NEW PAPER .- We have received the first copy of a paper called the Workingmen's Advocate, recently started in Huntingdon by W. F. Shaw and - Miller. We notice that a new political party, styled the Workingmen's Party, has been organized in that county, and the Advocate is professedly the organ thereof. We have our doubts about the success of any new political organization at the present day, nevertheless we wish our friends Shaw & what she was: It seems that this person alone. Miller success in their enterprise.

We are also in receipt of a paper styled the Latrobe Inquirer, just started at Latrobe. Westmoreland county, by W. R. Boyers, and John G. W. Yeater. It is independent in politics and promises to be a good local paper. The people in that and it was while in Washington attending to section should give it a cordial support.

weekly paper published in Pittsburgh, by Hunt & Miner. It is gotten up on the plan of the New York Ledger, on good paper, and contains much valuable reading matter. The enterprising editors deserve the patronage of a generous public.— Terms, $2 per annum.

A SIGNIFICANT INDICATION.—A gentleman residing in | Iowa writes that the land offices in different sections of the West are flooded with applications for information from Southern people. These applications are generally made in writing and refer to the state of affairs existing in the South as rendering emigration to the North desirable. Many of these applicaand Louisiana. The fact is, the "reign of terror" prevailing in the "Cotton States" must ere long drive tens of thousands of the best inhabitants away.

THE CAMBRIA COUNTY ELECTION FRAUDS.—The famous Washington township election frauds are still on the carpet in the Cambria county Court. At the late Quarter Sessions, John W. Short was found guilty of "wilful fraud in the discharge of his duty as clerk" of the election; but not sentenced. A true bill was found against Albert F. Cantwell, for the lar institution. It will seat comfortably, about same offence, as Judge of the election, but his case was continued to the next Court.

THE FLAG OF THE AMERICAN UNION. -A few days since, Judge William Lawrence, of Logan county, Ohio, caused the following order to be entered upon the journal of his Court:-

"It is hereby ordered that the sheriff of Logan county be, and hereby is directed at every term of this Court, to erect upon the dome of the Court House in Bellefontaine, a suitable standard with the flag of the American Union thereon, and the same shall there remain during the sessions of this Court, as an evidence of derection to the Constitution, the Union, and the enforcement of the laws."

Two men in Dauphin county recently appealed to the law to settle a dispute in reference to an acre of ground worth probably $15. The jury rendered a verdict at last Court, and when the parties figured up the costs, they found themselves $500 out of pocket.

We learn from the Harrisburg Telegraph of Monday last, that Prof. Beverly R. Waugh, son of the late Bishop Waugh, died in that place on Sunday party were the most blood-thirsty beings in the night last. He was in his 37th year

VOLUMTEES FOR THE CONFEDERACY -On Thursday about one hundred men left Baltimore for Charleston, where they propose to enlist in the army of the Southern Confederacy. They were under the command of Mr. Robert E. Haslett, who, with Mr. Thomas J. Goodrich, effected the organization, and refused to accept the services of any under nineteen years of age, or any married man. All of them voluntarily offered their services. They are to receive from twelve to seventeen dollars per month, and to serve from three to five years.

GRAIN AT CHICAGO. - The Chicago Democrat says: The amount of grain in store here by the opening of the Straits will be about five millions of bushels. There will be vessels here at that or carrying about 750,000 bushels. Lest spring there was about two millions of proved fatal in a number of instances recently, followed by the resumption of specie payments

The Great Gaines Case.

The Supreme Court of the United States has just rendered a decision in favor of Mrs. Gaines, establishing her right to the McDonough property now in the possession of the cities of New Orleans and Baltimore. The decision places her in possession of all the immense property or Daniel Clark, of whom she is the only legitimate child. Mrs. Myra C. Gaines, the contestant in this celebrated case, furnishes the world. in her life, one of those strange eventful histories, unlooked for save in the realms of romance. Mrs. Gaines was born in Philadelphia in 1805. Her father, Daniel Clark, was a man of immense wealth, but of uncertain morals—his property lying for the most part in and about the cities of New Orleans, Baltimore, and Philadelphia. Mr. Clark, in 1801, had formed a liaison with a woman of supposed easy virtue, with whom he lived for many years, in Philadelphia. Mr. Clark's friends never recognized this woman —nor did Clark ever acknowledge her publicly as his wife, but on the contrary, it has been proved, that even after the daughter was born, he persisted in declaring that he was a bachelor. It seems, however, that some months prior to Mrs. Gaines's advent into the world, Mr. Clark was compelled ar induced to marry his victim, but with the distinct understanding that the marriage should sever be made public. Soon after its birth, the child was placed in the charge of a person in Baltimore, (whose name does not transpire.) by whom she was raised to womanhood. Her mother in the meantime went away from Philadelphia, but where or when, or what ever became of her is unknown. At the age of twenty-two, Myra married a Mr. Whitney, a son of the late Judge Whitney, of Binghamton, New York, by whom she became the mother of three children. Mr. Whitney died in 1886, and in 1840 she married General Gaines, of the United States army. Mrs. Gaines did not, until some years after her marriage to her first husband, know anything of her parentage; she having taken the name of the person who had charge of her, and supposed, as did her acquaintances, that the persons with whom she lived were her parents. At the death of Clark, in 1830 or 1831, his kinsmen went on to administer upon his estate. but they found a barrier in the person of Mrs. Whitney's former guardian and supposed father, who interposed a claim for his protege, and then for the first time informed her and her wondering husband, as to who and aside from the family of Clark, knew the secret of the marriage. At first Clark's friend tried to bribe him to keep the whole matter a secret. and for a time succeeded in keeping him out of the way; but as they did not comply readily with his demands for money, he communicated the proofs more fully to Mrs. Gaines, and she set about establishing her legitimacy. She commenced her first suit against the executors of her father's estate. as long ago as 1837 or 8, this business that she met General Gaines whom she married in a few months after. General "Our Paper" is the name of a new Gaines appropriated the whole of his salary to ferreting out the available facts, and at last succeeded in finding the records of Clark's marringe in 1804, and he found also one or two of the witnesses who were present at the ceremony. In the first suits against the Executors she was unsuccessful, but she and her husband were determined that the stigms of illegitimacy should not rest upon her, and so to again bring the matter before the Courts, when she should be able to better prove the marriage of her property in the South and West. The case has has been tried with varied successes in the Courts of a half a dozen States, until this last decision of the Court of final resort. The first legal talent in the country has been engaged on both sides, and probably no case, as Judge Wayne remarked, was ever tried in this country involving so many nice points of law and fact as this. The Court of the United States has unanimously decided that Myra Clark Gaines is the only legitimate child of Daniel Clark, and that, tions come from as far South as Texas as such, she is entitled to all the property left by him. Nor are the years and energies of the courageous woman too far spent to prevent her enjoyment of her vast wealth. Mrs. Games. though now in her fifty-fifth year, is represented as being an agreeable specimen of what old people delight in calling "ladies of the old school." She is in good health, and possesses an abundant flow of animal spirits, which have

> NEW STEAM CAR. -The Huntingdon and Broad Top Railroad Company have made arrangements to put a Steam Car on the road, to run between Huntingdon and Hopewell. The car, which is a combination of Locomotive, Passenger, and Baggage car, has been contracted for, and will be running about the first of June, and for convenience and utility, will be a popuforty passengers, with a baggage room next to the engine, sufficient to hold the baggage, mails and Express matter. The engine will be set on the front platform within the car, and work on an entirely new principle, and will have suffi-cient power to haul a second car when necessay, and to run twenty-five miles an hour. We nderstand the Company intend to offer strong nducements to encourage and increase the travel, by a reduction of fares, and taking on and letting off passengers at any point on the road, virtually making every farm house and road crossing a station, and charging only for the distance traveled. The car is being built by Murphy & Allison, celebrated car builders in Phila. The nugine by Neafiè & Leoy, Penn'a Works, Phil'a, both being superintended by Messrs. Grice & Long, the patentees. We suppose the Passenger car on the Shoup's Run Branch will be run as usual for the accommodation of those having business at the mines, and to enable our citizens to connect with the trains for Huntingdon at Saxton .- Broad Top Miner.

KENTUCKY SAFE IN THE OLD UNION .- Ex-Secretary Guthrie delivered a speech at Louis-ville, Kentucky, on the 16th inst., opposing secession, and deprecating the precipitation which the secoding States had displayed. He urged that Kentucky was perfectly safe in the old Union, while she would be continually assailed should she go with the South, and insisted that there was no necessity at all for arming the State. There is to be no civil war. He believed Lincoln to be an honest man, who would march to the music of the Union, and that there would be no war unless Mr. Lincoln and his world, which he did not believe. He was opposed to shaking hands with those who had deserted them in times of peril, and as he had been born in the Union, he hoped to die in its

Terrible Tragedy in the Pittsburgh

The county jail in Pittsburgh was the scene f a most extraordinary and bloody tragedy yesterday morning, the particulars of which are detailed by the Chronicle of Thursday evening. as follows:

A man named John Lewis, committed for vagrancy by Esquire Jancey, of Lawrenceville, was murdered in cold blood by a fellow named Andrew McMullen. with whom he had had no previous acquaintance, and to whom no provopation, whatever, was given for the commission of the dreadful deed. It appears that McMullen is of unsound mind, and some two years since was before the Court on a charge of assault and battery. The testimony showing, however, that the man was a lunatio, a verdict of acquittal in his case was rendered, and he was ordered to be sent to the Hospital for safe keeping. He remained there till about three months since, when he was discharged, apparently cured, and since then he has been leading a dissolute life, passing a part of his time in ail, and the balance among his friends, some of whom are said to be well to do and respectable citizens. Saturday morning he was committed for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, but at the time he gave no indications that his old malady had returned, or that his mind was in the least disturbed. He was placed in cell No. 18 on the ground floor, and every night since he has had one or more persons to sleep with him.

Last night the deceased was brought in and taken to McMullen's cell, where he was locked up for the night. He did not appear to be drunk at the time, and demeaned himself like a quiet inoffensive man. During the night great noise prevailed in the cell, but unfortunately the man on the guard failed to hear it, and no attempt was therefore made to ascertain the cause from which it proceeded. The fact, howver, revealed itself this morning, when the turnkey came to unlock the door. On the bed Louis, his face covered with blood, and features | Phillips so disfigured that recognition was barely possible. He was still living, but so near his end that but some three quarters of an hour elapsed ere his spirit had departed for another world .-Near him stood McMullen, apparently contemplating his bloody work. He had a piece of gore of his victim, and looked stolidly on while the turnkeys shrunk with horror from the bloody spectacle before them. In reply to the interrogatories of one of them, he merely answered that he beat the deceased because he could not speak German, and declined saying more. He was removed to another cell. while his victim was washed and a physician sent for, but before he could arrive be had died.

"HIDDEN TREASURES" FOR FIFTEEN CENTS. -Among the cases on the list now before the Supreme Court of this State is a most curious one. It seems that away up in Luzerne county lived a man numed Elisha Harris. He owned a large farm, and was supposed to have saved considerable money. He was an eccentric and close-fisted individual, and he lived entirely secluded and alone. In July, 1858, he died -His administrators could find no property beyoud the ordinary household furniture, &c .-According to custom, they had a vendue. The vendue was well attended, it being inferred that the money which it was supposed the deceased parents, she commenced the present suits died possessed of had been concealed someagainst Hemming and others, involving the Mc- where, and old chests and bureaus probably never before sold so well at an up cou Well, one David M. Huthmacher, an honest been fought inch by inch by the other legatees : Dutchman, went to the sale, and a nondescript article of furniture was struck off to him for fifteen cents. It was a square block of pine wood, about three feet long and ten or twelve inches square, supported by four legs, each about a foot and a half in length. On the top was a horizontal wheel, with an iron spindle attached to it. It was an outlandish affair, and it might, for all we know, have come out of the Ark, and been applied to antediluvian uses.— David paid his fifteen cents, hauled his purchase home, and threw it on the wood-pile. In course of time it came to be split open for firewood, when, lo! it was found to contain $3,754.50 in gold and silver coin and promissory notes. -David, the poor, was honest, and he informed the administrators of his discovery. The result was that a suit was entered to determine to whom the treasure should belong. The lower Court decided against honest David, and he appealed. Such was the case that came up a few days ago, and it occasioned much merriment. No decision has yet been made.

A BILL FOR ONE DAY. -Mr. Lincoln and his suite stopped one day at the Delavan House, formerly a rigid temperance hotel, in Albany. but he and his wife dined with a friend. The proprietor of the hotel has presented the modest bill of $1,120 for that days's cating and drinking. There were sixteen persons in all walk. really entertained, and the charge was therefore $70 for each. The items are curious for a Temperance house; for instance, there is the sum-of $357 for wines and liquors, and $150 for broken stoves and chairs. If sixteen persons drank $357 worth of liquors, a cost of twenty two dollars worth each, the only wonder is that they did not break their necks as well as $150 worth of stoves and chairs. This extraordinary bill beats the experience of the Japanese and English princes.

FATE OF A LADY GAMBLER.—A letter from Frankfort of the 19th ult., says: "The day before yesterday an English lady, who had resided at Homburg for some time, and who had been a constant visitor to the gambling saloons. where by degrees she had lost almost all her property, left town and went to the village of kirdoff, about three miles distant. She ascended the tower of the new church there, and, having first tied her legs together, threw herself from the tower to the earth, a distance of about one hundred feet. When picked up she was still living, but was conveyed to the hospital at Homburg, in a deplorable condition."

DEATH FROM HYDROPHOBIA. - Mrs. Townsend. vife of a respectable farmer in Ararat, Susquehanus county, was seized with symptoms of hydrophobia while riding with Mr. Townsend. some days ago, and died during the night following. Two years ago, while crossing a field near her father's house, she was attacked by a large dog, from which she happened to escape without receiving any wound of which she was conscious. It is now supposed that the system Carr. H. Cowen, Ellen through some abraision of the skin. Clifford, S.R. Caldwell, Lowis

TREASON DEFINED IN TEXAS .- Julge Frazier, in his charge to the grand jury, defined treason as a crime to be looked after in the event of the State withdrawing from the Union. After the State has fully and unconditionally severed the Mr. Edward P. Weston, who lately connection between the State and Federal government, then all who adhere to the Union and so manifest the fact, are guilty of treason-subfeat, but he was outdone in London, in the year ject and liable to indictment by the grand jury under the constitution as it now exists. After secession, any word, deed, or act against the independence of the State would be treason.

RESUMPTION. -- We have to-day to announce the unconditional resumption of specie payments by the banks in this city. It is a safe move, and cannot but add to the impression that our political complications are tending to-Last spring there was about two millions of proved fatal in a number of instances recently, bushels in store at the opening, and vessels that building the skill of the physicians, and carrying by the banks throughout this State and New off its victims quite suddenly.
