Important and Interesting from Harper's Ferry.

An Explanation.

We regret the necessity for the publication of anything like the following at this time; and the necessity arises only from the fact that falsehoods are much more readily circulated than contradictions.

After I had passed the letter, and the contents were read to the men, who were making preparations to take the line of march for the ground, three miles from Chambersburg, and under the circumstances, was not able to reply until this time.

With regard to the selling of the underclothes by Lieut. Gardner and myself, as reported by Ferguson, I have to say that it is a false statement.

Ferguson is now under arrest, and will undergo a court-martial on the 25th inst. He will be held in custody until he can be sent to the front.

On Friday two weeks since, I left Chicago on a visit to the camp at Cairo. It was the day of the funeral obsequies of the late lamented Stephen A. Douglas of Illinois.
