STILL LATER. The following despatches are additional to the above, and were telegraphed to the "associated press" on Sunday morning: CHABLESTON, April 13.

Ft. Sumter has been unconditionally surrendered. The news has just been received in a reliable shape. Ex-Senator Chestnut, Ex-Gov. Manning and W. Portcher Miles have just landed and marched to the Governor's house foliowed by a denie crowd of people who are wild with joy. It was reported that ten of the garrison were killed, but your reporter has just had an interview with W. P. Miles, who has just returned from a visit to Ft. Sumter, and is assured by him that no one was killed. The Federal flag was shot away by the Palmetto Guards at Morris' Island. In all 2,000 shots were fired. No South Carolinians were hurt. Maj. Anderson's men, under guard, were conveyed by boats to Morris' Island. This is reliable and puts to rest all my previous reports about Ft. Sumter. Maj. Anderson has reached the city and is the guest of Gen. Beauregard.

The bells are ringing out a merry peal and our people are engaging in every demonstration of joy. Our people generally sympathize with Maj. Anderson, but express abhorrence for those who were sn the steamers outside our bir and and in sight of us and did not even attempt to re-inforce him. Judge McGrath, who has just returned from Ft. Sumter, reports that the wood work of the fort and officers quarters were all burned out. The fort will be taken possession of to-night by the Confederate troops. Gen. Beauregard, with two aids, has left Ft. Sumter. Three fire companies are now on their way to CHARLESTON, April 18 .- A letter from Fort Moultrie, dated 6 o'clock this A. M., says not a man was killed or wounded during yesterday's engagements, only the Iron Battery has been damaged. The rifled cannon of the battery did great execution on Sumpter. They were all aimed into the port holes. Three of Sumpter's barbette guns were dismantled, and a corner of Sumpter opposite Moultrie knocked away.

A FROZEN SHIP .-- A whaling vessel, which sailed from London in the year 1840, found in the Polar sons a ship embedded in the ice, with sail furled and no signs of life on board. The captain and some of the crew descending into the cabin, found coiled upon the floor a large Newfoundland dog, apparently asleep, out when were eating."

they touched it they found the animal was dead, and frozen as hard as a stone. In the cabin was a young lady seated at the table, her eyes open as if gazing at the intruders in that desolate place. She was a corpse! and had been frozen in an apparently resigned and religious attitude. Besido her was a young man, who it appeared was the commander of the brig, and a brother to the young lady. He was sitting at the table dead, and before him was a sheet of paper, on which was written, "our cook has endeavored to strike a light since yesterday morning, but in vain; all is now over." In another part of the cabin stood the cook, with flint and tinder in hand, frozen, in the vain endeavor to strike the fire that alone could save them. The terrors of the senmen led the captain from the spot, who took with him the log book as the sole momento of the ill-fated ship. It appeared that she also was from London, and had been frozen in that place over fourteen years.

THE WHITEWASHING SEASON .-- The serson for whitewashing having arrived, the following directions for making in door whitewash, may not be out of place: For a moderate sized bouse, say eight rooms, about thirty-three lbs. Paris white, and one lb. best white glue are needed. Dissolve the glue in hot water; ti is make a thick wash with the Paris white and hot water, and add the dissolved glue and sufficient water to make the wash of the proper consis-tence. As the mass stiffens over night, isad better to mix each morning what is wanted during the day. If left over night, warm, or add hot water to make it limpid. The Paris white is chalk cleansed from it impurities, and is only a very pure whiting-better than is ordinarily used for making putty. Some use the Cooper

TEXAS TROOPS AND TWIGGS' TREASON .- A U. . soldier from Texas writes to the N. Y. Post. depying that the men there were demoralized and infected by General Twiggs' treason. He says: "When the news reached as at Fort soldier's breast, and nothing but respect for one who had been our superior officer, or rather re--one who iseas brave as a lion and true as steel -was grooming his horses when he first heard of it. Some one told him that General Twiggs had surrendered the government troops and property. He turned on his informant and said:

General Twiggs may surrender the property to the traitors; he may give himself up, and he can take my horses here; but he can't make me or any other Union man surrender.' There was no audible response to this, but the looks of every one who heard him were expressive of their determination to serve that government, faithfully into whose service they had volugtarily entered, and whose bread and butter they

UNITED STATES TROOPS .- Several car loads of United States soldiers arrived here last night over the Lebanon Valley Railroad and proceeded directly to Carlisle barracks, where they will remain until their services are required by the government. No information could be obtained from the officers or privates, who declined answering all questions. It is expected that a large body of troops from the west will arrive here in a few days en route for Washington city. -Har. Telegraph, 13th.
