Eli Thayer.

PEN AND SCISSORS.

A. J. Greer has retired from the editorial chair of the Junius True Democrat.
San Francisco, by the news comes with a population of only about 50,000, and the State 450,000.
The Norwegians are raising money to build a College in Iowa. Twenty thousand dollars have already been raised for this purpose.
A woman recently married, at Taunton, Mass., in a frenzy of jealousy, on Monday night, smothered her husband with a razor, dreadfully mutilating him.
An acquaintance of ours, at Middletown, recently caught an eel in the river, at that place, which weighed 7 pounds and 3 ounces, and measured 3 feet 9 inches in length.
A son of James Clark, Esq., of Birmingham, was severely injured on the 12th inst., by a wagon containing a barrel of vinegar breaking down, and the barrel falling upon his legs.
A party of drunken men returning to Colerain, Ohio, on Sunday night, two, lagged behind to quarrel, when one beat the other to death with a club, and returning to his companions, said he had "fixed him."

The man in Mercer county, Ohio, who put strychnine in his water-melon, and thus killed five persons who were degrading on his vines, has been indicted for manslaughter.
A teacher out West, in advertising his academy, gives the boys warning beforehand that "the use of tobacco will not be permitted, and all male students will be required to wear suspenders."

The seat of justice in Cameron county, named after General Simon Cameron, has been located at Shippen, by the Commissioners appointed for that purpose by the Governor.
No Temptation.—Many a man thinks it is a virtue that keeps him from turning a meal, when it is only a full stomach. One should be careful, and not mistake potatoes for principles.
Benedict for Bronchitis.—We see it stated that common salt-petre, dissolved in the mouth, is a remedy for the bronchitis, and that a penny's worth is sufficient to relieve any case. The cure is a simple and cheap one.
There exists in Ireland at present about seventy towns, containing from ten to twenty-five thousand inhabitants, without a bookseller's shop; and six whole counties are found without either a publisher, bookseller or circulating library.

Henry Ward Beecher's latest "crotchets" is that the clergy ought to preach only once on a Sunday. He says that "no preacher who is to preach a sermon is fit to preach more than one a day, and no man is fit to hear more, or if he does he is not fit for much else. Sermons are like hog's dogs; however many were you put in, it's the last word that drives the others out."

A New York Flunkey.—We are informed that at the Prince of Wales' ball, during a momentary pause, in which the royal guest waited for the partner selected for him for the next set, some young flunkey who happened to be near with a daughter on his arm, seeing what struck him as a golden opportunity, whisked forward with the most obsequious impudence, hastily ejaculating, "I see your royal highness is unengaged—allow me to introduce my daughter."

Pennsylvania Election.—Official.

Below we give the official vote of the State at the late election, with the exception of Forrest county, and the vote in that county is so small and nearly tied that it will not change the majority of Curtis over 10 or 12 votes either way. Curtis's majority, according to the following table, is $2,028. The first two columns is the vote given last year for Auditor General: P. S. Official vote since received. Curtis's majority $2,164.

HEALTHFULNESS OF APPLES.—There is scarcely an article of vegetable food, says Hall's Journal of Health, more widely useful, and more universally loved, than the apple. Why every farmer in the nation has not an apple orchard, where the tree will grow at all, is one of the mysteries. Let every family lay in from two to three or four barrels, and it will be to them the most economical investment in the whole range of culinary arts. A raw, mellow apple is digested in an hour and a half, while boiled cabbage requires three hours. The most healthy dessert which can be placed on a table, is a baked apple. If taken freely at breakfast, with coarse bread and butter, without meat or flesh of any kind, it has an admirable effect on the general system, often removes constipation, correcting acidity, and cooling off the blood.
