In the above remarks we have had reference to the State. We come now to speak of Blair county. Every citizen of the county felt & just pride in that he was a citizen of "Little Blair," when her young men, middle aged men and even old men, almost simultaneous with the call for troops, threw themselves forward by hundreds, not knowing when, where, or in what numbers they were to meet the enemy, until the county had furnished more men for the three month service, in proportion to her population, than any other county in the State. And shall she now lose her patriotic position? We have been informed by those who have made an estimate Kind patrons, it is a long time since we of the number of mon who have entered the three year service, from this county, that it does not exceed 500. Lawrence county, in this State, with a voting population of 3,604 has furnished 1,200 men. Cambria county, which contains 4.760 voters, has 1,100 men in the field, while Binir county, with her 5,223 voters, has only OUR ARMY CORRESPONDENCE. 500 men in her country's service. This is not a flattering picture. Lawrence and Cambria counties have done nobly. Blair county can do the same. Will her sons bring her up again to the high and patriotic position which she took at the outbreak of the rebellion? Fall in, fall in, young men; the earlier you enter the ranks the sooner you will be ready to do effective service such may be the case, preferring to see them enter the service in a more patriotic way, and understand that their services are-needed.

THE LOSS AT LEXINGTON .- The Missouri Democrat says: The loss on the rebel side, and Mulligan's loss, at Lexington, are both greatly exaggerated. An Important Decision.

The following opinion, delivered by the Attorney General of the State, at the request of the Governor, is not only very important to those entitled to vote, but it fixes the disfranchisement of those who voluntarily left the State, giving up their interest in its reputation and honor, to serve in the ranks of regiments raised by other States, at the expense of their rights and citizenship in Pennsylvania. All the field officers of such regiments will be commissioned by the Governor, and the holding of such commissions by the field officers will be a fair test of the right of the regiment to vote. II. Gentlemen:—Your note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to age is about 50 years; the color of my hair autourn, and inclined to curit. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about 4 months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top off my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and account to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her ex., I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald.

LIVER COMPLAINT. SICK HEADACHE, DYSPEPSIA, &C.

JAYNE'S SANATIVE PILLS. A MILD. PROMPT & EFFECTIVE REMEDY. THERE is scarcely any disease in which pringative medicines are not required; and much six not required; and much six not sent attheting nilght be prevented were they more generally used. No person dur hel well while a contin-habit of body prevalls; besides, it soon generates serious and often fatal diseases, which might be avoided by the timely and judicious use of proper Cathartic medicines. Convinced of the correctness of these views,

JAYNE'S SAWATIVE PILLS

Are recommended with the greatest confidence, experience having demonstrated them to be far superior se any other in use, being more mild, prompt, and and unitume in their operation. While using them no particular care if required, and patients may set and driuk as usual. Age will not impair them, as to always restilly dissolve in the stomach. In small does they are atterative and goasty laxative, but in large does are actively cathartic, cleaning the whole alimentary canaf from all patrid, irritating and fixed matters.

For DYSPEPSIA, these Pills are really an invaluable For DYSPEPSIA, these Pills are really an invaluable article, gradually changing the vittated secretions of the Stomach and Liver, and producing healthy action in those important organs. In cases of long standing, a cure will be more speedily effected by using, in conjunction with the Pills, either JAYNE'S ALTERATIVE or TONIC VERMIFUGE, according to directions.

For Liver Complaint, Gont, Jaundice, Affections of the Bladder and Hidneys, Fevers, Nervousness, Disease of the Skin, Impurity of the Blood, Sik Headsche, Coctiveness, Piles, Female Diseases, and Billiums Affections, these Pills have proved themselves eminently successful. All that is asked for them is a fair trial.

As these Pills have proved themselves so eminetly successful in removing diseases of the Liver, Dyspepsis and diseases of the Skin, I have thought it advisable to add the following remarks on

LIVER COMPLAINT.

This is a disease much talked about, but at the same time very imperfectly understood.

Properly speaking, every derangement of the Liver or Billions system is a Liver Complaint, but the peculiar state of the Liver to which I now have reference it a Chronic Affection, and usually arises from a torpid or congestive state of that important organ. Sometimes the bile is deficient in quantity, or vitiated in quality, or both these states prevail at the same time. Sometimes the disease is owing to obstruction in the duct or pipe which conveys the bile from the liver into the bowels. This obstruction is very frequent, and is usually caused by the pipe being clogged up by thick tenacious silme or mucous, and sometimes by gall-stones. The bile is then thrown back into the gall-bladder, where it is absorbed by numerous small vessels which convey it into the Thronic Duct, a pipe that runs up along the spine, and terminates in and empties itself into the large vein of the loft shoulder, near its juncti a with the veins of the head and neck, and thence the bile is conveyed to the heat and becomes mixed with the blood. The bile in this manner being diverted from its proper course, and circulating in a part of the body where it never was designed by mature, produces much evil, and often disastrous effects upon the health of the individual—because, for want of healthy bile to mix with the half-disposted food, a complete separation never takes place between the chyle (the milky liquor which forms the blood) and those portions of the food designed by mature to be ejected from the bowels—for the bile, when presuit, purifice and separates the healthy from the unhealthy portions, in the same manner that isinglass or white of eggs separate wine or cider from their impurities—and, consequently, the very founts in of life is vitiated and corrupted. Contiveness prevails—or alternately costiveness, or diarrhex—wind in the stomach and bowels, and the patient is often annoyed with worms, and frequently with the piles. rhoza—wind in the stomach and bowels, and the patient is often annoyed with worms, and frequently with the plies. The coarse particles of the bile thus mixed with the blood, more or less obstruct the porce of the skin and small blood-vessels, and hence give rise to various diveases of the skin, such as erysipelas, cosema, itchings, small watery vassels, blotchess tumora, pimples, scurfiness, boils, sore eyes, sorus and ulcers of various kinds. The skin is more or loss yellow, and (when the disease is of long standing.) often very dark, and has a diragreeable, dirty, greaty appearance, and sometimes there is a perfect jaundice. The while of the eyes also has a grack or yellow tings.

MORE OR LEES bile is strained from the blood in its passage through the kidneys, and, by its acrimony, prothe eyes also has a green or yellow tings.

MORE OR LESS bile is strained from the blood in its passage through the kidneys, and, by its acrimony, produces pains in the back, and scalds and irritates all the urinary passages. Some days, the passage of urine is profuse, and natural in appearance; at other times it is scanty, and the desire to evacuate is frequent and urgent. Some-times the color is nearly white and milky, but usually it is high colored, red or yellow, with a rank, offensive odor, and sometimes it is bloody.

The tongue is usually more or less coated with a brown scurf. There is irritation, and frequently chronic inflammation of the inner surface of the stomach and bowels, with a tenderness on pressure, and a soreness along the lower edge of the ribs.

SOMETIMES THERE IS A LOATHING of food, and at other times there is a voracious appetite. There is often a feeling of chilliness, and coldness of the feet and knees, and along the inside of the thighs—sour or bitter cructations, and sometimes a spitting or throwing up of the food after eating.

There is a feeling of oppression across the stomach and chest, as if pressed down by a weight; troublesome and often frightful dreams. low spirits, languor, want of euorgy, melancholy restlessness and discuntentedness, dreamlness of mind—timorousness and a great deal of trouble, and a disposition to magnify everything, sometimes great mess of mind—timorounces and a great deal of trouble, and a disposition to magnify everything, sometimes great watchfuliness and an inability to sleep—at others great drowsiness, weariness, and distoclination to motion.

AT TIMES THE FACE is flushed, with more or less fever, especially at night or in the afternoon. Sometime violeat colics, and wandering pains in various parts of the body. Frequently there is a short hacking cough, with wour, especially at night of in the afternoon. Sometimes violent colies, and wandering pains in various parts of the body. Frequently there is a short hacking cough, with a huskiness of the throat, and sometimes a very severe, dry, and hard cough, which is often mistaken for consumption. This cough often commences in the latter part of the night or early in the morning, and lasts for hours, frequently producing nausea and vomiting. If there be any expectoration, it is a tough ropy, tenacious phiegmi, which adheres to everything it touches. There are also frequently chronic pleurisy pains in various parts of the chest, which shift about from one part of the breast or side to the other. Sometimes abscesses form in the liver, and pressing upward on the lungs, produce constriction and cough, and breaking, discharge their contents into the lungs, whence it must be ejected by expectoration, or the patient is distrayed. Some persons are troubled with spasmodic twitches in various parts of the body, sometimes faintness and sighing, difficulty of breathing; reading or talking producing wearinebs. THERE IS 4 BEATING PENSATION near the pit of the stomach, with palpitation and fluttering of the heart; profusion of dandruff and less of the hair; indeed, to sum up in a few words—a yellow, dirty, greasy appearance of the skin, a yellow or green tinge of the white of the eyes, an aching pain across the kidneys and hips, with irritation or heat in discharging urine—a sensation of fullness or distension across the abdomen, with tenderness on pressure—lowness of spirits, frightful dreams, achility of stomach, with other dyspeptic symptoms, billious fevers, billious colics and bilions diarrhors and dysenteries, obtained costiveness, intermittent and remittent fevers, jaundice, fever and ague, &c., all originate from the same cause—a drawaged state of the liver. Violent remedies always do more harm than good; but, by a persevering use of these pills, all that can be desired will be accomplished.

Neer. Violent remedies always do more harm than good; but, by a persevering use of these pills, all that can be desired will be accomplished. THE MOST SUCCESSFUL TREATMENT is to give the than two evacuations from the bowels next morning.— The dose of the Pills can be sucreased or diminished at The dose of the Pills can be increased or diminished at pleasure, so as to produce the above effect, and their use should be continued until a cure is completed; and also, at the same time give the Afterative three times a day according to the directions, unless there is a want of appetite, with weakness and debility or symptoma of worms prevail, when, instead of the Alterative, give a teaspoomful of the Vermifure, (mixed in a little cold water, and sweetened to please the taste, about half an hour before each meal, until these symptoms are removed; and if there should be cough, or oppression about the throat or chest, then give the expectorant as often and in such doses as may be found necessary to quiet the cough and make expectoration easy. ectoration easy.
