RAIL ROAD ACCIDENT.—On Thursday morning, the Express Passenger Train West, composed of two engines and eleven cars, met with a serious accident at the switch immediately below Manassus station, in Millin county, by which one man was killed and several slightly injured, and three engines and several cars completely wrecked. It appears that an Eastwardbound freight train, the engine of which had become disabled, was standing on the main track, above the switch, and the switch-tender, in order to let the passenger train pass without hindrance, turned the switch to let it run from the main track to the siding, and placed signal caps on the rail below the switch to caution the engineer to run slowly; but the signals were too close to the switch and the engineer had not time to check up the heavy train. The consequence was that the first engine jumped the track when it struck the switch, and the second engine and train kept the main track until they came in collision with the disabled engine, when the second engine was thrown over the siding and into an embankment some twenty feet. The front cars were considerably wrecked.
The person who was killed was standing on one of the platforms, and in attempting to jump off, struck the embankment and rolled back under the cars. Had he been inside, in all probability, he would not have been hurt.

TRIP TO THE SOUTH.—On Tuesday afternoon of last week the shoe-maker shop of Joseph Brenner, in this place, was entered during his absence of ten or fifteen minutes, and two pairs of boots stolen. The thiefing rascal entered at the window and took what first came in his way, which happened to be the best boots in the shop.
On Friday night the dwelling house of James H. Bell was entered and his pantaloons and watch were stolen. (The watch is one of M. J.
Tobias' make, Liverpool, No. 166, detached lock, 12 jewels.) The thief opened the front door and deliberately walked into the chamber where Mr. Bell was sleeping, and took what he could find "lying around loose." His pocketbook was in his pants pocket, but fortunately there was no money in it, but it contained some valuable notes and other papers; one note indicating interest worth $75.—Hollidaysburg Register.

Good News.—Not long ago we were startled by the sorrowful accounts of the sad repulse at Manassas. The spirits of every one drooped when the woeful tidings became generally known, and men whose countenances were usually lit up with gay smiles, now appeared in dark and fearful looks; but at the first sound of better news, and when our loss was set to a certainty, falling to one-tenth of the first report, they again began to assume their natural appearance, and things went on as usual. Good news is always welcome. We can always trace happy results to good tidings, and we doubt not that many will be gladdened by hearing that A. Roush still keeps constantly on hand Drugs, Medicines, Paints, Patent Medicines, Carbon Oil and everything that is generally kept in good Drug Stores, of which he will dispose at the lowest prices at his store, above the Post Office.

SAD CASE OF DROWNING.—One of the most distinguishing occurrences that has fallen to our lot to record took place in our town on Monday evening last. Two little boys, sons of Geo. A. Jacobs and John Cox, Esq., respectively, went, unknown to their friends, to the Canal, just above the Basin, to swim, in the latter part of the afternoon, and at half-past seven o'clock in the evening were found drowned. Their clothes were discovered by Mr. Cox on the bank of the Canal, as he was passing by, and instant search revealed to the unhappy parent that his "Har- ry" and his little companion "Jimmy" were drowned. Immediate efforts were made for their resuscitation, but it was in vain, for an examination disclosed the fact that they had probably been in the water an hour. The boys were aged respectively six and five years, and were well known to all as lovely and interesting children. Two families have thus, without a moment's warning, lost the light of their house- holds, and sustained such a calamity as only good parents can feel. Let the sad fate of these innocents be a warning to our people, else, be- fore the season is closed, more will be called upon to mourn the untimely fate of some of their little ones.—Hollidaysburg Standard.
